TIM KITTEN'S WISH

Tim Kitten was not fond of being washed and sleeked up. He wanted to lay in the sun, even if the warm place was in the mud.

After his mother had made his white coat look nice and neat, Tim always found that the shortest cut to the woods was through the fields, and his coat when he returned looked like a dusty old brush.

Tim Kitten's mother cried as hard as she could to keep him spotless, but it was of no use. Tim liked to be untidy, and no amount of scolding would put an end to it.

"Tim Kitten," said his mother one day, "you ought to live with Madam Pig and her piggies. You look more like a piggy than a respectable white kitten. I am just tired out trying to keep you clean."

"Well, I wish I did live with Madam Pig. Her piggies do not have to have their faces washed two or three times a day or have their coats made sleek or their whiskers pulled out trying to make them look straight," said Tim Kitten. "Oh, oh, oh! You pull, mother; don't rub so hard. Oh, oh, oh!"

So Tim cried and his Mother Tabby scrubbed and made him look sleek and neat, and when she finished she said: "Now you lie down in the doorway in the sun and don't you dare move until I call you. We are going out walking, and I won't have an untidy looking kitten with me."

Tim looked at himself in the cellar window and made a face. "I look like a girl kitten, all white and clean. Oh! I just hate being dressed up, but I suppose I'll have to do as mother says."

Tim curled up on the door sill and yawned. "Yaw!" he said, "how I do wish I was one of Madam Pig's piggies. They have dirt and mud and no one to scrub them. Great fun, I know."

And then Tim found himself right in Madam Pig's house knee-deep in mud. He rolled over, and when he got up his white coat was black, for the mud stuck to his fur more than it did to the piggies.

Tim shook himself, but it did not shake off. "Where do I sleep?" he asked, looking around for a clean spot.

"Why, right here," said Madam Pig, "but first you must have your supper. Come along," she said, leading the way to the trough.

Tim gave one look at the supper and fled. He was used to having a nice clean dish to eat from.

"Don't you want any nice hot soup?" called Madam Pig with her nose buried in the steaming supper.

"No, I don't feel hungry," said Tim. "I should like to go to sleep if you will tell me where I can find a clean place to lie down."

But Madam Pig and her piggies were too busy eating to answer, and when they finished their supper they trotted over to the other side of the yard and made a nice place for themselves in the mud and were soon asleep.

Pood Tim thought of the nice basket he slept in every night behind the kitchen stove with his mother and wished he were there.

But he could not go home all covered with mud, and, besides that, he could not get out of Madam Pig's house, the walls were so high.

How he got there Tim could not think, and he never thought the wall was so high and smooth before. He had often scrambled up and looked over, but never had he been in Madam Pig's house, and he wondered how he came there now. Something cold touched him and Tim gave a loud "Me-ow" and jumped.

"What were you dreaming about, Tim?" asked Rover. "I poked you with my nose; you seemed so uncomfortable. Did I scare you?"

"No; I am glad you did wake me, for I was dreaming I lived with Madam Pig and it was too muddy for me," said Tim, stretching himself and yawning.

"You had better not cry next time your mother washes your face," said Rover. "I heard you wishing you lived with Madam and her piggies a little while ago."

"I shan't cry again," said Tim, running to meet his mother, who was calling him in the yard to go walking down the road.

Tim looked at his nice white coat and held his head very high as they passed Madam Pig's house and saw the little piggies playing in the mud.

"They are dirty little piggies," said Tim. "I don't see how they can live in all that mud."

Tomorrow's story—"The Wicked Queen."

RECREATION NOTES

The Community Chorus will meet in the Franklin school auditorium this evening.

There will be a Guild of Play in the Washington school Wednesday afternoon.

A swimming class for men is to be started Wednesday evening in the high school pool.

The first meeting of the East End Community Center is to be held tonight in the Emerson avenue school.

A ball game between the Whittier and Drummar school teams will be played tomorrow afternoon at Hope Common.

The Athenians will play the last basket ball game of the season this evening in the high school gym against the St. Douglas team of Orange. After the game, dancing will be enjoyed.

BLANCHE BATES TONIGHT AT PLAINFIELD THEATRE

Blanche Bates appears at the Plainfield Theatre tonight with Wilton Lackaye in a new play called "Eleven P. M." This is good news. This charming artist, as fine and refreshing a type of young American womanhood as the stage affords, always brings to her work a spontaneous freshness, brilliancy and wholesomeness which is a never-failing tonic of delight.

As an actress she is second to none on our stage, and as a woman her high ideals have endeared her to a devoted public. It will be good to see her again. Her managers, T. H. Hunter, Inc., have provided her with the best possible support by way of cast and production. Wilton Lackaye, one of the best actors on the American stage, is the featured member of Miss Bates' remarkable company, which also includes such excellent players as Charles Hammond Thomas J. McGrane, Charles Butler, Louise Mackintosh, Janet Travers, Jeffreys Lewis, J. H. Barnes, Ford Fermore, Maria Ascarga, Sallie Brayman, George Shelton, Henri Virey and Albert Prisco.

"JOAN THE WOMAN" SCORES TRIUMPH AT PROCTOR'S

Bessie Love, in Triangle Play, "A Daughter of the Poor," At Proctor's Theatre Thursday

"Joan the Woman" starring Geraldine Farrar in the role of Joan of Arc opened a three day engagement at Proctor's yesterday, and was greeted at the three performances by large and enthusiastic crowds. It is doubtful if such a remarkable and wonderful photoplay creation has appeared in this vicinity since the presentation of "The Birth of a Nation," two seasons ago. It is a timely attraction just now and has an effect on the audience that will not soon be forgotten. In addition to "Joan the Women," today Mrs. Vernon Castle appears in the 14th episode of "Patria."

On Thursday the program at Proctor's consists of the second chapter of "The Mystery of the Double Cross," Bessie Love in a five-part Triangle play entitled "A Daughter of the Poor," and a famous Keystone comedy.

On Friday and Saturday in addition to the regular programs Charlie Chaplin appears at Proctor's in his latest comedy creation "The Cure." The regular program on Friday consists of two big five part features Ann Pennington in "The Rainbow Princess," and Allen Brady in "A Dancer's Peril." Saturday, in addition to "The Cure," Thomas Meighan and Anita King appear in "An Heir to the Hoorah"; "Roped In," and "Bringing Up Father." On Saturday afternoon and every Saturday afternoon hereafter Helen Holmes will appear in "A Lass of the Lumberlands," a special serial attraction for the children.

COMEDY TOMORROW AT PLAINFIELD THEATRE

May Ward & Co. offer the feature number at the Plainfield Theatre for tomorrow, it being a clever little musical comedy hit that has many unique features and song numbers included in its repertoire. Miss Ward, herself, is one of the features of the act. Special scenery and props bring the number up to a standard set by few others on the vaudeville stage.

Four other excellent acts are included in the bill that starts tomorrow. "Gold Night" will be an added attraction, the distribution of $23 in gold pieces being made to the lucky ones, and on Thursday "Tryout night" will be offered. Moving pictures of the latest releases will be included in the program.

That ONE Bottle

(RECOMMENDED BY MY WIFE)

Stopped My Dandruff

I had decided my hair would always fall out. I could not stop my dandruff. My wife had been using Pompeian HAIR Massage. Her hair had become healthy, vigorous and attractive. She finally made me try a 25¢ bottle.

Immediately my scalp itching stopped and my dandruff began to disappear.

That's what Pompeian HAIR Massage will do for your hair too.

One Bottle Shows Actual Results

The success of Pompeian HAIR Massage is in its name—"Massage." It is a treatment, not merely a tonic. The massaging (rubbing) of the scalp wakes up the roots of the hair to new life. This massaging also opens the pores of the scalp to the wonderfully stimulating liquids in Pompeian HAIR Massage. Dandruff goes. Your hair will become and stay healthy, vigorous and attractive.

Pompeian HAIR Massage is a clear amber liquid (not a cream). Not oily. Not sticky. Very pleasant to use. 25¢, 50¢ and $1 bottles, at the store.

MEN—Have your barber give you a treatment and prove to yourself how refreshed your scalp feels by one application.

Don't play with dandruff any longer. Get a bottle of Pompeian today and let it demonstrate that dandruff can be stopped and your hair made attractive.

Made by reliable makers of Pompeian MASSAGE Cream and Pompeian NIGHT Cream. 25-57

A Page for the Home Dressmaker

For Balmy Days at the Southern Resorts - By May Manton

THESE are chic models designed especially to be worn at the Southern resorts. As a matter of course they forecast the coming of the Spring fashions. What the fortunate few wear in the South during the Winter, the majority of womankind will wear all over the country when Summer is at its height. For the younger contingent there is a notable tendency toward simplicity that is charming. Fabrics are very beautiful, colors are exquisite and even bright and it is only by such simple designs that such effects can be utilized of their best.

For morning occasions when one may motor or play tennis or golf or ride the wheel or indulge in any fancy of the sort there are a great many attractive designs. On the one hand one sees the coat suit of pongee or its counterpartor of glove silk or perhaps of a thinner washable fabric. On the other, the daintiest little lingerie frocks that are really fascinating. They are essentially girl-like and they make a very pleasant contrast to the coat suits that have become so generally accepted.

Girls who like to tramp the country whatever the season find the simple one-piece frocks desirable, and serge, linen and cotton gabardine are favorite materials.

WE are living in an exceedingly interesting period in spite of its tragedies. Nearly, if not quite, unprecedented conditions exist. There are inevitable shortages in certain directions, yet, to the casual observer everything is beautiful, everything is abundant, there is every opportunity for the making of handsome and satisfactory costumes.

Simple Embroideries are Used with Good Effects.

It has been stated again and again that dyes are scarce and the supply of fabrics more or less curtailed, but a trip through the shops would hardly suggest any such condition. There are really wonderfully beautiful materials and there is a certain splendid color apparent that is noticeable. Whatever we lack for the Spring, we do not lack color. There is a certain shortage in applied trimmings, but it is being more than compensated for in the clever way in which embroideries are handled. If the necessity for such finish has done nothing else, it has unquestionably established the needlewoman's art. It is astonishing what beautiful effects a few simple stitches can produce. A very lovely afternoon gown that is to make part of a February trousseau of Georgette crêpe in a wonderful shade of yellow that has depth and quality and at the same time is light in tone. The skirt is finely plaited and just below the hips to give a suggestion of a yoke line, there is a little embroidery across the front and back that shows a design of a conventionalized wild rose with leaves. The petals of the roses are all outlined with black, within this outline they are darned with rose color and occasional gold threads and the leaves are darned with green. It makes a most attractive finish, it gives a very beautiful color effect and the work is sketchy, it is so slight. The very newest blouses, too, are of the Georgette crêpe that seems to fit the purpose as nothing else quite does, braided with a little straw braid used just as soutache would be, and if readers, any of them, have hidden away in the treasure houses of the past, costumes that belong to the middle of the last century, these straw trimmed gowns will be found. They were regarded as very chic in those days and some of the effects that can be produced are charming. Today we use the straw on Georgette crêpe. Our grandmothers and great grandmothers used it upon taffeta, and the taffeta of that day was a heavier silk than the taffeta of the present, but nevertheless, the color effects remain.

Spanish Influence is Apparent in the Bolero.

Verily is there nothing new under the sun in the world of dress at least, for what we take to be novel is apt to be an old idea put forth in new form. The braid of today is quite a different braid from that of old and the effects are different, but the idea emanates from the past, nevertheless. There are two notable features to be found on the costumes that are being made for the Summer trousseaux and for the various functions of the mid-Winter. The Spanish influence is apparent in the Bolero idea and the simple chemise gown is little by little, step by step, being evolved into a modification of the princesse idea. We shall not have the tight princesse gown for a long time, perhaps we never shall have them again. It is to be hoped that we will not. They are apt to be trying, they are fit only for women of ideal figures and they really are not becoming even to the best formed women of today. The semi-fitted models seem better adapted to the modern conditions and among the costumes to be noted are some very attractive designs made on these lines. The Bolero effects crop up in a great many different ways. A very charming little costume that is to go South this week is made with a simple full skirt and little bolero-like jacket hanging in straight lines, open at the front and again at the side seams. There are various details and features that give it smartness and crochet, but perhaps the most interesting feature is the soft girdle of Oriental silk that is arranged around the figure and that falls in long ends at one side and is knotted under the arms, just where the open seam referred to falls. The suit in question is of soft blue serge and this bit of Oriental silk is exceedingly smart. The sleeves, by the way, are finished with bell-shaped cuffs. Bell shaping makes another notable feature of the newest models and undoubtedly we are to have bell sleeves. The bell-shaped cuffs are already established facts. In the bolero we can trace certain of the Spanish influences and the sash is distinctly Oriental, but really designers do not seem to be much concerned as to the source from which these suggestions are taken. They mainly are interested in producing attractive results, and, as attractive results are what women desire, they can well afford to be indulgent in the matter of suggestion. They may come from where they will so long as the result is good, so long as they suit modern needs, are pretty and becoming.

Only the Modified Barrel Skirts are Likely to Succeed.

We hear a great deal of talk about the barrel skirt, but very few real barrel skirts have been seen at all. By some strange perversion of terms, a great many of the fashion writers and designers both are talking of the skirt that is draped over the hips as the barrel skirt. Really that wonderful creation is distended by means of hoops and is drawn in again at the ankles, otherwise it does not deserve its name. It is not a pretty line, it is not a becoming line and it is hardly likely to succeed, on this side of the sea at least. American women are justly proud of their figures. They have been willing to sacrifice a good deal to keep the ideal lines, and they will not conceal it by any such ugly garment as the barrel skirt.

Rare Old Laces are Revived.

Afternoon functions are many at this season and afternoon dress has taken on some very interesting features. Lace is scarce, also are other trimmings. Paris has solved the problem by making simple gowns and wearing with them laces that have been lying away in the family treasure house, fichues and collars and what not to relieve the simplicity. At a notable function of the week was seen a straight chemise dress, simple as could be, of violet panne velvet with beautiful lace at the neck and sleeves the only trimming. Heavy lace is being used for waistcoats with the bolero gowns and fancy coats That it is old lace only adds to its beauty and charm and the hint may be worth reading to women who have treasures hidden away. Oriental embroideries continue all their vogue. For the waistcoats already mentioned, the rich Chinese embroideries are much liked and are exceedingly handsome.

A Dainty Night Gown and How It can be Made and How Embroidered -- By May Manton

THE hand-made underwear is always the daintiest, the most attractive and the most in demand. This little night gown is so simple that it involves very little labor while it gives charming and becoming lines, and if you use the pretty, simple embroidered design you can get a wonderfully dainty effect with very small expenditure of time and of labor. You will notice that there are two quite different shapes, but the one pattern provides both. The gown is made with the sleeves and body portion in one or in kimono style, consequently, there are only two seams to sew up. In whichever way you finish the neck, it is designed to be slipped over the head. There is no opening, consequently, there are no buttons and buttonholes to be made. The sleeveless gown with the V-shaped opening and the Empire ribbon is very charming and very dainty for warm weather wear. For the colder nights, the round neck with the sleeves will undoubtedly be preferred. For that gown, lace insertion is applied over the lines in the pattern on which the gown with the V-shaped neck is cut out.

The gown is cut all in one piece, on the fold of the material, and if that material is not wide enough you will of necessity be compelled to join selvaged edges to obtain the width. The best plan to follow is to make the gown before the embroidery is done. To do this, sew the seams with fine stitches, taking what is known as a back stitch and two running stitches at one time, then trim off one edge of the seam. Turn the other edge under and hem down onto the gown itself to make a flat fell finish, which is the simplest and most pleasing and the prettiest for garments of the sort. You could make the French fell or the double seams, but it is scarcely less labor and it does not make as pretty or as attractive a finish. In the illustration, the neck and the sleeve edges of the V-shaped gown are underfaced and finished with machine hemstitching that is very pretty, but instead of that hemstitching, they could be scalloped using very fine scallops, or you could underface and use a tiny little insertion as finish in place of the hemstitching, or you could underface and attach the facing with some fine fancy stitchery, as a briar stitch or a succession of French knots. The slashes for the ribbon require to be worked as eyelets, that is to say, cut the slit, then push the material up on the wrong side and work closely over and over using a fine embroidery thread for the purpose. Now you will be ready for the figures on each side of the front.

Smart Simplicity Marks the Latest Fashions --- By May Manton

PRESENT fashions seem especially designed in the interests of the home dressmaker. The models are simple, there are no intricacies and no special difficulties in the making of any garment. What is needed is a certain sense of color and of fitness and a eye to get the correct lines. If you have these, you can make your own gowns with certain success. Among the costumes shown here, for example, there is not one that is in any way difficult or elaborate. Coat suits seem planned with simplicity in mind. Any woman who can cut and sew should be able to make them.

The two frocks designed for young girls give evidence of different effects, but both are plaited and plaits make a notable feature of the incoming fashions. You may have a straight skirt that is all plaited or you may have a skirt that combines plaits with plain spaces or you may have a frock that shows either box plaits or side plaits attractively used, but you must have plaits found somewhere in your wardrobe if you will be quite up-to-date.

The box plaited frock illustrated shows a pretty new monk's collar and draped pockets that make very smart features, and they seem especially well adapted to the younger contingent. Slightly open necks with long sleeves are shown in the greater number of new frocks and unquestionably the combination will make a feature of the incoming season.

Without doubt there is a certain fascination to be found in what we know as the outdoor or sports costume, but the afternoon gowns this season are so charming that they are close rivals. The one that is shown here gives especially good lines and can appropriately be copied in a great many different materials. It is a pretty and graceful gown and is very handsome in the satin and crêpe de chine illustrated. Crêpe de chine is to be much worn throughout the coming season and it always is beautiful in contrast with satin.

NEW SCHOOL IS OPENED

Audience Fills Building on Emerson Ave. and Expresses Appreciation

INTERESTING ADDRESSES

Former Mayor L. V. F. Randolph Submits Patriotic Resolutions Which Are Adopted by Rising Vote and Singing

The new Emerson school was formally opened to the public last evening under the auspices of the East End Civic Association. The building has been in use for school purposes since the holidays, but the delay in installing the lighting system has prevented its opening to the public. Last night the building was lighted for the first time, and open for inspection. An enthusiastic audience filled to overflowing the assembly room, and expressed its appreciation of the work of the architect and Board of Education in providing the beautiful school.

The program opened with a solo by Mr. Steer. Rev. Edward S. Ralston, the president of the East End Civic Association, welcomed the audience, and gave the history of the Emerson school, closing with some figures showing that steps should be taken at once to build the other half of the building. The capacity is 816. The enrollment last week was 843. In the district of which the school in the centre there were, according to the school census last summer, 654 children, 16 years old and under, enough to fill at least two buildings of the present capacity. The district is growing rapidly, and the need for enlarging the school will become more imperative each month.

Miss Mary Cooper followed with a solo. Then Archibald Cox, president of the Board of Education, gave an address, on the need for an awakened sentiment throughout the city for more school room.

MRS. J. B. TENNYSON DIES IN 47TH YEAR

Mrs. Jessie Burdick Tennyson, age 47 years, of 613 Madison avenue, died at Muhlenberg Hospital last night following an illness of two weeks, during which pneumonia developed. Her condition was thought to be more favorable when there was a sudden change for the worse late yesterday afternoon, and the end came a few hours later.

Mrs. Tennyson was born in Troy, N. Y., and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Van Buren Mattison of that place. She removed to Plainfield twenty-one years ago and had lived here ever since. She was a member of the First Baptist church and was especially active in religious work and the various activities of the Y. W. C. A., where she devoted much of her time.

She leaves two daughters, Miss J. Corinne Tennyson and Miss Evelyn Tennyson, and one sister, Miss Hattie Mattison, who is connected with the Board of Health as registrar of vital statistics. The funeral will be held at the late home Friday morning at 11 o'clock and will be in charge of the Rev. Dr. Philip A. Stong, pastor of the First Baptist church. The burial will be in Hillside cemetery.

FLAG-RAISING TOMORROW AT SCOTT PRESS WORKS

The time of the flag-raising at the Walter Scott Printing Plant on Fourth avenue will be tomorrow at 11:30 noon instead of Saturday as previously stated. The Dutch Arms band will be present and play patriotic airs while Old Glory is floated to the breeze.

FIRE IN TRESTLE

At 12:30 o'clock this afternoon the fire department was called to the Cadmus mills in South Second street, where a trestle was on fire. Chemicals were used. The trestle was damaged to the extent of about fifty dollars.

Auction Sale

Tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock, at my new auction room, 340 West Front street, a sale of household goods from storage, will be sold without reserve. Remember the number 340 West Front street, over Hazett's china store. W. A. Schorb, auctioneer.—Adv.

EULOGIZED LATE JUDGE HETFIELD

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

W. M. Stillman, Dean of Local Lawyers, Tells of Judge Hetfield as His Boyhood Friend

Eulogy of the late Walter L. Hetfield, formerly Judge of the local District Court, was pronounced in the Chambers of the Court this morning, when the Bar Association met to pay tribute to the memory of the deceased Jurist.

Judge James Henry Crane, announced on Monday morning that there would be no session of the court as a mark of respect to the memory of the former Judge, and for the same reason Judge DeMeza adjourned the city court.

Every lawyer in the city was present at the meeting this morning, and nearly every one had something of a complimentary character to say with reference to the deceased.

William M. Stillman, now the dean of the legal profession, told how Judge Hetfield, the late Craig A. Marsh and himself were all born in this city in the same year, 1856; that they played as boys together, and that as they approached man's estate the selection of a career carried them into the legal profession.

"We advanced by degrees and each in his turn developed professional qualities which brought him prominently before the public. Mr. Marsh became a great lawyer and our late lamented friend Judge Hetfield held a place of equal prominence in the profession. Being of a less aggressive nature myself, I plodded along in a less conspicuous way.

"Judge Hetfield was a fighter who never yielded, but fought on, and on, for any cause that he deemed just. He served his city well as a member of the Common Council. He was an honor to the legal profession was

RALPH C. GOLDSMITH WEDS NEWARK GIRL

The marriage of Miss Freda G. Osterwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Osterwell, of Newark, to Ralph C. Goldsmith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Goldsmith, formerly of Evergreen avenue, this city, took place at 6.30 o'clock last night at The Washington in Newark. Rabbi Solomon Foster, of Newark, performed the ceremony in the presence of about one hundred guests, after which there was a reception and dance.

The bride was attended by four bridesmaids, the Misses Viola and Lillian Osterwell, her cousins; Elsa Schwed, of this city, and Rhea Frank, of New York. Mr. Goldsmith had for his best man his brother, Valentine Goldsmith, and the ushers were Frank Schwed, of this city; Edwin Frank, of New York; Abraham Krauss and Sidney Osterwell, the latter a brother of the bride.

After a trip the couple will reside in Newark. Mr. Goldsmith is associated with his father in the tobacco business in New York City and is well known in this city.

COUNTY TEACHERS WILL DISCUSS PRESENT CRISIS

The Union County Manual Training Teachers' Association will hold a meeting in the high school auditorium tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. E. A. Reuther, assistant commissioner of industrial education, will speak on "How Can the Schools Help in the Present Crisis?"

It will be interesting to note that the Eastern Arts Association, which is composed of manual training teachers in the East, was holding a convention in Philadelphia the day war was declared. Tentative plans were immediately made for the organization of all manual arts work throughout the various States. Many of these plans are now well under way and will be discussed at this meeting; others will be developed during the next few days. Much emphasis is being placed on the necessity for the thorough organization of this work, so that in case of emergency everything will be in proper working order.

WAKE UP AMERICA DAY
Thursday, April 19th

To the People of Plainfield:

Thursday of this week, the 19th day of April, has just been selected by the New York Committee on National Defense as a "Wake Up America Day," in order to revive the "Spirit of '76" by commemorating the midnight ride of Paul Revere and the Battle of Lexington. An elaborate program has been arranged for New York City; and in addition the cities of the whole country have been asked to co-operate in such manner as they may be able. As time is lacking to organize for public meetings—or other stated events—I suggest the following simple program for our city and ask co-operation on the part of those necessary to carry it out:

1. 8 A. M., 12 Noon, 7 P. M.—All church bells in the city to toll for five minutes.
2. Patriotic exercises in all the schools, including the reading of Longfellow's poem on the midnight ride of Paul Revere.
3. The flashing of Longfellow's poem on the screens of the theatres, at the afternoon and evening performances, and the display of the national colors from the stage.
4. A parade by the Boy Scouts in the early evening, through the business section of the city.

As this is the only quick means of giving notice of the program, I hope that all who see it in this evening's papers will speak of it to their friends and neighbors, and that the churches, schools and theatres will, if possible, assist in carrying it out by doing their part as above suggested.

LEIGHTON CALKINS,
Mayor.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE ON GARDENS

Those Who Want Land Should Apply to City Clerk Carroll

Mayor Calkins announces today his intention to appoint a Citizens' Committee to handle the details involved in (1) encouraging everybody in Plainfield who has ground about his home to plant staple vegetables at once; and in (2) obtaining from owners the use of land in the city which is suitable for the purpose and which they cannot themselves use, for the use of others who would like to have gardens.

Until the committee is announced the Mayor invites citizens willing to offer the use of lots of land under the committee's supervision, to write to John J. Carroll City Clerk, 149 North avenue, giving their names and locations of lots. A number of owners have already generously done this.

In the same way, any family in Plainfield desiring the use of a little land for garden purposes, is invited to send his name and home address to Mr. Carroll.

In this way the Mayor hopes to have considerable information ready for the committee. In regard to this whole subject he said this morning: "It is the duty of every patriotic citizen and of every man, woman, boy and girl, to do his bit in adding something to the country's food supply.

"The Federal and State authorities are working out extensive plans to help the farmers who have large tracts of land, but require farm labor, and credits for the purchase of labor-saving implements, seeds and fertilizer.

"Another problem is the harvesting in the fall, or rather the assurance of labor when needed, and the bringing together of producer and purchaser, which involves the question of transportation. This is a big nation-wide problem. But locally we cannot wait for its solution. The time to plant is here. In a month or six weeks it will be too late. April is the time to sow onions, spinach, beets, carrots, turnips, peas, etc. Potatoes require space but may be planted after early peas.

"Small gardens can be started in large numbers right here in the city, under expert direction in cases where people are without experience and require advice. The committee will probably have the service of an expert; and instruction can be quickly given from the start through a model garden as is being done already in other municipalities, where different staples are planted and grown as an exhibit. The Kenyon Garden Club will no doubt be glad to co-operate with the general committee, so that we may have co-ordination and prevent overlapping. The committee when appointed will have general charge of the project. It is to be entirely local, and for quick work right now. All interested in offering land, and in starting gardens of their own if they can obtain the use of land, will help speed up this matter by registering at once with the City Clerk.

WILL ADDRESS SOCIETY ON MISSION WORK

Mrs. Mary Davis, who has labored for some time among the Pineys of South Jersey, will give an account of her work before the Missionary and Aid Society, of the Watchung Avenue Presbyterian church on Friday at 3 p. m. An invitation is extended to all to attend this meeting.

SUBMARINE CHASER FROM PLAINFIELD

Two former members of Troop D, of this city, Warren Ackerman and Reginald Rowland, have started a fund for the purchase of a submarine chaser, for service along the New England coast between Cape Cod, Mass., and New London, Conn. They have raised $3,000 thus far, and need $323,000. These young men have signed the contract for the boat which is now under construction, and hope to have the fund fully raised by May 1. They depend upon the Plainfield people to assist them in the raising of the fund, which ought to be easy now, with so much of a start.

The boat will be turned over to the United States Government for the duration of the war. It will then be returned to the young men, and will be cleared of, and the money returned pro rata to the subscribers.

The crew will be manned by ten men, friends of Messrs. Rowland and Ackerman. The head mechanic, Thomas Fraser, has served seven years in the British Navy on a similar vessel, and is an expert on marine motors. The wireless man will be one of wide experience, having served three years on the Ward Line. Two of the crew have sailed these waters for the last ten years, and are at present taking a course in coastwise navigation.

BOY SCOUTS TO PARADE ON PAUL REVERE DAY

All Boy Scouts are asked to meet tomorrow night at 7:30; to join in the parade in observance of Paul Revere Day, the observance of which is urged by Mayor Calkins in a proclamation which appears in another column.

Tomorrow is the anniversary of the famous incident in American history, inaugurating the great struggle which the Colonists under Washington waged for freedom, and for the establishment of the first and now greatest republic on earth, a Government of the people, for the people, and by the people.

April 19 is the anniversary of the battle of Lexington and Concord, the beginning of the Revolution, following the famous ride of Paul Revere on the night of April 18, 1775, when, having learned that the British were to move that night from Boston to attack the colonists, he rode through the country, at midnight, warning all the farmers and other dwellers in that section to be ready to meet them.

Let all flags be flown to the breeze tomorrow.

SOLD A CARLOAD OF UNCLAIMED FREIGHT

William Schorb, the auctioneer, put in a busy time yesterday at the local Central freight station selling off particles of unclaimed freight. Everything conceivable was disposed of at a good price by Auctioneer Schorb. It is estimated that there was over a carload of unclaimed goods consisting of rugs, dry goods, umbrellas and other merchandise. Sales were held in the morning and afternoon.

So successful was the auction yesterday that the railroad authorities are contemplating holding these sales every month.

Y. W. C. A. SELECTS "TAG DAY" CAPTAINS

More Than Two Hundred Workers Will Engage in Campaign for Funds

The officers of the Y. W. C. A. are making extensive plans for the "tag day" observance on Saturday, when it is hoped that a considerable sum will be realized to help carry on the association work, the needs of which are very urgent at the present time. The association stands ready to co-operate with the city, State or Federal governments in case of emergency and in order that it may be fully prepared to meet such a situation it is necessary that there be sufficient funds in hand. It is now three years since the association has conducted a "tag day" and the members are expecting a generous contribution.

Miss Elisabeth McGee has been selected as captain-general for the day, and the "taggers" who will number about two hundred young women will not only tag the homes in the city and borough, but automobiles as well, and they will meet the commuter trains early Saturday morning and toward evening. Arrangements have been made to serve buffet lunches at the association for the workers from 11:30 to 1:30. Tea will be served in the afternoon for the workers. All "taggers" are requested to report in the evening when the amounts will be announced.

The captains for the different teams will be as follows: Mrs. William B. Nash, Miss Janet Kelly, Mrs. Archibald Cox, Mrs. G. C. R. Grandy, Mrs. J. B. Carhart, Mrs. Donald A. McGee, Miss Alice Joy, Miss Janet Van Vliet, Mrs. Harry McGee, Miss Hope Ivins, Miss Leontine Huntsman, Mrs. William D. Flanders, Miss Anna Campbell, Miss Wilhelmina Endress, Miss Emily Pilger, Mrs. Carlton L. Smith, Mrs. Arthur C. Wadley and Mrs. Lamar Van Syckel.

HARVEY O'HIGGINS AT EVERGREEN SCHOOL

An unusual program has been arranged by the Public Recreation Committee for Saturday evening, April 21st at the Evergreen avenue school. The entertainment is given for the benefit of the Public School Athletic League, the aim and object of the league being to encourage physical preparedness and promote physical efficiency among the young boys of Plainfield.

Harvey O'Higgins, the author, who is particularly interested in the work of the Public Recreation Committee and its community and civic betterment plans, is to come to Plainfield Saturday evening to appear on the program giving readings from his own works. Mr. Higgins will be best remembered by his plays, "The Dummy" and "The Argyle Case" which were produced with great success in New York. He is an interesting and magnetic personality and all who come out to hear him Saturday evening will be more than repaid.

Other numbers on the program include dramatic sketches, musical selections and Greek interpretive dances by Miss Dorothy Hall, of New York. General dancing is to follow the program and an entirely enjoyable evening is assured.

Auto Auction Sale Saturday 3 P. M.

GERMANY'S HOLD ON FRANCE IS MENACED BY HAIG'S BIG DRIVE

By United Press:

With the French Armies in the Field, April 18.—All of Germany's hold on France was menaced today by the world's most titanic offensive. It is a struggle between Von Hindenburg and the master strategists of the French and British staffs, on a battle scale undreamed-of before.

The first onslaught now gathering its greatest momentum combined with advances begun by the British, makes a continuous battle line from Dixmude to Rheims. It is the battle of a hundred-mile front.

SCANDINAVIA WORRIED OVER FOOD SHORTAGE

By United Press:

Christiania, April 18.—All Scandinavia is worried over the possibility of America shutting off food supplies from neutrals, and concentrating on the provisioning of its new Allies during the war. The anxiety with which such a possibility is viewed was revealed today by Premier Knudson, of Norway, in an interview with the United Press. He expressed the greatest anxiety over any American embargo on food shipments to neutrals.

BRAZIL SENDING WAR COMMISSION TO U. S.

By United Press:

Washington, April 18—That Brazil and Germany soon will be at war is the belief here, following the discovery today that Brazil has virtually completed all arrangements to send a "war commission" to Washington to confer on co-operation with the United States.

HEAVY FIRING OFF PROVINCETOWN, MASS.

By United Press:

Boston, April 18.—Lieut. Edward Blakeslee, U. S. N., communication officer of the First District at Charlestown Navy Yard, announced today that heavy firing was reported off Provincetown, Mass., by three different coast-guard stations at 9:40 this morning.

TEUTONS ANGLING FOR SECRET SEPARATE PEACE

By United Press:

London, April 18.—Reports persisted here today that Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey were angling for a separate peace agreement with the Entente, through secret emissaries. The move was said to centre in Switzerland. No confirmation was obtainable here.

BERLIN PROMISES A BETTER FOOD SUPPLY

By United Press:

Berlin (via London), April 18.—Promises by the Government to improve the food situation and to include workmen in the membership of a commission on distribution of supplies, were expected to improve Germany's general strike situation today.

ARGENTINA TAKES OVER THE GERMAN SHIPS

By United Press:

Buenos Aires, April 18.—Argentina formally took all German interned ships "into custody" today. The official explanation was that the action was to prevent German crews from damaging their vessels.

MISS TILLOTSON SINGS IN HIGH SCHOOL TONIGHT

Miss Queena Tillotson, a former Plainfield girl, who sang in the Plainfield High School in October, will sing there again tonight, under the auspices of the Cup Bearers' Circle of the King's Daughters. The proceeds will be used where before has been about all the publicity she needed for this time.

She has a splendid program and the cause she represents in an additional reason for a large attendance.

St. Joseph's Bazaar

Business is still keeping up at St. Joseph's bazaar in North Plainfield. Tonight is K. of C. night, and it is expected that a good attendance of the Knights and their friends will be present. Tomorrow night is Old Home night. All former members of St. Joseph's parish are expected to be there.

BRIEF NEWS NOTES FROM THE WAR ZONE

By United Press:

London, April 18.—Field Marshal Haig's greatest thrust today was toward Cambrai. Capture of the village of Villers-Guislain, nine miles south of Cambrai, was reported by the British commander-in-chief.

By United Press:

(With the British armies afield), April 18.—Captures by the British army since April 9, in its great push, reached the vast total of 14,000 men and 227 guns to date. Around Lens and St. Quentin, Field Marshal Haig is stretching a tight noose, and increasing the pressure every hour.

By United Press:

Rio de Janeiro, April 18.—Brazil was stirred to resentment today by receipt of a note from the Chilian Government, declaring Brazil's break with Germany "creates a deplorable condition."

NAVY HUNTING FOR GERMAN SUBMARINE

By United Press:

Washington, April 18.—Somewhere in the Atlantic today, the navy is trying to round up the skulking German submarine which yesterday sent the first shot of the war, at the United States destroyer Smith. What craft was engaged in the hunt or just where, and how it proceeds must be withheld for military reasons.

By United Press:

Boston, April 18.—The entire coast today was being scoured for signs of German war vessels as a result of the attack on the United States destroyer Smith yesterday by a German submarine. The lid of censorship as to naval movements has been put on tight, apparently on orders from Washington.

MONEY IN SIGHT; NEXT 2,000,000 MEN

By United Press:

Washington, April 18.—The great $7,000,000,000 bond issue bill is now virtually a law, the Senate having unanimously passed it with minor amendments last night. Agreement by conferees of House and Senate was expected by the time both houses convened today.

Determined to put through its selective conscription plan as early as possible, the administration today virtually decided to concentrate its efforts toward raising the army of 2,000,000 in two years. Administration leaders now believe they can get the measure through the Senate very soon.

AUSTRIAN MINISTERS HAND IN RESIGNATIONS

By United Press:

Berlin (via London), April 18.—Resignations of the Austrian Minister of Commerce, Dr. Urban, and of Dr. von Barnreither, minister without portfolio, was announced in Vienna dispatches here today.

CLOSING OF HIRAM LODGE AFTER 52 YEARS

Fifty-two years ago last night, Hiram Lodge of Masons, in Raleigh, N. C., broke up its communication hurriedly, and the members scattered to points of safety upon learning that General Sherman's soldiers were approaching the town. The lip was passed to the lodge by a Union soldier who was a member of the order.

News of the assassination of President Lincoln had begun reaching that section, and reprisals by the Union soldiers were expected in their anger over the assassination.

Hiram Lodge was in communication that night, and Captain W. C. Whitton, of the Ninth Maine Volunteers, was on provost duty in the town. Knowing of the lodge session, he made his way to the rooms, and called Colonel John Nichols, master of the lodge, and told him that the Union forces were approaching the town. The members did not stop for a formal closing of the lodge, but left hurriedly. The lodge never had a formal closing for the night of April 13, 1865, until recently, when Colonel Nichols, now over eighty years old, the only living member, and who was master fifty-two years ago, performed the closing ceremonies for that night. The occasion of the closing was during the recent Grand Lodge session, and hundreds of Masons from near and far attended the solemn ceremonies.

SINGING SOCIETIES ABANDON SAENGERFEST

The United German Singing Societies at Newark have given up the annual saengerfest, which was to have been held July 1. This action was taken Sunday at a largely attended meeting of delegates held in the Krueger Auditorium, Newark.

A resolution presented by Herman Dittler, representing the Arion Society called attention to the present critical times. He declared that the local German societies should do everything in their power to preserve law and order and avoid anything that might tend to give affront to the rest of the population. His resolution was unanimously adopted.

The local singing section was entered in the State Saengerfest.

RAHWAYIANS HEAR LOCAL FIRE WHISTLE

A Plainfield fire alarm sounded so plainly here at 7:30 one morning recently that many believed there was a fire in this city.—Rahway Record.

This whistle is being blown at 7:30 a. m. to keep it in shape for use if needed, but is not used for fire alarm regularly.

ANDERSON WANTS CLUBS CLOSED

In an interview this morning, former Assemblyman Anderson advocated the closing by military order of all social clubs, and saloons where alcoholic beverages are dispensed, during the hours of daylight, and to limit the manufacture of spirituous liquors to absolute medical and military requirements, as a war measure to increase productive activity.

"We have got to get it into our heads that we are at war," said Mr. Anderson, "and that the methods and life of peace are not those of war. We have witnessed the mistakes of others and the suffering and needless bloodshed that they have brought, and we must take advantage of this lesson by starting off a little bit ahead of those who have given us our warnings or we will needlessly suffer.

"The present urgent need of our country is military efficiency and industrial and farming productivity. Every hour of daylight must be made the most of by all who wish to serve their country. Idleness is a national loss. An immediate and united effort must be made or famine will probably be staring us in the face."

WINDOW DISPLAYS WILL ENCOURAGE ENLISTMENT

Many of the large dry goods stores in New York are using their display windows for posters asking young men to volunteer for service in the war. There are hundreds of recruiting stations in New York, but the young men need some other reminder of their duty to their country than the recruiting stations offer, and the merchants are doing this much in keeping young men reminded of the opportunity for service.

Such window displays on the part of Plainfield merchants would do much to attract the attention of young men who are ready to volunteer, if they see how much the country is in need of them.

DON'T ALLOW FLAGS TO FLUTTER ON AUTOS

Motorists are requested not to attach flags to their cars in such a way that they can whip and flutter in the wind, in an appeal issued last night by Commissioner William L. Dill, of the New Jersey State department of motor vehicles.

"The department fully appreciates and approves the patriotic impulse which has led to this practice," said Commissioner Dill. "However, where sizable flags are attached to staffs secured to the radiator cap, windshield or other parts of the car, the flags snap in the breeze as the car moves along, and in several cases runaways have been caused through horses being frightened in this manner. In one instance, in Cranbury, the driver of the horse was thrown and seriously injured, while the horse broke its leg and had to be shot.

"I am only too glad to see the flag on automobiles, but I suggest that it be draped on the car in such a way that it cannot flutter or snap in the wind. It is also requested that small flags be not placed in the headlights. Where such flags are used, they obscure the light thrown by the lamp, and also color it in an objectionable fashion.

"It is inspiring to see such a wide use of our flags on Jersey motor cars, and my only request is that the colors be so used that they may not cause injury by leading to runaways or other accidents."

Doctor Says Nuxated Iron Will Increase Strength of Delicate People 100% in Ten Days

In many instances—Persons here and there should agony for years doctoring for nervous weakness, stomach, liver or kidney disease or some other ailment when their real trouble was lack of iron in the blood.—How to feel.

New York, N. Y.—In a recent discussion Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston physician who has studied widely both in this country and in great European medical institutions, said: "If you were to make an actual blood test on all people who are ill you would probably be greatly astonished at the exceedingly large number who lack iron and who are ill for no other reason than the lack of iron. The moment iron is supplied all their multitude of dangerous symptoms disappear. Without iron the blood at once loses the power to change food into living tissue and no matter how much you eat does you any good; you don't get the strength from it. Your food merely passes through your system like corn through a mill with the rollers set wide apart and the mill can't grind. As a result of this continuous blood and nerve starving people become generally weakened, nervous and all run down and frequently develop all sorts of conditions. One is too thin; another is burdened with unhealthy fat; some are weak; they can hardly walk; some think they have dyspepsia, kidney or liver trouble; some can't sleep at night, others are sleepy and tired all day; some fussy and irritable; some skinny and bloodless, but all lack physical power and endurance. In such cases it is worse than foolish to take stimulating medicines or harmful drugs, which only whip up the jaded vital powers for the moment, relying at the expense of your life later on. No matter what ails you, if you are not strong and well you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired. Next take two five-grain tablets of ordinary nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of run down people who were ailing all the time double and even triple their strength and endurance and entirely get rid of their symptoms of dyspepsia, liver and other troubles in from ten to fourteen days' time simply by taking iron in the proper form, and this, after they had in some cases been doctoring for months without obtaining any benefit. You can talk as you please about all the wonders wrought by new remedies, but when you come down to hard facts there is nothing like good old iron to put color in your cheeks and good sound, healthy flesh on your bones. It is also a great nerve and stomach strengthener and the best blood builder in the world. The only trouble is that the old form of inorganic iron like tincture of iron, iron acetate, etc., often ruined people's teeth, upset their stomachs and were not assimilated and for these reasons they frequently did more harm than good. But with the discovery of the newer forms of organic iron all this has been overcome. Nuxated iron, for example, is pleasant to take, does not injure the teeth and is almost immediately beneficial. NOTE—The manufacturers of Nuxated Iron have such unbounded confidence in its potency that they authorize the announcement that they will forfeit $100.00 to any Charitable Institution if they cannot take any man or woman under sixty who lacks iron and increase their strength 100 per cent, or over in four weeks' time, provided they have no serious organic trouble. Also they will refund your money in any case in which Nuxated Iron does not at least double your strength in ten days' time. It is dispensed in this city by all good druggists.—Adv.

SAYS GOETHALS HINTED WASTE

Reported to Have Wondered at State's Poor Roads.

AUTOIST TELLS THE STORY.

Quotes General as Saying He Could Not See What Became of $140,000,000 Spent on Highways—Remark Said to Have Been Made During Canal Builder's Recent Tour of Inspection.

Newark, April 18.—"The thing I am surprised at is this: I hear you've spent $140,000,000 on your roads, but I don't see where you put it."

This was one comment of Major General Goethals while he was on his tour of inspection of New Jersey's highway system, according to W. J. Morgan, a member of the Clinton Hill association, speaking at a meeting of that organization. Mr. Morgan had risen to defend the presence of automobilists at the protest meeting on the Edge road bill held April 3. Dr. William D. Bleick, a member of a committee that attended, representing the improvers, had reported on the meeting.

Mr. Morgan was not alone in his comment on the road situation. After Dr. Bleick had described the protest meeting, intimating that automobile interests that favored the bill were there without proper right, he spoke of the intention of protestors to bring court action against the measure.

Theodore S. Fettinger, president of the association, deplored this. "This road proposition," he began, "puts us in an embarrassing situation. We want good roads. Delay is serious. The highways are frightful and this summer will become worse. I can't see why the Egan bill wasn't tried. But to bring action in the courts will delay us two years. I'm sorry the contemplated action is being taken."

Mr. Morgan, an advocate of the Edge law, who led the automobile interests at the protest meeting, came to tilts with Dr. Bleick, declaring the motorists had heavy interests at stake and therefore had a right to be at the meeting. "We brought our men there," he asserted, "and outrooted Mr. Gillen. The other day we saw fourteen trucks stuck in the mud between here and Asbury Park." Then he told of the tour of inspection and General Goethals' alleged remark.

MINERS GET BIG RAISE.

Soft Coal Operators Give Men 20 Per Cent Increase.

New York, April 18.—By a 20 per cent increase in wages granted to the 225,000 bituminous coal miners of the central competitive field, embracing western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, danger of a strike was averted. It means about 60 cents a day more for the operatives. The advance becomes operative at once, and the agreement does not expire until March 31, 1918.

The miners won their victory after a long conference with representatives of the operators. The raise practically was voluntarily made. Before adjourning the joint conference adopted a resolution offering co-operation and support to the Council of National Defense in maintaining the production of coal.

WAR INSURANCE RULES.

German Companies Here Must Follow State's Orders.

New York, April 18.—Jesse E. Phillips, state superintendent of insurance, has issued nine rules that German insurance companies doing business in this country must follow. They are in pursuance of the requirements of the proclamation on insurance made by President Wilson on April 6.

Among the provisions is one requiring these companies to make a report each day on business transacted to the state insurance department. All disbursements of more than $10,000 must be approved by the state superintendent, and inspections of the companies' books will be made from time to time.

Schools to Aid Farm Survey.

Albany, N. Y., April 18.—John H. Finley, state commissioner of education, telegraphed to the 207 district school superintendents of the state requesting them and the teachers and pupils to gather data for the use of the governor's patriotic agricultural committee in making a survey of the agricultural resources of the state. The expenses incurred are to be paid by the governor's committee.

OLD GLORY ON MOUNTAIN.

East Dover Young Men to Plant Flag on High Peak.

Dover, April 18.—A flag raising will be held Saturday afternoon by the East Dover Goofus gang, an aggregation of young men. In addition to the flag raising there will be a musical program by the Royal Arcanum band. The ceremonies will take place on Goofus hill, better known as the point of the mountain.

A sixty foot ash pole is being erected in the solid rock on the highest point of the mountain. It can be seen from any part of the town. The flag will fly 900 feet above the sea level. A squad from the Dover guards will fire a salute. Buglers from the Fifth regiment will be asked to participate.

WILSON MAY WIELD A HOE.

White House Employees to Plant Half Acre Garden.

Washington, April 18.—The White House is about to join the increased food production movement by planting a garden of its own, in which President Wilson may wield a hoe when he finds a spare moment. The White House employees obtained permission from the department of justice to use a half acre of vacant land in the downtown section of Washington for gardening purposes.

Today the assistance of the department of agriculture will be asked in selecting seed, and there will be a forenoon session of ground tomorrow or Friday. The president probably will participate.

CHANGES SUNDAY OPENING

New Brunswick, April 18.—The attention of the grand jury will be called to what is alleged an excise violation Sunday in a French street saloon, where the Rev. Paul Hahne gained admittance. He says he found twenty-five men seated about tables drinking, among the number being two United States Army men. The clergyman says he knocked at the side door and was admitted.

FOUR SEEK PRESIDENCY.

Candidates Nominated by D. A. R. at Washington.

Washington, April 18.—The first business day of the congress of the Daughters of the American Revolution brought its third session to a close with the nomination of national officers.

The candidates are Mrs. George T. Guernsey of Kansas, Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, Mrs. John Miller Horton of New York and Mrs. George C. Squires of Minnesota.

Voting began this morning immediately after the opening prayer.

REV. J. O. M'KELVEY FOR MODERATOR

Elected by Presbytery of Elizabeth, Which Also Receives Rev. Mr. Campbell

The Rev. J. O. McKelvey, pastor of the Watchung avenue Presbyterian Church, was yesterday elected Moderator at the 117th stated meeting of the Presbytery of Elizabeth, held in that city.

The Rev. Charles A. Campbell, D. D., of Dayton, Ohio, who has accepted the call to the pastorate of the First Presbyterian Church of Elizabeth, was received as a member of the Presbytery on a certificate from the Presbytery of Dayton.

Two ministerial commissioners to the General Assembly, which will be held in Dallas, Texas, during May, were elected. They are Rev. Robert W. Mark, of Woodbridge, and the Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey, of Plainfield. Alternates selected were the Rev. R. L. Graham, of Rahway, and the Rev. H. W. Horstech, of the German Presbyterian Church, this city. Lay commissioners to attend the General Assembly who were selected this morning are P. M. Brinck, of Elizabeth, and Joseph Dobbs, of Liberty Corner. Charles S. Hammer, of Elizabeth, and H. A. Tappen, of Woodbridge, were chosen as lay alternates.

The meeting opened with devotions led by the retiring moderator, the Rev. Robert W. Mark. After the Rev. Charles Campbell had been received into the Presbytery, the Rev. Mr. Barbieri, who has been in charge of the work among the Italians in Bernardsville, was dismissed to the Presbytery of New York.

The Rev. John T. Kerr, D. D., pastor of the Third Presbyterian Church, this city, presented a request for the dissolution of the pastoral relations. Dr. Kerr spoke with deep feeling of the thirty-one years of delightful intercourse that has existed between pastor and congregation. He declared he was resigning solely because of his impaired health.

The request was granted with many expressions of appreciation for Dr. Kerr, both as a minister and as a man.

The call to the Rev. William G. Simpson to become pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Carteret, in which Mr. Simpson has been serving some time as stated supply, was formally presented and accepted.

The remainder of the morning was taken up in the election of the ministerial and lay commissioners to the assembly in Texas. The Rev. E. R. Brown, of Dunellen, was elected temporary clerk for the ensuing year.

Overtures favoring the uniting of the Presbyterian church in the South with the church in the North were endorsed at the session.

Rev. Joseph O. McKelvey, of the Watchung Avenue Presbyterian church, Plainfield, the new moderator, was in the chair at the afternoon session. He is also a delegate to the General Assembly which meets in Dallas, Texas, May 17. A committee on social service was also appointed.

In his closing prayer Rev. John G. Mason, of Metuchen, asked Divine Intercession that the "nations of the world would be filled with Christian fraternity."

The plan for a winter conference for young people to be held in Elizabeth was also indorsed.

LODGES TO ATTEND SERVICE

Members of Trafalgar Lodge, Sons of St. George, and Queen Mary Lodge, Daughters of St. George, will attend service at the Church of the Heavenly Rest Sunday night. There will be special music, and the rector, the Rev. C. H. Mallery, will preach an appropriate sermon. Public is invited.

WILL ASSIST FARMERS TO SECURE LABOR

Mayor Calkins announces that he has been advised by the State Department of Labor that it is undertaking to help farmers in New Jersey obtain farm labor necessary to insure a maximum agricultural crop.

The Mayor has been requested to give publicity to this fact and to state in the newspapers that farmers desiring farm help, or farm hands wishing employment, communicate their orders to the State Director of Employment, No. 9 Franklin street, Newark, N. J. (telephone 436 Market).

This is a free employment service for farmers, and there will be no fees or charges for any service rendered. For fuller information write to the above address.

BOROUGH LEAGUE WILL DRILL TONIGHT

The Home Defense League of North Plainfield has been oblized to change the time for its weekly drill to this evening instead of tomorrow night, because Debels Hall, where the drills are held, has been rented for tomorrow night. The commissioners of the league request that all members report at the hall tonight.

APPROPRIATIONS FOR NEW JERSEY $372,000

Trenton, April 18.—Appropriations for New Jersey totaling $372,000 are included in the sundry civil appropriations bill which has just been approved by the national House of Representatives at Washington. The measure now goes to the Senate for approval there.

Military preparedness is the dominate note in the Jersey appropriations. The sum of $184,500 is fixed for the Sandy Hook ordnance proving ground and the Picatinny Arsenal at Dover.

Of the former amount $121,500 is named for enlarging the magazine at the proof battery, for the extension of the barrack, increasing the railroad facilities to speed up the testing of big guns and for a new crane to handle the large caliber armament. The appropriation for the Dover Arsenal is $42,000 to be used as follows: Increasing the transportation facilities, including the purchase of cars and a truck scale; increasing and improving the water supply; a new magazine; repairing bridges and roads on the grounds and for a new powder drying plant.

In the other amounts, $40,000 is given to complete the Bayonne post office and $14,000 for similar work at Hackensack.

HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

German Valley, April 18.—The farmhouse two miles from here owned by A. G. Neville, of New York, and occupied by Charles Hand and family, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Mr. Hand and his family were milking, and when they started to return to the house found it a mass of flames. Nothing was saved. The cause is supposed to have been a defective flue. The property was partially covered by insurance.

MEETING OF SCHOOL BOARD

A special meeting of the Board of Education of the borough will be held Friday evening to consider matters of importance to the school. One subject of the meeting will be a proposition to let pupils out of school to do garden and farm work.

Delegates to Meeting

The Rev. Howard E. Clarke and Sydney Dunning, of this city, were delegates yesterday at the meeting of the Congregational societies held at Glen Ridge.

MEN'S CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

The Men's Club of the Congregational church held its annual meeting last night. The session opened with reports of the various committees which were very encouraging. The organization has just passed one of the most successful years of its existence and plans were talked over last evening and arrangements made for the coming year's activities. There are now fifty-four members enrolled in the club.

The officers elected are: President, R. D. Rice; vice president, J. S. Dahl; secretary, Arthur A. Mansell; treasurer, Charles E. Steiner. The latter has held this office for the past fifteen years.

Following a social hour and the serving of refreshments the organization adjourned to meet again next month.

MID-WEEK SERVICE IN CRESCENT AVE. CHURCH

This evening at 8 o'clock the Rev. Prof. J. Gresham Machen will give the last of his Bible talks on "The Way of Approach to Jesus." In this talk he will give a general survey of what he has given at the four previous meetings.

DIED AT A PATRIOTIC MEETING

William Ogdensberg, aged 77 years, a well-known veteran of the Civil War, residing at Trenton, dropped dead last night while sitting on the platform at a meeting in that city.

The deceased was an Assemblyman from Mercer county thirty-one years ago. He was known to many in this city, especially the veterans. He was a prominent Mason, Odd Fellow and Elk.

Who Found Capt. Feiring's Cap?

Going to a fire in Plainfield avenue yesterday morning Capt. George Feiring of No. 2 Hose Company lost his cap. The badge on the cap is one that he has had for a number of years and he would appreciate it very much if the person who found the cap would return it to him at Fire Department headquarters.

BIBLE SCHOOL PLANS WILL BE DISCUSSED

Executive Committee of State Association to Meet in This City Tomorrow

The executive committee of the State Sunday school Association will meet at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church tomorrow with sessions at 10:30 o'clock in the morning and 2 o'clock in the afternoon. As a special courtesy the local superintendents have been invited to meet with the committee. Following the morning session the visiting representatives will be entertained at luncheon at Mrs. Lenz Helstrom's residence on East Seventh street.

The executive committee is composed of representatives from the different counties of the State, one from each county, seven district vice-superintendents, seven general officers and a number of honorary members, making a total enrollment of about seventy. It has entire charge of the management of the affairs of the association, directing the expenditure of funds, employing the salaried officers, paying the workers, supervising the financial and educational plans of the association between the conventions which are held annually. Four meetings of the committee are held annually in different parts of the State.

The officers of the committee are as follows: Chairman, George E. Hall, Plainfield; recording secretary, Rev. Samuel D. Price, Camden; treasurer, E. W. Dunham, Trenton; general secretary, Isaac B. Burgess; elementary superintendent, Miss Edna Earle Cole, Newark.

The program arranged for tomorrow's meeting will be as follows:

Devotions, roll call, courtesies, fixing time and place for next meeting, report of general secretary, Isaac B. Burgess; report of elementary superintendent, Miss Edna Earle Cole; report of treasurer, E. W. Dunham; report from central committee, Rev. Samuel D. Price, secretary; recommendations by general secretary, recommendations from State efficiency conferences.

There will be reports from the following department superintendents: Teacher training, Isaac B. Burgess, adult class, C. A. Beemer; evangelistic, Rev. Sherman B. Pitt; missionary, Harry S. Myers; senior, Rev. R. W. Mark; home department, Mrs. H. H. Allen; temperance, associate adult secretary, C. A. Brown; reports of standing committees, new business and adjournment.

HOW TO REGAIN STRENGTH

The great factor that retards recovery after sickness is that weakened devitalized condition, and it will interest our readers to know that our local druggists, L. W. Randolph, druggist; United Cigar Stores Co., drug department, have a reliable, non-secret strength creator called Vinol, which contains iron and manganese peptonates for the blood, beef and cod liver peptones and glycerophosphates, all combined in a delicious native wine. For weak, rundown conditions and to regain strength after sickness, there is nothing better.

PROF. KREBS TO LECTURE ON LINCOLN

Friday evening at 8.15 o'clock Prof. H. C. Krebs, superintendent of schools in Somerset county, will deliver a lecture on President Lincoln before the Men's Club of the Watchung Avenue Presbyterian church. The club extended an invitation to the men of North Plainfield to be present, also to the members of the Senior and Junior classes of the North Plainfield High School.

PUBLIC NOTICE!

To Aliens Within the Township of Piscataway.

As Chairman of the Township Committee of the Township of Piscataway, I do hereby give public notice that the Police Department of the Township has been directed by T. W. Gregory, Attorney-General of the United States, to notify all alien enemies within this locality to bring to William Everhart, police officer stationed at South Plainfield, or to my residence at New Market, and surrender the following articles which, under the proclamation of the President, dated April 6th, 1917, it is unlawful for alien enemies to have in their possession:

Any firearm, weapon, or implement of war, or component part thereof, ammunition, maxim or other silencer, bomb, or explosive, or material used in the manufacture of explosives, any aircraft or wireless apparatus, or any form of signalling device, or any form of cipher code, or any paper, document, or book written or printed in cipher or in which there may be invisible writing.

A detailed receipt will be given for all articles so surrendered, and at the close of the war such articles will be returned.

Any alien enemy who fails to surrender such articles within twenty-four hours after this public notice will be subject to summary arrest if such articles are found in his possession; and the articles will be seized and forfeited to the use of the United States.

and I am sure we shall all miss him a great deal," he declared.

Former Judge Newcorn said that Judge Hetfield was a man whose word could be taken for anything; that as a member of the city government he worked for those things which are milestones on the path of progress. If he and his colleagues of the Democratic party had had their way the city of Plainfield would today be the owner of its own water supply, or the company that holds the franchise now would have paid for constructing the system of sewers. But at that time, as always, there arose an element opposed to progress, who could see nothing in the future but the disappearance of a few dollars for improvements. They could not appreciate the advantages which would accrue in later years from money well spent. It is only when compelled to exceed the original expenditure that they recognize the good qualities of propositions offered in the past.

"It was the true of Judge Hetfield's day as a councilman, and it will always be true until mankind as a whole recognizes efficiency when it manifests itself, thinks and pays less attention to those who pretend to know, and who even style themselves as competent to think for others. I shall miss Judge Hetfield. He was a man for whom I always entertained the profoundest respect. I pay my respects to his ability as a lawyer and as a man."

Corporation Counselor Charles A. Reed, corporation counsel, spoke with much feeling of his friendship for the late Judge. "He was a fighter," said Mr. Reed, "who never surrendered the rights of a client; whose word could always be taken with the assurance that it would be kept. He knew the law as well as any man, and he practiced his profession on a high plane."

Others who spoke briefly were William N. Runyon, Harry C. Runyon, V. W. Nash, Jr., Rene P. F. Von Minden, William S. Codington, William L. Coddington, Francis J. Blatz, Martin B. Stutsman, Charles M. Dolliver, Judges Crane and De Meza, Robert Newton Crane and Asa F. Randolph.

Resolutions prepared by William M. Sullivan, William N. Runyon and William A. Coddington, on the death of Judge Hetfield were adopted.

Francis J. Blatz, Harry C. Runyon and V. W. Nash, Jr., were appointed a committee to select an appropriate floral piece for the funeral. The members of the Bar Associated attended the funeral in a body this afternoon.

NORTH PLAINFIELD TOWNSHIP ORGANIZES

Citizens Take Steps to Increase the Food Supply—Officers Are Elected

The organization meeting of the agricultural interests of North Plainfield Township and vicinity was held at the improvement society hall, Watchung, last night. The township hall was filled to capacity with those who are enthusiastic over the vital question of the hour, namely, increasing the food supply. Resolutions were adopted placing the agricultural forces of the township on a military basis, and pledging individual co-operation under an efficient centralized and systematized plan.

There will be five agricultural camps in the township under the immediate command of a commissary sergeant at each camp, the township as a whole being in charge of an officer whose title is township commissary, whose duties are to act as general agent for the farming interest of the community in securing labor, credit, seeds, fertilizer and all other necessary requirements for the farm without expense for the service, and to act as recruiting officer to secure from outside sources the services of men, women, boys and girls to their country in the form of service on the farm.

One of the resolutions passed require that each resident farmer display the national colors upon his farm. The meeting then proceeded to elect the township commissary. There were two nominations made, William Delaroche Anderson and Dr. Charles Moldenke. The latter explained that on account of his work on the township committee he would withdraw and Mr. Anderson was elected and is now taking up his duties tabulating all requirements of farmers and of enlisting service on the farm.

Any applications or requirements may be sent to Mr. Anderson. It is estimated that about three hundred residents of the township will comprise the membership. Mrs. Edwin A. Martin reported that she would obtain a company of fifty girls from Wadley College, New York, who will enlist to serve in the lighter duties. H. E. Hillman reported that he would secure twenty-five boys from one of the Brooklyn high schools.

The High Cost of Indigestible Food

falls heavily upon the household where there is no intelligent direction of the food supply. Expensive high proteid foods, such as beef and pork, impose a heavy burden upon the liver and kidneys. They are not as nutritious as cereals and fruits. Two Shredded Wheat Biscuits with milk supply all the nutriment needed for a half day's work at a cost of only four or five cents. Cut out meat and eggs, eat Shredded Wheat Biscuit with green vegetables and fruits, and see how much better you feel. For breakfast with hot milk or cream. Made at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

SUNDAY SCHOOL DINES FORMER HEAD

Teachers and Officers of Temple Baptist Church Pay Tribute to Services

The teachers and officers of Temple Baptist Bible school, last night, surprised their former superintendent, L. W. Randolph, gathering for a dinner at which he was the guest of honor. The affair took place in the Baraca room of the church.

There were about 30 officers and teachers present and everything was a complete surprise to Mr. Randolph who had been invited to the pastor's home to take supper and spend the evening. This had been planned for a time shortly after Mr. Randolph retired from the superintendency, but on account of the illness of Mrs. Randolph it had to be postponed.

After the supper had been served addresses were made by the following men who have been closely associated with Mr. Randolph in the work of the school: George E. Hall, Rev. R. C. Conover, U. B. Crane, Frank Stewart, Clarence LaRue. All the speeches were congratulatory to Mr. Randolph because of the long years of service, and the success that attended his efforts during the whole quarter of a century.

Mr. Randolph responded, thanking all for the part that they had taken in making the work a success, and urged even closer co-operation with the superintendent who had taken his place.

The room was beautifully decorated with American flags and bunting.

It was a pleasant evening and enjoyed by all.

The committee in charge was: Mrs. E. C. Conover, Mrs. P. I. Minton, Mrs. Frank Stewart, Mrs. E. Baker, Jr., and Miss Bessie Carson.

DEATH FOR SPIES IN THIS COUNTRY

Special to the Courier-News:

Washington, April 18.—Shortly after convening today the Senate took up the administration bill framed by the Department of Justice, to aid it in stamping out conspiracies in this country, and otherwise to assist in enforcing laws against aliens. A death penalty for spies is provided in the measure.

MISS CHAMBERLAIN NOW MRS. DOWNEY

Nuptial Mass at St. Mary's Church This Morning Attended by Many Guests

Miss Edith Boyd Chamberlain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Hubert Chamberlain, of Hillside avenue, became the bride of Daniel Downey, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Downey, of Birmingham, Ala., at a nuptial mass celebrated at St. Mary's church at 9 o'clock this morning. Father J. J. NearY, of New York, officiated, assisted by Father Bernard M. Bogan, pastor of the church.

The bride was gowned in Georgette crepe, trimmed with real filet lace. She wore a tulle veil caught up with orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. She entered the church accompanied by her father and mother, meeting the bridegroom and best man, James Downey, Jr., at the altar. Mrs. Chamberlain wore a gown of pink Georgette crepe and chiffon, and carried lavender orchids. The wedding march was played by Miss Mary Smith, organist of the church, and during the ceremony Miss Katherine Mitchell, of Worcester, Mass., sang "Ave Maria" as a solo.

Among the guests were the bride's grandmother, Mrs. P. Frederick Chamberlain, of Bedford, Va., whose gown was of black crepe de soie, with white bead-trimmings, and Mrs. Thomas G. Ghett, also of Bedford, an aunt of the bride, who wore a gown of green silk and Georgette crepe. She carried pink roses.

The altar was elaborately decorated for the nuptials with a profusion of Easter lilies and smilax, which were greatly admired by the large number of guests present, who came from Birmingham, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Somerville, South Brook and this city.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. Covers were laid for twenty-six guests. Early this afternoon the couple left on a wedding trip. They will make their home in Birmingham, where Mr. Downey is engaged in business as a railroad contractor. He is a graduate of Dublin University. The bride has been a resident here but a short time, but several relatives lived here a number of years ago.

Jamaica, N. Y.—"I suffered greatly with my head and with backache, was weak, dizzy, nervous, with hot flashes and faintness intolerable, as I was irregular for two years. One day when I was feeling unusually bad my sister-in-law came in and said, 'I wish you would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.' So I began taking it and I am now in good health and am cured. I took the Compound three times a day after meals and on retiring at night. I always keep a bottle in the house."—Mrs. L. N. BURNHAM, 295 South St., Jamaica, N. Y.

The World War a Year Ago Today—April 18.

Germans stormed and captured from the French a stone quarry near Phlesnoul on the Meuse with 1,750 prisoners.

Turks captured over 500 yards of British trenches at Betisea on the Tigris. Losses 2,000 to 4,000 on each side.

The United States government sent to the German government a note declaring that unless Germany abandoned its submarine methods diplomatic relations would be severed. The note declared that the passenger steamer Sussex was torpedoed without warning by a German submarine.

Two Years Ago Today.

France reported repulse of German attacks on the Aisne and along the line east of Aisne valley. In the Aisne battle the French used bayonets.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 18, 1917.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF

It is an old adage that history repeats itself. The adage is quite true today in some particulars about the great war. Not only is much of the territory involved in this war, the same as that which was fought over by Caesar, in his raid upon the barbarians, as his history of the Gallic war calls them, but Caesar left us a striking example of thrift which he declared was necessary in providing ahead of time for war. He directed farmers to cultivate more extensively, in order that plenty of food products might be available not only for the armies but for the people at home. It is probable that the great Roman general was more forehanded than we, for he planned a year or two ahead of the time when he expected to go to war. We should have adopted thrift and more extensive cultivation of crops two years ago, so as to get used to providing for emergency. We did not do so, however, because none of the present generation has known anything about the exigencies of war, and would not take the tip from their fathers, who served in the Civil War. We were woefully unprepared at that time, and had to provide for present and future, while fighting a foe that was well prepared. We won; but at much greater cost than would have been necessary had we been prepared. As a nation we are quick to rise to an emergency, but that cannot excuse us for procrastination. The better prepared, the less the cost of victory. The Courier-News began three years ago, advocating "back-to-the-farm" movement, and in the light of subsequent events the tip was timely. Since then we have suffered from the high cost of living, because of scarcity of food products, and now, with the war on hand, we may be facing a real famine. The President in his latest proclamation urged upon all the people of this nation the necessity for conservation of all products. It is rather late for such warning, and it should never have been necessary for the nation's Chief Executive to tell the people that, but we have been a wasteful nation, and the idea of saving or any form of economy has been farthest from our thoughts. Only the poor people have been really the saving class, and that was from force of necessity, but they have been the real examples. The richer our nation has grown the more wasteful we have been, the composite idea of the nation seeming to be that there is more where the rest came from. Now we must call a halt in extravagances, and take account of stock. We may reach the pass where money will be of no use, if there is nothing to buy with it. Back to the soil must be our first thought, and take notice of what our thrifty enemy has always done across the water—let no land lie idle, but make it produce. The prompt response on the part of some Plainfielders, who have turned over their unoccupied land for cultivation, free of charge, should be followed by others who in the aggregate own hundreds of acres in this vicinity. There will be plenty of demand for everything that can be raised. Much that this country can produce must be sent across the water for use of our Allies, and this will make a large difference with the amount of our own food supply, at best.

THE WAR IS ON

Our country has been in a state of war for the past two weeks, following the action of Congress which adopted the President's message. Yesterday came the news that the first hostile act on the part of Germany toward our defenses had been committed in the firing of a shell by a submarine at one of our naval vessels not far off our own coast. Now if there are any doubting Thomases they will not need much further demonstration of the fact that war exists. It is hoped that the American people are so well united in the belief that it is time to act as if we were in war against an insidious foe, that there will be no pacifist talk to hinder the efforts that the President is making to maintain the dignity, honor and welfare of the nation and to aid in putting down the crime of the ages. We are engaged in war with an insidious foe, a war which was thrust upon us by a foe which sneaks among us in the dark and destroys property with the deadly bomb, glides out of the deed like the slimy serpent and destroys our vessels, murders our people, destroys helpless humanity on hospital ships and sinks food that is sent to the starving victims of an unheard-of barbarous autocracy that shows mercy to no age or condition of humanity that stands in its way. Not only have our people been murdered on the high seas in unarmed, unwarned ships, but now the peerless undersea craft infests our shores, lying in wait to destroy our people and property. With a cause which cannot stand the test of the light of day the warfare is conducted from beneath the waves, more barbarous than the proverbial barbarous Indian warfare on land which was done partly in the open, but in which the victim had a chance to fight. We know not how many undersea craft are even now menacing our shores, but we can reasonably presume that when the slimy monsters have fired on our vessels only a little way off the Jersey coast, there must be others nearby bent on murder, and that in some unsuspected places along the American coast submarine bases exist to our menace. It is time to believe ourselves in a state of war and to act accordingly.

ACTIVITY OF PACIFISTS

A sillier excursion than that of the pacifists to Washington on the opening day of Congress can hardly be imagined. It was foredoomed to failure. Congress is not to be overawed by hysteria—and it is to the credit of Congress that its members seized the occasion to speed up the President a bit, so that his address could be given to the legislators at the very time that the pacifists were clamoring in the corridors of the Capitol, insulting patriotic Senators and generally making themselves obnoxious. We suppose there will be sporadic outbursts of this sort of thing in various parts of the country all during the term of the war. The Tories of the Revolution persisted in their efforts until after the treaty of peace was made with England; the opponents of the War of 1812 did not perceptibly slacken their efforts as the war progressed; the Copperheads of the Civil War period maintained their secret organizations and pursued such open course of conduct as they could; the anti-imperialists of 1898 were busy all that summer. So now the pacifists will do what they can. Their efforts will be no more productive, however, than the foolish excursion to Washington on April 2, which, unfortunately, came just one day later than its proper date.

ADVOCATE OF MERCHANT MARINE

Congressman William R. Wood, of Indiana, is an advocate of subsidies to develop our merchant marine. From data which he has collected Mr. Wood declares that the wages paid in European shipyards are about half that paid by shipbuilding concerns in this country. It is true that the present excessive demand in England for ships has somewhat increased the scale of wages, but after the war they will again assume their normal standard. England's relations to the cheap labor of Japan, according to Mr. Wood, is somewhat analogous to our own relation to England, and the reason Japan does not build ships for England is that the latter country throws around her shipbuilding enterprises the protection that we should have here and gives subsidies and subventions to her ships. Mr. Wood contends that the same means of protection after the war, if adopted by us, would enable us to build our own ships instead of having Europe construct them for us.

FLY THE FLAG TOMORROW

Tomorrow is the 142nd anniversary of the battle of Lexington and Concord, Mass., the first skirmish of the Revolution, and the occasion of the first bloodshed in the struggle for freedom of the American Colonies. In this stroke a liberty-loving people entitled to the rights and privileges of humanity, in a land of their adoption, made prolific by their earnest endeavors, inaugurated a defense against oppressors that led to the independence of the Colonies, and the establishment of the United States, the first free republic on earth. It is meet that we should commemorate this day with a patriotic demonstration. Let all flags be flown to the breeze tomorrow. Many have been flying as an evidence of patriotism since war was declared with Germany, and now let all flags be hoisted in observance of both incidents.

FRIEND OF NATIONAL GUARD

The National Guard has a firm friend in Representative Charles R. Davis, of Minnesota. "The present National Guard," asserts Mr. Davis, "is composed of men who are thoroughly patriotic, and I believe that all future National Guardsmen will be equally so." For four years Congressman Davis was a captain of a company in the Minnesota Guard, consisting of the best blood of all nationalities, and he was impressed with the fine spirit which dominated the men. Mr. Davis is convinced that the Guardsmen will rush to arms to defend our country and its honor to the utmost.

AVOID EXTRAVAGANCE

The following extract from President Wilson's message should appeal to every American citizen:

"This is the time for America to correct her unpardonable fault of wastefulness and extravagance. Let every man and every woman assume the duty of careful, provident use and expenditures as a public duty, as a dictate of patriotism which no one can now expect ever to be excused or forgiven for ignoring."

EDITORIAL NOTES

Formerly many men wouldn't join the militia because the companies did nothing but have dances and wear gold lace, and now they won't join because they are likely to be called into the war.

Some of the men who are trying to buy farm land at $200 per acre and raise $2 wheat are the same ones who sold out at $50 per and went into the city to make their fortune.

From the vigor with which the pacifists talk they evidently think that some one is listening to them.

You can hear the proverbial pin drop when the chance is given for applause after naming some of our public men.

The Prussians are trying to get the negroes to rise against the Government. Did any barbarians ever have more inventive genius for devilry?

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Will Allow Use of Land

To the Editor of the Courier-News:

I believe that at the present time every square foot of land capable of production should be put under cultivation. I have two pieces of land on Myrtle avenue which I would be very glad to let anyone who will use for the above purpose.

An Appeal to Justice

To the Editor of the Courier-News:

I wish to make a strong protest against what appears like discrimination by some over-zealous people.

I am American-born, as well as my father and mother before me; am 39 years old, married, with four small children, and am strictly temperate, of good habits, a Protestant and member for over twenty years of a strictly American order. I have been in business for myself over ten years; have never been arrested or accused of any crime, but find myself obliged to seek work in order to support myself and family.

Last week I made a canvass of the factories for work and when I and a friend, who, by a coincidence, is situated like myself, applied and gave our names, which are of German origin, we were curtly told we were not wanted, while they, without exception, had employes who were of foreign birth. We who were born here were turned down without a chance even to protest.

Now, seriously, I need work, am good at gardening, a good salesman with a good common school education, quick and accurate at figures, a good writer, honest, temperate and industrious, would work as a chauffeur or at any honest, legitimate work, but being of slight build could not take a heavy job.

I was brought up to honor and respect Old Glory and cannot believe but that there is something I can do to support my family. If you will kindly publish this I feel sure someone who reads it can use me to our mutual advantage, as I can give good references and can make good. I only ask for fair treatment and living wages and will give in return faithful, honest work that will satisfy my employer.

A LOYAL AMERICAN.

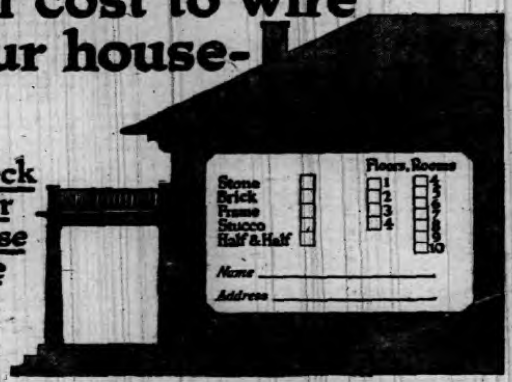
Find out how little it will cost to wire your house-



The modern way of wiring a house, no matter how old, does not damage walls or floors or interfere in any way with household routine.

The woman who does her own housework will find that electricity can save her strength and eliminate much hard work by using electric washer, iron and vacuum cleaner.

Electricity also enables the housewife to save a good deal of time for rest and recreation. For example, the electric iron, by actual test, saves about one-third of the time ordinarily spent in ironing.

Electric table appliances, such as chafing dishes, percolators, toasters and grills, are more than a mere convenience and delight. Food prepared in these appliances can be served at the proper temperature, when it is most palatable.

Electricity counts for far greater comfort, too—in rendering it easy to place lights exactly where they are most needed—in enabling you to ward off the disagreeable effects of hot weather with the invigorating breezes of the electric fan.

Electricity, because of its many conveniences, also increases property values.

Your investigation involves neither expense nor obligation. Why delay any longer?

"JOAN THE WOMAN" CLOSES AT PROCTOR'S TONIGHT

At Proctor's Theatre Friday

Tomorrow at the old prices the program consists of the second chapter of "The Mystery of the Double Cross," Bessie Love in a heart interest drama "A Daughter of the Poor" and the first of the new Keystone comedies, "The Nick of Time Baby."

On Friday and Saturday Charlie Chaplin will be seen in his latest comedy creation, "The Cure." Also on Friday Alice Brady appears in "A Dancer's Peril" and Ann Pennington in "The Rainbow Princess."

On Saturday afternoon only, a special serial for the children, "A Lass of the Lumberlands," featuring Helen Holmes, in action and adventure, will be shown. This serial will appear every Saturday afternoon for fifteen weeks hereafter. It will not be shown Saturday evenings.

The regular program Saturday consists of Charlie Chaplin in "The Cure," Thomas Meighan and Anita King in "An Heir to the Hoorah," adapted from the famous stage play, and Neal Hart in a special comedy drama, "Roped In."

AL REEVES' BEAUTY SHOW HERE MONDAY

Al. Reeves' "Big Beauty Show" comes to the Plainfield Theatre next Monday, matinee and night, April 23, with an unusually large chorus and exhibition of living models. Mr. Reeves' new production includes a two-act farce, "Shimming," showing two scenes in Chinatown and a banquet room in a Fifth avenue mansion. This is the twenty-fifth anniversary of Mr. Reeves' theatrical career, which he is celebrating by giving the public a big jubilee.

Thirty-six pretty girls have been secured, and the musical numbers have been carefully chosen for this production.

Presbytery For Conscription.

Jersey City, N. J., April 18.—Ministers of the presbytery of Jersey City, which comprises forty-five churches of Bergen, Passaic and Hudson counties, emphasized their approval of compulsory military training in a telegram to President Wilson pledging him their support. They also approved a close alliance with the entente allies.

BLANCHE BATES HERE IN "ELEVEN P. M."

Two Crowded Houses Greet the Versatile, Artistic Star of Modern Drama

Misunderstanding, the source of all quarrels; its sequence, jealousy, anger, estrangement of husband and wife, and a long period of wasted time after which the two are reconciled, is the theme of the story presented by Blanche Bates and Wilton Lackaye, with a strong supporting cast, in the play "Eleven P. M.," in the Plainfield Theatre, yesterday afternoon and last night, before crowded houses.

The wife vivacious, the husband poor but wearing a title of Count, the son of haughty, titled parents, and a rich prince with whom the wife flirted just enough to bring down the wrath of the husband's haughty parents, are the chief factors in the story. The wife, misunderstood, because of her vivacity and indiscreet flirtation, and driven by the unjust suspicion of the husband and his parents, declares to them that she will make their suspicions good, and tells them they will find her at "Eleven P. M." with the Prince in his apartments where they can get evidence for a divorce.

She plays the prince against her accusers, "shoos" them all out of her presence, and takes to the stage where she makes a noted success, and the husband, who has been two years in the war, returns to find her, satisfied in her innocence, and they are reconciled.

Miss Bates finds in this play something just suited to her artistic temperament, and she plays a splendid part. The prince, portrayed by Wilton Lackaye, is also a splendid bit of acting, although it seems strange to hear the star of the famous play, "The Pit," in a part where English is spoken with a strong French accent is one of the features.

The story is not one that can make a strong appeal as a rule of domestic life, but it unmasks hypocrisy, hollowness, and insincerity, taking a leaf from many a life story. It is artistically drawn, and splendidly presented by Miss Bates and her company.

Its local presentation, besides being a pleasing success, was a tribute to the popularity of Dave Rogers, treasurer of the Plainfield Theatre, for whose benefit it was brought here, and who enjoys a similar benefit once a year, which always is well patronized.

HANG FLAGS IN HONOR OF REVERE AND LEXINGTON

Flags will fly tomorrow to mark the Battle of Lexington and the famous ride of Paul Revere. In many parts of this State the mayors of the towns and city are calling for a special observance of the day and in this city the pupils in the public schools will recite the historical reference to the famous ride:

"If the British move from the town tonight,
In the Old North Church tower hang a light.
One if by land, and two if by sea
And I on the opposite shore will be Ready to ride and give the alarm
To every Middlesex village and farm."

MILLBURN POSTMASTER HAS COMMISSION FOR FULL TERM

Edward F. Lonergan has received from Postmaster General Burleson his commission for a full term as postmaster of Millburn, his nomination by President Wilson having been confirmed by the Senate March 16. Mr. Lonergan has been serving since last fall on a recess appointment by President Wilson, the Senate refusing to confirm the nomination because of objections by Senator James E. Martine, who had recommended Robert S. Oliver, Sr., for the position.

THREE BILLIONS NOW FOR ALLIES

Senate Unanimously Passes War Loan Bill.

BIG BOND SALE IS NEXT.

Secretary McAdoo Consulting With Financiers on Ways to Overcome Tremendous Difficulties of Placing $7,000,000,000 Without Deranging the Wheels Financial System of Nation. Billion on Market Within a Week.

Washington, April 18.—The United States is now ready to place $3,000,000,000 to the credit of the entente allies and to spend $4,000,000,000 toward America's part in the war against Germany.

The senate unanimously passed the bill authorizing the issuance of $5,000,000,000 worth of government bonds and $2,000,000,000 worth of short term certificates of indebtedness for this purpose. Eighty-four senators voted.

The signing of the measure will immediately place into operation all the machinery of the government for the floating of the tremendous war time securities. The first allotment of the bonds, probably totaling nearly $1,000,000,000, is expected to be placed on the market within two weeks.

Extensive arrangements already are under way for the sale of the bonds. Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo announced that he would call upon the financial leaders of the United States to help the government to dispose of the securities. Conferences will be held with leading banker. of the nation to work out a feasible arrangement.

Difficulties Are Great.

Already tremendous difficulties are looming up. Government officials are frankly concerned over the danger of serious disorganization of the nation's financial system by the sudden turning loose of such a tremendous amount of government bonds.

Secretary McAdoo held a conference with the members of the Federal Reserve Advisory Council, of which J. P. Morgan and other big bankers of the country are members. He asked them to file with him a written suggestion as to how the difficulties in the way of a successful bond issue may be met.

The administration has made such headway in the house committee on military affairs that the reporting of the army conscription bill, with but one material amendment, became a practical certainty. The bill is expected to go into the house within forty-eight hours. It may be reported late this afternoon.

The recalcitrants on the committee gradually lost ground until the proponents of the selective draft gained the majority. On the showdown in committee it is not believed more than half a dozen members, mostly Democrats, will oppose the bill.

Changes in Age Limits.

A change in the ages of the classes to be called out by the president under the selective draft plan is the only material modification. Instead of a draft of men between the ages of nineteen and twenty-five the committee is expected to vote and the administration to accept that the muster of men under the conscription plan shall be as follows: First call, eligible men between the ages of twenty and twenty-five, inclusive; second call, ages twenty-six to thirty-two; third, ages thirty-three to thirty-seven; fourth, ages thirty-eight to forty-two. If a fifth class should be needed the ages would be between forty-three and forty-eight.

Chairman Dent went to the White *House with suggestions of a compro*mise bill providing for a try out of the volunteer plan before conscription was put into effect. The same compromise was proposed while Secretary Baker was before the house committee. Both the president and the secretary of war flatly rejected the proposition for a volunteer army or an army half volunteer and half conscript.

Baker Would Not Yield.

The secretary of war agreed to yield on certain minor features of the administration measure; he would not budge on the fundamentals. When the committee adjourned the administration appeared for the first time to be in control of the situation and the army bill was on the way to a favorable report.

Secretary Baker told the house committee flatly that the war department's plan for the organization of an army by selective conscription was the only feasible way of meeting the emergency with Germany. After the committee adjourned Chairman Dent called all the Democratic members together in conference. He expressed hope of getting a unanimous report despite the division in the committee over the draft provision. The committee meets this morning for the final vote on the draft issue.

RESTRICTS USE OF UNIFORM.

Guards at Munitions Plants Must Not Dress as U. S. Soldiers.

Trenton, April 18.—Adjutant General Barber in a statement calls attention to a federal law which prohibits the wearing of uniforms similar to those of the regular army or the national guard. It has come to his attention that some munitions manufacturers and mill owners employing private guards uniform them virtually as soldiers. This leads to confusion.

The adjutant general says the law will hereafter be strictly enforced.

Red Bank G. A. R. Helped by $200.

Red Bank, April 18.—About $200 was cleared for Arrowsmith post, No. 61, G. A. R., at a minstrel show given by Navesink Hook and Ladder company at the Empire theater. The G. A. R. recently lost everything in a fire which des[troyed] its post room.

He's telling her that nothing he received from home brought more joy, longer-lasting pleasure, greater relief from thirst and fatigue, than

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids will be received by the Committee on County Roads of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County for the extraordinary repair of Spring-field Avenue and Marlborough Street in the Township of Cranford, in the County of Union with a bituminous dressing surface upon a concrete foundation; estimated amount of surface pavement required is 19257 square yards, of foundation 19157 square yards; and opened and read in public at the Court House, Elizabeth, N. J., on Monday, May 7, 1917, at 2:30 p. m. Plans, Drawings, specifications and forms of bid, contract and bond for the proposed work prepared by Jacob L. Bauer, County Engineer, and approved by the State Commissioner of Public Roads have been filed in the office of the said engineer at 120 Broad Street, Elizabeth, N. J., and of said Commissioner at the State House, Trenton, N. J., and may be inspected by prospective bidders during business hours. Bidders will be furnished with a copy of the specifications and blue prints of the drawing by the engineer on proper notice and payment of cost of the same. Bids must be made on the standard proposal forms in the manner described therein and required by the specifications, must be enclosed in sealed envelopes, bearing the name and address of bidder on the outside, addressed to Committee on County Roads, Court House, Elizabeth, N. J., and must be accompanied by a certified check or cash for not less than $1,000.00 and be delivered at the place and on the hour named above. The standard proposal form is attached to the specifications, copies of which will be furnished by application to the engineer.

A detailed receipt will be given for all articles so surrendered, and at the close of the war such articles will be returned.

Any alien enemy who fails to surrender such articles within twenty-four hours after this public notice will be subject to summary arrest if such articles are found in his possession; and the articles will be seized and forfeited to the use of the United States.

Sit Up And Take Notice
Now is the Time to Plant
The United States Government reports that we must supply a large part of the world with food during the Fall, Winter and Spring of 1917-18. The result will be shortage of food supplies, resulting in Higher-than-Ever prices, if not in an actual famine.
What must we do? People throughout the country are going to see that those who prepare by having a garden, no matter how small, will eliminate to a great extent, the cost of their weekly bill for Table Vegetables. Plant every available piece of vacant land, including small back yards.
Our line of Seeds, Fertilizers and Farming Implements are of the Long Standing Reliable Kind. We have sold them for years, the kind that have been tested and found true every year.
We are able to sell you positively fresh seeds this year without an increase in cost over prices standing last year.
Act quickly to take advantage of the unusual conditions and at the same time help to avoid food panics and famines next Fall, Winter and Spring.

ESPIONAGE BILL EXEMPTS PRESS

Right to Criticise Policies Is Permitted.

SEVERE PENALTIES FOR SPYING

Punishment Severe For Any Acts Against the United States—Mails Closed to Seditious or Treasonable Literature—Right of Search Granted. Embargo Power Given to President to Be Exercised at His Discretion.

Washington, April 18.—Severe penalties for those who even attempt to elicit information concerning the ships military forces or defenses of the United States are provided in the espionage bill as finally agreed upon by the senate judiciary committee.

The committee left the bill, as suggested by the administration authorities, virtually unchanged; but to guarantee to the press and the public freedom of criticism of the acts of the administration added the following provision:

That nothing in this section shall be construed to limit or restrict, nor shall any regulation herein provide to limit or restrict, any discussion, comment or criticism of the acts or policies of the government or its representatives, or the publication of the same; provided that no discussion, comment or criticism shall convey information prohibited under the provisions of this section.

The embargo section authorizing the president by proclamation to prohibit the exportation of any articles from the United States, except under such regulations as he may provide, is incorporated in the measure.

The right of search is also extended in a section inserted in chapter 11 of the bill relating to search warrants. This provides "that a search warrant may be issued in conformity with the provisions of this act for the purpose of searching any premises or person to discover any property or papers held, secured or used or intended to be held, secured or used in violation of or aid of a violation of any law of the United States or treaty of the United States or of the rights or obligations of the United States under the law of nations."

WOULD CURTAIL LIQUOR.

Connecticut Legislators May Give Governor War Power.

Hartford, Conn., April 18.—Because all the great nations at war have found it advisable to close the saloons entirely or to curtail their hours for business about thirty of the leading members of the house have signed a petition, which was referred to the excise committee, asking for the enactment of a law giving the governor power to close or restrict operations of the saloons of the state whenever he believes it necessary for the conserving and efficiency of farm hands, whose work will be very important in Connecticut the coming summer.

Today another efficiency measure proposing to bar from the state all alcoholic patent medicines had a hearing.

CHARGES PRISON MURDER.

Convict Says Prisoner Was Beaten to Death in New Jersey.

Trenton, N. J., April 18.—Charges that a murder was committed in the New Jersey state prison at the instigation of the head keeper were made before the Eder prison inquiry commission. Additional cases of extreme cruelty to convicts also were bared.

James Lawrence, who has served eleven years in the institution, testified that four men beat to death a negro prisoner named Williams. He fixed the date of the crime as "on a Sunday morning in 1915." He said the death was "hushed up by the prison authorities."

BAY STATE BARS SUFFRAGE.

Women Cannot Vote on Constitution, Court Rules.

Boston, April 18.—Women will not be permitted to vote upon recommendations submitted to the electorate of the commonwealth by the coming constitutional convention.

The supreme court in an opinion submitted to the legislature declared that the Inter-Ocl. ..ld no authority to define the word "people" in the act providing for the convention as meaning both men and women and had no power to amend the act or take other steps to permit women to vote.

Greater Atlantic City.

Atlantic City, April 18. — Atlantic City became a greater resort in a tangible sense when it took title to 4,207 acres of land, mostly marsh, under the Egg Harbor township annexation bill, thereby more than doubling its former area. The township fought the city's plans until the shore resort agreed to pay 60 per cent of its bonded indebtedness. This makes the large area acquired cost $28,435.

Experience Is the Test of Tires

Every tire claims to be the lowest-cost-per-mile tire.

If you knew the experience of any considerable number of other tire users,

—that would help you decide which tire makes good on the claim.

We don't know about other makes of tires, but we do know —that motorists who have used United States Tires continue to use them;

—that more and more motorists who used other makes of tires are turning to United States Tires.

These two facts are proved by the amazing sales increases of United States Tires —sales increases that are vastly greater than even the greater natural increase in the number of automobiles this year over last —which shows where tire service is.

SOMERVILLE NOTES

SOMERVILLE'S NEW TELEPHONE SYSTEM

A. B. Wilson, the Telephone Company's commercial manager at Plainfield, commented yesterday on the new system which has been installed.

The operating force of seven in the local office is in charge of Miss Margaret Power, chief operator. This operating force will handle more than 2,500 calls every day. Of this total, 1,900 are local calls and more than 500 are toll calls to points outside the central office district. In the busy hour of the day, they will handle 432 calls. In addition to subscribers in Somerville, they will also serve subscribers in the North Branch and Neshanic central office district.

The new switchboard is equipped with 700 subscribers' lines, and 50 trunk lines to other central offices, and has positions for four operators.

The new central office occupies the entire second floor of the Foresters' building at 49 West Main street. The room is devoted to the operating room, wire chief's quarters and combination rest room and locker room for the use of the operators.

The wire chief's desk is one of the most interesting pieces of equipment in the office. It is provided with devices that make it possible for the wire chief to detect and locate "trouble" on any telephone almost instantly.

The old magneto board was installed October 1, 1895. Six months previously, April 8, 1895, the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company was granted permission by the Board of Commissioners to install 25 telephones for such applicants as desired long distance service. The first switchboard was installed in Field's drug store, now occupied by P. P. Cron, at about the same time service was established for Justice James J. Bergen and the late Alvah A. Clark. Additional subscribers obtained by the Bell Company made it necessary to place a larger switchboard in service, and the central office was transferred from Cron's drug store to the Clark building, adjacent to the property, where the magneto central office has been for the last few years.

In 1911, 1894, there were 19 telephones in Somerville. The growth in the 21 succeeding years is shown by the fact that in 1916 there were 482.

To Have Red Cross Unit

At a meeting held Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis P. Gaston, it was decided to apply to the Red Cross authorities for permission to organize a unit for Somerville. Henry Reimer has already offered for membership purposes, until it is rented, the use of a vacant store at 89 West Main street. A public meeting will be held at an early date for the purpose of organizing a unit, Monday evening's meeting being only preliminary. The Red Cross Society requires that a number of citizens vouch for the formation of a unit before permission is given to do so, and Monday's meeting was for the purpose of taking such action.

Smith vs. Smith

In the case of the C. J. Smith Company, Inc., vs. William Smith, as action at law, tried before Judge George S. Silzer, in the Circuit Court at Somerville, Monday, the jury named received a verdict of $1,418.17.

William Smith, proprietor of the County House, several months ago considered building a number of apartments adjoining the hotel on Bridge street. Plans were drawn, the old "county sheds" torn down and other arrangements made for the work. Mr. Smith later decided not to go on with the work and this suit, together with another, Warren F. Schenck vs. William Smith, resulted.

Somerville Man Dies In West

Hugh G. Dumont, aged 35 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dumont, of Mechanic street, died in a hospital in Youngstown, Ohio, early Tuesday morning, following a paralytic stroke. He was first stricken April 5. He left the hospital a few days later, only to return. Mr. Dumont's father was at his son's side when he died. DUNELLEN

INSPIRING SESSION OF CHURCH SOCIETY

The congregational meeting held last night at the local Methodist Church was a most inspiring one and largely attended. The meeting opened with devotional services conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. D. W. C. Ramsey, and included the singing of "America."

The selection of trustees resulted in the re-election of F. H. Gise, I. J. Stiles and H. B. Walters for three-year terms.

Each department in the church responded, giving in detail the work of the organization and plans for the coming year. The many activities of the Sunday school were given by the Superintendent, H. Townley; Missionary Society, Mrs. Ramsey; trustees, I. J. Stiles; church music, Miss Adelaide Ramsey; Epworth League, Howard Townley; Junior Epworth League, Mrs. Harry Smalley; Ladies' Aid Society, Mrs. F. H. Gise, and publicity, L. Fay. All gave encouraging statements of the work and the proposed plans for the coming year. At the close of the responses the congregation sang, "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

There were also appropriate remarks by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Ramsey, and the Rev. Dr. Jamison. At the close of the meeting the members of the Ladies' Aid Society, of which Mrs. F. H. Gise, is president, served refreshments.

Plainfield Chamber-Music Club Pleasing Program

WHITEHOUSE

REFORMED CHURCH CALLS A PASTOR

Rev. Albertus C. Van Raalte, of Lindeb, was tendered a unanimous call to become the pastor of the Reformed Church at Whitehouse Station at a congregational meeting held yesterday afternoon in the lecture room of that edifice. If he accepts he will succeed Rev. Henry T. Jones, who was pastor here for sixteen years until January 1, when he went to assume charge of the Reformed Church at Coeymans, N. Y.

Mr. Van Raalte is a native of Holland, Mich., of which his grandfather was one of the pioneer settlers. He graduated from Hope College before entering the New Brunswick Theological Seminary, from which he was graduated about three years ago. Since then he has been the pastor of the Reformed Church at Linden. He is also district secretary of the State Christian Endeavor Union and is married and has one child.

PLAN LAID FOR MUNICIPAL GARDEN

Those interested in the Westfield National Service League held another meeting in the town hall last night to discuss further the plan of having gardens for the production of vegetables. A plan was submitted by E. A. Merrill which provided for the appointing of a general supervisor with supervisory captains who shall form an executive board which shall have authority to make rules for the conduct of the work and determine its scope; to make contracts and to act upon reports of committees and sub-committees. These supervisory captains would be responsible for the conduct of work in their several districts and have power to appoint discharge and otherwise control their assistants, to direct and instruct gardeners, to take means for the protection of crops and to purchase tools and appliances not provided by the executive board.

Instructors would be appointed and shall work under the control of the executive board. The instructors would give suggestions as to the proper preparation of the soil, sowing the seed, and cultivation of the crops. The plans call for the naming of a press committee, land committee, marketing committee, home garden committee, soil preparation committee, enrollment committee and a finance committee.

After the plan had been read there was considerable discussion about it. Mayor Evans was of the opinion that there should be a municipal garden which should be under the direction of the town. It was finally decided to let the plan as presented by Mr. Merrill stand and the land committee will be instructed to go ahead and find out how much land is available. Another meeting will be held on Friday night when more definite plans will be presented.

Funeral of Dr. Gale

The funeral of Dr. William Gale, who died in the Muhlenberg Hospital in Plainfield on Sunday, was held yesterday afternoon from the Presbyterian church at 3.30. The service was in charge of the members of Winfield Scott Post, G. A. R., of which Dr. Gale was a charter member. The services were attended by a large number of the veterans and relatives and friends. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful and included a wreath from the Retail Merchants' Association; a pillow from the Exempt Firemen, and several smaller pieces from friends and relatives.

The chaplain of the Post N. C. Pennington had charge of the services. Rev. Dr. W. I. Steans, the pastor of the church, made a brief address and Mrs. A. B. Rowland sang "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Lead Kindly Light." Interment was made in Fairview cemetery and the bearers were: Worth Coddington, Job Coddington, William N. Pangborn, James Lewis, Z. W. Chadbourne, and Hoyt Southard, all members of Winfield Scott Post and fellow comrades in the Civil War with Dr. Gale.

GUEST TOWELS

There is only one thing in the world more useless than an extra inch on a shoestring. That's a guest towel. Every time you try to use a guest towel your face hits a chunk of embroidery, and the towel itself refuses to take effect. Now, you take a Turkish towel and you know you've got something. It is rough and uncouth and not very careful about its personal appearance, but it gets results. It has a corrugated face, and few, if any, folderols; but gosh! how it can scrape! And there are a few other towels that are not so bad. But for the guests' sake, if for no other reason, let us abolish guest towels.

ATHLETIC SPORTS WILL HELP SOME

The Training on the Field and Track Beneficial to Uncle Sammy

War is going to take an awful wallop at athletic sports in the United States, but at the same time it is going to be the means of demonstrating the wonderful efficiency in sports that has been attained in this country. The baseball player, the track athlete, the boxer, the trapshooter, all undoubtedly will be seen in action, and they all have been given training that will make them valuable.

Baseball training, it has many times been pointed out, is admirable for training men in the use of grenades or bombs. There isn't another nation in the world where baseball is played as it is in this country. Consequently there isn't a country where the knack of accurate throwing is developed.

There is the trapshooter who turns in his fifty brokes birds out of fifty shots, and plenty of them that pull down ninety-some out of 100. It isn't at all mere speculation to figure that he could do as well in a trench with a machine gun to guide or with a rifle aimed to his shoulder. Fine condition, health and no nerves belong to this class of men. They are splendid specimens of Americans—nearly every one of them. A brigade of them could be fit for war duty probably in half the time it would take to prepare as many ordinary men. They'll be ready when the time comes.

Expressions of willingness to serve have been heard from the ranks of every branch of sport. Jess Willard's offer of service probably could be turned into an unprecedented stimulus for recruiting. Doubtless if he attempted it he could organize that full brigade with very little trouble. Such an idol as he would be an attraction for every young athlete in the country. If Willard's offer could be followed by every big star in all branches of sport it would mean a great deal to the Government's preparations to help crush the Kaiser. They probably will be coming in.

BASEBALL CHATTER FROM LOCAL LOTS

What Is Doing in the National Pastime Circles of Plainfield and Vicinity

The Plainfield H. S. team of baseball tossers visited Newark Monday afternoon when they stacked bats against the aggrecation of the St. Benedict Prep School. The local boys lost their first game of the season before the local papers even had an inside glance at the schedule. In order to heap insult to injury, for some unknown reason the local lads did not get their score of the initial game in to the sport writer. Must have been a little ashamed of their start.

What is Pete Simmons going to do with his Royal Giants this year? This is a question being heard on all sides at the present time. Don't know. Pete has not let out a whimper all spring, but we surmise that Pete will be found on the job when the proper time comes. However, we hope that the organization of the Giants will not be let to slide until the season is half over.

The work of organizing a baseball team at Scotch Plains for the coming season, according to the latest reports, has been shifted from Joe Alberts to his brother Henry. The latter has already started to gather together a number of players to represent the suburb. It is understood that Henry is dickering with the Manville aggregation for a game or two to take place during the next month.

The Courier-News aggregation is now ready for the season under the leadership of one George Servis. George is anxious to arrange a game or two for Sundays with the Bullfrog City team or any other team of like strength. Interested managers will kindly communicate with Mr. Servis, care Courier-News.

PLAN NATIONAL CIRCUIT FOR B. P. O. E. BOWLERS

Detroit, Mich., April 18.—At a business meeting of the Michigan Elks' Bowling League held here, primary steps were taken toward the organization of the Elks' Bowling Association of America, in which membership is open to every Elk in the country. The heavy entry lists in State tournaments during the last few years is the reason for a national body.

P. H. S. LOST FIRST GAME OF SEASON

Jack Duer, St. Benedict's Young Twirler, a Little Too Strong for Locals

By striking out seventeen Plainfield High School baseball players Monday afternoon Jack Duer enabled the St. Benedict Prep nine to pull through to a 6 to 2 victory at Athletic Park, Vailsburg. Duer, who is but a youngster and not the regular moundsman, had the Queen City batters swinging in all directions. He held them without a run for the first seven innings. In the eighth two tallies came on errors. He allowed six hits, which were well scattered. Duer accounted for two safe drives and dented the plate twice.

Although they made five errors, the Plainfielders showed some excellent work handling the ball. The Prep lads did not have much opportunity to show any speed in fielding. Two errors were made by the Saints. The Prep lads made ten hits.

A tally in the first inning and two and one, respectively, in the third and fourth innings put the game on ice for the local team. It wound up its scoring in the seventh inning when two more players were sent over the plate.

Coach Valerian made a change in his catching department, Joseph McCloskey, who dislodged James Hanley from behind the plate, made a poor showing at Lakewood High Saturday. He passed many balls. Thomas Nelson, who played centre field in the initial game, went behind the bat. He is now pretty sure of the catching position. He also contributed two safeties and scored twice. Jack Lewis and James Donahue slammed out two hits apiece.

BOROUGH STARS WIN THEIR FIRST CONTEST

Ability to "pickle" the old pill when the bases were loaded enabled the North Plainfield Stars to smother the Riverdale nine on the DeLacy avenue field yesterday afternoon by the score of 13 to 3.

Both Seidel and Paoli displayed good mound ability, and Carson led the swatting for the winners with a circuit and double drives. Clark played best for the Riverdales.

ONIONS PAY WAY TO BALL GAME

Potatoes and onions were good for admission at the Norwood ball park, Cincinnati, O., home of the world semi-pro champion Norwoods, when they played their first game of the season the other day. It was a practice game between two squads of Norwood players headed by Earl Yingling and Red White, former major league pitchers.

One potato and one onion were good for one admission. Boys tended the gates and later distributed the food to the poor of Norwood.

PITCHER WOOD NOW O. K.

The National Baseball Commission has granted the request of Pitcher Joe Wood of the Cleveland club and he restored him to good standing without the infliction of a penalty. Wood was carried on the 1916 ineligible list of the Boston Americans because of his failure to report last spring and has been released by that club to the Cleveland club, which he has contracted and is now playing.

Frances Cowell, of San Francisco, holder of several swimming records, recently set a new mark in the 400-yard swim, which she made in 6 minutes and 59 seconds.

If we weren't always on the "look out" we might have been completely at sea this Spring for our usual showing of suits and overcoats made from woolens imported direct from the best mills abroad.

As it is, along with our hosts and hosts of the best of domestic fabrics, we've as many novelties from the other side as in more normal seasons.

ANOTHER C. N. J. LEAGUE HOME-AND-HOME SERIES

Some more bowling doings are to be staged between North Plainfield and Somerville next week. This bit of information was given out by George Gates, of the borough, this morning, when he stated that Koechlein and Mathews, of Bound Brook and Somerville, respectively, will vie with the Canadian alleys next Tuesday evening to bowl Vail and Gates in the first set of a home-and-home series.

Ten games are to be rolled Tuesday evening, the remaining eleven to be staged on Rotler's alleys in Somerville the following Thursday.

Considerably more interest than usually prevails is being shown in the approaching series, and followers of both teams will flock to the alleys both nights of the contest.

JAKE DAUBERT ENJOYS NATAL DAY NO. 32

Jacob E. Daubert, who does station duty at first base for the Brooklyn Dodgers, yesterday celebrated his thirty-second birthday, having been born out at Shamokin, Pa., April 17, 1885. Daubert is one of the baseball players with the Dodgers with whom he has pastimed when it first entered big league baseball.

Jake broke into the baseball limelight in 1906, playing semi-pro ball at Kane, Pa. The following year he played league ball with the Knox team of the Inter-State circuit, later playing with the Marion team of the O. and P. League. He first broke into the major leagues in 1910 with the Clevelands of the American League, but did not stay long, as he was sent to the Nashville team of the Southern League. His next appearance with the majors was in 1913, when he joined the Brooklyn, being drafted from the Memphis team of the Southern League.

Daubert is lacking about an inch and a half of six feet in height and weighs in the neighborhood of 180 pounds.

Joan the Woman

Geraldine Farrar now starring in a film spectacle based upon this story

By Jeanie Macpherson

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING INSTALMENTS.

Joan, daughter of a peasant couple living in the village of Domremy, France, hears with pained interest of the continuous defeats that fall upon the armies of Charles VII., her young and weak King. The English have seized more than half the land.

Eric Trent, a young Englishman fighting in the France of to-day, finds an old sword and in the night a voice comes to him by which he sees Joan tortured by the sorrows of her France. He also sees another Eric Trent, an ancestor of his, ride into the village of Domremy at the head of a band of raiders. Only Joan is there to bid him stay his hand. The leader is impressed by the strange girl's bravery and spares the castle of her father. As he talks to her one Gaspard, a peasant suitor of Joan, attacks him from behind. The raiders have gone on at their captain's orders, and the townspeople are beginning to return. Joan takes the wounded Englishman and older him in a hay loft. Eric recovers and gets safely away after Joan refuses to wed him, prompted by the mysterious voices that speak to her. Then she feels the lull to lead the French armies to victory and sets out to see the King. After many difficulties she reaches the court and finally Charles heeds her plea and sends her at the head of a force to succor the city of Orleans, then besieged. She arrives and prepares to attack the besiegers. But a group of her officers prompted by jealousy, plot to forestall the warrior maid.

At dawn the jealous captains cross the river with a body of horsemen and make a secret attack on the outer fortifications of the Towers. They are repulsed and are being nearly wiped out as Joan, in her room at Orleans, rouses from her sleep with a cry, calling out to her brother and Gaspard prophetically: "Somewhere French blood is flowing!"

She rushes into her armor and sends Pierre and Gaspard to rouse her men in the street below. Meantime, a courier arrives, breathless, and confirms Joan's intuition, calling out that the French have been beaten at the stockade. When Joan's horsemen are ready, she starts across the river to the relief of the jealous captains. Many of the enthusiastic townspeople follow. Joan's men pick up clubs, sticks and stones—or anything they can find in the hurry to help their adored Joan.

Once across the river, Joan massed her men and charges down the long field toward the stockade, behind which the English, now led by Eric Trent, are waiting. Smashing into and over the stockade with her armored horsemen, Joan pushes the English back to the Towers. Here, after a terrific struggle, Joan, with the help of the faithful La Hire, finally takes the castle.

In Eric's tower room the final fighting is staged; Eric, in the thick of the fight, suddenly sees Joan entering this room through a breach in the outside wall. He sees in this armored girl only the "witch" who is terrorizing his heretofore undefeated men, and bids his archer draw. The arrow reaches Joan's shoulder, and she falls, fainting in the

Joan, coming slightly, opens her eyes on the Englishman of Domremy. Eric holds back his soldiers with difficulty. La Hire takes the inner door and Gaspard rushes to Joan's aid. Eric finds himself too busily engaged in a hand to hand combat with La Hire, who is pushing himself and his men back toward the stairs, to pay more heed to Joan.

Joan, herself, pulls the arrow from her shoulder and insists, in spite of her weakness, on being lifted by Gaspard to the table to urge on her men. Outside the victorious Frenchmen are crying out "Long live Joan, savior of Orleans!" Joan's men take the Tower room and La Hire brings the prize of prizes, the English commander, Eric Trent, to Joan. Again Joan and Eric face each other as La Hire orders Eric to surrender his sword to Joan! At first the bitterness of giving up his faithful sword to a woman (and this one—the maid whom he loves) is too much for Eric, and he hesitates, but as La Hire commands him sharply again he pulls the sworn from its scabbard and hands it to Joan, who is saddened in the moment of her triumph by being obliged to take it; and so Eric is tied and with the other captives led back to Orleans.

That night "Joan the Conqueror" enters Orleans amid the shouts of the people. Through the confetti and flowers which the glad multitude are throwing from every window, Joan rides on her white charger. People press close to the torchlight to kiss her hand or touch her armor; but Joan sees only one thing—the dusty, tired figure of Eric Trent walking, with hands tied, among the other captives in front of her horse.

Men and women jeer at him and children throw dust in his face, which Joan is powerless to help. As she finally dismounts and is about to enter her house, women push forward holding up her babies for her to bless.

D'Olseleur, the fanatical monk, pushes into the midst of these women and pulls Joan's laurel wreath abruptly from her head, asking her if she would make herself Queen, that she lets the people kneel to her! Joan only returns a gentle answer, and goes in.

Eric is brought before Joan and La Hire asks where he is to be imprisoned. Joan tells the guard as he takes Eric off that if aught of harm comes to him, he must answer to her. When Eric is gone, Dunois and La Hire bring Joan the spoils of war—the captured armor, swords and jewels of the prisoners. They ask Joan to select what she wishes from the baskets full of trophies. Joan tells them that she doesn't wish any of it—that they may have it all.

Then suddenly her eyes fall on a tiny crucifix among the other trophies, and she recognizes it as the one that she hung about Eric's neck in the hay loft of Domremy. She tells La Hire that she will take the crucifix—then dismisses the soldiers and crosses to the window, looking down on the cheering, happy crowds below. They are calling again "Long live Joan, the savior of Orleans!"

Her eye falls suddenly on the prison further up the street where she knows Eric has been thrown; and the plaudits of the crowd below mean nothing to her—she bows her head over the little crucifix in her hand. Eric, standing by his prison window, thinks sadly of the girl of Domremy.

After many victories, Joan finally leads her King to Rheims to be crowned. La Tremoille, "The Spider," unable to stop the coronation, goes secretly ahead of Charles and Joan to Rheims, to solicit the aid of his friend, the Bishop Cauchon. Cauchon, though supposedly a loyal Frenchman, is really fanning Charles's desertion to further his own ambition with the English. He promises to help the worried Tremoille and prepares a poison cup to offer to the King when Tremoille shall have brought Charles to lodge in his house the night before the coronation.

Charles and Joan arrive with ladies and gentlemen of the court. Cauchon has the wine cup passed to Charles. Joan has instantly felt a strange dislike of Cauchon. As the King is about to drink, Joan suddenly sees a vision of St. Michael's armored hand only, grasping the radiant sword, which he points directly to the wind cup. With sudden intuition Joan turns to the King, who is just starting to drink, and warns him that the wine is poisoned. Cauchon protests injured innocence and Charles, laughing at Joan's fears, is about to drink again as a page seizes the wine cup and with the cry "My life, Sire, for thine!" drinks the wine and dies. Charles turns ferociously on Cauchon and banishes him forever from France.

The next day at the Cathedral in Rheims, with all proper ceremony, Charles is crowned King of France, and Joan's supreme moment of happiness arrives. The King asks what he may give her as reward, and Joan asks that the peasants of her village may be forever untaxed, and that the English prisoner, Eric Trent, be freed. The King, laughing, urges her to choose something of more value, but Joan wishes nothing more.

Uncle Laxart, who has not seen Joan since her departure from the Governor's so long before, has traveled the long journey to Rheims to see what a great lady his little niece has become. Joan, finding him roughly handled by soldiers, comes to his rescue and pulls him behind one of the great pillars of the cathedral, to ask of all the dear ones at home. The old uncle weeps with delight on seeing Joan, but cannot get used to her gorgeous armor and silken cloak. He begs her to return to Domremy, saying: "Thy father calls for thee, thy mother weeps for thee; wilt thou not return?" Joan is weeping, too, but can only shake her head prophetically, telling him that she "Will last but a year and that there is still much to be done!" And so, giving him a purse of gold, she bids the old uncle farewell.

Eric has been brought to an anteroom of the cathedral, where one of the King's aids takes Joan. He tells the captain of the guard that by the King's command the prisoner, Eric Trent, is freed. When Eric has been left alone with Joan, he asks her why she has again saved his life, and seeing a little cluster of withered daisies before a crucifix, he takes one and asks Joan if that is the reason; but Joan's heart is too full to reply. Eric tells her that if he thought she had saved him because she loved him, no power of saint or devil should keep him from her!

Love and duty warred strongly for a moment in Joan—then she replies that there is room in each heart but for one love—and that hers is for France! She tells Eric their ways lie apart; that hers is to Compiegne (a town belonged by the Duke of Burgundy) and that they must not meet again. Eric protests, but Joan is firm and sends him away. Eric finally goes, and Joan watches his solitary figure walking slowly down the empty cathedral, which is strewn with flowers from the coronation. Of a sudden, Joan is no longer a warrior, but just a heart-broken woman who has renounced her love. Finally, when Eric has gone, Joan turns to the silent altar with its lighted candles, and kneeling in front of it, bows her head in submission.

The Ash Can Tells the Story

There's no need of your spending so much money for coal and having to put out so many ashes. Install a Boynton Square Pot Boiler and you'll save much unnecessary expense and work.

Here's the reason: Square Pot Boilers burn less coal and give more heat. This is made possible by the square firepot that eliminates all waste of heat and coal. It gives as much heat from a small amount of coal as a round firepot gives from a large amount. And ashes can't cling to the square corners like they do to round corners.

Fire always "just right"—enough heat in the radiators to keep the house summerlike inside on the coldest day. Ask your dealer to explain the Square Pot Boiler idea. He can also show you Boynton Furnace and Newport Ranges. See him today or write us.

GREATEST BATTLE OF WORLD RAGING

Allies and Teutons In Death Grapple on Long Front.

London, April 18.—The greatest battle of history is raging on a 150 mile front in France. Already the lists of dead and wounded are appalling. They will grow worse as the struggle continues.

Thus far the French have held every yard of ground they gained in their sudden smash between Soissons and Rheims, taking more than 10,000 prisoners. It carried them from two to two and a half miles beyond the German first line on a front of twenty-five miles. Unofficially the Teuton losses were put at 100,000 killed, wounded and prisoners on this front alone. Unceasing German counter thrusts were beaten off by the French, who, consolidating their gains, prepared for a resumption of their drive.

The British, though impeded by bad weather, pushed a mile closer to Le Catelet and the St. Quentin-Cambrai highroad, the vital "nerve string" of the Hindenburg line. They are now two miles from this front all along the eleven mile front between Fayet and Epehey.

The Germans, quickly rallying from the initial blow on the Rheims-Soissons front, struck back savagely and, according to the Berlin report, inflicted "very heavy" losses upon the French. They took more than 2,000 prisoners, it is asserted.

"Our troops," says the Berlin statement, "anticipated with entire confidence the coming heavy fighting."

All through the official bulletin runs an undertone voicing the conviction that "the worst is yet to come." Fresh enemy attacks are expected, it says.

General Nivelle is striking violently in the Champagne. The Anglo-French drive is directed mainly against five vital points on what has come to be called the "Hindenburg line." These are Lens, Cambrai, St. Quentin, La Fere and Laon.

Lens is still firmly held by the Teutons. Damming the Souchez river, the Germans backed up the water into the mining town, diverting floods into the mining galleries. Systematic destruction of the whole rich mineral district continued. Not until it is perfected is Hindenburg expected to give way.

SHOPS TO AID FARMS.

Employers to Furlough Employees to Help Food Production.

Binghamton, N. Y., April 18.—A conference between employers of labor and railroad representatives here resulted in the appointment of a committee of business men to gather information from various manufacturers in this vicinity as to the number of employees they will release for farming.

Each manufacturer is pledged to release his quota, giving the men the difference between wages paid by the farmer and the factory during their term of service. George N. Cullen, Lackawanna passenger agent, announced the D., L. and W. would release 900 section hands, pay them the wages stipulated and furnish transportation for the others.

Mr. Ralston then told the story of the organization and work of the Rust End Civic Association, and with the aid of a stereopticon showed some pictures of things to be improved in this section of the city. Whereas, In the course of human events a crisis sometimes arrives which tests character and directs the course of destiny; and

Whereas, Such a crucial experience has now come to our beloved nation, bidding it decide upon the alternative of a supine submission, on the one hand, to the rapacity and cruelty of a barbarous autocracy, or, on the other hand, of rousing to a brave and self-sacrificing policy of unselfish devotion, therefore, it is

Resolved that we, as integral members of a free people, should highly

Resolve, That, grateful for the life and traditions of one hundred and forty years of American independence and freedom, we give our votes and pledge of unalterable fidelity to the great cause of Universal Brotherhood and Humanity; and that we

Resolve, That the American flag, typifying as it does alike the worthy ambitions and the measureless sacrifices of our fathers for Liberty, is still dear to us as the emblem of our holiest aspirations; and that we

Resolve, That, with God's help, we will loyally support our constituted authorities in all noble plans and efforts for national defense and victory.

A solo by Mr. Patterson followed, and a piano solo by Mrs. S. O. Rush closed the program. Mrs. Rush accompanied the singers.

The entertainment committee, Mrs. W. A. Lippincott, chairman, had provided refreshments, which all enjoyed, with a delightful social hour.

BOYS ENLIST FOR FARM WORK

Bayonne, April 18.—When Superintendent of Schools Preston H. Smith told the pupils of the high school that the services of students between the ages of fourteen and eighteen are needed on the farms throughout the State to help prevent a shortage of food, more than 200 of the boys promptly volunteered. More were enlisted yesterday afternoon.

Under the direction of Principal Francis A. Brick, the girls will take up the study of cooking and preserving, to do their share of the work.

LUCKY STRIKE

The real Burley LUCKY STRIKE cigarette

MEN who smoke Burley tobacco don't want to smoke any other kind; the green, blue, or red tin is a steady companion.

But until now Burley tobacco couldn't be had in ready-made cigarettes. Nobody knew any way to make a Burley cigarette that didn't quickly lose its flavor, when made up in that form.

Until now, we said. Because after years of careful study and experimenting we've found a way to make a Burley cigarette that will keep its rich flavor indefinitely. We toasted the tobacco.

The thing seems simple now; it wasn't simple until we found it. The tobacco—it's toasted; you know what that means when you have a few slices of fresh, crisp, appetizing toast for breakfast; hot, buttered. So try Lucky Strike now; the tobacco—it's toasted.

WILL ASSIST FOREIGN CITIZENS

Plans Were Formulated at a Meeting in Library Last Night

A very interesting meeting on Americanization was held last night in the auditorium of the Public Library. Mayor Calkins presided and there was a large attendance representing nearly every organization in the city. A number of leading foreigners, residents here, were present and their remarks were perhaps the most interesting of all.

Everyone pledged his organization's assistance in carrying out the purpose of the meeting, i. e., the making of better Americans.

No new organization is contemplated for this purpose, but the Mayor appointed four committees composed of representatives from all existing organizations. The chairmen of these committees will form an executive committee and act as a clearing house for all activities for the benefit of the foreigners in our city. The Mayor appointed the following committees:

Educational—Archibald Cox, chairman; Miss F. M. Bowman, Miss Millicent E. Humpston, John Leal, Eugene Johnson, Gottfried Sjoblom, Samuel Rosenbaum, Stanislaw Stroke, Mrs. Sarah Wardner, Miss Lena M. Jackson, Miss Helen Lovell.

Recreational—Arthur Jones, chairman; Carl Hermann, Alva Cornell, Rev. Aurelio Mangoine, Dr. O. B. Whitford, Miss Winifred E. Mann, Rev. Peter J. Hart, Robert L. Merriman, Mrs. Henry C. Wells, Mrs. D. Meiones, Mrs. Emma Radley.

Patriotic—Judge De Mezs, chairman; Rev. Phillip B. Strong, Mrs. E. F. Feickert, Mrs. A. V. D. Honeyman, Max Tepper, Rev. Gottlieb Daeuble, Miss Mabelle Phillips, Mrs. Francis de L. Hyde, Miss Elizabeth Lamson, Rev. B. Vicars Stevenson.

Agricultural—William S. Tyler, chairman; Miss Isabel S. Arnold, Mrs. F. G. Mead, Miss Alice C. Titus, Rev. Charles A. Eston, Mr. Crispell, Brockholst K. Miller, Judge Newcorn, J. D. Duff.

Previous to the appointment of these committees short addresses were made by the following: Rev. W. L. Imes, Colored Missions; Mrs. Honeyman, Daughters of the American Revolution; Rev. Aurelio Mangione, Italian Mission; Mrs. Righter, National Special Aid; Frank O. Dunning, North Plainfield Board of Education; Mrs. Wardner, Plainfield Night School; Dr. Zelie and Dr. Stevenson, Protestant Churches; Miss Lamson and A. B. Jones, Recreation Committee; Mr. Rosenbaum, Hebrew Congregation; Miss Lovell, Visiting Nurse Association; W. D. Murray, Y. M. C. A.; Miss Bowman, Public Library; Stanley Stroke, Alliance of Poles; WW. S. Tyler, Agriculture; Mrs. Hibbard, Kenyon Gardens; Miss Crawford, Y. W. C. A.

ROYAL ARCANUM TO CONTINUE

Boston, Mass., April 18.—The Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum, which was placed in the hands of a temporary receiver Saturday, April 18, was authorized by Judge Aldrich in the Federal Court yesterday to continue business as a fraternal insurance organization pending final decision on the question of making the receivership permanent. The active duties of Thos. J. Boynton, temporary receiver, are suspended.

Judge Aldrich announced that he would appoint a master to hear evidence and report findings of fact and law.

REVOKED SEVERAL AUTO LICENSES

Commissioner Dill Handles the Cases of Fatalities in Elizabeth and Roselle

As a penalty for the fatal auto accident on Westfield avenue, Elizabeth, on March 18, in which a man named Mazzanole was killed, and several others injured, State Motor Vehicle Commissioner Dill today summarily revoked the driver's license of Urban Dobbins, of Roselle Park, and revoked the auto registration of Frank Dobbins, father of Urban, and blacklisted him so he cannot obtain another registration.

The charge against Urban Dobbins was driving while intoxicated, and causing the accident. The father was accused of permitting the son to drive while intoxicated.

Commissioner Dill said it was the first charge ever made against Urban Dobbins. The car, with Urban at the wheel, was driven into a carriage occupied by Benjamin Jackson, of Bellerville, and Louis Aspen, of Newark, according to the testimony. The crash was terrific, overturning the car, and slewing it around, besides killing Mazzanole. The other occupants of the car and the men in the carriage were injured.

Mr. Dill also revoked the license of Edmund S. Williamson, of Rutherford, who drove his car upon three persons walking in Roselle borough, killing Miss Irene Dessewffy, of Linden. The others whom he ran over were Michael Marcin, of Linden, and Miss Mary Klaber, of Elizabeth.

There are already six people who have taken small plots, but Mr. Galbraith still has plenty of land left for those who desire to raise vegetables. The use of the land is free to those who apply.

Corns Stop Hurting, Then They Lift Out With Fingers

No pain or soreness! Corns and calluses just shrivel up and lift off. It's foolish to let a corn ache twice.

A noted Cincinnati authority discovered a new ether compound and called it freezone and it now can be had in little bottles for a few cents from any drug store.

You simply apply a few drops of freezone upon a tender corn or painful callus and instantly the soreness disappears, then shortly you will find the corn or callus so loose that you can just lift it off with the fingers.

No pain, not a bit of soreness, either when applying freezone or afterwards and it doesn't even irritate the skin.

Hard corns, soft corns or corns between the toes, also toughened calluses just shrivel up and lift off so easy. It is wonderful! It works like a charm. Try it!

Women should keep freezone on their dressers and never let a corn ache twice. If a corn starts hurting just apply a drop. The pain stops instantly.

Genuine freezone is only sold in little bottles packed in a round, wood case.—Adv.

TO MEET IN NEWARK TO DISCUSS FOOD QUESTION

New Jersey is preparing to help prevent the food shortage predicted for this country.

The State Department of Agriculture and Education are taking the necessary steps to assist in harvesting the crops.

So many offers and suggestions have been made, in fact, that the State Chamber Federation has called a conference in order that a comprehensive plan may be evolved whereby the various agencies working on this problem may be effectively co-ordinated.

Farmers, bankers, manufacturers, municipal officials, school authorities and representatives of labor and commercial organizations have been invited to meet at the Robert Treat Hotel, Newark, Thursday, April 19, 1917, at 1:30 p. m.

Is there any logic in buying something claimed to be as good as the ORIGINAL Dandruff Germ Destroyer?

SUFFRAGISTS WILL MEET TO PLAN WAR RELIEF

Delegations from the various local suffrage organizations in Middlesex county will meet in the clubhouse of the Metuchen Club, on Middlesex avenue, Metuchen, Monday afternoon, April 23, for the purpose of electing permanent county officers, and to discuss plans for active work for both suffrage and war relief.

The speakers will be the State president, Mrs. E. F. Feickert, of Plainfield; Mrs. Robert S. Huse, of Elizabeth, State Congressional Chairman, and Mrs. A. D. Brearley, of Rahway, a State field organizer. A prominent Red Cross worker has also been asked to address the meeting.

The following local presidents are expected to be present, with delegates from their organizations: Miss Elizabeth D. Hill, of New Brunswick Equal Suffrage League; Mrs. Charles A. Prickitt, of the Metuchen Equal Suffrage League; Mrs. D. W. C. Ramsey of the Equal Suffrage League, Of Dunellen and New Market; Mrs. Bertha H. Jennings, of the South Plainfield Equal Suffrage League; Miss Bessie Stonehouse, of the Equal Suffrage League of South River and Old Bridge; and Mrs. Oliver W. Ramsay of the Equal Suffrage League of the Amboys.

All interested suffragists in Middlesex county are cordially invited to attend this meeting.

Easy Way to Get Rid of Itching

Don't worry any more about that itching skin-trouble. Just get a little resinol ointment and a cake of resinol soap at any drug store.

With the resinol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and scales, the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resinol ointment, and cover with a light bandage if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first application, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

Choosing Your Shaving Soap

If you select a soap that contains soothing, healing properties, like resinol balsams in resinol soap, you are not likely to have trouble with dandruff, loss of hair or falling hair. Ideal for the youngsters' hair, too.

RAHWAY WOMAN DIES IN ELIZABETH HOSPITAL

Rahway, April 18.—Discovered unconscious in her home at 764 Wall Street avenue, with indications that she had been overcome by chloroform, taken with suicidal intent, Mrs. Jennie L. Ramsteck died from the effects of the poison yesterday in the Muhlenberg General Hospital. She had been a widow since January, when her husband died, and had grown despondent. Several times she mentioned to neighbors that she was inclined to end her life because of her loneliness.

Mrs. Ramsteck was fifty-nine years old and had married late in life. She had no children and her husband was the last living relative by the name. The only relatives she is known to have is a nephew in Roselle.

LOOK AT CHILD'S TONGUE IF SICK CROSS, FEVERISH

When Constipated or Bilious Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, it is a sure sign that your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When peevish, cross, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, doesn't eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has stomach-ache, sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

You needn't coax sick children to take this harmless "fruit laxative;" they love its delicious taste, and it always makes them feel splendid.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. To be sure you get the genuine, ask to see that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

HELPS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

VIRGINIA CARTER LEE

In connection with this department Miss Lee will gladly answer any Laundry problems to domestic science, a stamped envelope being necessary for a personal reply. Address care of Courier-News.

Not every housewife can afford the bills of the professional dry cleaner, no matter how reasonable they are. Many a family goes about looking shabby and sometimes with a reputation for untidiness, when it is merely a matter of dollars and cents that cannot be spared for cleaning bills.

To these housekeepers I would like to say that it requires only a bit of courage and the "know how" to dry clean one's own garments very successfully at home.

This work is done in many households well able to afford cleaning bills, because of the greater convenience of having things done when you want them and because of the habit of thrift which the American people are just beginning to cultivate.

The work is not at all difficult when robbed of the mystery of professional secrecy and the costs for the simple materials is within the reach of all. There is a well-known product, sold by most drug stores, which, when used with gasoline, gives the same secret preparation that has been used by professional dry cleaners for years.

The formulas given here are all very reliable, the first having been purchased from a retired professional cleaner, and the second has been used for years to clean men's silk ties and delicate lace and chiffon blouses, with never a faded or "ringed spot" to its discredit.

Of course, it is necessary to observe the old rule, not to use these fluids in a room with an open fire or light of any kind, and to have the garments to be cleaned as free from dust as possible. A folded cloth beneath the garment is a necessity in removing spots, since the grease or oil must have some place to retire to when removed from the material.

A cleaning pad for applying the liquid is also almost a necessity and this may easily be made at home. Select a strip of firm, thick cloth, six inches wide and at least twice that in length, and roll tightly, crosswise, fastening the loose ends with a few stitches. This gives you a substantial roll, that may be grasped in the right hand, and a circular pad, about the size of a dollar, with which to rub the cleaning fluid into the fabric. Of course, for white goods a cleaning pad of white must be used.

Professional Cleaning Fluid

One gallon of gasoline, half an ounce each of alcohol and ammonia and one ounce each of ether, borax and chloroform.

Soak the articles in this fluid for a short time. Then rub with the hands, applying the undissolved borax powder to the spots as though it were soap. The odor evaporates quickly.

To Remove Spots

Use a mixture of one and a half drams of sulphuric ether, three drams of alcohol, one and a half drams of chloroform and one pint of naphtha.

Articles can be soaked in this fluid without injury, and if it is used to remove spots it will not leave rings. It is also good to clean feathers, laces, veils and kid gloves.

Sponging Fluid for Black Goods

One ounce of camphor, two ounces of borax, one pint of alcohol and two quarts of water. Boil the camphor and borax until dissolved in the water. When cool, add the alcohol. This is excellent for black silk and all kinds of black goods.

To Clean Carpets and Men's Clothing

Dissolve four ounces of pure, white soap in four ounces of boiling water. When cool, add five ounces of ammonia, two and a half ounces each of alcohol and glycerine and two ounces of ether. Two tablespoonfuls of this to a pint of warm water will remove the most obstinate stains and shine on men's garments. For cleaning carpets, add one teacupful to a pail of water.

To Clean Panama Hats

For the greasy ring, that too often appears on men's hat bands, apply the "spot remover" with a small brush. Then cover thickly with dried Fuller's earth and lay away for several days. Brush thoroughly and the hat will look like new.

THE WICKED QUEEN

Once upon a time there was a her brother, who was ill, as the Queen who was so very proud of her great beauty that she became selfish and disagreeable.

The one thing that she loved almost as well as herself was a beautiful white cow, which gave rich milk like cream. This cow had horns of gold and her eyes as blue as the sky.

The Queen had a stable of marble built for the cow and she was fed from a silver manger and drank from a silver pail.

At night she slept on a bed of down, and if the nights were cold she was covered with a silken cover.

The Queen would allow no one but herself to milk this beautiful creature and the cow became very cross and dangerous looking if anyone besides the Queen approached her. Now this Queen had given a bag of gold to an old witch to be stow upon her the magic power of sorcery, and when she was in a bad humor the people in her kingdom feared her, for she was as cruel as beautiful and worked many an evil spell with her magic art.

Sometimes when she was in a bad mood she caused all the wells to dry up, or give only water thick as mud, and the people would have to go to her and beg on their knees for relief.

Or she would cause an evil spirit to enter into all the cattle, and they would rush off like wild beasts and be dashed to death over the side of the mountain.

One day a pretty maiden came to the Queen to plead for water for her brother, who was ill, as the Queen had thrown a spell over the wells. The Queen was so angered by seeing some one even more beautiful than herself that she drove the girl from the palace, and cast a spell over the farm where she lived, which dried up the land and killed all the cattle.

When the maiden saw what had happened she went back to the palace and told the wicked Queen that she would be punished for all her badness, and that the thing she most desired in life she would one day take from her.

This made the Queen, of course, more angry than ever, and she caused the rain to fall and thunder and lightning to come upon the land until the people cried out in terror.

All but the maiden; she stood upon a high rock when the storm came, near the palace, and with her arms high over her head she called out in a voice that, strange as it may seem, could be heard above the storm, "Beware, wicked Queen, beware! That which you most value you shall lose."

After a while the Queen forgot all about the maiden and the wells gave forth water again and the land yielded its fruits.

One day a Prince rode up to the palace. He had come in search of a wife and had heard of the great beauty of the Queen, but he had not heard about her cruelty to her people, because outside her kingdom it was not known and her subjects dared not tell it.

He was a very handsome Prince and the Queen fell in love with him at once and was so sweet and kind that her people said it was love that had changed her and rejoiced at the coming marriage.

But the heart of the wicked Queen had not changed at all. She was hiding her real self until after the wedding.

One morning she took the Prince to the marble stable to show him her beautiful white cow, when to her surprise she saw someone sitting on a stool beside the animal milking her. The Queen's eyes flashed with anger at the thought of anyone daring to approach the cow, and also because the cow had allowed anyone but herself to milk her.

Forgetting her lover at her side, the Queen rushed into the stable, her face horrible with anger, only to find that the maiden she had driven from her palace was the one who had taken the affections of her beautiful pet from her.

When the Prince saw the face of the Queen his heart turned against her and the beauty of the maiden softened it.

He caught the arm of the angry Queen just as she was in the act of striking the maid, and said: "Fear not, beautiful maiden, I will protect you, and you will marry me I will make you my wife."

When the Queen heard this she screamed that it should never be, that she would destroy them both. She broke from the Prince and ran to the top of the rock upon which the maiden had stood in the storm.

This was the place where the Queen cast forth her magic spell over the land, and taking a rod of flame from under the side of the rock, she stretched it forth and waving it from side to side, commanded destruction to descend upon the land and destroy the Prince and the maiden.

But this time the wicked Queen had gone too far. The flame from the rod caught the folds of her gown, and in another minute the Queen forgot her curse and ran screaming to the river not far off.

In her fury and fright she did not stop, but went too far into the deep water and was drowned.

When the people knew what had happened they asked the maid to become their Queen, because she had really released them from the wicked Queen.

So the Prince married her, and they ruled together in peace and love ever after.

OCEAN GROVE TO BE MADE "BONE DRY"

Ocean Grove, April 18.—Before the end of the week Neptune Township will have a bone-dry ordinance, infraction of which will subject the offender to a term of ten days in the county jail or a fine of $100, or both, at the discretion of the trial judge. This ordinance passed first and second readings last night, and to hurry its final passage the third reading will be given it Friday morning, when it will be published and put into immediate operation.

Under the terms of the ordinance any person who keeps, aids or abets any club house or any place in which liquor is received or kept for gift, barter or sale, shall be adjudged a violator and dealt with accordingly.

It is also to be unlawful for any expressman or other carrier to make delivery of liquor in the township, or to act as agent for any brewery, distillery or liquor dealer, save that such carriers are not forbidden to deliver liquor to druggists and regularly established hospitals.

VOTED AGAINST THE SELECTIVE DRAFT

Special to Courier-News:

Washington, April 18.—The House Military Affairs Committee this afternoon voted against selective draft, as a means of raising an army, and in favor of some form of volunteer voluntary enlistment. The committee was divided 12 to 9.

The majority report of the committee calls for volunteers in organization, officered and organized up to the grade of captain, and permits the war department to appoint officers above that grade.

The majority will also favor the volunteer system until such time as recruiting falls off when the President will be authorized to begin drafting.

There will be minority report on the bill.

INDUSTRIAL UNIT SQUAD AT P. H. S.

Eighty-five students have handed in their names to Principal Lindsey Best, of the high school from which number twenty boys will be selected as an Industrial Army Unit, which will be sent to Grant Schley's farm in Bernardsville, where toil and camp life will be their pastime.

Yesterday Dr. Marxon addressed the school during chapel exercises and told of a contemplated plan of organizing and Industrial Army Unit. The owner of a larger farm in Bernardsville, will accept about one hundred students from Plainfield, East Orange, Rahway and New Brunswick high schools. These students will work on the farm for three or four months and longer if deemed necessary. They will live under orderly discipline and will be allowed certain liberties. Their homes will be tents, more than likely and some military drill will mark their daily routine of eight hours of labor. They will receive compensation for their work, but the greatest reward will be the honor derived from so responding to President Wilson's call for universal service.

Those going from this school will only go under Mr. Best's sanction. He will consider the advisability of sending a student away from school at this time. If the student's standing is up to a certain average he will receive credit, just as though he had passed his final examinations. This will graduate a few and probably advance the others to the next higher class.

For a boy offering his services to his country by laboring on a farm all summer a great deal should be said in his favor. Farm work is measured by labor and toil under hot suns. Physically, there is hardly another occupation that could do him much more good. Financially he will have no expenses, and what he earns is clear profit. Morally, he will be under the protection of a United States Army officer and above all he is offering his services to this country and humanity, which seems in the balance.

NO STOMACH PAIN, GAS, INDIGESTION IN FIVE MINUTES

"Pape's Diapepsin" is the best antacid and stomach regulator known.

"Really does" put upset stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness due to acid fermentation in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach antacid and regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments and turns sour, you belch gas and eructate undigested food or water; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with indigestible waste, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin is worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest antacid for the stomach in the world.—Adv.

NEW JERSEY IS MOBILIZING

Has Been Quietly Perfecting Its Machinery and Resources for War

Trenton, April 18.—Complying with a request from Secretary of War Baker, who is also chairman of the Council of National Defense, Governor Edge has submitted a report to the Federal authorities which show that New Jersey, in order to mobilize all of the State's resources for the emergency of war, has been quietly perfecting machinery which has for its parts all municipalities in the State.

New Jersey's plan for defense, as revealed in this report, is different from that followed in most States in that the executive heads of the municipalities have been selected to direct the work, with all the power and resources of their command placed under committees of citizens. The latter, of course, are given every opportunity to work. Every municipality in the State is a part of this machinery, from the State government itself down to the smallest township or borough.

Under the Governor and Commander-in-Chief and the Adjutant General's Department as a sort of clearing house or distributing office, the chief executive of every municipality is working along the same lines, carrying out the instructions framed constantly from Trenton. There is no overlapping; no lost motion; no chasing around a circle.

This machinery which embraces all the executive power in the State, including authority to command the police power, is being directed to mobilize the man-power of agriculture, the man-power of industry and the man-power of military service.

The executive head of each municipality has the following committee at his disposal:

1. Committee on home-defense and military training, which has charge of military training and general patrol and home defense duties.

2. Committee on Woman's Service, having charge of the organization of the women of the community for all the usual "Red Cross" functions, but which will also handle the broad matter of ascertaining to what extent the women of the town can take the place of men in occupations usually filled by men.

3. Committee on Census, which will make a complete census of the municipality to ascertain the extent to which every citizen is able and willing to serve the community, in military service, or out of it.

4. Committee on Finance, to raise all necessary funds.

5. Committee on Secret Service.

6. Committee on Publicity, which will be the only vehicle of communication to the public.

These local committees resemble the large committees on defense which have been formed in some of the States, but the scope of the work of these committees is, of course, confined exclusively to the particular municipality where they are thoroughly familiar with conditions.

"All home guards are given the fullest encouragement through the executive head of the municipality where they are organized," said Governor Edge, in discussing the report which he had submitted to the Secretary of War. "I am glad that the plan permits us to do this, for I realize the importance of these home guard organizations. They would admirably fill for the bill for the soldiers of the second or third line of defense in case the war be prolonged and the necessity present itself."

TELLS OF MISSION LABOR IN CHINA

Rev. Dr. MacRae Addresses Meeting of Congregational Society

The Woman's Association of the Congregational Church held its annual Missionary Tea at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and enjoyed a splendid talk by the Rev. J. D. MacRae, of New York, a returned missionary from China. The session was opened with devotional exercises led by Mrs. Elliott, and the president, Mrs. H. V. Hubbard, presided. Mrs. C. A. Rice was the piano accompanist for the singing.

Dr. MacRae having been in China many years was able to give an adequate description of the spirit and temper of the people and the general conditions politically and socially. He told how great has been the change of the sentiment toward Christian missionaries in the course of years, and the changes that have occurred since the European war broke out. Other current events were referred to. The demand for medical missionaries, he said, was unusual; as it was hard to obtain students of the medical profession to take up the work in foreign fields.

At the close of the address the members were given the opportunity to ask any questions of the speaker, the conference being very beneficial to those interested in the work of China missions.

The parish house was elaborately trimmed with palms and potted plants for this occasion. Refreshments were served under the direction of a committee of ladies headed by Mrs. T. F. Hylan.

FERERA SURRENDERS TO THE POLICE

John Ferera, twenty-two years old, one of the five men charged with committing assault upon Sophie Cosik, in Randolph road on Sunday night, gave himself up at police headquarters this morning.

Michael Comisky, Edward Conkling, John Boyle and Joseph Vetelli, were arrested for the crime on Monday night. Ferera and Vetelli were held under bonds of $5,000 each for the Grand Jury, and Comisky and Conkling were each sentenced to serve sixty days in the county jail.

Lieutenant Litzgins spent yesterday and a part of last night looking for Ferera but he failed to appear at his home, or in any of the places he was accustomed to frequent.

His surrendered to the police at 9 o'clock this morning, and made a statement to the effect that he was in the company of the four men now in jail, but that he had no other part in attacking the girl. He will be arranged before Judge DeMeza tomorrow morning.

THE FUNERAL OF MRS. ELIZABETH ADLER

The funeral of Mrs. Elizabeth Adler, who died Sunday, was held yesterday afternoon at the residence of her sister, Mrs. J. E. Rhodes, of Passwood, and was conducted by Judge William N. Newcorn. There was a large gathering of relatives and friends and there were many beautiful flowers. Interment was made in Maimonides cemetery, Brooklyn.

P.-T. SOCIETY TO HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of Bryant-Lincoln-Emerson schools will be held at the Lincoln school at 3.15 tomorrow afternoon.

SARAH BERNHARDT'S CONDITION UNCHANGED

Special to the Courier-News:

New York, April 18.—Mme. Sarah Bernhardt's condition at 11 a. m. today was unchanged, according to a bulletin at Mt. Sinai Hospital. She is still seriously ill. She had been suffering from kidney trouble and an operation was found necessary.

Grass Fires In the Borough

Two grass fires kept the borough fire department on the jump yesterday afternoon. One was at Belmont avenue and the other at the upper end of Manning avenue.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint with the attendant bad breath.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

FRED AUNGST TALKS ON PLATTSBURG LIFE

Tells Borough Pupils Value of Daily Training to be Had There

Telling his personal experiences as a Rookie at the Plattsburg training camp at Plattsburg, which he attended last year, Supt. D. Fred Aungst related in a vivid and interesting manner just what an undertaking it is to become an efficient soldier at the chapel exercises in the North Plainfield High School this morning.

Mr. Aungst said that from his own personal observations of army life while at Plattsburg, a man would not be able to cope with any foreign foe unless he had spent at least six months or even a year in preparation.

The face of Major General Wood, the father of the Plattsburg idea, who has recently been transferred to the Southern Division because of impending difficulties anticipated by the War Department with Mexico and Japan, when thrown by stereopticon on the screen brought forth much applause from the students. In passing Mr. Aungst commented on the utter disregard for caste that is found as soon as the rookie dons the olive drab. No matter what his position is in the civilian world, a man when he joins the rookie squad at Plattsburg is placed on the same level as his companions.

During his talk, Mr. Aungst showed by means of slides just what is expected of those in training. Series of hikes, lectures and sham battles are undertaken so that the man after receiving this training becomes familiar with the rudiments of warfare. In showing the artillery drill, the speaker called attention to the grave situation now confronting the army officers with the inferior guns we now use in comparison with the famous Krupp pieces of the German army and the centimeter guns of the English and French.

Several notables were in the same battalion of Mr. Aungst while he was sojourning in Plattsburg, among whom were the two sons of Theodore Roosevelt, Archie and Theodore, Jr., and Mayor Mitchell, of New York.

In closing Mr. Aungst urged all those who possibly can avail themselves of the opportunity of the Plattsburg instruction to do so this summer.

FEW FOLKS HAVE GRAY HAIR NOW

Druggist Says Ladies are Using Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that beautiful color, that youthful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre, and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.—Adv.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts at first sign of Bladder irritation or Backache

The American men and women must guard constantly against Kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time.—Adv.

DR. PAUL VAN DYKE WILL LECTURE HERE

Dr. Paul Van Dyke, head of the Department of History of the Graduate School in Princeton University and brother of the celebrated poet Dr. Henry Van Dyke, will deliver a lecture at the High School Auditorium on May 4, under the auspices of the Plainfield Chapter of Mt. St. Mary's Alumnae. The proceeds of the lecture will be devoted to the Volunteer Auxiliary of the Home Defense League of Plainfield and North Plainfield. The following women comprise the committee:

Irene M. Duchesne, Grace Rafferty, Mary R. Sullivan, Murial Collins, Teresa Schneider, Marguerite McDonough, Marie Tobin, Bernadette Duchesne, Marie Louise Sullivan, of Plainfield, and Florence Greasheimer, Manville; Evelyn Wolcott, Abbie Wolcott, of Westfield; Mrs. J. Driscoll, Margaret McGowan, of Raritan; Mary DeMond, of Somerville.

JOYCE KILMER WILL LECTURE AT MT. ST. MARY'S

"Some Modern Manias: Literary, Artistic, Social," is the title of the lecture to be given by Joyce Kilmer at Mt. St. Mary's College on the afternoon of April 22. Mr. Kilmer will also read some of his poems by request. Many friends from the surrounding towns will greet the celebrated poet on his first appearance at Mt. St. Mary's.

All Cars Good

By WALT MASON, The Poet-Philosopher

The modern motor car is fine. In working out its smooth design, the best inventors in the land have nearly spavined brain and hand. Pale science sat up day and night, to make your motor a delight. The choo-choo wagon of this time is out of sight, superb, sublime, and it will stand for any test; all cars are good—but mine's the best. All cars are good; the poorest boat, that tries to get its owner's goat, is better far than anything we knew ten years ago, by jing. The monarch of the last decade, when he went forth, on dress parade, could not command a rig as great as your old "four," or "six," or "eight." Invention rose, at man's behest, and made great cars—anad mine's the best. No more we wait for side-tracked trains, but scoot at will across the plains. All roads are ours, all pleasant views, the prairies wet with morning dews, the hillside and the woodland green, while we can pay for gasoline. We travel when we wish to go, and travel fast or travel slow, and when we're tired we stop to rest. All cars are good, but mine's the best.

Gems

I decked with gems my person fat, they glittered with exceeding splendor; I had some rubies on my hat, an emerald on each suspender. Oh, men could see me from afar, and straightway they grew sore and jealous; I twinkled like the little star of which the ancient hymnbooks tells us. I wore a sapphire on my shirt, my cummerbund was diamond-fretted; the weight of all my jewels hurt, and long beneath the load I sweated. And ever as I toiled along, for dining halls or ball rooms heading, I saw the tired and sad-faced throng that finds this life such dreary sledding. I saw men push their jaded feet in search of work that always dodged them, and women turned into the street from squalid rooms that lately lodged them. I saw them by the souphouse ranked, poor, hopeless skates, all trodden under; and as I looked my diamonds clanked, and made a noise like distant thunder. I saw a stiff fished from a brook, some worn out wife or wayward sister; and as I took a startled look, my diamonds seemed to scorch and blister. I've cut out all the precious stones; one can't enjoy that form of granite, while hearing all the wails and groans that rise from this old hard luck planet.

ORGANIZE FOR AGRICULTURE

Commission to Have Full Charge of Food Supply Problem is Formed

APPOINTED BY MAYOR

William S. Tyler, Who Has Been Investigating Problem of Home Gardens and Food Supply, is Chairman

Mayor Calkins has appointed the following as a local Agricultural Commission to have full charge of the food supply problem both in relation to he encouragement of home gardens and the larger problem touching the nation's food supply. In other words, the commission will stand ready as a local organization to work with State and Federal authorities and in harmony with their plans as matured. The home garden feature of the work—that is advising people who want to start gardens of their own this month, and finding land for them if they have none of their own—will be taken care of by a sub-committee.

The Mayor announces that he has been fortunate in securing the services of William S. Tyler as chairman of the commission. Mr. Tyler has spent several days in Trenton and New Brunswick investigating and studying the problem, and getting in touch with the State authorities and their plans.

The following constitute the members of the commission as appointed by the Mayor, in consultation with Mr. Tyler: William S. Tyler, chairman; William T. Kaufman, Frank J. Hubbard, Arthur B. Jones, Leslie R. Fort, Howard C. Tracy, Frederic E. Mygatt, John P. Stevens, C. B. Tyler and Wm. M. Wherry, Jr. The above commission as appointed by the Mayor is given authority to add

NEW MEMBERS OF LEAGUE SWORN IN

Mayor Calkins Administered Oath to Last Unit at High School

The Plainfield Home Defense League had its drill at the High school last evening. The new men were sworn in and measured for uniforms.

Commander Ransome is now drilling the men by squads, instead of the entire league, once a week. That is, each squad drills by itself one night a week, and in addition the entire league will have a drill once a week. This intensive drill work will round the men into shape quickly, after which only occasional drills will be necessary. The commander is of the opinion that results will be accomplished more speedily, and with less work for the men in the aggregate, than by any other plan. New men can best be taught in squads.

Robert Rushmore, chairman of the Automobile Brigade, requests all who are willing to join, to communicate with him at 722 West Eighth street (or by telephone No. 1019). He wishes to recruit the brigade with all possible speed.

The Commission hopes that members of the league will make allowance for some unavoidable confusion in assigning men for patrol duty. As new calls have been added it has been necessary to shift men from one squad to another in order to balance the groups geographically. In this way some men have inadvertently been assigned for duty a second time in advance of their regular turn. The schedule will shortly work itself into systematic order.

THE FUNERAL OF JUDGE W. L. HETFIELD

Service Was Conducted by Dr. C. M. Anderson and Dr. P. B. Strong

The funeral of former Judge of the District Court Walter L. Hetfield, who died on Monday morning at his home on East Second street, was held yesterday afternoon, the Rev. Dr. C. M. Anderson, pastor of the First Methodist church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating.

There was a large attendance of relatives and friends and the floral tributes were numerous and beautiful. They included splendid set pieces from the following organizations: Plainfield Bar Association, Jerusalem Lodge, F. and A. M., Unity Lodge, K. of P., B. P. O. Elks, Plainfield Lodge of Odd Fellows, The Woodmen of the World and the Allen Higgins Company, of Worcester, Mass., with which company Herbert Hetfield, son of the late judge, is associated.

The honorary bearers were W. A. Coddington, W. R. Codington, William M. Stillman, C. A. Reed, William Newcorn and S. S. Swackhamer. The acting bearers were Judge J. Henry Crane, Judge William G. DeMeza, Judge William N. Runyon, Martin B. Stutsman, Francis J. Blatz and Asa F. Randolph. The interment was made in Evergreen cemetery.

FERERA'S CASE IS POSTPONED

Judge DeMeza Condemns Street Corner Loafers as Economic Burden

John Ferera, who was in the company of Joseph Vitelli, John Boyle, Michael Comisky and Edward Conklin, when they attempted to assault Sophie Costa, an Austrian girl, employed in a Central avenue residence, on Randolph road, last Sunday night, was arraigned in the City Court this morning for a hearing. Judge DeMeza postponed the case until tomorrow morning.

Vitelli and Boyle were each sent to the county jail to await the action of the Grand Jury in default of $5,000 bail on Monday, and Conklin and Comisky were each sentenced to serve a term of sixty days in the county jail.

Vitelli was released from jail yesterday by Judge Connolly, who reduced the bail to $1,000.

In the City Court this morning Lieutenant Higgins told Judge DeMeza that he saw Vitelli loitering about the streets again last night.

The Judge said:

"I wish that the officers would bring in every man found loitering about the corners. If they haven't anything to do, I will send them to the county jail where the warden can employ them cleaning up the Court House and jail property.

"The man who spends his time in idleness now doesn't want to work, and is an economic burden which should be taken off the shoulders of the industrious class."

WILL DISTRIBUTE COPIES OF PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

In order that the people of Plainfield may have in permanent form the stirring message which President Wilson delivered on April 2 to the joint Houses of Congress, and his proclamation to the American people written under date of April 16, The Plainfield Trust Company has had these two masterpieces of state-manship printed in pamphlet form for public distribution. These documents have taken their place among the great State papers of our nation, and for that reason the Trust Company would like to put them into every home in our city. The public is accordingly cordially invited to call at the bank for copies of these pamphlets.

In the President's message to the people and industries of the country it is noticeable that he makes no special appeal to the banks. The reason, however, is obvious. In all times and under all conditions, the financial institutions of our land have done their duty and in this hour of stress they may be counted upon to support and stabilize industry, to maintain public confidence and to co-operate with those in authority in meeting the great national responsibilities with which this people is confronted.

PROCLAMATION OF THE MAYOR
Borough of North Plainfield

The State of New Jersey in recognition of the serious food supply conditions now existing, and the fact that the stress will become constantly greater through increase in food requirements and decrease in labor supply, due to the war, has issued to all citizens a most earnest call to perform an act of real patriotism and economic significance by organized production and preservation of home grown foods.

Experience abroad has demonstrated the extraordinary value of such a plan, the increase in national resources resulting therefrom, and the habits of thrift and frugality induced thereby.

To the end that this Borough may make due response to this worthy call, I have appointed H. C. Krebs, Albert Earley, A. M. Griffen, Mrs. W. O. Taylor, Peter Doeringer, Wm. Pasch, Mrs. H. C. White, Adolph Bohren, Wm. Kirch, Thos. Lindsay and F. E. Valentine an Emergency Food Commission to organize a movement for more general home and vacant lot gardening and the proper care and preservation of the crops resulting therefrom; and to take such other measures in this connection as they may deem proper; and

I do urge upon all residents of this Borough the serious duty of cordial co-operation in this regard.

WILLIAM L. SMALLEY,
Mayor.

MISS TILLOTSON GIVEN AN OVATION

Talented Soprano Delights Large Audience at Musical Given at High School

Appearing before a large and appreciative audience, Miss Queena Tillotson, lyric coloratura soprano, was given an ovation at a musical at the Plainfield high school last night under the auspices of the Cup Bearers' Circle of King's Daughters. Miss Tillotson who formerly resided here and was graduated from the high school, was greeted by many friends who were enthusiastic over the work of the talented young artist.

Miss Tillotson is a pupil of Mme. Sembrich, and has made remarkable progress in the cultivation of her voice, which was clearly demonstrated last night in the program she presented. Nearly every number was a popular one and varied to such an extent that it gave the singer ample opportunity to display her talent, and the audience was quick to recognize her mastery of the more difficult compositions as well as the simple ones.

The first part of the program was sung in Italian and French, closing with five attractive numbers in English. Although the program was a lengthy one, Miss Tillotson, recognizing the appreciation of her audience very generously responded to several encores. As further evidence of the popularity of the artist, she was presented with a number of beautiful floral gifts, one consisting of a large basket of roses.

The program was concluded with the singing of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" in which the audience arose and joined in the chorus, making a fitting close to an evening's entertainment which was thoroughly enjoyed throughout.

It would be difficult to select any one number as more popular than another. Everyone was given with a finish that was truly delightful. Miss Tillotson's ability to give a true interpretation of the more intricate compositions, which was followed by some light and catchy French or Italian songs, was remarkable to a degree.

The artist's rendition of the aria, recitative, adagio and allegro from the first act of the opera "Lucia de Lammemoor" was perhaps one of the stellar numbers of the program, and the rendition was given with a spirit that aroused the audience to great enthusiasm. Another pleasing number was the waltz song "Paria," by Arditi.

Emil J. Polak, who was at the piano, shared the honors of the evening with Miss Tillotson. His work as accompanist was not only delightful, but his rendition of several numbers was received with enthusiastic applause. For an encore he played "The Sextette" from "Lucia" with his left hand, in a way that called forth the greatest praise. In the singing of "A Question" which was written by Mr. Polak and dedicated to Miss Tillotson, the artists won hearty applause.

SPECIAL AID SOCIETY TO HOLD BRIDGE PARTY

MISS GRAVES BRIDE OF JOHN L. ALLEN

Rev. Dr. D. W. Skellenger of Hope Chapel Officiates at Home Ceremony

Miss Grace E. Graves, daughter of Councilman Charles C. Graves, of 819 South Second street, was married to John Leslie Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen, of West Fourth street, at 7 o'clock last evening at the home of the bride's father. Rev. Dr. D. W. Skellenger, pastor of Hope chapel, of which both the bride and bridegroom are members, performed the cermony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in white voile and messaline and carried an arm bouquet of bride roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Marguerite L. Coward, of Camden, who wore a gown of blue voile and carried an arm bouquet of white carnations. Miss Alice Graves, sister of the bride, was flower girl. She wore pink voile and messaline and carried a basket of pink carnations. The best man was Russell M. Allen, brother of the bridegroom.

Miss Alice Mallery, of this city, played the wedding march, and during the ceremony Miss Grace Kinney, of Newark, sang "O Promise Me." A reception followed during which Mr. and Mrs. Allen received the congratulations of the guests.

The home was decorated with palms, ferns and smilax, by Stanley, the florist, and the arrangement in the parlor and diningroom was most attractive.

The bride received a large collection of gifts, including cut glass, furniture, linen and many other articles. Mrs. Graves was graduated from the Plainfield high school, class '13, and both she and Mr. Allen have been quite active in the work at Hope chapel. The latter holds a position at the local plant of the Niles-Bement-Pond Machine Company. After the reception last night the couple left for Atlantic City, where they will spend a short honeymoon. They will reside at 819 South Second street upon their return.

AFTERNOON WEDDING AT BOKO' CHURCH

The marriage of Miss Nellie Reading and James Preston Henry, took place in St. Joseph's Church, North Plainfield, at five o'clock, last evening. The couple were attended by Mrs. Catherine Harrison, sister of the bride, as the matron of honor. John A. Henry, a brother of the bridegroom, was the best man.

A wedding supper was served at the new home of the couple, 122 Sumner avenue, the interior of the house being prettily decorated with the National colors. Mr. and Mrs. Henry received many beautiful presents. The gift from the bridegroom to the best man was a pearl stickpin. The bride presented the matron of honor with a diamond studded bracelet.

After an extended wedding trip the couple will be at home to their many friends after May 1, at 122 Sumner avenue, this city.

FLAG RAISED AT SCOTT PRESS WORKS

Was Presented by Employes and Unfurled by D. J. Scott as Band Played

The flag presented by the employes to Walter Scott & Co., printing press manufacturers, was raised to the top of the pole at 12.30 today, in the presence of the members of the firm and the employes. The flag was unfurled by D. J. Scott while the Dutch Arms Band, who kindly offered their services, appropriately played the Star Spangled Banner. Walter C. Scott, in a speech of acceptance, said:

"In behalf of Walter Scott & Company, I desire to thank you for your generosity and patriotism in presenting us with the handsome flag. I feel sure that we will all derive great satisfaction from working under the Stars and Stripes, and we shall all work for it when called upon.

"The flag represents a nation's sovereignty. That sovereignty can only be established by the affection in which the flag is held at home and the respect which it commands abroad. All that is sentimental in a nation can be found in the flag. It embodies the softest and the strongest emotions of a people.

"Referring to the front line of battle, it pumps stamina into the drooping heart of the timid and swings him on to death or victory with a cheer.

"The colors of a banner carries a significance and have varied but little for centuries. Blue, and in some countries white, was the emblem for purity and innocence; red for valor.

"Today the National flag of the United States is older than the flag of Great Britain, Spain, France, Italy, or the flag of our present enemy. The author of the Stars and Stripes is not known, nor is the name of the person who suggested the shape and make-up of the flag. We do know, however, that on June 14th, 1777, the American Congress settled on the red, white and blue emblem.

"And so it stands today. Since that day the flag has been carried in every clime; it has floated on all the warms under the sun and surmounted the highest mountain peaks of the earth. It has never trailed in the dust or been dishonored and never has yielded to a foe. Today it represents all that is noble in humanity, progressive in civilization, and glories in liberty.

"Especially on this day of patriotic awakening we cannot help but be thrilled by looking on a brand new flag when we stop to recall for one moment its glorious past and realize that its immediate future is one of the most uncertain in its history."

C. E. Drange on behalf of the company and their employes thanked the Dutch Arms Band for their service in the matter.

GERMAN SPIES FORCE DOOR OF U. S. SENATE FOR NAVAL PLANS

By United Press:

Washington, April 19.—The door of the Senate Naval Affairs Committee, in the Capitol building, was "jimmied" during the night. This morning the door was found standing open. The work is believed to be that of German spies seeking information of naval plans.

An investigation is under way. The force of guards about the Capitol was questioned. As far as can be learned nothing was missing from the room.

GERMAN ARMIES REACH A STAGE OF PANIC

By United Press:

Paris, April 19.—Germany's soldiers are reaching the panic stage, as the great drive of French and British forces sweeps onward with its ghastly toll of Teuton dead.

A week ago the first evidence of a break-down in the morale of the German defenders was observed and reported by the British commander afound Lens.

WAR DEMONSTRATIONS IN THE ARGENTINE

By United Press:

Buenos Aires, April 19.—Renewed pro-war demonstrations here today, were promptly suppressed by greatly increased forces of gendarmes. Residences of German citizens and German business houses were literally cordoned, the city evidently fearing the same trouble as at Porto Aegre, Brazil.

MARRIAGE NO ESCAPE FROM WAR SERVICE

By United Press:

Washington, April 19.—Men who marry to dodge military service will not escape, according to a ruling of the War Department today. All men married since the United States declared war with Germany will be treated upon the same basis as unmarried men, so far as their military obligations are concerned.

BRIEF ITEMS OF NEWS INCIDENT TO THE WAR

By United Press:

Paris, April 19.—"Everywhere success," was the epitome of today's official statement, detailing the continued sweep forward of Gen. Nivelle's armies.

By United Press:

Washington, April 19.—To hasten the nation's $7,000,000,000 bond bill into law so that Treasury Department may start its gigantic task of printing the bonds, House and Senate Committee convened today, to take up the amendments. They expect to report today.

By United Press:

Paris, April 19.—Capture of Monthaup and several heights, including Hill 227, in further progress in the great Champagne offensive," is announced officially today.

Buenos Aires, April 19.—Every one of the interned German ships "taken into custody" by the Argentine Government yesterday, was found to have been damaged in some degree by the German crew.

MRS. BOWERS TENDERED A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

A surprise party was tendered Mrs. George Bowers Tuesday evening in honor of her birthday by a number of members of the O. B. Joyful Club, the evening being spent in playing games and dancing. A number of vocal selections were rendered by James McDonough, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. McDonough. The hostess was the recipient of a number of beautiful bouquets.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. James McDonough, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark, Mr. and Mrs. J. Alster, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Basch, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. D. Cohen, Joseph Clark, Jr., Phillip Keenan, of Cranford; Joseph Garrido, Martin Miltner, George Bowers, Jr., Miss Priscilla Basch, Miss Helen Clark and Miss Marguerite Ryan.

WILL CARE FOR CHILDREN DURING THE MEETING

Miss Mary Davis will tell of the work done among the Pines people at a meeting to be held tomorrow afternoon in the Watchung Avenue Presbyterian church. During the meeting the young women of the church will take care of the little children in the church parlor so that mothers may be able to be present.

SAWYER-MATTHEWS NUPTIALS

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Minnie Matthews, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Matthews, Brooklyn, N. Y., to Harry F. Sawyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Sawyer, Plainfield, N. J., which took place at the home of the bride, Tuesday, April 17. The Rev. John Froschl, of Tompkins Avenue Congregational church, officiated. The couple expect to make their home in Vermont.

MRS. GILDERSLEEVE NOW MRS. DICKINSON

A pretty wedding took place yesterday afternoon when Mrs. Laura Force Gildersleeve, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Force, of this city, was married to John W. Dickinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dickinson, at their future home on Richmond street, by the Rev. Edward S. Ralston, pastor of the Netherwood Reformed church. The immediate families of the bride and bridegroom only were present. The house was beautifully decorated with flowers. Among those present were Mrs. Foster, ninety-four years of age, and the little niece of the bride, nine months old.

The bridegroom's gift to the bride was a sapphire pin. Among the many presents received were a handsome, mahogany upholstered chair from the officials and office force of the Scott Printing Press Company, where Mr. Dickinson is employed, and a handsome silver fruit bowl from A. A. Prudhon, the bride's employer.

Y. M. H. A. JRS. HELD A RECEPTION

The Junior Young Men's Hebrew Association made their debut in the social world last night by holding a reception and dance in the Doyle and MacCormick Studio at 119 West Front street. The success of this dance was far better than expected judging by the number present.

The committee had spared no expense to make the affair a success for the entertainment of their friends. The main feature of the evening was dancing with that good music rendered by Edward Marks' Jazz orchestra in his New York style.

The committee in charge were: Sam Prager, Maurice Kunzman, David Goldberg, Jacob Galison, Abram Bussel, Benjamin Feldman, Harry Bloom.

"A Brass Band Gone Crazy!"

That's the way a wag describes the original Dixieland "Jass" Band. Beyond that description we can't tell you what a "Jass" Band is because we don't know ourselves.

As for what it does—it makes dancers want to dance more—and more—and yet more!

You'll want to hear the first Victor Record by this organized disorganization—it's a "winner." "Livery Stable Blues," a fox trot, and "Dixieland Jass Band One-Step" are played with charming ferocity and penetration.

SMALLEY NAMES FOOD COMMISSION

Will See That Vacant Lots Are Utilized to Best Advantage

Mayor William L. Smalley of North Plainfield today issued a proclamation calling upon the citizens of North Plainfield borough to co-operate with a commission which he has appointed to increase the food supply and conserve the products of gardens within the borough.

The Mayor has announced that all vacant lots can and should be cultivated either by their owners or by others given permission to work them.

Charles W. McCutchen has given fifteen acres of land on West End avenue to the pupils of the North Plainfield public schools to be cultivated, and each boy will have a section of this tract to look after.

When the crop has been gathered, the boys will have a certain proportion of the produce for their own families, and the balance will be sold by the commission, and the money derived from such sale applied to the fund that is being raised for the relief of dependents of men in this community who enlist in any branch of the national military service.

The members of the North Plainfield Food Supply Commission are: Professor H. C. Krebs, Albert Earley, A. M. Griffen, Mrs. W. O. Taylor, Peter Doeringer, William Pasch, Mrs. Henry Crofut White, Adolph Bohren, William Kirch, Thomas Lindsay and F. E. Valentine.

Discussing the work of this commission Mayor Smalley stated that each member had had experience that qualifies them for the task.

"There should be plenty of food raised this year," said the Mayor.

"Those who plant gardens will become interested in the work and they will be benefited by the outdoor exercise they will get in caring for their gardens.

"America should never know what food scarcity is. We have abundant land and it should all be under cultivation. It will knock the high cost of living into a 'cocked hat,' and stimulate thrift among our people. Those who stand around street corners wasting their time can apply it to something more profitable in the future. There must be no idle men this summer, and the only one excused from doing their share should be the aged and infirmed or the sick."

GERARD THRILLS TRENTON THRONG

Trenton, April 19.—Introduced by Mayor Frederick W. Donnelly as the man who refused to sign away American treaty rights even under the pressure of the German Government, James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to Germany, told twenty thousand people at Trenton's municipal patriotic mass meeting last night that this war with Germany would not be an easy one to win. He predicted that it would be a long war, declaring that the Germans, with twelve million men under arms, cannot be easily beaten. He declared emphatically for universal military service in this country and said that such a step by this country would resound around the world and would be the greatest help to end the war.

JUDGE NEWCORN TO DISTRIBUTE SEED

Judge William Newcorn, chairman of the Republican County Committee, has received from Congressman John H. Capstick a supply of garden seeds which he will distribute to the citizens of Plainfield who call at his office in the Schloss building.

The supply is limited and Judge Newcorn is desirous of placing the seeds with people who will put them to proper use. They will be distributed freely so long as they last.

to its own number, if found advisable, and to appoint sub-committees with members of the commission as chairmen.

The commission held its first meeting last evening at Mr. Tyler's house and organized by naming the following chairmen of sub-committees:

Finance, W. T. Kaufman, chairman; land, Frank J. Hubbard, chairman; labor, Arthur B. Jones, chairman; publicity and information, Leslie H. Fort, chairman; home gardens, Howard C. Pyle, chairman.

A canning committee and possibly others will also be named. Headquarters will be established at a convenient location in the business section, maintaining there a competent information bureau, with some one constantly in attendance. Further notice will be given through the press as to the detailed arrangements. In the meantime, and until headquarters are opened, offers of land and requests for land and garden advice may be made direct to Howard C. Tracy, chairman of the home garden department, 1331 Prospect avenue. This will supersede the notice yesterday which referred applicants to Mr. Carroll, the city clerk.

Mayor Calkins expressed this morning his appreciation at receiving Mr. Tyler's consent to undertake the leadership of this important work. "It really is equally important with army and navy recruiting, or nearly so," he said. "It is one of the big things America must do in the war. Upon the success of our lines of defense, but back of both navy and army are our farmers, and all the agricultural resources of the country, if only we can mobilize them in time. To do this each community unit must not only be organized, but so organized that its machinery may be suited for quick co-operative work with the Federal and State authorities. We can't afford to be all wound up in red tape. I am confident that this commission, with its splendid personnel, acting as a general executive committee with jurisdiction over the entire problem, will make it easy for Plainfield to coordinate its activities with those of larger units, and act at all times in full harmony and in close touch with experts everywhere."

Employes to be Permitted to Grow Vegetables on Land Owned by Company

Tracts of land along private rights of way, spaces adjoining car house and other ground not now required for street railway operation in the Central Division of Public Service Railway Company, as well as elsewhere on the company's property, will be made to do their part in increasing the country's food production this year. Land available in New Brunswick, Elizabeth and other places will be at the disposal of such employes who wish to take up the work in line with the national movement of increased crop raising.

The company has announced to all employes that this available land, approximately 100 acres in all, will be allotted to them in the order applications are received. Work of plotting the lots will be made by the company engineers, and to assist those men who are interested, Joseph A. G. Baudemann of the engineering department, who has had practical experience in crop raising, has been detailed as supervisor of gardening. He will assist in any way possible to make the plan a success and has prepared data relative to the planting and raising of standard crops.

All employes in any department of the railway company will be permitted to make application for land and the company has suggested that after land has been assigned the gardeners make arrangements to have the necessary fertilizing, plowing and harrowing done in a co-operative manner to reduce the cost of preparing the ground.

COMPANY K IS STILL ENLISTING

Young Men Enrolled Only for Duration of War and Not for Usual Term

Recruiting for Company K, of this city, is now going on. Young men who enroll in the company now, enlist for the duration of the war, and not for three years' active and three years' reserve. Young men of this vicinity who desire to serve their country would do well to enlist in Company K because there will be associated with men they know, and the company is officered by men who have the interests of local men at heart. The opportunities for promotion are excellent, because from the ranks of the present National Guard will be drawn the officers and instructors for the new units to be organized. Vacancies will thus be created which must be filled from those enlisting at the present time.

It is well for young men to enroll in their home company, because under the conscription act which is about to be passed by Congress, men so drafted will be scattered among the various companies in the new regiments to be created, which will not represent localities, as is the case at present in the National Guard units. The interest in the home company will always be taken by the Congressional and legislative representatives of the section where the company is recruited.

Apply for enlistment in Company K any day or evening at the armory, 320 West Front street.

MUHLENBERG NEEDS A NEW FLAG POLE

Mrs. Ellis W. Hedges and Mrs. J. J. O'Donohue have each presented a flag to the Muhlenberg Hospital and now there is need for a suitable pole. The old pole on the roof of the administration building is no longer safe, having decayed at the base, and it is the desire of the management to have a sixty-foot pole set in concrete in the ground, so as to be permanent and safe. Such a pole will cost about $200. Will someone or ones make the effort to raise the necessary money to provide this pole?

The hospital, which is one of the centre points of interest to a community such as ours at times like these, should have the nation's emblem prominently displayed, and no doubt many people, knowing of this need will promptly donate the necessary amount.

PASTORS' SALARIES ARE INCREASED

At an adjourned meeting of the First Presbyterian church and congregation held last evening, the salary of the pastor, the Rev. Dr. C. E. Herring, who is now in the twenty-sixth year of his ministry here, was substantially increased. A generous addition was made also to the salary of the Rev. Aurelio R. Mangione, pastor of the Italian Mission.

The church budget was adopted and the report of the finance committee was accepted.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED TO PLOW GROUND

Many people in and about Plainfield are able to attend a garden after it is plowed, but are unable to hire a team to plow or to do the spading. Some of these people are in need of vegetables and are willing to do the work if the ground could be plowed. It costs $7 a day to plow and proportionately for part of a day. One citizen today suggested that if provision could be made by the city or otherwise, many old people, men and women, could be able to do their bit toward raising vegetables that will be very much needed.

SEWING MACHINES NEEDED BY SPECIAL AID SOCIETY

On account of the increased number of workers at the headquarters of the National Special Aid Society, 175 East Front street, more sewing machines are needed. The society wishes that any one having a machine that can be spared would notify the headquarters, 'phone 1180, and it will be sent for. If the machine can be spared for only a brief time it will be carefully used and sent back.

RETURN FROM PLEASANT VISIT IN THE SOUTH

Charles Schwartz, of Walnut street, baggagemaster at the North avenue station, and his family, have just returned from a delightful six weeks' pleasure trip through the South. They visited many points of interest in Florida and Georgia. During their sojourn the weather was exceptionally fine. There was only one rainy day.

"ON SERVICE, N. S. A. S."

The use of a card on the windshield of an automobile reading "On Service N. S. A. S.," has roused some curiosity when seen on the street. This card means that the automobile belongs to some member of the Motor Squad of the National Special Aid Society, and that it is just then on duty taking a child to the hospital for treatment for infantile paralysis, or doing some other service within the province of the National Special Aid.

HE IS COMING HERE!

PREPARE TO MEET THE QUAKER MAN.

He Comes By Request. He Is Expected Next Monday.

Will Triumphant Success Be Repeated Here With QUAKER HERB EXTRACT?

Jersey City, Bayonne and Elizabeth are all now ablaze with enthusiasm.

Yes, it is true. The Quaker Man is coming to Plainfield. He expects to arrive next Monday. He will make his headquarters at Weiss' Boro' Drug Store. He expects to remain until every person in the city has had a chance to interview him personally concerning that most wonderful of all remedies, Quaker Herb Extract. It will be a glorious opportunity for sufferers of rheumatism, catarrh and stomach disorders to be relieved of their complaints. Hundreds upon hundreds of testimonials will be shown, all received recently from enthusiastic residents of Elizabeth, Bayonne and Jersey City. These are all genuine proofs and will be substantiated by leading druggists in the cities mentioned. If you doubt, write or 'phone to the following representative druggists:

Gerwen's drug store, Elizabeth; Stoeger' drug store, Bayonne; Gold's Pharmacy, Jersey City. Ask them how Quaker Herb Extract is selling. Ask them what people are reporting who have tried the remedy and ask them if they will really recommend it. After satisfying yourselves call on the Quaker Man at Weiss' Drug Store and obtain any other information you may desire. This does not mean that Quaker Herb Extract cures everything, or that it is recommended for everything under the sun—indeed not—it is not a cure-all. If you suffer from rheumatism catarrh, or stomach troubles and your condition is still such as to be able to visit the Quaker Man, then there is great hope for you in Quaker Herb Extract. If it fails to help you, it positively cannot harm and it will be offered on the condition: No help, money refunded.

Another remarkable power possessed by Quaker Herb Extract is that it causes tapeworms to be expelled completely, and it requires only a few hours to do the work. This may seem a rather strong claim but it is true nevertheless. To prove it, the Quaker Man wishes the following remarkable proposition to be openly published:

*Any person living in this city who might be afflicted with a tapeworm, can call at Weiss' Drug Store next Monday or Tuesday and obtain Quaker Herb Extract absolutely free, just to prove that the remedy will actually cause the worm to be expelled, complete with head, in less than four hours, and no dieting or starving will be necessary. This free offer is for people only who may have a tapeworm. This is how the Quaker Man is going to prove his claims for Quaker Herb Extract. Is it not a plain, open, honest, liberal proposition? Once more sufferers from rheumatism, catarrh and stomach troubles are urged to call on the Quaker Man. It costs nothing to talk to him. Commencing next Monday he will make his headquarters at Weiss' Boro' Drug Store, Somerset street and Craig Place, and he will be there be soon and daily thereafter from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Call as soon as you can. It will be to your advantage to do so.

CANDIDATES OUT EARLY FOR FALL

LOCAL OPTION HIS PLATFORM

Runyon Also Reported as Seeking Senatorship if Union County Regulars and Senator Pierce Do Not Become Reconciled—Hammond May Try For Upper House From Somerset County.

Trenton, April 19.—The approach of spring has started the political sap running briskly in several counties, and stories, some inspired and others not, are coming in from various sections of candidacies already budding for the fall campaigns.

Samuel Shannon Childs of Bernardsville, head of the restaurant system that bears his name, is expected to be a candidate for the senate from Somerset county to succeed William Smalley of Bound Brook, who died last winter. Mr. Childs is a Democrat and was elected to the senate in 1902, defeating Joseph S. Frelinghuysen, Republican. At the election three years thereafter Mr. Frelinghuysen, now United States senator, defeated Mr. Childs.

During his term as senator Mr. Childs introduced the first local option bill before the legislature. Mr. Childs, if he runs, will make his campaign on local option.

Ogden H. Hammond, who served several terms in the assembly, but was supplanted last year by Assemblyman John S. Amerman, a local optionist, is said to be anxious to be the Republican candidate for the senate from Somerset county. Senator George W. F. Gaunt of Gloucester may not run for re-election, as he has been appointed to the new state highway commission, and in that event Assemblyman Oliver West may be a candidate to succeed him.

Assemblyman William N. Runyon of Plainfield may be put forward by the Union county Republican organization as a candidate in the primaries against Senator Carlton B. Pierce of Elizabeth, between whom and the "regulars" differences have developed.

Assemblyman A. Dayton Oliphant, majority leader in the assembly, is to be appointed prosecutor of Mercer county by Governor Edge upon the expiration of the term of office of Martin Devlin, Democrat, in 1918, according to reports at the state capital. Assemblyman Charles A. Wolverton of Camden is another member of the assembly slated for appointment as prosecutor.

WILL MUSTER ENGINEERS.

New Guard Unit Under Examination in Newark.

Newark, April 19.—The 250 men who are to compose the nucleus of the engineer battalion recently authorized as a new unit of the national guard will soon be mustered into the service of the state at the First regiment armory. Physical examinations are under way today.

Lieutenant Colonel Robert L. Patterson has been detailed by Adjutant General Barber to muster in the men. In due time the new unit's status as state troops will be changed by muster into the federal service.

County Engineer Rehner, who has enlisted and organized the battalion, probably will be captain of the first company mustered in.

INSULT FLAG AS "AVAIL" JOKERS

Intoxication Plea of No Avail to Jokers in Court.

Atlantic City, April 19.—Pleas of intoxication and an attempt to make it appear that the hauling down of four American flags from the home of Charles C. Nicholson by a cafe party was a "lark" failed to avail three women and two men arraigned before Magistrate Haughey for insulting the national emblem.

Mamie Jackson, who admitted she removed the flags "on a dare" made by Michael Truax, was held in $1,000 bail for trial and Truax in $500 bail as an accessory. Mrs. Louis Crosby, May Ogden and John Pharo were held in $250 bail each as witnesses. In default of bail all were committed to jail.

Presbytery Pledges Aid.

Gloucester City, April 19.—At the closing session of the west Jersey presbytery in the First Presbyterian church here a resolution was adopted unanimously that the presbytery pledge itself and members to give every aid within its power to the government and to prepare itself and members to encourage and inspire the congregations of the Presbyterian churches to help in the prosecution of the war.

PETERSON'S OINTMENT BEST FOR ECZEMA

First application stops Itching of Eczema, Salt Rheum and Piles.

"Live and let live is my motto," says Peterson. "Druggists all over America sell PETERSON'S OINTMENT for 35 cents a large box and I say to these druggists, if anyone buys my ointment for any of the diseases or ailments for which I recommend it and are not benefited give them their money back. I've got a safe full of thankful letters testifying to the mighty healing power of Peterson's Ointment for old and running sores, eczema, salt rheum, ulcers, sore nipples, broken breast, itching scalp and skin, blind, bleeding and itching piles."

John Scott, 283 Virginia St., Buffalo, writes: "Peterson's Ointment is simply wonderful. It cured me of eczema and also piles, and did it so quickly that I was astonished." Adv.

SENATORS OPPOSE ESPIONAGE BILL

Lodge Leads Fight Against Curbing of Press.

Washington, April 19.—The administration espionage bill conferring upon the president extraordinary powers to prevent the dissemination of military information is encountering a storm of opposition in the senate.

By some senators the measure is declared to be unconstitutional because it destroyed the freedom of the press. Others, Democrats as well as Republicans, asserted that it aims to place in the hands of administration officials autocratic power by which they could stifle all hostile criticism of their acts during the duration of the war.

The censorship provisions making it a crime not only to publish information which might be of value to the enemy, but also to attempt to elicit information of that character for any purpose whatever were the target for attacks on the floor. It now seems probable that the entire section will be stricken from the bill or materially modified before it be accepted. The committee sought to allay the hostility by abandoning the second proviso of its proposed amendment relating to discussion of policies of the government in time of war. So modified the amendment reads:

Provided, That nothing in this section shall be construed to limit or restrict, nor shall any regulation herein provide for limit or restrict any discussion, comment or criticism of the acts or policies of the government or any representatives or the publication of the same.

The opposition was first taken up by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who said:

"There is a very wide distinction between the publication of information that may be useful to the enemy and what some department may believe to be useful to the enemy."

AL. REEVES' BURLESQUE HERE NEXT MONDAY

Al Reeves' Beauty Show comes to the Plainfield Theatre Monday, matinee and night, April 23. It is made up of comedians, a large number of chorus girls in beautiful costumes, and Reeves himself, with a cheerful monologue and brand new song entitled, "That's Life!" Mr. Reeves has always succeeded in presenting a burlesque entertainment of an unusually high order. His company is undoubtedly the best that he has ever had. As extra attraction Sulzback & Miller, clever entertainers direct from the Keith circuit, will make their first appearance in burlesque; Bernice Taber and Edna Claire, the California beauties direct from the Golden West, also new to burlesque; Eddy & Earle, sensational novelty whirlwind dancers; Pagana, the beautiful ragtime violinist; Frances Murphy, the Julian Eltinge of burlesque, and Paynton and Green.

NEW BILL AT PLAINFIELD THEATRE

With May Ward & Co. remaining for the rest of the week and with every number of the new program an excellent one, the offering at the Plainfield Theatre is one worthy of patronage. The musical comedy offering is a riot of fun. The "Three Castons" perform acrobatic novelties and daring feats of real worth.

Calvert, Shean and Brisbane, the three boys in green, offer a novel little skit at the theatre. The other two numbers include William McKee & Co. in a comedy sketch and the "Seedman," a novel musical offering.

Hearst-Pathe latest releases of the war and Mutual comedies comprise the moving picture program that augments the vaudeville bill.

"MYSTERY OF DOUBLE CROSS" AT PROCTOR'S TODAY

At Proctor's Tomorrow

The second episode of the "Mystery of the Double Cross" is presented at Proctor's Theatre today. This second episode proves highly entertaining and gripping from start to finish. Also today, Bessie Love appears in the five-part Triangle play, "A Daughter of the Poor," and the first of the new Keystone comedies, "The Nick of Time Baby," is also shown.

Tomorrow and Saturday Charlie Chaplin appears in his latest Mutual comedy hit "The Cure." Tomorrow, Alice Brady will appear in "A Dancer's Peril," and Ann Pennington is presented by Paramount in "The Rainbow Princess." In connection with "The Cure" on Saturday Paramount offers Anita King and Thomas Meighan in "An Heir to the Hoorah;" Neal Hart appears in "Roped In," and "Krazy Kat" disports upon the screen in a comedy cartoon. On Saturday afternoon the first episode of "The Lass of the Lumberlands," starring Helen Holmes, will appear at Proctor's and will be presented exclusively every Saturday afternoon thereafter for the benefit of the children.

EDGE GOING TO HOT SPRINGS

Trenton, April 19.—Following fourteen weeks of strenuous work as Chief Executive of the State, dating from the inauguration on January 16, Governor Edge will leave on Saturday for Hot Springs, Va., for a two weeks' vacation. At that time the Executive Mansion on West State street, near the State House, which was leased from Mrs. Alexander C. Oliphant, of this city, will be closed. From Hot Springs, Governor Edge will return to his home in Atlantic City, but will be in Trenton practically every day to maintain his pace in the work of giving New Jersey a business government. While he is out of the State, Senate President George W. F. Gaunt, of Gloucester county, will be Acting Governor.

WILSON CAN SEE INTO FUTURE, SAYS EDUCATOR

Princeton, April 19.—"There is at this time at the head of our nation a scholar who can, and always will, look beyond the present crisis to the future," declared Professor Chauncey Brewster Tinker of Yale before the Phi Beta Kappa Society of Princeton University Tuesday evening.

"The business of the soldier and the student are the same, for the business of the true scholar is to usher men into the presence of God," Professor Tinker continued. "If scholarship isn't good for something at the present time, it is never good for anything. If it is not good for something in time of war, it is but a diversion suited only for a time of peace. Intelligent pursuits have their worth now above all other times."

COUNTY DENTISTS ARE FOR PREPAREDNESS

A meeting on war preparedness from a dental standpoint was held in Elizabeth last night by the Union County Dental Society in the Battin High School. The introduction of a bill in Congress to create a Government Dental Department in Washington, with a chief of staff, corresponding to the medical department, with its surgeon general, was urged, also the making of dentists serving in the army or navy eligible to any rank if competent. The idea is to give them the same recognition as that accorded the medical men and opportunity for advancement. William O. Runyon delivered a patriotic address and other prominent speakers were present. Some new motion pictures from the European war zone were shown.

BELIEVE "YEGGS" USED A STOLEN AUTOMOBILE

Califon, April 19.—The automobile stolen from Coagland's garage and found on the River road near High Bridge Tuesday is believed to have been used by the persons who burglarized the Chester post office during the night.

In the car was found an iron bar and other tools. Two copies of a Philadelphia newspaper were also in the car. A broken top and side lamp was the damage done to the car. The private garage of Mrs. Louise Robinson was also entered, but the car was not taken, there being no number plates thereon.

PLAINFIELD SENDS AID TO ARMENIANS

From October 1 of last year to March 1 of this year, the citizens of Plainfield have forwarded $2,747.50 for relief of Armenians and Syrians. The secretary of the relief committee, Charles Y. Vickery, Madison avenue, New York, says:

"In order to meet the minimum requirements of the destitute exiles and refugees in these lands, who are wholly dependent upon our American benevolence, we would require and normally should receive every month as a proportionate share from Plainfield $1,476.00."

NEGROES ON FARMS

The successful carrying out of the proposition to divert the stream of Southern negro immigration into this State from the cities to the farms would help to relieve the problem of providing the farm labor so badly needed. There is no doubt that in the cities of the North the Southern negroes found themselves out of place. Most of them who came here seeking work were unskilled in any thing but farm work. They had been tilling the lands all their lives, and to many of them the ordinary laboring work they found was less to their liking than the familiar tasks of the country. By putting these Southern negroes on the farms of the State, some problems would not only be solved but a great deal done to add to their contentment. The immediate difficulty would probably be housing. —Newark Evening News.

THIS STOPS HAIR FROM FALLING OUT

Ever count the dead hairs in your comb and brush? They are nature's warning of future baldness and proof that the dangerous dandruff germ is working its work. It was a famous Paris physician who first discovered that dandruff and falling hair are caused by a microbe. Then came the discovery of the value of Parisian Sage (liquid form) in destroying the dandruff germ and promptly preventing the further loss of hair. The effect of only three days' use of Parisian Sage is simply marvelous, and the American people have now awakened to the fact that they can be quickly rid of dandruff and save their hair by using Parisian Sage.

Parisian Sage is sold by L. W. Randolph and good druggists everywhere. It's inexpensive, daintily perfumed, free from stickiness, and surely cause hair to grow soft, lustrous and really seem twice as abundant.—Adv.

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS ORGANIZE FOR SERVICE

Meetings for the purpose of organizing special aid units were held yesterday afternoon in the Plainfield high school. Many girls turned out to enlist in the sewing and knitting unit, which is being conducted by Miss Ariadne Gilbert. At least 50 girls reported for duty and will begin their work without much delay. Miss G. Dillon was appointed captain of the unit and all girls who can knit sweaters are first lieutenants, while those able to knit wristlets are second lieutenants, and those remaining, who can make scarfs, are third lieutenants. These articles will be made expressly for sailors and seamen in actual service, and will be distributed with discretion.

Another meeting for organizing a farming and gardening unit was held under the leadership of H. R. Hubbard. A junior industrial army and a high school enrollment for public service were discussed and blanks distributed to those who wished to enroll in either one of these branches of service. All garden and farm workers, either in this city or elsewhere, will work under instructors furnished by the State authorities. A meeting will be held soon, when officers of the farming and gardening unit will be appointed or elected.

Then still another preparedness unit of unquestionable importance materialized under Clarence L. Woodman's supervision. This was the map making and map reading unit. Yesterday the twenty members who enlisted for instruction in this line, were taught how to make a working scale. After preliminary knowledge has been gained by the members of this unit, in map making, they will study a good deal of their time in getting the lay of Plainfield, its strategic points and its important buildings.

This afternoon two more units are being formed for service. They are the secretarial unit and the motor unit. J. C. Evans is taking charge of the former, while L. D. Beers is supervising the latter.

Senior play rehearsals are being held frequently now for April 28, when "Monsieur Perrichon's Journey" will be presented before the public. The following cast is perfecting its parts: M. Perrichon, Horace Bunker, Madame Perrichon, Miss Fanny Mann; Henriette, Miss Cora Hofer; Daniel Savary, Caryl Donavan; Armand Desroches, Fred Smith; Major Mathew, Burnham Carter; M. Majorin, Edward Crone; Jeaune, Miss Adele Potter; innkeeper, Miss Mary Lansdale and Joseph, Everett Case.

THE DRAFT PLAN

Some form of draft, called by any term you like, selective or any other, will eventually prove necessary to raise the adequate number of men for the army. The draft would reach some men who are ready to enlist, but who either through or lacking in the promptly moving spirit, hesitate, awaiting for the other fellow to start, and about the recruiting office to see who is going to lead off in volunteering and otherwise delay in taking a stand for their country and showing it by stepping up resolutely and enlisting. So, with this sort of young man the draft does not mean much more than an organized way of bringing young men together under the flag in the service of their country. The draft is necessary, however, to reach the slackers, they who demand as much of their country as the ready volunteer asks, but who want to see the other fellow uphold the dignity of the nation. The volunteer system takes the best young men of the country, they who are imbued with the spirit of patriotism, nice, clean young fellows, who like the spirit of adventure as a spice to patriotism and whose blood boils at the affront offered by a foreign foe to the people of the land where the Stars and Stripes are the sign of a free and unconquered nation. The able-bodied eligible young men who are slackers need some prod to stir patriotism, and the draft is the remedy for them. To the others the draft means no more than the call to arms in the time of their country's need. Compulsory military service pre-supposes better discipline. The volunteers who are rushed to the field are unprepared to meet the foe and have to get such training as they do get while in active service. The compulsory military service prepares men for soldiers before they go to war and fits them to take advantage of situations. Military service is a complicated art and cannot be extemporized. A civilian cannot become a soldier on short notice any more than an apprentice can at once become a watchmaker. It is not customary to call in benevolent bystanders when the water pipes burst or when a large sum is to be expended upon a national monument, or when a bridge is to be built. Those who volunteered would undoubtedly learn much before they were through, but meanwhile the material equipment would be wasted and the crisis would be past. It is a costly and ineffective method of apprenticeship. But the art of war is also the most dangerous of arts, and a decent regard for the safety of the apprentice requires that he shall be made familiar with edged tools before he is permitted to use them. To send enthusiastic poets, piano-tuners, lawyers and farmers into war is as pitiful and wicked as it would be to send children to put out a fire or confiding in savages to fight a contagious disease.

REPAIR THE DAMAGE QUICKLY

America and the Allied cause face no greater threat than that of crop failure. Instead of bemoaning the loss of winter wheat there should be an instant rush to repair the damage while there is time. There is danger that some States will not wake up to the danger until too late; but a few are already setting a good example for others to follow. The Governor of Washington called for public meetings in every county of the State under the auspices of the County officials to provide for systematic methods of increasing the food supply. Colorado has set in motion a plan that may produce still better results: Four State committees have been appointed who will form and supervise a local committee in every county which will look after the farmers' greatest needs—finance, good seed, power and labor. These plans might form a working model for the other States to plant and harvest a victory crop. They might also take a leaf from England's experience, and what lessons are worth so much as those learned in the school of experience? A director-general of food production was recently appointed. A minimum price was guaranteed farmers to assure them against the bogey of overproduction. Land in Britain heretofore untilled, such as parks and game preserves, will be put under the plow, and civilians, tens of thousands of them, will be put into the agricultural service. Some weeks ago the director said a large number of American tractor plows were necessary to carry out the plans of this department. We, too, have waste lands. Perhaps the land sowed to flax in the Northwest last year might be better employed in raising wheat, and new soil broken for flax. Power should be provided sufficient to plow the Northwestern land instead of disking in. Traction could be employed in connection with electric lights, working three shifts of men, so as to keep running the full twenty-four hours. It might be possible to find a compact light-weight tractor adapted to the use of the smaller farms of the East. Under proper stimulus also some genius might be able to adapt the idea of the motorcycle to cultivators and hoeing machines. Horses, mules and labor are so scarce that efforts should be made to increase the usefulness of gasoline. America mourns the loss of much of its wheat. Bread riots at home and defeat abroad are possibilities. The remedy is a nation-wide organization to look after farm finance, seed, power and labor. England, Colorado and Washington furnish the models on which to work. But we must be quick. Time is more than money at this juncture.—Wall Street Journal.

INCIDENTAL CAUSES OF WAR

It is the history of wars that often some cause, incidental to the main issues, is the thing that finally stirs the fighting spirit. In the Spanish war the basic issue was not the destruction of the Maine. There has always been the question if that act was not committed by some Cuban bent on stirring trouble, but that event seemed at the time to show up the Spanish character and Spanish rule in such a light that our people would not tolerate it, and it was the immediate cause of war. A great incidental cause of war with Germany has been the spy and plot system. It is not the principal grievance, but all this underground work is intensely repugnant to democratic ideas. It is doubtful if our people could have been brought up to the fighting point had not their wrath been so aroused by the complicated spy machine. The Kaiser has spent many millions on his spy work in the United States, but it would have accomplished more good to his cause if the money had been dumped into the sea.

MUST RAISE ARMY BY DRAFT

William Howard Taft, at the People's Presbyterian church in Bridgeport, Conn., stated that all talk about the raising of a volunteer army was "mere wasted eloquence" and that the experience of the nations in war had shown that the voluntary system was a fatal error, taking only the patriots and the flower of youth and leaving behind the slackers. "The only way to raise an army of two million," said Mr. Taft, "is to make every man of serviceable age understand that he owes an obligation to the service. I am in favor of the selective draft bill. Congressmen say that the traditions of the country do not favor a draft, but our experience in the wars mentioned are our traditions and they show us that without a draft we cannot get a large enough or efficient enough army."

EDITORIAL NOTES

It is pretty tough on the single men who didn't ask a girl to marry them, now they find that bachelors are to be drafted for military service.

The income taxpayers perhaps didn't all realize that the first step in preparedness is getting the numbers of all the people of large wealth.

Four hundred armed guards are patrolling the East River bridges at New York and wondering which of the 400,000 brown paper parcels carried over there every day may contain bombs.

How much better the "Keep Off the Grass" signs in the city would read this summer if they said "Keep Off the Potatoes."

It will take a lot of burnt cork to pull off that armed rising among the negroes that the plotters have been working on.

It is not probable that President Wilson's argument made any impression on the Kaiser, but raising 5,000,000 men in a hurry may appeal to his sense of logic.

Display the flag. It will whisper in somebody's ear "America needs you."

When a macadam road gets to the point where it is a mere series of thank-you-marms hollowed out of the stone surfacing, the motorist begins to long for the gravel, sand and clay that were originally there.

If the Kaiser wanted the United States to declare war the way he ran his spy system over here was certainly a most efficient means of bringing it about.

If there are to be no more college athletics on account of the war many of the boys will conclude it is time for them to stop fooling and get out into business.

It is not true that there is no real

WHAT IS "CERTIFIED MILK?"

It is milk whose purity and cleanly production is certified to by a Medical Milk Commission, regulated by State law under the rules of the American Association at Washington. Copy of these regulations mailed on request.

It is like a certified check. When a bank certifies a check, it first looks at the account to know that the check is good.

The five physicians of the Plainfield-Westfield Milk Commission employ experts to watch the daily production of Wood Brook Milk. Then they certify it.

It costs more to make milk so good it can be certified. Yet the price of Wood Brook Certified Milk is only 14 cents a quart.

son for food prices going higher, as the hoggishness of the food speculators furnishes abundant reason.

The higher butter goes the more the landlady is convinced that using much of it is unhealthy for the blood.

After declaiming against the waste of food some people still continue the laugh at the cold-dimer who used to make it a point to clean up everything on his plate.

In spite of the efforts of the plotters, the only uprisings of the negroes to date have been when they uprise with a whisk broom in the Pullman car and demand their customary quarter.

In the old days bold men who became pirates were hanged or drowned in Davy Jones' locker. Now they become food speculators.

"SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE"

The Executive Council of the International Typographical Union has issued a pamphlet giving some statistics of the printers who are fighting in the European war. Mortuary benefits amounting to $7,675 have been paid by the International Typographical Union to the beneficiaries of twenty-seven members of its Canadian unions who have been killed somewhere in Europe. Nearly 600 members of the International Typographical Union have enlisted in the overseas service, Canadian Expeditionary Force.

On the death of a member in good standing benefits are paid by the International Union to designated beneficiaries according to length of membership in the union as follows: One year or less, $75; one year and less than two, $100; two years and less than three, $125; three years and less than four, $200; four years and less than five, $300; five years or over, $400.

The total amount of mortuary benefits paid for the past twelve months is $288,340.18.

SAILING FROM NAPLES FOR HOME

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Suffern, of Stelle avenue, who went to Greece about six months ago, Mr. Suffern being on a business trip, have sailed from Naples for home, as announced by a letter recently received from them by Mr. Suffern's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Suffern, of Sycamore avenue.

They spent some time in Athens, before they could secure transportation and then went to Naples, to get a steamer for home. Up to the receipt of their recent letter they had not been heard from in two months.

When they sailed for Greece they were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Phineas B. Kennedy, who were returning as missionaries to the field which they had previously served.

VETERANS OF CO. K ELECT OFFICERS

Association Discusses Ways and Means of Assisting the Members of Company

The Veterans' Association of Company K met Wednesday night to discuss ways and means of assistance and aid to Company K, and held also the annual meeting. Nelson I. Wiley was re-elected president, Oliver R. Pearson, vice-president, succeeding Harry J. Manning; Jesse A. Dayton was re-elected secretary, and Eugene F. Dorman was re-elected treasurer.

The association will meet Friday, April 27. This will be the last meeting in the old armory, for the property of the association will be moved to the Boice property on East Front street next to the First Presbyterian church, which was recently purchased for an armory.

The Veterans appointed as a recruiting committee to secure new members for Company K: Jesse A. Dayton, Jr., Oliver R. Pearson, Ferris R. Pearsall, A. R. Tranchand, Norman Loughlin, Louis Clark, John Millwater.

The present armory will be open every day and evening to secure recruits. Last night two recruits were received. In event that the armory should be closed, Norman Loughlin, who is president of the M. & L. Auto Company, over whose store, at 320 West Front street, the armory is located, will take the names of recruits.

NORTH PLAINFIELD DEFENDERS MET

MYSTERY IN OPERATIONS OFF MASSACHUSETTS COAST

Special to Courier-News:

Washington, April 19.—Whether there is a German raider operating off the Massachusetts coast or whether American battleships are tracking down a submarine or other German ship in that vicinity, are questions to which the Navy Department should have an answer in a few hours. There is a suggestion that a German man-of-war may have been in wireless touch for the vessels bearing the British mission, headed by A. J. Balfour, and have attacked them. It is understood, however, that these ships are heavily convoyed.

P. H. S. NOTES

The basketball team was out for practice yesterday on Parker Field.

"Wake Up America Day" will be observed in this school at chapel exercises tomorrow morning.

All members of the High School Cadet Corps who wish to enlist in the Junior Industrial Army will be given an honorable discharge upon request.

Final tryouts for the high school track team will be held this afternoon. Those selected will compete against Montclair high school in the scheduled meet with that school.

Tomorrow morning during the long assembly period, Major Corbusier, M. R. C., will lecture in the old gymnasium on "The elements of personal hygiene adapted to the use of recruits."

Everett Jowett met with a painful accident while making a chemistry test yesterday. The test tube in which he was heating some H_2SO_4 broke, scattering some of the sulphuric acid on his face.

Junior play rehearsals are being held daily, and all preparations are being made for the two sketches which they are going to give before the public. "The Real Thing," and "The Man Who Married a Smart Wife," are the titles.

The High School debating team traveled to New York yesterday for the purpose of securing accurate information upon which they will base their arguments in an approaching league debate. Miss Fanny Mann, Charles T. Todd, Horace E. Bunker, Jr., and Caryl C. Dunavan made the trip.

The ushers for the concert which will be given in the auditorium this evening are: Door, Sheldon Goudray and Mac Fullerton; orchestra, Leonard Lewis, August Franke, Wallace Zimmerman, Russell Tomlinson, Rufus Searles and Louis Starkweather; balcony, William Geyl, Leon Ludeck, Marten McDonough and Irving Manley; tickets, Monroe O'Donnell.

The Alpha program will be as follows: Declamations by the Misses Clara Hadley, Lydia Haight and Fannie Mann; orations by Lewis Kriney and Maurice Kunzman; debate on "Resolved, That the Federal Government should own and operate the railroads of the United States." The affirmative team will consist of Miss Harriette Higgins, Arthur Kyle and Leonard Lewis, while the negative debaters will be Miss Cora Hofer, John Detweiler and Lewis Zeek.

A joint meeting of the Omega and Alpha Literary societies of the Senior class will be held next Monday afternoon in the auditorium. Two programs of entertainment are planned for as follows: Omega Society, declamations by "The Vagabonds," by Miss Lillian Mercereau; "The Gambler's Wife," by Miss Josephine Mitze; "Lady Teazle and Sir Peter," by Miss Mary Lansdale, and other declamations will be given by Miss Emilie White and Miss Margaret Winter; Oration by Raymond Somlack. Debate on the question, "Resolved, That the United States ought to send an army to Europe." The affirmative team will consist of Miss Kathryn Stevens, Miss Marion Runyon and M. Richards, against the negative maintainers, Miss Virginia Smitnek, Miss Pauline Stewart and Arthur Slattery.

GERMANS DEMAND DEMONSTRATION FOR REFORM

Special to Courier-News:

Amsterdam, April 19.—Seeing no plan for effecting governmental reforms in Germany except through determined expressions by the people, the Vorwaerts today urges that demonstrations be made throughout the empire. "Demonstrations by the people," the newspaper says, "are the only means left to prove need that political reform is urgent. The government must satisfy the demand of the people for the minimum of that which makes existence tolerable."

It is pretty tough on the single men who didn't ask a girl to marry them, now they find that bachelors are to be drafted for military service.

The income taxpayers perhaps didn't all realize that the first step in preparedness is getting the numbers of all the people of large wealth.

Four hundred armed guards are patrolling the East River bridges at New York and wondering which of the 400,000 brown paper parcels carried over there every day may contain bombs.

How much better the "Keep Off the Grass" signs in the city would read this summer if they said "Keep Off the Potatoes."

It will take a lot of burnt cork to pull off that armed rising among the negroes that the plotters have been working on.

It is not probable that President Wilson's argument made any impression on the Kaiser, but raising 2,000,000 men in a hurry may appeal to his sense of logic.

Display the flag. It will whisper in somebody's ear "America needs you."

When a macadam road gets to the point where it is a mere series of thank-you-marms hollowed out of the stone surfacing, the motorist begins to long for the gravel, sand and clay that were originally there.

If the Kaiser wanted the United States to declare war the way he ran his spy system over here was certainly a most efficient means of bringing it about.

If there are to be no more college athletics on account of the war many of the boys will conclude it is time for them to stop footing and get out into business.

It is not true that there is no rea-

WHAT IS "CERTIFIED MILK?"

It is milk whose purity and cleanly production is certified to by a Medical Milk Commission, regulated by State law under the rules of the American Association at Washington. Copy of these regulations mailed on request.

It is like a certified check. When a bank certifies a check, it first looks at the account to know that the check is good.

The five physicians of the Plainfield-Westfield Milk Commission employ experts to watch the daily production of Wood Brook Milk. Then they certify it.

It costs more to make milk so good it can be certified. Yet the price of Wood Brook Certified Milk is only 14 cents a quart.

DRINK HABIT

RELIABLE HOME TREATMENT

Thousands of wives, mothers and sisters are enthusiastic in their praise of Orrine, because it has relieved their loved ones of the "Drink Habit" and thereby brought happiness to their homes. Can be given secretly.

Orrine is prepared in two forms: No. 1, secret treatment; Orrine No. 2, the voluntary treatment. Costs only $1.00 a box. Ask for booklet. L. W. Randolph, 143 West Front St. —Adv.

SON FOR FOOD PRICES GOING HIGHER, AS the hoggishness of the food speculators furnishes abundant reason.

The higher butter goes the more the landlady is convinced that using much of it is unhealthy for the blood.

After declaiming against the waste of food some people still continue to laugh at the old-timer who used to make it a point to clean up everything on his plate.

In spite of the efforts of the plotters, the only uprisings of the negroes to date have been when they uprise with a whisk broom in the Pullman car and demand their customary quarter.

In the old days bold men who became pirates were hanged or drowned in Davy Jones' locker. Now they become food speculators.

"SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE"

The Executive Council of the International Typographical Union has issued a pamphlet giving some statistics of the printers who are fighting in the European war. Mortuary benefits amounting to $7,675 have been paid by the International Typographical Union to the beneficiaries of twenty-seven members of its Canadian unions who have been killed somewhere in Europe. Nearly 600 members of the International Typographical Union have enlisted in the overseas service, Canadian Expeditionary Force.

On the death of a member in good standing benefits are paid by the International Union to designated beneficiaries according to length of membership in the union as follows: One year or less, $75; one year and less than two, $100; two years and less than three, $125; three years and less than four, $200; four years and less than five, $300; five years or over, $400.

The total amount of mortuary benefits paid for the past twelve months is $288,866.18.

PEPPER AND SALT

A Remarkable Prophecy

(Made in the 16th century.)

When pictures look alive with movements free,
When ships like fishes swim below the sea,
When men outstripping birds can soar the sky,
Then half the world deep drenched in blood shall die.

SAILING FROM NAPLES FOR HOME

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Suffern, of Stelle avenue, who went to Greece about six months ago, Mr. Suffern being on a business trip, have sailed from Naples for home, as announced by a letter recently received from them by Mr. Suffern's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Suffern, of Sycamore avenue.

They spent some time in Athens, before they could secure transportation and then went to Naples, to get a steamer for home. Up to the receipt of their recent letter they had not been heard from in two months.

When they sailed for Greece they were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Phineas R. Kennedy, who were returning as missionaries to the field which they had previously served.

UNION REPUBLICANS TO HOLD SMOKER

Tonight at Elizabeth the Republican County Committee will hold a smoker and entertainment. All Republicans are invited to attend. It is expected that a large number will turn out for this affair. There will be good speakers.

BOY MISSING

Charles E. Drake, of 276 Park avenue, has asked the police to look for his son, Charles, Jr., who disappeared from home on Monday and has not since been heard from.

The lad is twelve years old and very stout. He is four feet six inches tall and when he went away he wore a blue serge suit, light overcoat, corduroy trousers, light cap, blue tie, and new shoes. He has a birthmark on his left hand.

PERSONAL

Mr. and Mrs. William Richmond and child of Asbury Park, spent the forepart of the week as guests of Mrs. Richmond's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elton Winkle, Somerset street.

VETERANS OF CO. K ELECT OFFICERS

Association Discusses Ways and Means of Assisting the Members of Company

The Veterans' Association of Company K met Wednesday night to discuss ways and means of assistance and aid to Company K, and held also the annual meeting. Nelson L. Willey was re-elected president, Oliver R. Pearson, vice-president, succeeding Harry J. Manning; Jesse A. Dayton was re-elected secretary, and Eugene F. Dorman was re-elected treasurer.

The association will meet Friday, April 27. This will be the last meeting in the old armory, for the property of the association will be moved to the Boice property on East Front street next to the First Presbyterian church, which was recently purchased for an armory.

The Veterans appointed as a recruiting committee to secure new members for Company K: Jesse A. Dayton, Jr., Oliver R. Pearson, Ferris R. Pearsall, A. R. Tranchand, Norman Loughlin, Louis Clark, John Millwater.

The present armory will be open every day and evening to secure recruits. Last night two recruits were received. In event that the armory should be closed, Norman Loughlin, who is president of the M. & L. Auto Company, over whose store, at 320 West Front street, the armory is located, will take the names of recruits.

NORTH PLAINFIELD DEFENDERS MET

The Home Defense League of North Plainfield met last night in Debele's Hall, where the annual weekly drill was held. The league now has a membership of fifty.

These corporals have been appointed: C. T. Overton, E. V. St. Vrain, Arthur A. Cannon, Leonard V. Davis and George McHugh.

The Home Defense Commissioners have made arrangements to have suits made for the members of the league, and it is expected that these will be supplied next. The league will drill in the future on Wednesday night.

RECREATION NOTES

A guild of play will be held in the Stillman school tomorrow afternoon.

The night school recreation club will meet in the high school gym tomorrow evening.

The ladies' public swimming class is to use the high school pool tomorrow evening.

A feature of the Dunbar dance in the Washington school tomorrow night will be a "spot dance."

Boy Scouts meet in the Lincoln school tonight and in the Bryant and Washington schools tomorrow evening.

The annual meeting of the Public Recreation Committee is to be held this evening in the Library of the high school.

There is to be a ball game tomorrow afternoon at Hope Common between the Evergreen avenue and Washington school teams.

MYSTERY IN OPERATIONS OFF MASSACHUSETTS COAST

Special to Courier-News:

Washington, April 19.—Whether there is a German raider operating off the Massachusetts coast or whether American battleships are tracking down a submarine or other German ship in that vicinity, are questions to which the Navy Department should have an answer in a few hours. There is a suggestion that a German man-of-war may have been lying in wait for the vessels bearing the British mission, headed by A. J. Balfour, and have attacked them. It is understood, however, that these ships are heavily convoyed.

SPANISH SHIP SINKS; 18 LIVES LOST

P. H. S. NOTES

The basketball team was out for practice yesterday on Parker Field.

"Wake Up America Day" will be observed in this school at chapel exercises tomorrow morning.

All members of the High School Cadet Corps who wish to enlist in the Junior Industrial Army will be given an honorable discharge upon request.

Final tryouts for the high school track team will be held this afternoon. Those selected will compete against Montclair high school in the scheduled meet with that school.

Tomorrow morning during the home assembly period, Major Cornbuser, M. C., will lecture in the old gymnasium on "The elementals of personal hygiene adapted to the use of recruits."

Everett Jewett met with a painful accident while making a chemistry test yesterday. The test tube in which he was heating some H2 SO4 broke, scattering some of the sulphuric acid on his face.

Junior play rehearsals are being held daily, and all preparations are being made for the two sketches which they are going to give before the public. "The Real Thing," and "The Man Who Married a Smart Wife," are the titles.

The High School debating team traveled to New York yesterday for the purpose of securing accurate information upon which they will base their arguments in an approaching league debate. Miss Fanny Mann, Charles T. Todd, Horace E. Bunker, Jr., and Caryl C. Dunavan made the trip.

The ushers for the concert which will be given in the auditorium this evening are: Dodr, Sheldon Condray and Mac Fullerton; orators, Leonard Lewis, August Franke, Wallace Zimmerman, Russell Tomlinson, Rufus Searles and Louis Starkweather; balcony, William Egel, Leon Ludeck, Marten McDonough and Irving Manley; tickets, Monroe O'Donnell.

The Alpha program will be as follows: Declamations by the Misses Clara Hadley, Lydia Haight and Fannie Mann; orations by Lewis Kinney and Maurice Kunzman; debate on "Resolved, That the Federal Government should own and operate the railroads of the United States." The affirmative team will consist of Miss Harriette Higgins, Arthur Kyle and Leonard Lewis, while the negative debaters will be Miss Cora Hofer, John Detweiler and Lewis Zeek.

A joint meeting of the Omega and Alpha Literary societies of the Senior class will be held next Monday afternoon in the auditorium. Two programs of entertainment are planned for as follows: Omega Society, declamations, "The Yegg-bonds," by Miss Lillian Mercereau; "The Gambler's Wife," by Miss Josephine Mitze; "Lady Teasle and Sir Peter," by Miss Mary Lansdale, and other declamations will be given by Miss Emilie White and Miss Margaret Winter. Oration by Raymond Somlack. Debate on the question, "Resolved, That the United States ought to send an army to Europe." The affirmative team will consist of Miss Kathryn Stevens, Miss Marion Runyon and M. Richards, against the negative maintainers, Miss Virginia Shinck, Miss Pauline Stewart and Arthur Slattery.

GERMANS DEMAND DEMONSTRATION FOR REFORM

Special to Courier-News:

Amsterdam, April 19.—Seeing no plan for effecting governmental reforms in Germany except through determined expressions by the people, the Vorwaerts today urges that demonstrations be made throughout the empire. "Demonstrations by the people," the newspaper says, "are the only means left to prove need that political reform is urgent. The government must satisfy the demand of the people for the minimum of that which makes existence tolerable."

NEXT REGULAR MEETING WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25

NEWS FROM NEARBY POINTS

Readers of the suburban news will often find news of their towns in other columns of the paper under headings from their towns when such news is too late for the regular columns.

SOMERVILLE NOTES

FIREMEN NOW PATROL STREETS

Following out the suggestion of the Fire Committee of Public Safety of the borough, firemen now patrol Main street from Doughty avenue to Hamilton street, from 12 at midnight until 5 o'clock in the morning.

This matter was brought to the attention of the four fire companies of Somerville recently, and arrangements were completed at once for the work. Beginning Monday night the detail was selected from the West End Hose Company, and, after all members from that company have served in turn, members from the Central Hook and Ladder Company will take up the work, to be followed in turn by members from the Somerville Engine Company and the Lincoln Hose Company.

Two members go on in pairs at midnight and serve until 2:30, when they are relieved by two other members.

Former Somerville Man Buried at Troy

The funeral of W. H. Bishop, who lived on Vander Veer avenue, Somerville, for several years, and who died at a private sanatorium in Jersey City, Sunday morning, was held Tuesday evening. Burial was at Troy, N. Y., yesterday. He leaves a widow and a young son. The deceased formerly lived at Mt. Vernon, N. Y., from which place he came to Somerville about five years ago. He had been in poor health for several years and recently was forced to relinquish his position with a New York surety company, by whom he had been employed for many years.

Boys' Club to Entertain

The Boys' Club of St. John's church will give an entertainment and play in the parish house Friday evening. The first part will consist of patriotic and other songs, tableaux and recitations. After an intermission a play, "The Editor-in-Chief," will be presented. The cast of characters will include Edward Haring, Benjamin Waskis, Edmund Dushanek, P. G. Lambrukis, Ronald M. Sinclair, Harold J. Brown, Glibert Bodell, William Watt, Roy F. Staats and Clifford Haring.

To Hold Mock Trial

The mock trial to be given under the auspices of the Senior class of the Somerville high school, in the high school auditorium, this evening, promises to be an event of unusual interest. Judging from newspaper reports of similar entertainments conducted by the present management, it would seem to be one of the most unusual features ever offered for public patronage. It will be an exact reproduction of a court scene both in method and procedure.

Mrs. Brokaw Breaks Arm

Mrs. J. K. Brokaw, wife of the borough collector, had the misfortune Sunday morning to fall and break her left arm at the elbow. Mrs. Brokaw has been labe during recent months and in stepping from the back porch of her home on East Main street, the heel of one of her shoes caught on a step and she fell to the ground. Dr. A. A. Lawton set the broken arm and has been in attendance since.

Improving Streets

Street Superintendent Jacob Klotz has been busy for several days with a force of men and the borough scraper in improving the dirt streets in East Somerville. Culver and East Cliff streets and Eastern avenue have been scraped until they are smooth and in excellent condition.

County Jail Notes

Pompey Lucas, of East Millstone, is in the county jail charged with having threatened to kill several residents of that section.

Stella Grobek, Mary Kostafaka and Alex Wosseiuka, all of Manville, are in the county jail charged with a serious offense.

F. O. S. of A. District Convention

A district convention of all of the camps, Patriotic Order Sons of America, of Somerset county, will be held in the rooms of Camp 193, at Bound Brook, Monday evening. District President Clarence Garretson, of Somerville, will preside.

NORTH BRANCH

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church here will hold a sociable in the chapel, April 27, when officers will be elected.

Mrs. Noyes R. Thomas, of Newark is visiting her father, Paul Vander Voort.

Mr. and Mrs. John Trimmer, of North Branch Depot are at Far Hills.

WATCHUNG

The Parent-Teacher Association will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow evening in the Watchung School Auditorium at 8 o'clock. All parents and friends of the school are cordially invited to come.

An interesting Christian Endeavor meeting was held last evening. Miss Carol Hughes was the leader and her topic was "God's Day the Best Day."

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kline, of Plainfield, have rented Miss Agnes B. Davis's bungalow on Mountain Boulevard.

Miss May Titus, who has been confined to her home on Hillcrest road with rheumatism, has recovered.

HIGH BRIDGE

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coles Albaugh, of Cokesbury was taken Tuesday to a Morristown hospital to undergo an operation for appendicitis.

SOUTH PLAINFIELD

Minstrel Show and Dance

A minstrel show and dance will be given under the auspices of the Middlesex Volunteer Fire Company, at Washington Hall, South Plainfield, tomorrow night. Following the minstrel show Stuart's orchestra will play for dancing. There has been a large advance sale of tickets.

A chimney fire occurred last evening at the residence of T. LaCosta, of Plainfield avenue, and caused damage amounting to $400. The local fire department quickly responded to the call and soon had the fire out. The fire chief, William J. Hamilton, expressed appreciation of the promptness with which the members of the Stuart's orchestra will play for dancing. There has been a large advance sale of tickets.

HUNTERDON COUNTY

THE FUNERAL OF MISS LUCY TEATS

The funeral of Miss Lucy Teats, seventy-nine years old, was held this afternoon at her late residence at Farmersville. Rev. Harry J. Iobst, pastor of the Methodist Church at Cokesbury, officiated, and burial was in the Methodist cemetery at Fairmount.

Miss Teats died on Monday at her home, after an illness of six weeks, of a complication of diseases, due to old age. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Teats, of Farmersville, and was born and had always resided in that vicinity. She leaves two sisters, Mrs. Watson Apgar, of Farmersville and Mrs. Frank Bartles, of Pottersville.

Vesper Lodge, No. 129, I. O. O. F., of Lebanon, will celebrate the ninety-eighth anniversary of Odd Fellowship in the Methodist Church there Sunday evening, April 29, when the members will attend services in a body. A special sermon will be preached by Rev. William D. Steckley, the pastor.

A musical fairy play, "A Midsummer Eve," was presented in Rialto Hall this afternoon at High Bridge by local talent for the benefit of the Free Public Library there. It will be repeated tomorrow night.

High Bridge's third team And Clinton's first will try conclusions on the alleys at the Hunterdon Country Club, near High Bridge, this evening, in the bowling tourney.

The farm of the late Samuel J. Shurts, of Lebanon, has been purchased by Joseph C. Coughe, of Annandale.

The Potterstown Sunday school has resumed its sessions for the spring and summer season.

Miss Helen Vanaita, of Bayonne, has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Tranzue at High Bridge.

Mrs. Peter Apgar, of High Bridge, has returned home from a visit to Wilmington, Del.

BOUND BROOK

BUSY SESSION OF BOROUGH COUNCIL

The regular meeting of the Mayor and Council was held at the council chambers in America Hall, Tuesday evening. Mayor Robinson presided and the following councilmen answered the roll call: President Mathis, Du Four, Bolmer, Belli, Seifert. The council voted to procure a surety bond for the new collector instead of personal bonds as heretofore.

The recently appointed Home Defense League made a written request for $500 to aid in the work of the finance committee of the league. Henry G. Opdyke and Major W. R. Porter spoke in defense of the request and told of the work done and what was proposed to be done. After much discussion the matter was left in the hands of Borough Counsel Vosseller to investigate as to the legal right to grant this request.

The matter of transferring the contract of laying the brick pavement on Talmage avenue from M. Celentano to the Hamilton Construction Company and the securing of a new bond by that company was also left in the hands of the borough counsel. Contractor John McNabb made a request for the money due him for building the storm sewer on Main street over a year ago. The amount of his bill was $4,264.18, which was ordered paid a little later in the evening. The ordinance for the paving of Main street from Bolmer's Garage to the Shunpike with vitrified brick was given the second and final reading, and there being no objections it was passed and bids will be advertised for and received at a special meeting of the council on Tuesday evening, May 8.

The Pillar of Fire people requested that a marshal be appointed for their meeting and suggested the name of one of their people, Neis Nelsen, who was appointed as a marshal by Mayor Robinson and confirmed by the council.

Forty-one property owners on West Franklin street petitioned the council to reconsider their action of March 20 and oil West Franklin street from Church street to Conciller avenue. C. H. Musselman spoke on behalf of the property owners, and upon motion a resolution was ordered published in the local papers that objections would be received at the next regular meeting on May 1.

A petition to curb Main street from Bolmer's Garage to the Shunpike was received and filed and the ordinance to cover the same was given the first reading and ordered advertised. Objections to lay sidewalks on certain streets in the borough took the same course as the preceding one. A number of claims were received and ordered paid. It was after midnight when the council adjourned until next Tuesday evening, April 25.

Miss Josephine Lane Bride of Harry Larned Bittner

Miss Josephine Myrtle Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Lane, of West High street, and Harry Larned Bittner, son of Mrs. M. J. Bittner, of Allentown, Pa., were married this afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. Rev. C. J. Culp, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate families, near relatives and intimate friends.

The bridal party entered the parlor as the Lohengrin Wedding March was played by Miss Cora Lane, sister of the bride. The double ring ceremony was used.

The bride was gowned in bridal satin and Georgette crepe en train, with veil held in place with lilies of the valley. She carried a shower of bride roses and maiden-hair fern. The home was tastefully decorated with ferns, palms and spiraea. Following congratulations a wedding supper was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Bittner left for a short trip to Washington. On their return they will reside on Grove street, Somerville.

The Board of Engineers of the Bound Brook Fire Department will be elected at a meeting to be held in America Hall this evening.

WESTFIELD

HELD FESTIVAL FOR NURSING SOCIETY

The Shakespearean Festival held in St. Paul's parish house yesterday afternoon for the benefit of the District Nursing Association was an unqualified success and attended by an audience of ladies that taxed the seating capacity of the parish house and as a result the treasury of the association has been increased to an amount of about $150.

There were twenty tableaux with descriptive readings by Mrs. Harold Welch and songs from Shakespeare's plays by Mrs. Arthur Rowland. The young ladies who took part in the tableaux were gowned in costumes to represent the characters they took from Shakespeare's works and some of them were especially gorgeous.

Those who took part in the tableaux and the characters which they represented were as follows: Portia, Miss Mabel Keeler; Desdemona and Othello, Miss Adele Beattys and Miss Elizabeth Fowler; Katherine, the Shrew, Miss Hazel Marsh; Perdita and Florizel, Miss Florence McClintock and Miss Gladys French; Rosalind, Miss Natalie Fairbairn; Beatrice and Benedict, Miss Helen Jackson and Miss Katherine Faxldolph; Cleopatra, Miss Virginia Merrill; song, "Hark, Hark the Lark," sung by Mrs. Rowland and portrayed by Miss Doris Hinchman; Anne Boleyn, Miss Natalie Proudzit; Lady Macbeth, Miss Hilda Platt; songs, "Lover and His Lass," and "The Passionate Shepherd," sung by Mrs. Rowland and portrayed by Miss Jocelyn Watts and Miss Helen Newman; Katherine of Aragon, Miss Grace Collins; Romeo and Juliet, Miss Frances Bolton and Miss Florence Martin; Prince Arthur and Hubert, Miss Doris Beard and Miss Beatrice Budell; Katherine of France, Mrs. Raymond Jackson; Ophelia, Miss Catherine Deitz; Cordelia, Miss Edith Malo Gladwin; Joan of Arc, Miss Helen Oswald; America, Miss Grace Philip. While the last tableau was being shown the audience stood and sang the "Star Spangled Banner."

To Make Use of Vacant Lots

The committee of the National Service League which was organized at the high school auditorium last Friday night held a meeting in the office of Mayor Evans in the town hall last night and went over the plans for making use of vacant lots as gardens and for cultivating home gardens in the town. The committees of the league decided to work in co-operation with the town council and the Board of Education.

The plan as outlined by Dr. J. J. Savitz, the president of the league, and E. J. Merrill was approved by the committee and it was decided to co-operate with it. This committee of the league will get in touch with all individuals who intend to have home gardens or to work vacant lots.

The town council committee, composed of Councilman Taylor, Egan, Young and Warnke, will support a large municipal garden, and the products from it will be disposed of at a municipal public market. Mrs. F. W. Smith was named as the general supervisor and she will name two ladies from the First Ward and one from each of the other wards of the town who will be the supervisory captains.

All those who have plots which they wish to donate for use as gardens should get in touch with Herbert Welch, and those who wish to enroll should get in touch with Mrs. I. C. Davis. Those present at the meeting were: Assemblyman A. N. Pierson, Mayor Evans, Dr. Savitz, Councilmen Taylor, Egan, Young and Warnke, E. J. Merrill, Herbert R. Welch, George E. Hayes, E. E. Thompson, president of the Board of Education, and Assistant Road Superintendent George Miller.

Fire Department Called Out

The fire department was called out last night to a fire at the home of John Ross, on Everson place, about nine o'clock. When the firemen arrived at the Ross home they found three distinct fires burning in the cellar which aroused some suspicion as to its having been set by an incendiary.

Mr. Ross was alone in the house and he told Fire Chief Decker that he heard an explosion in the cellar and that when he went to find out about it he could not get down in the cellar on account of smoke. He tried to get the fire department by his own telephone but it would not work so he was compelled to use another.

The amount of damage done to the house amounts to about $1,000. Mr. Ross and his family have recently moved to this town from New York.

Men's Club Elects Officers

The Men's Club of St. Paul's church held its annual meeting in the parish house last night and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Fred G. Smith; first vice president R. L. Smith; second vice president, H. L. Ryer; secretary, W. A. McAllister; treasurer, T. H. Ludwig. The reports of the officers showed the club to be in a flourishing condition. The report of the treasurer was the most satisfactory in the history of the club. The new flag pole which has been placed on the church property will be dedicated after the morning service on Sunday.

Recorder Springstead had two cases before him in the police court last night. The first one was Inacco Callucelo, who was fined $10 for driving an automobile without a permit. Max Greenberg, of New York, who was picked up on the streets and when searched was found to have $198.73 in different parts of his clothing, was held for further investigation. Greenberg told the Recorder that he had been in this country thirteen years and was on his way to Philadelphia to look for work.

The committee consisting of Mrs. F. L. Washburne, W. H. Sampson, Mrs. C. D. Loose and Miss Beatrix Budell, who were appointed at the last meeting of the Westfield Branch of the S. F. C. A. to organize a Junior Branch will hold a meeting in the high school tomorrow morning at which time an opportunity will be given the students of the High and Washington schools to join the new organization.

Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Nedlsen entertained the members of the Wednesday night Pinochle Club at their home on Broad street last night. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Moffett, Fire Chief and Mrs. F. C. Decker, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Grey, Mrs. Sidney Lawrence, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miller, Mrs. W. H. Trenchard and Mrs. Rogers.

The annual meeting of the Woman's Club will be held in the parish house of the Presbyterian church next Monday afternoon. A fine musical program has been arranged which will include piano solos by Miss Hazel Marsh and baritone solos by Herbert A. Stine. Mrs. M. B. Dutcher will be the accompanist.

On account of the Shakespearean Festival held for the benefit of the District Nursing Association yesterday afternoon the meeting which was to have been held in the Washington school for the purpose of organizing a Parent-Teacher Association was postponed until next Wednesday afternoon.

M. L. Stimson has sold his house on Euclid avenue and with his family will move to Beechwood on June 1, when he will run for the three-year term of councilman.

Flag poles are being erected in front of the town hall on Prospect street and in front of the First Methodist church on Broad street.

The minstrel show of the Men's Club of St. Paul's church will be held in the parish house tomorrow and Saturday nights.

Miss Arline Martin, of this town, a student at the Trenton Normal school, is doing her practice work in the local schools.

There will be a dinner dance at the Shackamaxon Country Club tomorrow night.

Mrs. Samuel Silberg and daughter, of Broad street, are visiting in Newark.

DUNELLEN

No move has been made by the property owner to clean the drain on the land at the corner of New Market road and Walnut street, which recently caused some comment at the Borough Council meeting. Many of the property owners in that section are anxious to see some action taken as a flood at that point would cause some damage.

The apartment house, known as the Arnett-Winges property, at No. 435 North avenue, is undergoing extensive repairs. Contractor Charles Wrage is doing the work and the improvements include alterations and the installation of modern sanitary arrangements. The plumbing work is done by George F. Giles.

The Whittier school team desires games with teams from Plainfield and other nearby places. The members of the team range from twelve to thirteen years. Those desiring to arrange games can communicate with Roland Noble, P. O. box, 1226 Dunellen.

Dunellen has thus far contributed sixteen of its young men for the cause. Among the latest recruits are, Elwood Weller, Jr., Edward Hanlon, Julius Mangerman, Peter Schwartz, and William Elliott, of the township.

The congregation meeting of the First Presbyterian Church will be held tonight. The session will open with a supper served by the ladies at 6:30 o'clock.

Real estate men report a busy season ahead this spring. There are not many available houses in the borough that have not been rented.

Those who have vacant land to offer for garden plots can register their names with Oscar Runyon at his store on North avenue.

Several propositions for membership were received at the meeting on Tuesday night of the Ladies' Auxiliary, P. O. of A.

The next meeting of the Home Defense League will be held at Whittier school on Friday evening, April 27.

Rehearsals are being held by the B. G. Club, which soon will give a play for the benefit of the local library.

Mrs. D. W. C. Ramsey, of this place, will represent the Local Equal Suffrage league to meet at Metuchen.

Howard Titus, who has been a victim of scarlet fever, is reported getting along nicely.

NEW MARKET

MISS GILES BRIDE OF J. R. VON MINDEN

The wedding of Miss Edith R. Giles, daughter of Mrs. Tillie P. Giles, to J. H. von Minden formerly of this place, but now of Eatontown, took place at seven o'clock last evening at the home of the bride, New Market road. The Rev. T. E. Vassar, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist church, performed the ceremony which was witnessed by about one hundred guests. Both the bridegroom and bride are members of the local Baptist church.

The couple were attended by Miss Harris, of Middlesex Borough, as the bridesmaid, and F. R. von Minden, a brother of the bridegroom, as the best man. The house was prettily decorated with palms, ferns and spring flowers.

A reception and collation followed felicitations and there was also a beautiful array of wedding gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Von Minden left later in the evening for a short honeymoon trip and upon their return will reside at Eatontown, this State. The bridegroom is a member of the firm of Morris & von Minden, who conduct a large auto garage, at Eatontown. He is the son of Judge H. P. F. von Minden, of this place. His bride has been a lifelong resident of this locality and both have a large circle of acquaintances.

SCHOOLBOYS TO HELP.

1,000 Mustered in Passaic County to Aid Farmers.

Paterson, N. J., April 19.—A mobilization of schoolboys to work for the farmers of Passaic county was decided upon at a meeting of school superintendents and principals here. Edward L. Chase, county farm demonstrator, said help would be too late unless it became available for the farmers within a week, the labor shortage having hit them hard.

It was agreed that 1,000 boys could be mustered within a week. They will be paid for their work and will receive full credit for the unexpired remainder of their school term, each juvenile farm hand receiving a state diploma signed by Governor Edge.

DR. SYKES OUSTED.

Connecticut Woman's College Trustees Vote. President Out.

New London, Conn., April 19.—The fight between the trustees of the Connecticut College For Women and Dr. Frederick H. Sykes, president of the institution, was ended when the trustees announced the office was vacant and that a committee had been appointed to seek Dr. Sykes' successor.

The action of the trustees was based on a report by a commission which heard Dr. Sykes and his opponents. The report said Dr. Sykes' "business incompetency" should cause his retirement.

Class Quits Washington Trip.

Collingswood, April 19.—Being advised by the board of education against taking the annual sight seeing three days' trip to Washington this year because of the strict guard placed about all buildings of any interest, the high school graduation class will journey to Trenton instead in automobiles and will visit all places of interest. The class will motor to Princeton also.

Clean Your House The Clean Way

In "Every Week," issue of April 10, 1916, in an article entitled "House Cleaning," Edwin F. Bowers, M. D., says that the broom and the dust-cloth are two abominable first-aids to disease. He also says:

"There is only one clean, hygienic, safe way to sweep and dust, and that is to use a vacuum cleaner."

The woman who uses a Hoover Suction Sweeper may well rest assured that she is not only getting rid of the dust and dirt in the most sanitary manner, but that —The Hoover removes every particle of dirt—even that which lodges down deep in the body of a rug or carpet.

The Hoover Suction Sweeper among other advantages has an exclusive feature in its motor-driven brush of soft hair. It accounts for Hoover thoroughness.

As soon as the Hoover starts, it powerful suction draws the rug or carpet up from the floor. While thus suspended on an air cushion the soft hair bristles of the brush gently pat the rug twice with every revolution. The brush, being spiral-shaped, bends the rug in a wave-like motion. This combined vibration and manipulation completely loosens the deeply embedded dirt. As fast as released it is deposited in the dust bag by suction.

Baby Hoover....$47.50 Hoover Special....$57.50
With tools....$56.00 With tools.....$69.00

We also sell the "Liberty," a small, light-weight vacuum cleaner with belt-driven spiral brush. Though small and light in weight (about ten pounds), the Liberty is one of the best machines of its type on the market. Price, $32.50. With complete set of tools, $40.00.

All machines sold on easy-payment plan or 5 per cent discount for cash.

DEFEAT WILSON'S ARMY DRAFT PLAN

House Committee Votes to Report Volunteer Plan.

SENATE FOR CONSCRIPTION.

Military Committee Votes 10 to 7 in Favor of President's Plan—Connecticut and Pennsylvania Men on House Committee, Both Former National Guardsmen, Stand For Selective Conscription Bill.

Washington, April 19.—The first round of the legislative battle for the enactment of a selective conscription bill providing for the raising of an army of 500,000 men for service in the war ended in a draw.

In the senate the committee on military affairs by a vote of 10 to 7 accepted the administration's plan, while in the house committee a substitute provision delegating to the president the responsibility of applying the draft system, in the event of the failure of the volunteer plan was adopted, 12 to 8.

The action of the house committee is bitterly resented by the president and his advisers, to whom the substitute provision is wholly unacceptable.

Bitter Fight in Committee.

The fight before the house committee is by long odds the more bitter of the contests. The vote for the substitute measure came after Representative Caldwell of New York, heretofore a supporter of the administration and of the conscription system, and Representative Davidson, Republican member of the committee, added their votes to the opposition. The committee, it had been believed, was tied on the proposition of the selective draft. The Caldwell shift was unexpected. The Davidson negation of the administration wish had previously been prophesied.

The bill is expected to go before the house Monday, and a determined effort will be made to pass the minority report which is being drawn up. It is considered significant that the only four members of the committee who have actually seen military service in the armies of the United States—and they saw it under the volunteer system—are supporting the administration's contention for the passage of the selective draft law. They are Representatives Greene of Vermont, Crago of Pennsylvania, Lunn of New York and Tilson of Connecticut.

Wilson Will Fight.

President Wilson has accepted the challenge of the house anti-conscriptionists. He purposes to measure swords with congress on this issue and throw the weight of his influence toward getting through the house the bill adopted by the senate committee. No fight the president has ever entered has so aroused him.

With the country embarked on a war the end of which cannot be foreseen the president, it was made clear at the White House, believes the nation's interests are at stake in this conscription fight; that the whole war policy of the country is involved.

The president's plan, it was disclosed at the White House, is to wait until the senate passes its bill, which is satisfactory to him, and then to bring all the personal pressure he can bear on the house membership to accept the senate bill. That he will even go further was hinted strongly.

It is pointed out, however, that the house majority report does not order a call for volunteers. It merely authorizes the president to do so. Mr. Wilson, however, will fight to the limit to have this provision defeated.

YALE ENROLLS 1,500.

Student Army Begins Drilling on Historic Green.

New Haven, Conn., April 19.—Yale has enrolled 1,500 students in its combined military companies, and the infantry has begun drilling on the historic green. Because many of the undergraduates who have become soldiers must leave college soon for field service, it was decided to hold tap day today, when the annual elections to the exclusive senior societies will take place.

For the first time some of these elections will be given by mail instead of tapping the lucky candidates between the shoulders. Always before tap day has been held on the third Thursday in May.

28 MORE SHIPS SUNK.

Week's Record For U-Boats Is Above Average.

London, April 19.—The weekly report of British shipping loss shows nineteen vessels of more than 1,000 tons sunk and nine vessels of less than 1,600 tons. Twelve fishing vessels also were sunk. The statement follows:

Shipping returns for the week ending April 15: Arrivals and sailings of merchant vessels of all nationalities at United Kingdom ports, over 100 tons: Arrivals, 2,279; sailings, 2,351. British merchantmen sunk by mine or submarine: Over 1,600 tons, 19, including 4 not recorded in previous weeks; under 1,600 tons, 9. British merchant vessels unsuccessfully attacked by submarines, including 3 in the previous fortnight, 15. British fishing vessels sunk, including 2 in the previous week, 12.

Extraordinary Sale of Women's and Misses' Suits

A Remarkable Disposal of Ultra-Correct Models That No Woman Who Appreciates Really Beautiful Apparel Will Care to Overlook

This is without exception the season's most wonderful fashion event. These suits will be recognized immediately as authoritative, and any one of them may be chosen with absolute assurance.

Mostly one-of-a-kind models, exquisitely tailored, in finest silk taffeta, silk faille, tricotine, Poiret twill, serge, khaki kool, Fairway and soft wool jersey—fabrics that fashion has proclaimed supreme for this season's use.

Originations, model suits, reproductions and adaptations of imports make up the various groups. Each suit is a marvel of grace and correct line. Coats are in the preferred lengths and exhibit the newest and most likable effects in collars and belts.

Some show a Russian tendency. Others bespeak the oriental influence, both in cut and ornamentation. And emphasized in every one, in one way or another, are the three silhouettes of the day—straight, draped and "barrel."

Sit Up And Take Notice Now is the Time to Plant

The United States Government reports that we must supply a large part of the world with food during the Fall, Winter and Spring of 1917-18. The result will be shortage of food supplies, resulting in Higher-than-Ever prices, if not in an actual famine.

What must we do? People throughout the country are going to see that those who prepare by having a garden, no matter how small, will eliminate to a great extent the cost of their weekly bill for Table Vegetables. Plant every available piece of vacant land, including small back yards.

Our line of Seeds, Fertilizers and Farming Implements are of the Long Standing Reliable Kind. We have sold them for years, the kind that have been tested and found true every year.

We are able to sell you positively fresh seeds this year without an increase in cost over prices standing last year.

Act quickly to take advantage of the unusual conditions and at the same time help to avoid food panics and famines next Fall, Winter and Spring.

FOURTEEN CAMPS FOR SOLDIER TRAINING

Provided Congress authorizes the plan of conscription favored by the administration, the War Department will endeavor to have the first levy of men under the selective draft system in training camps by August next. The levy would be for 500,000 men between the ages of 18 and 25 years. Al lentified to exemption or ineligible would be eliminated from the registration, and the 500,000 would be picked from the remainder by lot under a plan by which each State would be required to furnish a quota of men based on population.

The plan is to establish fourteen camps, orders for which were given yesterday by the War Department. The course of instruction will begin on May 8. The general plan is to train the reserves three or four months to make them full-fledged officers and after that to put them to work training recruits. The camp for the New Jersey soldiers will be at Fort Myer, Va.

RAILROAD MEN'S WAGES RAISED

Special to the Courier-News:

Chicago, April 19.—Despatchers, yardmasters and traveling engineers of the Chicago and Alton Railroad Company have been granted an increase of $10 to $25 a month in wages. About 200 members of the four brotherhoods employed by the Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis Railroad Company, have made a demand for a raise of 5 per cent. in pay.

DEATH OF PUBLISHER OF BROOKLYN PAPER

Special to Courier-News:

New York, April 19.—William Berri, owner and publisher of the Brooklyn Standard Union, died at his home in Brooklyn early today. For many years Mr. Berri had been prominent in Republican politics. He had been identified with the Standard Union since 1888.

ALUMINUM DEMONSTRATION

An aluminum demonstration was given at the meeting of Lydia Chapter, Order Eastern Star Lodge, yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance of members and all were much interested in the demonstration.

WATER MAINS BURSTS IN BROOKLYN

Special to Courier-News:

New York, April 19.—The bursting of a four-foot water main on Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, at 3:30 a. m. today caused considerable delay in the operation of the Long Island R. R. trains connecting with the Flatbush station. The railroad tracks at this point are elevated and because of the danger that the entire structure might be undermined and collapse both incoming and outgoing trains were operated on the single west track. The water main which supposedly broke from high pressure was shut off within a few hours and employes of the department of water supply, gas and electricity went to work repairing the damage.

SAYS WE BECOME CRANKS ON HOT WATER DRINKING

Hopes every man and woman adopts this splendid morning habit.

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really incapacitated by illness.

If we all would practice the drinking of phosphated hot water before breakfast, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should see crowds of happy, healthy, rosy-cheeked people everywhere. The reason is that the human system does not rid itself each day of all the waste which it accumulates under present mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the system nearly an ounce of waste material must be carried off, else poisons and ferms ptomaine-like begin in the bowels which are absorbed into the blood.

Just as necessary as it is to clean the ashes from the furnace each day, before the fire will burn bright and hot, so we must each morning clean the inside organs of this perfect day's accumulation of indigestible waste and body toxins. Men and women, whether sick or well, are advised to drink each morning, before breakfast, a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of washing out of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the indigestible material, waste, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Millions of people who had their turn at constipation, bilious attacks, acid stomach, nervous days and sleepless nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to anyone, its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.—Adv.

BIBLE SCHOOL WORKERS MEET

Executive Committee of State Association in Session Here to Discuss Methods

Bible school methods, together with reports and brief addresses comprised the chief business at the morning session of the executive committee of the New Jersey Sunday-school Association held at the Crescent avenue church today. There were about forty representatives from various parts of the State. George R. Hall, chairman of the committee, in presiding, and Rev. Samuel D. Price, secretary, is acting in his official capacity. At noon the delegates were entertained at luncheon at Mrs. Helstrom's residence on East Seventh street.

During the morning session the committee adopted the recommendations of General Secretary Isaac B. Burgess that in all counties of the State there be community training schools in charge of county officers, that weekly conferences be held and that there be county visitation by county and district officers of every school in connection with either State-wide "Go to Sunday-school Day" or the annual county convention.

The recommendations from the State efficiency conferences were also adopted. These include the observance of a "Go to Sunday-school Day" next fall, possibly September 30 for the northern part of the State and October 7 for the southern part of the State.

Secretary Burgess in his report covered the activities for the past five months which showed the following: State conventions, 1; county institutes, 27; addresses, 82; classes taught, 2; schools visited, 87; State efficiency conferences, 2; county spring conferences, 1; other meetings attended in interest of work; committee meetings, 26; individual conferences outside of office 523.

The work of Miss Edna Earle Coje, elementary superintendent, for the past five months as set forth in her report showed the following: Institutes, 21; conferences, 317; addresses, 100; committee meetings, 3; schools visited, 42; district meetings, 9; other meetings in interest of work, 8.

The committee decided to hold its next meeting at Camden, September 25. The morning session closed with an informal talk by Prof. W. H. Neidlinger, of East Orange, widely known as a composer of music for Sunday school and kindergarten purposes. He illustrated his remarks by singing several of his compositions showing how music can be made a great help in Sunday school work.

The afternoon session was devoted to informal reports as follows:

Teacher training, Secretary Burgess; adult class, C. A. Boemer, of Westfield; evangelistic, Rev. Sherman G. Pitt, of Bridgeton; missionary Harry S. Myers, of Roselle; senior, Rev. R. W. Mark, of Woodbridge; home department, Mrs. H. H. Allen, of Barrington. Resolutions were also adopted on the death of Rev. Dr. George W. Bailey of the Tabernacle Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, who was widely known for his activities in Sunday school work.

BURNS CHURCH NOTE AT ANNUAL MEETING

Trinity Reformed Church Increases Its Consistory to Fourteen Members

A feature last evening at the annual congregational meeting of Trinity Reformed church was the burning of the church note amounting to $1,200. This incident frees the church of all indebtedness. The session was largely attended, the pastor, the Rev. J. Y. Brock, presiding, and E. F. Sheppard was clerk of the meeting.

Reports of the various societies in the church were received and placed on record. They were all of an encouraging nature, showing much growth in membership and considerable money expended for denominational purposes. At intervals music was furnished by the Dutch Arms orchestra. Miss Sara E. Raybert also favored with a solo.

The consistory of the church was enlarged to fourteen members. There was also an election of an elder to fill the vacancy made by the death of Robert Clark, Jr. The elders selected are Henry E. Gayle, T. R. Van Zandt, F. S. Cutter and A. K. Willett; deacons, Elmer Wheeler, Fred Donovan, William Williams and W. E. Moke. The latter four are new members of the consistory.

At the close of the business session a social hour was held, the members of the C. E. Society serving refreshments.

Will Demonstrate Methods

The Plainfield Union Bible Study Class will meet at the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church next Monday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock, when W. D. Murray will give a demonstration of his primary methods which have been used with so much success.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly.

IT'S YOUR LIVER! YOU'RE BILIOUS, HEADACHY, SICK!

Don't stay constipated with breath bad, stomach sour or a cold.

Enjoy life! Liven your liver and bowels tonight and feel fine.

Tonight sure! Remove the liver and bowel poison which is keeping your head dizzy, your tongue coated, breath offensive and stomach sour. Don't stay bilious, sick, headachy, constipated and full of cold. Why don't you get a box of Cascarets from the drug store now? Eat one or two tonight and enjoy the nicest, gentlest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced. You will wake up feeling fine and fine. Cascarets never gripe or bother you all the next day like calomel, salts and pills. They act gently but thoroughly. Mothers should give cross, sick bilious or feverish children a whole Cascaret any time. They are harmless and children love them.—Adv.

SOLDIERS PATROL DOCKS AT HOBOKEN

Special to Courier-News:

New York, April 19.—Most of the Hoboken water front along which is docked the great German shipping companies are located, was placed under martial law today. Three companies of the 22d infantry of the regular army are patrolling the district. The Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd were notified that their warehouses and wharves must be cleared of all freight immediately. The structures will be held by the soldiers until further notice.

APRIL MEETING OF KINDERGARTEN SOCIETY

The April meeting of the Union County Kindergarten Association was held at the Vail-Dean School in Elizabeth, Tuesday, April 17.

An enthusiastic audience greeted Miss Glidden, of Pratt Institute, Brooklyn. She spoke on "The Essentials and Nonessentials of the Kindergarten," giving her hearers much inspiration and practical help in meeting the various changes which are arising in this sphere of education.

CONTRIBUTORS TO DEFENSE LEAGUE

The Home Defense League still requires contributions to bring the amount up to $6,000, which is the estimated sum needed to equip and drill 150 men and to assist the High School Cadets.

Other cities such as East Orange and Montclair have quickly raised larger amounts by voluntary subscriptions. Contributions have been generous so far, and, if the general public will send in small amounts of $1 or $2, or even less, the full sum will be obtained without burden. There should be a much larger list of names of contributors.

If you have not already subscribed send in your contribution to the Plainfield Trust Company. Amounts are not published, but the names of the contributors will be daily given.

The following is the list of the subscribers up to the present time:

Joan the Woman

Geraldine Farrar now starring in a Film spectacle based upon this story

By Jeanie Macpherson

(Copyright by Jesse L. Lasky.)

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING INSTALMENTS.

Joan, daughter of a peasant couple living in the village of Domremy, France, heavy with pained interest of the continuous defeats that fell upon the armies of Charles VII, her young and weak King. The English have seized more than half the land.

Eric Trent, a young Englishman fighting in the France of to-day, finds an old sword, and in the night a vision comes to him in which he sees Joan tortured by the sorrows of her France. He also sees another Eric Trent, an ancestor of his, ride into the village of Domremy at the head of a band of raiders. Only Joan is there to bid him stay his hand. The leader is impressed by the strange girl's bravery and spares the castle of her father. As he talks to her one Gaspard, a peasant suitor of Joan, attacks him from behind. The raiders have gone on at their captain's orders, and the townspeople are beginning to return. Joan takes the wounded Englishman and hides him in a hay loft. Eric recovers and goes safely away after Joan refuses to wed him, prompted by the mysterious voices that sway her life. Then she feels the call to lead the French armies to victory and sets out to see the King. After many difficulties she reaches the court and finally Charles heeds her pleas and sends her at the head of a relief force to succor the city of Orleans, then besieged. She defeats the English and crowns Charles at Rheims. In sole recompense for her achievements she asks that Eric Trent, who had been captured, receive his freedom. The King accedes and Eric begs her to marry him, but she feels that her destiny is not fulfilled and sorrowfully refuses. A fanatical priest, whose enmity she had incurred, receives the ear of the King's chief adviser with a story that mightily interests this conidant.

"THE Spider" brings l'Oiseleur to the King, to repeat the story of what he has seen at Orleans. Shrewdly "The Spider" argues that the time has come to pour poison in the King's ear against Joan; and Charles hears with a certain jealous fear that the people of Orleans knelt to Joan. L'Oiseleur adds that the soldiers even whisper that they'll make her Queen! And that it is his firm belief that Joan is a witch! Again, superstitious thoughts take hold of Charles, who fears that he may owe his power to black magic, and Tremouille keeps adding fuel to the flame.

Hearing that Joan is about to ride secretly to Compiegne to aid the besieged French, Tremouille sends news of this to Cauchon, and bids him seek out the Duke of Burgundy in his tent before Compiegne and warn him. Cauchon does so and Burgundy is overjoyed at a prospect of capturing Joan.

Eric arrives to report to his chief, the Duke of Burgundy, for further service, telling him that he has only just left the prisons of the French.

Burgundy explains that he has received information that Joan is to ride secretly along a certain road to Compiegne, with only a handful of knights, and tells Eric that at last he may redeem his capture by seeking her. Eric begs to be assigned to some other duty. Burgundy, piqued that Eric does not appreciate the honor of capturing so great a prize, insists. When Eric still begs to be let off, Burgundy believes that Eric is a coward.

Telling Eric what he thinks of such cowardice, he commands him in the name of his English King to capture the witch maid, Joan! And Eric is obliged to obey.

Eric waits with his men and Joan, riding with Gaspard and her little bard, are surrounded and Joan taken prisoner. Eric waits miserably by the side of the road as the soldiers seize her. She is taken by the Burgundian soldiers to the tent of their master, the Duke of Burgundy, who greedily holds her for ransom to either Charles of France or England—whichever bids the higher.

La Hire seeks the King and tries to rouse him to his duty of sending ransom money to Joan in gratitude for what she has done for him. The vacillating Charles turns to "the Spider" for money to give to La Hire, but "the Spider," Charles' "purse," refuses to give La Hire the money, rousing the King's superstition again against Joan by asking him if he wishes to ransom a witch who would make herself Queen in his stead!

And so Charles does nothing to help Joan, and his General, La Hire, angrily breaks his sword in front of Charles and tells him that he is done with his service. La Hire and Eric put their money together and come to the tent of Burgundy, to try, themselves, to ransom Joan. But their purses are pitifully inadequate against Cauchon's bags of English gold, and Joan is sold by Burgundy to England. Eric is only saved from choking Cauchon by the faithful La Hire.

Cauchon has only started to obtain his revenge, and after Joan has been thrown into an English prison, conceives the idea that he could still further advance his own ambition if he could rid England of Joan forever by burning her as a witch. This would suit England, as she could then contest Charles's coronation, because he would owe it to the power of a witch! This also would rid England forever of the "witch spells" which England firmly believed Joan had been exerting on her soldiers to bewilder them.

Joan, with Cauchon leading the Inquisition, is brought to trial for witchcraft. But, after a hundred days of merciless questioning, Joan so baffles her tormentors that Cauchon is obliged to stoop to the most contemptible trickery to gain his end. He fails to bring Joan by fair means to return to the garb of a woman.

So Cauchon has Joan brought to the torture room of the prison and here, with l'Oiseleur and four other hooded Inquisitors, inveigles her into signing a paper promising to return to woman's garb, and the exhausted Joan, on the verge of collapse, signs the paper. Cauchon, when Joan has sorrowfully returned next day to woman's dress, orders the roughest scoundrel he can find to be placed in Joan's cell as night guard. He shrewdly figures that the guard will attack Joan, and by mornings he will have returned to boy's dress and he can then declare her to be a relapsed heretic and burn her in the public square!

The guard arrives and Cauchon, from a trap in the ceiling above Joan's cell, sees all going as he wishes. The guard attacks Joan, when Eric Trent enters and starts to fight with the guard, thus saving Joan. Eric, who has knocked down the guard outside Joan's door, tells her that he has horses waiting at the prison gate and that she is to hurry and dress while he disposes of the guard.

CAUCHON TO JOAN: "THE IRONS ARE INDEED HOT, JOAN, BUT IF THOU WILT ONLY SIGN, THOU MIGHTEST ESCAPE."

Joan dresses once more in her boots and doublet, while Eric drags the still fighting guard outside her cell. But neither has reckoned with Cauchon, who, having seen all this, sends his monks for soldiers, interrupts Eric as he is choking the guard, and dispatches him with the guard.

Just as Joan is ready to leave, Cauchon comes into her cell, asks her why the boy's clothes again, and, refusing to hear any explanation, pronounces her a relapsed heretic in front of his monks and condemns her to death by burning, at dawn.

Meantime, Charles is giving a wild bacchanalian feast in his Castle at Chinon, far away. With wild extravagance "the Spider" has ordered for Charles's amusement at the feast, a fountain which spouts real wine, carried on the backs of jesters!

In the cold dawn, Joan is dragged to the public square to be burned, with the full sanction of the "Inquisition," the brightest legal minds of France and England!

Eric, in an ecstasy of grief, has been watching the fagot man all through the long night, pile his fagots slowly around the stake.

Joan enters the square in an executioners' cart, followed by jeering crowds. L'Oiseleur, in a fit of remorse, begs Joan's forgiveness, running beside her cart. Cauchon, with his refuge finally sated, seats himself with other high prelates on his stand.

When Joan is finally taken from her cart, he bids the executioner do his duty. Eric pushes away from the soldiers who hold the crowd back and, coming up to Joan, gives her a rude cross which he has made from the fagots, begging her, over and over, to forgive him. Joan bids him be of good cheer, kisses the cross and mounts the steps of the stake. Eric collapses as the fagots are lighted, crying out, "God forgive us, we have burned a Saint!" St. Michael comes once more to Joan in the flames and comforts her, so that she cries out as one who looks on Paradise—"My voices are of God; they have not deceived me!"

Swirling smoke closes the scene, then gradually disappears and we are back in the English trench "Somewhere in France." Eric waking up, finds himself kneeling by his bunk, his candle burned down, the clock three minutes of midnight. With difficulty he brings himself back to a realization of things. His bunk mate is still asleep. Eric knows now, beyond all doubt, who the man is who will carry the bomb to explode the German trenches for France.

He rushes to the officer's trench and asks to take the bomb just as the clock shows midnight. Eric is given the bomb and crosses the dark and empty battlefield. The Germans catch him just as he is about to throw the bomb, and a volley of German bullets reach him. He falls to the ground, dying. With one supreme effort Eric throws the bomb across the barbed wire entanglement and, hardly able to see, finds the electric button and pushes it. The entire German trench is destroyed.

Into the debris and wreckage fades a vision of the sainted Joan. Eric can barely crawl to her feet. He looks up and with his dying breath begs to know if he is forgiven, and for answer Joan of Arc smiles radiantly on him. And so the modern Eric Trent dies, and the scene fades entirely, leaving nothing but the head of the warrior maiden and her radiant halo.

THE END.

LOCAL OPTION BILL WINS IN SENATE

Republican Caucus Decides to Put It Through.

Albany, April 19.—By a vote of 18 to 15, the Republican senate conference has decided to put through the Hill-Wheeler local option bill. This insures passage of the measure and an opportunity for the voters of New York and other cities to vote on prohibition for their localities at a special election next spring.

Representatives of the liquor interests here fear that New York city may go dry as a war measure. They never before have had any fear of the result of a prohibition election in New York city.

The caucus fight on local option was a stormy one. Senator Ogden L. Mills and Senator Hill, introducer of the bill, had several lively tilts.

Senator Brown sought to have the local option bill amended to provide that wet cities be permitted to retain all the revenue from the tax on the sale of liquor instead of giving a portion of that to the state as at present. This would be a deterrent against dry campaigns. The motion was lost, the vote being 17 to 17.

Another attempt to amend the bill as to the manner in which the questions were to be submitted was also defeated. There will be another Republican conference on this bill today to take up further amendments which the liquor interests favor.

BALFOUR IN MYSTERY.

Washington Puzzled Over Nonarrival of British Commission.

Washington, April 19.—The whereabouts of Foreign Minister Arthur J. Balfour and the British commissioners coming with him to close the final agreement for America's part in the war against Germany are still a mystery to official Washington today. State and navy department officials asserted no information had been received as to when or where the British party would land upon American soil.

Because no word had been received from the commissioners the conference that had been arranged to take place between them and President Wilson yesterday was canceled.

Reports that the vessel bringing the commissioners had met with mishap, which arose after the audience with President Wilson was canceled, were officially denied. It was said no such information had been received.

SOP TO COUNTRY BANKS.

Congress Asked to Repeal Check Collecting Prohibition.

Washington, April 19.—The American Bankers' association has asked congress to amend the federal reserve act so as to make friends with the country banks of the nation in an effort to make it easier for the government to float the forthcoming $7,000,000,000 of war securities.

A bill introduced by Senator Hardwick of Georgia, drawn by the Bankers' association, would repeal the provision prohibiting banks from charging for check collections because the country banks "resent arbitrary interference with their business."

The banks of the nation continue to assure administration officials that they are ready to subscribe with the utmost liberality for the bonds and certificates of indebtedness.

FOUR BATTLES ON IN FRANCE

Allies' Advance Is Slowing Down Somewhat.

FRENCH KEEP UP ATTACKS.

Weather Impeding Operations by British, but Troops Continue Fighting in Rain and Mud—Germans Claim Repulse of Heavy Onslaughts. While French Assert Teuton Counter Attacks Were Beaten.

London, April 19.—Four battles on widely separated but closely interdependent fronts now compose the great conflict in the west. The French and British are still in control of the initiative and again pushed on to their respective objectives, though the advance has considerably slackened. In this comparative quiet before a new storm the enemies forces are consolidating their new lines and bringing up artillery, supplies and reserves.

Lens and Cambrai are the immediate objectives of the British, St. Quentin is being encircled by the joint British and French forces, and Laon in the prize in the new great drive by General Nivelle, which has netted the French 14,000 unwounded prisoners.

The French have smashed their way to within two miles of Laon. The British closed in further about Cambrai. At the same time Sir Douglas Haig tightened his grip around Lens and St. Quentin, with the French pushing on toward this stronghold from the south.

Berlin officially again minimizes the allies' successes, asserted that both the British and French were beaten back and that the number of prisoners taken by the Teutons in counter thrusts has been increased to more than 3,000 officers and men.

French Take Village.

Most notable of recent French successes were the capture of the village of Chavonne and completion of the occupation of Chivy village, only two miles from Laon.

Farther to the north General Nivelle's men gained terrain as far as the suburbs of Bray-en-Laonnois. Other French contingents stormed a series of fortified positions in the Ville-au-Bois sector and the wood to the east of that place.

The crown prince's Champagne army struck back furiously but vainly, according to the French. Three powerful counter thrusts were stifled in the French barrage.

Unofficial estimates place the German losses in the Champagne sector alone at 30,000 in killed, wounded and prisoners. The German official report insists that no real "break through" was effected by the French, saying:

French "Tanks" Destroyed.

Berlin claims the destruction of twenty-two French armored cars. The German report says many such cars were employed by the French. This is the first indication that the French are using "tanks" in the present battle.

Early resumption of the battle of Arras by the British was foreshadowed by a passage in the German statement telling of increased artillery fighting in that sector.

The British, pushing on southeast and east of Epehy, north of St. Quentin, captured the village of Villers-Guislan, taking some prisoners. Near Lagincourt, scene of the most embittered Teuton counter attacks during Easter week, the British improved their positions.

Heavy rain again impeded operations.

REPORT TISZA RESIGNS.

Hungarian Premier Said to Have Quit Post.

London, April 19.—An Amsterdam dispatch says the Budapest Socialist paper Nowessaya announces the resignation of Count Tisza, the Hungarian premier.

The Vienna newspapers print the statement that Dr. Urban, minister of commerce, and Dr. Beernreither, minister without portfolio in the Austrian cabinet, have resigned. Dispatches from Germany connect these resignations with the conclusion of the Alsace settlement next month, which they say is considered in German circles as inopportune in view of political events abroad.

Freak Calf at Ilion, N. Y.

Ilion, N. Y., April 19.—A calf with two heads, eight legs and two tails, the first case of a perfect double on record among animal freaks according to veterinarians, was born on the farm of Albert Avery, south of here. The animal has two bodies connected from the ileum bone to the point of the sacrum.

Theologians to Serve Nation.

Madison, N. J., April 19.—At Drew Theological seminary here fifty-three of the eighty-five students remaining after the graduates of the senior class send to enter the military or agricultural service of the nation. Their decision was communicated to the faculty at a special meeting.

DOES RHEUMATISM BOTHER YOU?

Many Doctors Use Musterole

So many sufferers have found relief in Musterole that you ought to buy a small jar and try it.

Just rub it in with the fingers. Rub it in. First you feel a gentle glow, then a delicious, cooling comfort. Musterole routs the twinges, loosens up stiffened joints and muscles.

Musterole is a clean, white ointment, made with oil of mustard. It penetrates to the seat of pain and drives it away, but does not blister the tenderest skin. It takes the place of the mussy, old fashioned mustard plaster.

Musterole is recommended for bronchitis, croup, asthma, pleurisy, lumbago, neuralgia, sprains, bruises, stiff neck, headache and colds of the chest (it often prevents pneumonia).

STOP DANDRUFF! HAIR GETS THICK, WAVY, BEAUTIFUL

Girls! Draw a cloth through your hair and double its beauty.

Spend 25 cents! Dandruff vanishes and hairs stop coming out.

To be possessed of a head of heavy, beautiful hair; soft, lustrous, fluffy, wavy and free from dandruff is merely a matter of using a little Danderine.

It is easy and inexpensive to have nice, soft hair and lots of it. Just get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you can not find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this.—Adv.

JOHNSON ART TO PUBLIC.

Lawyer's Famous Collection to City of Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, April 19.—The immense art collection of the late John G. Johnson, together with his residence at 510 South Broad street, is devised to this city in the will of the noted lawyer. The value of the collection is estimated at from $2,000,000 to $2,500,000.

If Philadelphia fails to accept the gift within six months the entire collection is to be given to the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York. The collection comprises 1,000 paintings and a great variety of statuary, porcelain, curios and other objects of art from all sections of the world. The Broad street house is to be maintained as a public museum provided the city accepts the bequest.

PATRIOTS' DAY DRIVE WILL BOOM RECRUITING.

Washington, April 19.—This is Patriots' day, set aside for the beginning of the big recruiting drive. Results reported to the war and navy departments were encouraging, and it is expected that the day's campaign will result in a great increase in the totals sent in by recruiting officers all over the country.

Full arrangements were made to have men, women and children join in the effort to make Patriots' day worthy of its name. In every city the recruiting officers had the aid of specially appointed committees. Women volunteered to aid in many ways. Some carried banners, others were "persuaders" and still others picketed marriage license bureaus to shame the slackers. In New York there was a big parade.

A WORTHY PROJECT

The project put under way by two local young men, Warren Ackerman and Reginald Ackerman, former members of Troop D, of this city, in starting a fund to be raised by local people for the construction and furnishing of a submarine chaser for service along the New England coast from Cape Cod, Mass., to New London, Conn., is a worthy one and should be of interest to loyal Americans of this community generally. We mention the project through these columns because we are of the opinion that Plainfield's sporting men, outdoor and indoor alike, would appreciate the opportunity of participating through the giving of their substance to such a worthy cause. Eight thousand dollars of the necessary fund is already at hand. A total of $23,000 is needed. Will the sporting blood of Plainfield and general vicinity respond? All contributions should be sent direct to either Mr. Ackerman or to Mr. Rowland.

No recount is needed, for the Grammar School took the game yesterday over the Whittiers by a score of 23 to 9, the contest being staged on the old Hope Common lot. Both Lambert and Mullin pitched excellent ball for the winning aggregation, while the former put in some heavy batting into the bargain, securing four hits in five trips to the plate. Stoeckle also did some batting during the game. Whitford and Lambert did the star playing for the Whittier team.

JENNINGS GOOD AT PICKING RECRUITS

Detroit Manager Has Made "Rep" for Himself in This Line of Work

If Hughie Jennings' ability to size up a pitcher was just as good as his ability to pick men for other positions he probably would establish a Tiger monopoly on American League pennants.

New York has three former Tigers doing duty for its American League club. Hugh High, Pipp and Bauman are former members of the Detroit club, but High and Bauman never had a real chance to perform for Jennings, due to the presence of Ty Cobb and a few others like him. Bauman hasn't yet been able to tie down a regular job in New York. Deal and Archer of the Cubs are former Tigers, but no one has yet been able to figure Deal a real star. Bill Louden and Clarence Mitchell of the Reds once drew Detroit pay checks. And if Jennings had been able to see Mitchell's possibility as a pitcher he undoubtedly would be doing duty in the Michigan city.

Claude Williams is another example of Jennings' futile efforts to find pitchers. William would look mighty well in a Detroit uniform this year, following his excellent mound work last summer for the White Sox. Bradley Kocher of the Giants and Del Gainer of the Red Sox make up the balance of Jennings' cast-offs who still are kicking big league dust, and neither of these gents is a regular.

Jennings has been trying and trying to decide who can pitch and who can't, but he hasn't so far been able of to pin his decision down to a cinch. Pitchers are pitchers to him, apparently. Stars in the minors quickly lose their brilliance when they tie up with what is otherwise one of the greatest baseball machines ever flung together. It isn't hard for a fan to imagine what would happen if Jennings was able to trot out a pitching staff like that which graces the Red Sox or Yankee payroll. The pennant probably would have to be divided into two sections to satisfy the rest of the league.

Jennings has promised a reverse English twist to his usual order of things this year. His young pitchers, he boasts, will be there or thereabouts most of the time.

Y. M. C. A. CIRCUS READY TO OPEN

Indoor Affair to be Staged in Local Gymnasium Friday and Saturday Nights

Everything is now in readiness for the grand opening of the Y. M. C. A. circus. Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock Ringmaster Dunning will start the show. The opening march will be a feature this year. Animals of every climate never before exhibited in the city of Plainfield will be seen. Clowns funnier than those seen in the big circuses in New York will keep the crowd in good spirits. A troop of Highland boys from Scotland will give an exhibition of the Highland Fling.

Pyramids of every description will be given by the different classes of the association. The senior members will give a gymnastic exhibition on the parallel bars. Thrilling and sensational tricks will be performed by expert gymnasts.

The Tumbling Toms, a troupe of baby clowns, will give a series of exercises never before equaled in the history of the Y. M. C. A. circuses. Members of the high school class will give an exhibition of Indian club swinging. The feature comedian will be Syd Bragger in his famous comedy slack-wire walking stunt.

The circus will not be without its musical program. The Dutch Arms orchestra will be on hand to furnish music for the occasion, assisted by West S. Brown, who will play for the boys in several of the drills. This is not all of the musical entertainment. There will be a presentation of band music by a selected group of funny men and clowns.

Every man, woman and child should be on hand to see this wonderful circus and come prepared to partake of the usual circus refreshments—peanuts, cracker-jack and ice cream cones. Don't forget the dates—tomorrow and Saturday evenings. Special afternoon performances will be given Saturday afternoon for children.

TWO YANKS FOR NEWARK

The Yankees last night announced that two of the club's young pitchers, Sam Ross, left-handed, and Bob McGraw, the Colorado collegian, have been released under optional agreements to the Newark Internationals.

Ross is being farmed out the second time. He pitched for Richmond last season and did fine work. The Richmond team was anxious to get him back.

Petty Now a Pelican

Cleveland, O., April 19.—The Cleveland Baseball Club has released Pitcher Jesse L. Petty to the New Orleans club under an optional agreement. Petty was obtained from San Antonio, Tex., last fall.

Reds Release Gerner

Cincinnati, O., April 19.—Pitcher Ed Gerner was sold yesterday by the Cincinnati Nationals to the Montreal club of the International League.

Suburbans Will Entertain Pond's Shop Team to Open 1917 Baseball Season

Tommy Apgar, manager of the Dunellen Suburbans, has come across with interesting data concerning the team which he proposes to place on the field there for the coming season. Apgar has already completed plans for the opening of the season Saturday, April 28, with the team from the Pond Machine Tool Company as the attraction.

The manager of the Suburbans plans to have a number of metropolitan attractions at the Dunellen field, including a number of teams from New York and Brooklyn. The field used by the team of last year in the City League will be put in proper shape for the opening game.

Apgar has announced the following line-up for his opener: Lou Dixon and Bergen, catchers; McLaughlin and John Dixon, pitchers; Garrison, first base; Jaeger, second base; Rosenson, shortstop; Emery, third base; Wilson, Gunzelman and Trust, outfielders. Cliff Randolph and Reid will do the battery work for the Pond team. Appropriate exercises will mark the opening of the season.

The Dunellen Suburbans will have, as noted in the above line-up, a number of players who helped put the borough on the baseball map last summer, including McLaughlin, Trust, the Dixons and Gunzelman. Apgar certainly has a number of good men in his line-up, and his team should be a drawing card at the borough field.

BOROUGH BOYS IN COMEDY OF ERRORS

Weird Game With Kearney High School Staged at Hyde Field Yesterday

North Plainfield and Kearney high schools grappled yesterday afternoon on Hyde Oval for seven ragged innings, utterly devoid of good fielding, but replete with old-fashioned awatting by both sides. With the score 12 to 10 in Kearny's favor in the first half of the seventh stanza, North Plainfield walloped Christopherson for three hits, which, coupled with an error, gave them one run without a man being retired.

The time consumed playing the seven innings shows just how interesting a ball game it was. Dunning started on the mound for the Canadians and enjoyed a very much off day, Kearny finding him for two counters in the first round and establishing what looked like a safe lead. Glennon, the visitors' regular moundsman, displayed lack of control and North Plainfield came back in its half with two, six men facing Glennon before three had been retired. Kearny scored its final game in the second, when Dunning cleared the bags with a two-bagger, the North Plainfield lads in the next three innings started to kick and fumble, the trouble starting with three successive passes by Dunning and an error by Hallin, Kearny catcher for the visitors, swung heavily on the next and the pill took a long ride to right, which Stewart was slow at fielding, two more counters resulting.

The next inning saw Dunning's retirement, Hitler Kearny found him for three hits, which, with two passes, gave them three more runs, tying the score at 10-10. In its half North Plainfield came near paring the game out of the fire but for a spectacular catch by the Kearny right fielder after McDonough had lofty one to him. Two bags and LaPorte going to first on a pass. The next man hit a fly to right; McDonough aped toward the plate, but was doubled up on second when the garden man made a one-hand catch while on his knees.

In the seventh Kearny garnered two hits and drew two passes off Cliff Marsh, who took up the pitching burden, and crossed the plate twice. North Plainfield was equal to the ocasion and went them one better.

TWO PLAYERS HAVE BIRTHDAY MARKS

Sam Crawford and George Lewis Celebrated Their Natal Days Yesterday

Sam Crawford, native of Wahoo, Neb., and next to Ty Cobb, pride of the Detroit Tigers, yesterday observed his thirty-seventh birthday. Crawford was born out in the Western town April 18, 1880.

Sam first broke into the limelight of the national pastime out in Chatham in the Canadian League circuit in the year 1899. In that same year the youngster made two jumps, first going to Grand Rapids of the Western League and then to the Cincinnati Reds. He remained with the National League team until the end of the 1902 season, beginning the next year with the Detroits.

Crawford can play first base as well as the outfield, and has done considerable duty at that station for the Tigers. He stands five feet eleven inches in his stocking feet and weighs about 190 pounds.

George Edward Lewis, another American League player, also celebrated his natal day yesterday. George was born out at Princo April 18, 1888. This youngster started his career with the California State League, at that time an outlaw circuit, in 1907. He played with the Alameda team for a portion of that season and part of the next, signing up with the Oakland club of the Pacific Coast League during the latter part of 1908. In 1909 Lewis was sold to the Boston Sox, with whom he has been playing steady ball ever since.

FORMER LOCAL MAN IS LAID TO REST

Lou S. Darling, Well Known Fisherman and Follower of Sports, Died Sunday

The body of Lou S. Darling was yesterday laid to rest at Red Bank, this State, having been taken there from Rockville, Conn., where he died Sunday last of pneumonia. Mr. Darling's father-in-law accompanied the body to the cemetery, Mrs. Darling being unable to make the trip because of the shock.

Mr. Darling was for many years a resident of Plainfield, living on Belvidere avenue. He had a wide circle of friends—not only here and his late home town, but throughout the State of New Jersey. He was one of the best and most widely known fly and bait casters and all-around sportsman in this country. He was the winner of many casting events and an authority on angling.

While residing in this city Mr. Darling was a member of the old Crescent Wheel Club and always took an active interest in all local sports. He also had a great liking for dogs.

The Newark Evening News has this to say of Mr. Darling:

"Only a few people got close to Lou S. Darling, who died Sunday at his home in Rockville, Conn., but those few found him a staunch friend and a charming fellow. Lou's gruffness, his abrupt manners and blunt speech covered a kindly, thoughtful heart, and a mind so wrapped up in the realities of the outdoor world he knew so well, and loved so much, that it had no tolerance for the petty vanities and insignificances. Those who understood these facts it was not difficult to see the real man—a square, clean, capable sportsman, a substantial, helpful companion, a solid unit in the world of business. Here in Essex county more than one man will miss him, and the old Wappus River in Ulster county, New York, which he had fished and loved for twenty-five years, and written about in verse and in prose, will not seem the same with his sober, bearded face missing when the camp fire glows. The boys who called him 'Chief' never will forget him."

SOMERVILLE HIGH IN ITS OPENING VICTORY

Special Correspondence:

Somerville, April 19.—The Somerville H. S. opened up its 1917 baseball season yesterday afternoon on Cammann Field, when it took the Bound Brook High School team into camp with a 6 to 2 score. The contest was a comedy of errors from start to finish, not one of the eight runs being earned in any sense of the word. The two opposing pitchers twirled excellent ball, but were sadly handicapped by the fielders.

MY WORD, THE VULGAR PIPE!

By United Press:

London, April 19.—"An undoubted symptom of the break-up of our social fabric" is seen by members of fashionable London clubs in the spread of the "pipe plague" throughout England today. Civilians who were too cultured to be seen in public smoking pipes are taking to their briars in increasing numbers, and the monocled disciples of Lord Chesterfield are deeply shocked.

"My word! old thing! I'd rather see brown boots and a frock coat than a silk hat and a bulldog briar!"

ENROLLING NOW FOR CANTEEN COOKING CLASS

Enrollments are going on this week for the canteen cooking class to be held at the Housekeeping Center, 206 East Front street, at the rear of the Women's Christian Association, under the National Special Aid Society. The use of the Housekeeping Center is graciously offered by Mrs. Frank H. Stewart for any classes that the National Special Aid may wish to hold.

The purpose of the canteen classes is to train women in economical cooking. Each course has three lessons under the instruction of Miss Gardner. The foods thus prepared each day in practice will be given over to some local charity and therefore will be put to a good use.

MANY GUESTS ATTEND CARD PARTY AND DANCE

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary, Ancient Order Hibernians, a successful card party and dance was held in T. A. B. S. Hall last night. There was a large attendance of members and friends of the auxiliary, including many members of the A. O. H., Division No. 1. The first part of the evening was devoted to playing euchre and five hundred.

The first and second prizes in the euchre game were umbrellas and the winners were Miss Julia Kehoe and Joseph Smith. The first prize in the five hundred game was an umbrella which was won by Frank Cullen and the second prize, a rose and strawberry dish was won by Miss Rose McGloin.

The floor was then cleared and dancing was enjoyed until 1 o'clock. Music was furnished by Squire's orchestra. The hall was attractively decorated by James Kaiser. The committee in charge comprised Miss Helen McCauley, chairman; Miss Julia Regan, Miss Nora Regan, Miss Anna Harrington and Miss Jean Mack.

Amazing Power of Bon-Opto To Make Weak Eyes Strong

Doctor Says It Strengthens Eyesight 50 per cent in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

Victims of eye strain and other eye troubles, of those who wear glasses, will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope and help for them. Many whose eyes were failing say that here had their eyes restored by this simple prescription and many who discarded glasses say they have thrown them away. One man says, after using a bottle, "I was almost blind. Could see scarcely at all. Now I can read everything without my glasses, and my eyes do not hurt any more. At night they would feel dreadfully. Now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The strain of my eyes seemed heavy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear and I can read even fine print without glasses." Another who used it says: "I have noticed my eyes strain caused by weak, tired eyes, which induced some headache. I have worn glasses for several years, both for distance and work, and without them I could not read my own sense on an envelope or the type-writing on the machine before me. I used a bottle of Bon-Opto and have discarded my distance glasses altogether. I can even see the flattering letters on the signs across the street now, which for several years have looked like a dim green blur to me." I cannot express my joy at what it has done for me."

It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitudes more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Even cases of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by the use of this prescription at home. To do so any active drug store will put a bottle of Bon-Opto, tablets, in stock. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and let it dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start, and inflammation and redness will quickly disappear. If your eyes bother you even a little it is your duty to take steps to save them, now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have saved their sight if they had cared for their eyes in time.

Note: Another prominent Physician to whom the above article was submitted, said: "Yes, the Bon-Opto prescription is truly a wonderful eye remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. I have used it very successfully in my own practice on patients whose eyes were strained through overwork or miss-glasses. I can highly recommend it in cases of weak, watery, aching, smarting, itching, burning eyes, red lids, blurred vision or for eyes inflamed from exposure to sun, wind, dust or wind. It is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." Bon-Opto, referred to above, is not a patent medicine but a scientific remedy. It is an ethical preparation, the formula being printed on the package. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is sold in this city by Weiss' Boro Drug Store.

FOOD PRODUCTION MUST DOMINATE

Lewis D. Carris States in Letter to Public School Authorities

Trenton, April 19.—Food production and conservation must from this time forward be the predominant activity in the work of manual training in the schools of New Jersey, according to a statement which Assistant Commissioner of Education Lewis B. Carris today issued to superintendents, principals and all persons engaged in the supervision and teaching of manual training and home economic subjects. His full statement follows:

"We herewith emphasize the fact that food production and conservation shall take precedence over all forms of manual training work wherever practicable. All school authorities are advised to use their discretion in utilizing the time and funds devoted to manual training in its various forms to the end that production may be increased and the product properly conserved.

"Proper supervision or home gardens should be provided. For this purpose shop teachers may be utilized in organizing, supervising and recording the results of those receiving for this work. Shop teachers may be retained during part of the summer at a suitable salary or other persons with sufficient experience may be engaged. Organization is essential and vital to the success of this movement. Boys over fourteen years of age may enroll in the Junior Industrial Army for farm service. Information may be secured from the county superintendents of schools of your county.

"All boys and girls of suitable age who are engaged in garden work may be enrolled as members of the Junior Industrial Army and form a part of the Home Garden Division. Each county superintendent of schools is authorized to formulate rules and regulations concerning membership in this county. Address him for further particulars.

"Domestic science teachers may well prepare to organize canning clubs and give demonstrations to adults in the kitchens.

"Sewing teachers should be prepared to organize their work so that the moment it is clear what should be done production may start.

"We would be glad to receive descriptions of any work you have already undertaken."

MEN'S CLUB LECTURE

The entertainment committee of the Men's Club of the Church of the Heavenly Rest has arranged a special program for the meeting to be held this evening at 8 o'clock in the Parish House. D. DiLonado will give an address on "Disease and Poverty." After the lecture refreshments will be served by the Good and Welfare Committee. Friends are cordially welcome.

"Come on Over, See My Corn Fall Off!"

"I Put 2 Drops of 'Gets-It' on Last Night—Now Watch—"

"See—all you have to do is to use your two fingers and lift the corn right off. That's the way 'Gets-It' always works. You just put on about 2 drops and the corn not only shrivels, but loosens from the toe, without affecting the surrounding flesh in the least. Why, it's a treat and a pleasure to have corns and see how 'Gets-It' gets them off in a hurry and without the least pain. I never wear tight shoes now, and walk as though I never had corns."

"That Was a Quick Funeral That Corn Had"

"Gets-It" makes the use of irritating salves, bandling bandages, tape, shields and other things not only foolish, but unnecessary. The only wonderful discovery, for any corn, soft or hard corn or callus. It is the new, simple, easy, quick way, and there is no pain. Never have to cut a corn again with knives or scissors, and run chances of blood poison. Try 'Gets-It' tonight.

Milady and the New York Shops

Dressmaking Made Easy

These are wonderful times! Everything is made easy for Milady. The old saying, "There is no royal road to learning," does not always hold true. There is the fireless cooker in which Milady can put her dinner in the morning, go out to a party, and when she returns dinner is cooked. There is the vacuum cleaner which accomplishes the duties of a maid-of-all work. Then there are such inventions as patterns and sewing machines which enable Milady to make her own clothes.

But about the best of all inventions are the cent-made skirts offered by B. Altman & Co., at Fifth Ave. and Thirty-Fourth St. The skirts are completely made except that the front seam and hem are left open for adjustment. Milady can get her waist and length measure in the style she prefers—and poufi in five minutes, with the aid of a sewing machine, her skirt is finished!

She can choose between a very good looking Oxford weave, a white corduline with a design copied from an old Indian coat, a candy-striped gabardine, a cotton silk shantung with different colored polka dots, a gabardine with both stripes and dots, or a mercerized poplin in a range of solid colors. All of them are stylishly made, with large pockets and large or small belts, and some have shirring at the waist and on the pockets.

If you prefer a white skirt to a color combination, Altman's have several very pretty models. A pique skirt is trimmed with pearl buttons and large patch pockets. Another in gabardine is attractive with inverted pockets, or a gabardine with a semi-belt and large patch pockets. For novelty, one might choose a poplin dress with a heavy Bedford cord stripe, or a gabardine with diagonal weave.

Those who do not care to do their own dressmaking and might prefer to originate their own styles would find Altman's a beautiful and clever new materials at Altman's for sport and summer wear. There is a large line of mercerized cotton in large plaid effects, in various colors. An unusual thing is a serge ground with a large plaid effect in black and white, the touch of color being a stripe running through the motif. This material is a copy of English suiting. The same idea is carried out in a yellow and white check with large blocks of black. This is the season's most exclusive design.

The fez worn would be delightful with a certain Persian effect with diamond blocks of black, white and green. The same comes with blue, white and red; navy, green, white and orange, and red, white and gray.

So much for materials to make sport skirts and suits. Altman's also have a wonderful variety of lighter weight materials for afternoon and summer dresses. There is the French voile with a Persian border, the voile embroidered with dots and scallops in various colors. Colored voiles with artistic designs; green and black checks. Or—if one wishes to be really exclusive—the black voile accented with a silver stripe of vegetable silk. Plain, solid color voiles are good this season, too, in both light and dark shades. And elaborate prints on English voiles delight the eye. In several color combinations one would be strictly in style with a combined stripe and polka dot in voile.

But as popular as voiles are going to be this season, Altman's have a variety of other materials which will be just as attractive for summer costumes. Ballets, with open-work embroidery and embroidered motifs is charming, and dotted swiss and crepe ground with embroidery. French handkerchief linen in printed designs of various color combinations are very rich looking. Cotton-silk ponges in all bright sport colors, such as yellow, green, orange and red, are popular for outdoor costumes. A novelty material is crepe cloth, in a small black and white check with a double motif of the check in either yellow, blue, lavendar or rose. A new suiting also is a cotton-silk crepe de chine with printed designs in light colors.

A specialty of Altman's, which they offer for lingerie dresses and underwear, is Chimona Nainsook, which comes in pink and blue. It is as soft and dainty as anything that has ever been manufactured, and a box of ten yards would be a distinct addition to Milady's wardrobe. A slightly less fine material is Cinderella Nainsook, which only comes in white color.

Of course, Altman's have all kinds of Scotch ginghams in plaids, stripes, large and small checks, Persian grounds with Jacquard grounds, and even block effects in Roman colors. And, naturally, there is the usual stock of dotted Swiss, white with colored dots, and colored, with white dots; batistes; crepes in plain colors, so splendid for garden and children's dresses, and plain French and Irish linens.

HELPS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

VIRGINIA CARTER LEE

Those with this department Miss Lee will gladly answer any inquiry relative to domestic science. A stamped envelope bears necessary fee for personal reply. Address care of Courier-News.

So many inquiries have reached me lately, asking for suggestions for bachelor girls doing "light housekeeping," that the article this evening will be devoted to this interesting subject.

Where circumstances will allow, it is far better for the woman who lives alone to take one meal, dinner preferably, out of the home or rooms in which she lives. Appetite and digestion wait upon pleasant surroundings and agreeable companionship at meals, and while in the restaurant or boarding house, one may not exactly find company at table, others are in the room eating and the mind is taken from one's self. Consequently, the food tastes better.

The woman or girl who lives alone should buy in small quantities, and by meat by piece—a few apples, oranges or bananas, instead of a quantity of one sort. The same rule should apply to vegetables and meats.

The steak question now comes to mind at once. Can a woman living alone ever have a good steak? She can, provided she buys a porterhouse, has a refrigerator in which to keep it and divides it properly. Make two small steaks of the back of the loin, use the tenderloin for a fillet and in the evening make a soup from the end and bone.

A small ice box, of a good make, is a necessity and will soon save its cost by keeping milk, meat and fruits. A small gas stove, with a tiny oven, will do the work nicely. If gas is not accessible, purchase a wick-flame oil stove.

In arranging menus, do not buy two varieties of meat in large quantities. For instance, a chicken and a steak is too much for one day. Instead select a small chicken and two lamb chops. Divide the chicken, have the breast one day with enough for a salad or sandwiches, the next day have chops, the next day the dark meat of the chicken and the following day a chicken pie, or green peppers stuffed with chicken forcemeat.

For breakfast, chipped beef, creamed cod, eggs and bacon are all excellent suggestions and with the utilizations of the daily left overs, will give a pleasing variety.

To help out in quick and simple menus, keep on hand a small jar of beef extract, a bottle of clam juice, a bottle of tomato catsup, one of kitchen bouquet, a little celery salt, olive oil and vinegar.

The woman who lives alone must also look well to a variety of ways in which she may serve one thing. In opening a can of tomatoes, for instance, take out the solid vegetables and keep them for salad or panned tomatoes. Strain the thin part for soups and sauces.

In the following recipes will be found a number of simple formulas for individual portions:

Eggs Poached in Tomato

Put into a pan, or chafing dish, half a pint of strained tomato and season with salt, paprika, lemon juice and a tiny bit of sugar. When boiling, break and drop in two eggs, as you would for poaching. Cook until there is a good film over the yolks, lift out, lay on hot toast and pour over the tomato sauce, that has been slightly thickened. Dust with grated cheese and serve immediately.

Green Peppers Stuffed with Chicken Forcemeat

Cut a green pepper in halves, remove the seeds and membrane and parboil for ten minutes, changing the water twice. Drain and dry thoroughly. Chop any remnants of chicken and for each two tablespoonfuls allow an equal quantity of grated bread crumbs. Mix well, season to taste with salt, celery salt and chopped parsley, moisten with a little melted butter and pack into the halved peppers. Cover the tops with browned bread crumbs, dot with bits of butter and place in a hot oven for ten minutes.

Corned Beef Hash

Purchase one slice of cooked corned beef, chop finely and add an equal amount of cold, cooked potatoes, a slice of minced white onion, paprika to taste and, if you have it, a slice of cooked beet. Moisten slightly with a little cream and turn into a heated pan, in which has been melted a teaspoonful of butter. Stir when hash is ready and let it be heated through. Then form in an oval mound and allow it to brown over on the under side. Serve inverted on a hot plate. Do not add salt in making the hash, as the beef is sufficiently seasoned.

HER RECORD PROVES THAT CHICKENS PAY

Miss Anna C. Honeyman, of North Branch, the sister of Robert Honeyman, who spoke here on several occasions the past winter, in connection with the Y. M. C. A., has kept a record of the cost and production of her flock of chickens from April 1, 1916, to April 1, 1917, as follows:

Miss Honeyman began the year with 220 chickens and closed with 206. In April, 1916, she sold eggs, $55.17, and feed cost was $44.31; May, eggs, $55.95; feed, $41.40; June, eggs, $46.95; feed, $11.34; July, eggs, $29.04; feed, $16.11; August, eggs, $60.48; feed, $29.25; September, eggs, $81.30; feed, $29.95; October, eggs, $63.51; feed, $15.75; November, eggs, $61.50; feed, $33.53; December, eggs, $56.50; feed, $46.92; January, eggs, $60.93; feed, $15.75; February, eggs, $60.09; feed, $17.01; March, eggs, $91.46; feed, none.

Eggs and chickens sold for the year, $871.29; feed bought for the feed, $347.50; profit, $383.79. Miss Honeyman had $50.04 feed left over. The family used fifty-one chickens which are not counted in the record and the broken and small eggs are not counted.

"Little Sandman Story for To-Night"

BY MRS. FAWALKER

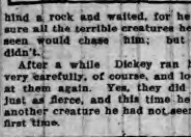
THE TERRIBLE NIGHT

One night in a deep, dark wood a squirrel jumped out of his nest to hunt in the moonlight. His name was Dickey and his mother told him not to go out at night, but Dickey thought he knew more than his mother, and so he did not obey her. Dickey Squirrel ran down the tree trunk and along the path when suddenly his little heart almost stood still, for right beside a bush stood a fierce-looking creature with a shaggy head looking at him with two very shiny eyes. Dickey was just getting his senses back when he saw another animal that frightened him worse than the first.

This dreadful creature had shiny eyes, but he was bigger than the first one and he had a long, thick tail which came right out of his head, and this was long enough to frighten any one that had never seen tails any place but where they should be.

And then Dickey Squirrel saw a tiny man with a gun, and he ran behind a rock and waited, for he was sure all the terrible creatures he had seen would chase him; but they didn't.



After a while Dickey ran back, very carefully, of course, and looked at them again. Yes, they did look just as fierce, and this time he saw another creature he had not seen the first time.

It was a furry-looking animal and was sitting down, with its front paws held out as if it intended the next instant to take Dickey Squirrel in its arms and hug him.

Just then the wind blew through the trees and bushes and the dreadful creatures came toward Dickey Squirrel. He was sure the little man with the gun intended to shoot and the dreadful animals intended to eat him—that is, when they caught him. Dickey Squirrel was a good runner when he was frightened, and he was very much frightened just then, so he ran like the very wind and was back in his nest in a wink.

Dickey Squirrel expected every minute to see all his pursuers come right in after him, but after watching a while he fell asleep and did not awake in the morning until his mother shook him hard.

"You bad boy," she said; "I know what is the matter with you. You were out last night after you were all asleep. Some night you will get into trouble and some dreadful animal will get you. They are looking out for such bad boys as you are, who disobey their mothers and go out after dark."

"Yes'm," said Dickey, very tired and very meek, too, after what he had seen. "I know they do; I saw them last night."

"What?" said his mother, thinking Dickey Squirrel must be asleep and dreaming as she shook him again. "What is that you said?" she asked. "Wake up, you lazy boy."

"Yes'm," said Dickey again. "I know those creatures you said were in the woods are there, because I saw them last night, and, mother, I'll never go out again after dark."

"What did you see, Mr. Wolf or Mr. Fox?" asked his mother.

"I didn't see either of them," said Dickey Squirrel. "These animals were much fiercer than either Mr. Fox or Mr. Wolf, and one had a tail right on his head."

Grandma Squirrel came in just then and Dickey told her what he had seen the night before.

"That sounds like an elephant to me," said Dickey's grandma, "and the shaggy-headed creature must have been Mr. Lion. The other, of course, was Mr. Bear, but the little man with the gun I never heard of. Are you sure he was as small as you say?"

"Are you sure you went out at all last night?" asked Dickey Squirrel's mother, "I believe he dreamed it after all."

"No, I didn't," said Dickey Squirrel, "and if you will come along with me I can show you just where they were, and maybe they are there now."

Grandma Squirrel put her shawl over her head and Dickey's mother put on her bonnet and Dickey led the way to the place where he had seen the terrible animals the night before.

But just as they reached the spot a little boy was going away with something in his arms, so they had to wait until he was out of sight.

Not a sign was to be seen of the terrible animals, but Dickey knew he had seen them, and his grandmother told him she had no doubt that Mr. Lion and Mr. Bear and Mr. Elephant had come along with the little man to show him where he could find nice fat squirrels just like Dickey.

Grandma Squirrel took Dickey's mother aside when they reached home and whispered in her ear, and this is what she said:

"That little boy that we saw was the little boy that lives in the big house on the road by the woods, and I am pretty sure those animals Dickey saw last night were his toy animals that he forgot to take in the house. He was playing in the woods yesterday, for I saw him."

Dickey's mother and grandma laughed, but they never laughed when Dickey told about the dreadful wild animals that are in the woods at night looking for squirrels that are out after dark, and never again did Dickey disobey his mother; that is, not by going out after dark.

That ONE Bottle

(RECOMMENDED BY MY WIFE)

Stopped My Dandruff

I had decided my hair would always fall out. I could not stop my dandruff. My wife had been using Pompeian HAIR Massage. Her hair had become healthy, vigorous and attractive. She finally made me try a 25¢ bottle.

Immediately my scalp itching stopped and my dandruff began to disappear.

That's what Pompeian HAIR Massage will do for your hair too.

One Bottle Shows Actual Results

The success of Pompeian HAIR Massage is in its name—"Massage." It is a treatment, not merely a tonic. The massaging (rubbing) of the scalp wakes up the roots of the hair to new life. This massaging also opens the pores of the scalp to the wonderfully stimulating liquids in Pompeian HAIR Massage. Dandruff goes. Your hair will become and stay healthy, vigorous and attractive.

Pompeian HAIR Massage is a clear amber liquid (not a cream). Not oily. Not sticky. Very pleasant to use. 25¢, 50¢ and $1 bottles, at the store.

MEN— Have your barber give you a treatment and prove to yourself how refreshed your scalp feels by one application.

Don't play with dandruff any longer. Get a bottle of Pompeian today and let it demonstrate that dandruff can be stopped and your hair made attractive.

Made by reliable makers of Pompeian MASSAGE Cream and Pompeian NIGHT Cream. 40

ACTIVITIES TO BE SUSPENDED

Recreation Committee Work Will be Laid Aside for More Pressing Needs

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED

Critical Economic Condition of Country Basis for Action in Turning Over Affairs to Board of Education

Because the critical economic condition of the country has brought forward more immediate needs, the Public Recreation Committee at its annual meeting held at the Plainfield High School last night voted unanimously to suspend its activities temporarily and turn over its work to the Board of Education and ask that body to relieve the members of further responsibilities, so that they may serve their country in other ways.

This action was taken after Chaplain L. Riley, the president, outlined in detail the present situation, showing that it would probably be difficult for the committee to secure any increase in its appropriation this year from the city or the Board of Education because of pressing needs for money in other directions.

Mr. Riley told of the committee's appearance before the councilmanic finance committee recently to press a request for a larger appropriation. At that time Corporation Counsel Charles A. Reed gave the committee to understand that inasmuch as it is not a legally constituted part of the city government the council could not rightfully appropriate money to it, but that it would have to look to the Board of Education, under whose supervision it works, for the support to carry on its activities.

As a result Mr. Riley and other officers of the committee held a conference and decided that as there are other things more important that are engaging the attention of the people, such as the work of the Home Defense League and the conserva-

PLAN TO OPEN NEW POSTOFFICE MAY 1

Plans are underway for the opening of the new post office building on Watching avenue on May 1. The contractors are now rushing the work as rapidly as possible. Postmaster Alvin E. Hoagland when questioned today about the matter said that he hoped to have the office ready for business on the above date. All the furnishings have arrived and are being put in position. Workmen are also engaged in completing the interior work.

It was expected that possession of the new building would be taken this month, but for various reasons the work was delayed and several changes had to be made. Mr. Hoagland now says that he can see nothing that will interfere with the opening on May 1 and is getting ready to move the latter part of the month.

TO HOLD CAKE SALE

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church will hold a sale of home-made cakes tomorrow, beginning at 9 o'clock, in Newman Bros. store, on Watchung avenue.

The committee in charge comprises Mrs. Ira E. Van Arsdale, Mrs. Charles R. Vincent and Mrs. John Abbott.

JR. O. U. A. M. STATE HOME IS PROPOSED

Local Councils to Vote in May for Future Free Care of Its Old and Sick Members

The members of the Jr. O. U. A. M. in this city as well as elsewhere in the State will take a vote at the first meeting in May as to whether the order shall erect and maintain a home for aged and infirm members and their wives and for orphans. The Odd Fellows and Masons in the State maintain homes for aged members and their wives, and homes being kept up by small yearly per capita assessments.

The Jr. O. U. A. M. is a much younger society than the Odd Fellows or Masons. It has few old or infirm members, but in time it will have many members who will have reached three-score years and ten. In fact, at present there is no need for the society to have a home for the aged. The board of managers on "Home for Aged Members," in its recent report, states it is now time to look into the future and to prepare for caring for members when they are overtaken by old age or by sickness. The Masons or Odd Fellows make no provisions for the care of sick members, though the former organization has under consideration the building of a hospital in Burlington county for caring for sick and disabled members and their wives.

The Jr. O. U. A. M. will, if the organization votes in favor of the home for the aged, assess every member of the order $10, to be paid in ten years at the rate of 25 cents every three months, the sum to be paid out of the treasury of each council and charged to each member. It would take therefore ten years to get all the money assessed, but enough could be had in two or three years to purchase the property and erect a suitable building, and the balance of the money could then be used to furnish and maintain the home. There is considerable interest manifested in the order over the proposed plan and the voting in May is looked forward to hopefully by those who believe in order should be prepared in time to meet the requirements of members who are now approaching old age and who may need care free of cost.

TAKES STEPS TO MEET FOOD SHORTAGE

Special to Courier-News:

Trenton, April 20.—Governor Edge today took two more steps in his campaign to meet the apparent food shortage that is expected, by asking the County and Supreme Court Judges, through letters, to excuse farmers from jury duty at the next term of court, and by asking the State Bankers' Association to endorse the plan of banks making small loans to farmers for the purchase of supplies and labor needed to work their farms this year.

"It is my thought that such a step is absolutely necessary in order that nothing may be done which would tend in any way to lessen the agricultural output. We must be careful not to cripple even so little the most power essential for the vital part which the farm is to play in modern warfare," says the Governor's letter to the judges.

PARADED WITH FARM IMPLEMENTS

Boy Scouts, Headed by Dutch Arms Band, and Followed by Cadets, Marched

The Boy Scouts of this city, over three hundred strong, paraded through the business section of the city last night armed with farming implements, following the program for "Wake-up America Day" as outlined by Mayor Collins. The Dutch Arms Band, who volunteered their services for the evening, headed the procession through Front street, Grove street, and a small district of North Plainfield and marched up Somerset street to Front at which corner they were reviewed by Mayor Calkins.

Although the boys were assembled and arrangements for the parade made at short notice the Mayor reviewed representatives from twenty of the twenty-five troops of the city who, with their gardening implements and floats representing the Liberty Bell and traveling recruiting station made the strongest and best showing that Scouts have ever made in this city.

The Boy Scouts were followed in the line of march by the Plainfield High School Cadet Corps. This is the first time that this cadet corps has appeared in a city parade. They showed the result of splendid training they have received in their several drills. The fact that the scout movement has more than doubled in numbers in the past few months was very evident from the length of the line of march. The scouts of Plainfield now number nearly five hundred, making twenty-five troops that are divided into patrols of ten Scouts in charge of an assistant Scoutmaster. Each patrol is specializing along some particular line such as first aid, signaling, hospital emergency corps, bicycle messengers, motor car operators, and agricultural corps.

The American Motors Corporation of Plainfield has placed at the disposal of the Boy Scouts an automobile chassis engine and all the equipment necessary including an instructor for preparing the boys in handling motor cars under any conditions and making such minor repairs as can be made on the road. A complete engine and chassis has been installed by the American Motors Corporation at Scout Headquarters where classes are forming for instruction in this work. The use of the equipment and instruction by the American Motors Corporation has been given freely to the scouts and is just one more large bit of evidence of the patriotism of the manufacturers of the city.

THIS PAGEANT PUT SLACKERS TO SHAME

In the big "Wake up, America" pageant in New York yesterday the slackers who viewed it from outside the line were put to shame by the demonstration of patriotism.

Particularly prominent were groups of Campfire Girls, many of them in overalls and carrying rakes, hoes, *forks, ropes and other outdoor equip*ment, who presented a real picture of health. They bore innumerable placards, and if there were any intending slackers on the curb they must have blushed, for the girls appealed directly to them. Some of their banners read: "Will You Enlist?" "Don't Wait To Be Drafted." "Have You Enlisted? We Have." "We Are Saving Food for You at the Front. Will You Help Here?" "We Will Keep Your Jobs for You Till You Get Back." "Where Are the Minute Men?" "Will You Fight for Permanent Peace?"

Some of the girls in overalls bore placards reading: "This Uniform Saves Money, Time, Work." "This Uniform Means Freedom." "We Are With You Women."

FERRERA HELD AS MATERIAL WITNESS

John Ferrera, who was arrested on a charge of participating in the assault upon Sophie Costa, a servant girl in Randolph road last Sunday night, was arraigned in the city police court this morning and was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 on a disorderly charge. He was also held under bail of $200 as a material witness against Joseph Vitelli, John Boyle, Daniel Conkling and Michael Comisky, who are charged with attempting the assault. Vitelli and Boyle were each held for the grand jury under heavy bail and Comisky and Boyle were sentenced to serve six days each. Vitelli was released from jail Wednesday night when a bail bond was furnished by a friend.

READ "PAUL REVERE'S" RIDE

MARION LAWRANCE TO SPEAK SUNDAY

General Secretary of International Sunday School Association to Speak Here

Sunday next, will be a day of especial importance for the Sunday school workers of our city. Marion Lawrance, of Chicago, the general secretary for the International Sunday School Association, is to be the speaker at two meetings that have been arranged.

In the afternoon, at three o'clock, in the Trinity Reformed Church, he is to meet Sunday school teachers and officers for a general conference. This

MARION LAWRANCE
General Secretary for International Sunday School Association

affords an opportunity for personal discussion of plans of work and practical methods for Sunday school management. Mr. Lawrance is authority on Sunday school management and his decision in the realm of Sunday school work in importance is like the decision of a Judge of the Supreme Court.

F. E. Smith is to preside at this meeting. A special musical program has been arranged and the meeting promises to be one of real interest and profit.

In the evening at 7:45 o'clock, a union service is to be held in the First Baptist Church at which Arthur M. Harris will preside. The ministers of Plainfield have graciously arranged to omit their own services in the various churches for Sunday evening, wishing not only to honor Mr. Lawrance, but as well to give the people of this city an opportunity to hear the foremost Sunday school man of the country.

Marion Lawrance has often said that he would prefer "the single flower while alive rather than the profusion of flowers on his casket." It is proposed to give him the "single flower" at the service Sunday evening, April 22, in the First Baptist Church. Every one is asked to bring a single flower, any kind. A floral collection will then be taken and the flowers presented to Mr. Lawrance.

Forty years is the length of time Mr. Lawrence has been active in Sunday school work. He started as a teacher in the Washington Street Congregational Sunday school in Toledo, Ohio. Three years later, in 1876, he became superintendent of the Sunday school and held the position for thirty-one years, until his removal to Chicago in 1907. The Sunday school which he served so long and faithfully is now known as the "Marion Lawrance Sunday School," and has an enrollment of two thousand members. It has become the pattern for Sunday schools, the world over, for efficiency. The main characteristics of the school are described in the book by Mr. Lawrance on "How to Conduct a Sunday School."

From 1889 to 1899 he served the Ohio Sunday School Association as its secretary and has served since 1899, in his present position as the General Secretary of the International Sunday School Association. For four years he was also the American General Secretary of the World's Sunday School Association. He has toured many parts of the world in the interests of the Sunday school business.

Associated with him in the International Sunday School Association are men and women who are experts in adult Bible class work, boys' work, temperance education, elementary and secondary departmental, missionary, purity, evangelistic, teacher training and visitation work.

The association of which he is the general secretary, through its subsidiary State, provincial and county associations conducts annually approximately 50,000 conventions, has about 200 paid workers who devote all their time to Sunday school organization activities, 1,500,000 volunteer workers who serve as superintendents and teachers in 173,459 Sunday schools with an aggregate membership of more than 17,000,000 persons.

While in Plainfield, Mr. Lawrance will be the guest of A. M. Harris, Central avenue.

American and Prince of Wales Fund Holds Meeting in Grace Parish House

The United States of America and Prince of Wales Relief Committee, New Jersey Branch, held a meeting of unusual interest yesterday in Grace church parish house. After the making of several thousands of surgical dressings for the American Reserve and also for foreign shipment, the meeting was called to order and the subject of making comforts for the American navy was discussed.

All members of the committee were asked to co-operate in this work and interest their friends in knitting the desired articles which would comprise the sets required by the Navy League of the United States for the comfort of American sailors on the submarines, war ships and battle ships.

Any person interested in this undertaking can have further information by applying to Mrs. R. Delafield, chairman, 843 East Front street. The women of Plainfield are asked to join in the work and swell the number to 500 sets if possible. All applications should be in before next Thursday, April the 25th, when returns will be made to Washington. The cost for each individual worker for the wool will be $2.00. Directions will be furnished for the knitting and three months' time allowed for the making.

The patriotic significance of the day was by no means lost sight of for at 12 m., when the church bells were ringing in commemoration of the memorable ride of Paul Revere, 142 years ago, Mr. Stevenson, the rector of Grace church, delivered to the members a stirring patriotic address, in memory of the first battle of the Revolutionary War (The Battle of Lexington), and also spoke feelingly of the raising of the American Stars and Stripes for the first time in history from the Tower of Parliament House, London, England.

In conclusion, two patriotic and stirring national anthems were sung with great feeling and fervor. "Our father's God to thee, author of liberty, to thee we sing," also the English national anthem, "God save the King."

MEN'S CLUB PLAYED AN ARMY GAME

Toward the close of the banquet recently given by the Men's Club of the Seventh Day Baptist Church, a "war game" consisting of queries regarding the army were indulged in. Each one was handed a slip of paper with the following questions and to fill out with the right answers, if possible.

It proved quite an interesting part of the program. We give below the questions as well as the answers to the game:

No. 1—A part of the body and a vowel—Army.

No. 2—Light Knocks—Taps.

No. 3—A month—March.

No. 4—English and Scotch Rivers, and parts of the human body—Defeat.

No. 5—A boy's head covering and two thousand pounds—Cap-tain (ton.)

No. 6—A plaything and to help—Block-ade.

No. 7—The inside of a nut—Colonel.

No. 8—A small boy and a lovers' strolling place—Chap-lain.

No. 9—A baby and a grain—Infantry.

No. 10—A short sleep and what flour comes in—Knap-sack.

PLANS COMPLETE FOR Y. W. C. A. "TAG DAY"

Everything is in readiness for the Y. W. C. A. "Tag day" tomorrow, when a company of more than two hundred young women will visit all parts of the city and borough in a united effort to raise funds for the association. Miss Elizabeth McGee, as captain general, will direct the work of the various teams.

The "taggers" will meet the early morning commuters, tag automobiles, houses and people. Tea will be served at the association in the afternoon and evening for the workers as they drop in to make their reports. All the workers are expected to make a final report tomorrow night.

FIGHTING IN THE SNOW ON FORTY MILES OF FRENCH OFFENSIVE

By United Press:

With the French Armies Afield, April 20—It is the battle of the snows that is raging on forty twisting miles today, on the great French offensive front. French artillery fire turned the carpet of snow into mud and red spattered patterns, through which General Nivelle's men were advancing, always advancing, today.

GERMANY AND RUSSIA SIGN ARMISTICE?

By United Press:

Buenos Aires, April 20.—A cipher message received by the Spanish Legation at Rio Janeiro declares that Russia and Germany have signed an armistice, according to a dispatch from the Brazilian capital this afternoon.

The armistice means a cessation of hostilities to give opportunity to discuss terms of peace.

HAIG STRUCK AGAIN LAST NIGHT AT CAMBRAI

By United Press:

London, April 20.—Field Marshal Haig struck again last night at Cambrai. "We gained ground in the neighborhood of Les Eres-Guisland," he reported today.

Seven and a half miles from Cambrai this British smash around Villers-Guislain is the second formidable thrust in this section. Battle front dispatches today indicated that the British plan of paralyzing the line of communications from St. Quentin to Cambrai was still being followed by Haig's forces and to the north of the city that cut-cracker tactics were about to be adopted in smashing this key-city of the Hindenberg line.

ENGLAND TO LAY HER WAR CARDS ON TABLE

By United Press:

Washington, April 20.—Great Britain intends to lay all her war cards on the table when her commissioners meet United States officials here. She will present fully and frankly all problems. These will cover a wider scope than heretofore announced.

The general question of military and financial co-operation will be the foremost problem, but other subjects to be considered are diplomatic questions like ultimate peace terms, munitions, wheat supply, general transportation, blockade of Germany, communication, aviation and anti-submarine work.

ESCAPED MURDERER IS RECAPTURED

By United Press:

Holly, N. J., April 20.—Giovanni Iraco, alias Joseph Rocco, convicted murderer of Henry J. Rider, brother of A. J. Rider, the Jersey "cranberry king," escaped from the jail here this morning, but was captured a few hours later, near Burlington.

Iraco slipped out of the cell door when the warden unlocked it to take in his breakfast. Police followed the fugitive in automobiles.

BRAZILIAN STEAMER SUNK IN MEDITERRANEAN

By United Press:

Rio de Janeiro, April 20—Reports that the Brazilian steamer Belem had been torpedoed by a German submarine in the Mediterranean, roused further excitement here today. No official confirmation was obtainable.

A GROWING GERMAN REVOLT IN URUGUAY

By United Press:

Buenos Aires, April 20.—With an aircraft Brazilian censorship clamped on, reports from Uruguay today declared the German revolt in Brazilian provinces near the Uruguay boundary was growing.

TO SET ASIDE MATTERS RELATING TO IRELAND

At a regular meeting of the Friends of Irish Freedom of Plainfield held in St. Mary's Social Hall last evening the following resolution was unanimously adopted: "Resolved, That this society set aside all matters relating to Ireland until the end of the war and that we devote our entire energy in support of the President and Government of the United States."

A special meeting is called at St. Mary's Social Hall Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock, at which time it is expected every member of the society will be present.

P.-T. SOCIETY ELECTS OFFICERS

At a meeting of the Bryant-Lincoln-Emerson Parent-Teacher Association, held yesterday afternoon in the Lincoln school, the following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. T. Goodwin; vice-president, Mrs. W. A. Lippincott; secretary, Mrs. E. C. Glover; treasurer, Mrs. Nevin McKay.

RECLAIMS 77 SQUARE MILES FOR FRANCE

(With the armies in the field), April 20.—Seventy-seven square miles of France have been reclaimed up to today from the invaders by the five-days' continuous steady smashing by the French. General Nivelle's men have now progressed over a front of nearly 40 miles to a depth of three-quarters of a mile to four full miles. A score of villages and towns have been taken since Monday, when the great offensive started.

The German losses have been staggering.

POPE HORRIFIED OVER LATEST GERMAN PLANS

By United Press:

Rome, April 20.—Pope Benedict has been horrified and has expressed indignation over reports of Germany's plans to render fats and fertilizers from the bodies of dead soldiers, according to an article in the newspaper Informatione.

HUNGARIAN PREMIER COUNT TISZA RESIGNS

By United Press:

Zurich, April 20.—Vienna dispatches today said it was confirmed that Count Tisza, Hungarian premier, had resigned.

MANY ATTRACTIONS AT Y. M. C. A. CIRCUS

Barnyard & Dingling's circus, "bigger and better than ever," will be the attraction at the Y. M. C. A., tonight tomorrow afternoon and night. The great show will be under the direction of Robert Meermans, the physical director and acting general secretary.

The program which will be opened with an overture by the association orchestra, will include the grand march and leaps over the elephant, dumb bell drill, wand drill, Highland fling, ladder pyramids, exhibition flag drill, tricks on the parallel bars, hand balancing, club swinging, comedy slack wire performance and many other features. HEBREW SCHOOL OPENS ON SUNDAY

Classes to be Formed Immediately—Early Enrollment Is Urged

To study the history and literature of his forefathers, the Hebrew child will now have all the necessary facilities. Large, airy, sun-filled quarters, equipped in the most modern way and under proper guidance of efficient teachers will attract the child. A few of the features of the school will be the proper instruction in Hebrew and History. A library containing books, magazines and reference works on modern Hebrew thought, a society to develop the true spirit amongst them, a recreation place. Special Sabbath afternoon services and Sunday morning exercises.

All parents, Orthodox or Reformed, who desire the proper Hebrew training of their children, from the ages of 6 to 13, can take advantage of these opportunities. The committee will enroll new pupils on Sunday morning and the rest of the week in the afternoons.

The Board of Education states that since classes must be formed immediately it may be difficult to place a child in its proper class after the first week and so enrollment must be early.

CAKE SALE TOMORROW

TRUSTEE OFFERS TWO WILLS FOR PROBATE

Those of H. P. Reynolds and Mrs. Elizabeth DeForest Filed in Court

Attorney George W. Bird, of the firm of Swackhamer & Bird, acting as trustee and executor, yesterday offered for probate in the surrogate's court, Klizabeth, the will of Howard Prescott Reynolds, who was the dean of Plainfield druggists. Mr. Reynolds left personal and real property estimated in value at $15,000. There are no public bequests.

The property is left to Mr. Bird in trust, he to see that the testator's sister, Miss Elizabeth Lawrence Reynolds, is provided for, and after her death the estate is to be distributed according to law. The will was drawn in November, 1915, and the witnesses were Rolland Treadwell, S. S. Swackhamer and City Treasurer Arthur E. Crone.

Another will offered for probate yesterday by Mr. Bird was that of Mrs. Elizabeth DeForest, who resided on West Second street for many years. Mr. Bird is named as executor of the estate, the value of which is not stated. It is left to the relatives and several intimate friends. Among the beneficiaries are three grandchildren, George Francisco, of the borough, and Miss Isabelle Godown and Mrs. John Dixon, of West Second street. Mrs. DeForest was for many years active in religious and temperance work, and some time ago erected a drinking fountain in front of her home in memory of a daughter.

A Sick Giant

Hal Coffman, the well known cartoonist, recently drew a picture of four giants. Two, named "Cannibalism" and "Slavery," were lying on the ground, dead. One, "Intemperance," was writhing in a death struggle. The fourth, "Greed," was still up and fighting.

There is such a monster as "Greed" in certain department stores; and he soon becomes known to the woman whose intuition is backed by long shopping experience.

THE TEPPER STORE HAS DEALT THIS GIANT A SEVERE BLOW.

We work on a FAIR MARGIN OF PROFIT. We do our utmost to select merchandise of the highest standing in quality, material and make, to sell to you at MOST REASONABLE PRICES.

We do not try to attract trade to our store by the use of "VALUE PRICES" or UNDUE SUPERLATIVES.

We do not make claims which we cannot substantiate. Our price tags tell the story.

"Greed" has learned that he must forage ELSEWHERE.

BACK TO THE SOIL A GOOD THING

Says Henry Rogers, of Highland Farm, Who Advocated It Long Ago

When Henry Rogers, of Highland farm, began to advocate the "back to the soil" movement three years ago, little thought that his advice would be taken by the governors of every State in the union, as well as the President, and that the imperative need of raising more crops which was apparent to him then would be realized by all a few years later. It must redound to the credit of the Highland farmer for having pointed the way to greater economic efficiency at a time when few realized the importance of this subject. Now everybody is talking about planting gardens and raising produce to feed the human family. Discussing the subject yesterday, Mr. Rogers said:

"The European war and the possibility of this country being drawn into it, is given as the reason for this call to the soil, but as a matter of fact, the high cost of living can be traced directly to the indifference of the American people to agricultural pursuits for the past dozen years.

"Millions of acres have remained untilled for years, because our industrial growth has taken men from the farms although the men who used to work in the industries tilled the soil after their hours. Cast at a machine. The succeeding generation indulged itself in the comforts the preceding generations had provided, and finally the struggle for existence became so keen that the increase in wages was hardly sufficient to meet the requirements of the household, and instead of going to work in the garden as the men of twenty years ago did, those of the present time satisfied themselves by grumbling about the combinations that were formed to curtail the distribution of foodstuffs, and to regulate the price paid for the same.

"If every man with a garden (and nearly every householder has one) would have turned to the soil a dozen years ago, and produced each year a part of what he and his family consumed, there could be no such thing as the high cost of living, but when the farms were depleted through men going to the industries, and when city lots were allowed to remain untilled, the amount of production was decreased, and as population increased faster than the means of sustaining it, there was bound to come a time when the yield of the fields under cultivation would be far below the requirements of the human family, and as this scarcity of food made itself felt the purchasing power of the dollar began to decrease, and finally big wages meant nothing because a dollar only bought one quarter of what it did twenty-five years ago.

"We have developed to an extent that has thrown us out of balance. Our industries have thrived and our farms have been laid waste in many sections, because there was no one to cultivate them.

"This has been changed now, and the back to the soil movement is going to be of greater benefit than can be anticipated.

"We shall not only increase our food supply, but we shall have a hardier race of men. The boys who play about the street and get into all kinds of trouble, can dispose of their surplus energy in pulling weeds out of the garden or doing some other useful thing.

"It is my opinion that every school boy and girl should be taught that they must contribute by their efforts to the production of the food they consume.

"That doesn't mean child labor; it means the cultivation of thrift, and a feeling of the responsibilities each member of society owes to society as a whole."

RESCUE MISSION NOTE

George Stants, for many years associated with Rescue Mission work in Colombus, O., will speak this evening at 8 o'clock at the Plainfield Rescue Mission. Special music will feature the service.

DIVORCE FOR MAY EMILY COX

Vice Chancellor John H. Backus, Chancery Chambers, Newark, yesterday recommended a decree of divorce for May Emily Cox, of North Plainfield, from her husband, Charles H. Cox. The action, which was brought *on the grounds of desertion, was start*ed in September last. Cox failed to appear when the case was first called but filed a cross bill alleging that his wife had had improper relations with Charles H. Weakley, of this city.

So serious were these charges that the Chancellor appointed G. W. Moy, of this city, to defend the charges. When the proceedings came before the court yesterday it was brought out by Harry C. Runyon, counsel for Mrs. Cox, that an alleged confession which Weakley was said to have made to his wife, with respect to his relations with Mrs. Cox, was without foundation, and showed that on the dates when the acts referred to were alleged to have taken place Mrs. Cox was not in Weakley's company. It was admitted by Mrs. Cox that she met Weakley and that she had written to him when he was in Panama. She said that he had given her to understand that he was not married, and she believed that to be the case, until he returned to Plainfield with his wife.

Mrs. Cox then told Mrs. Weakley of her relations with Weakley, but they were not of the character which the defense tried to prove.

Several letters written by Mrs. Cox and Weakley to each other were offered in evidence, and it was also shown that Weakley signed the confession offered in evidence at the instigation of his wife.

The Vice Chancellor could find nothing valid in the charge filed against Mrs. Cox and said that he would recommend a divorce.

Mr. and Mrs. Cox were married by the Rev. J. O. McKelvey in North Plainfield in 1900. They have two children, a boy fifteen years old, and a girl thirteen.

Cox deserted his wife in 1909. He is now said to be in Arizona. Mrs. Cox was formerly Miss Emily Squires. G. W. Moy was counsel for the defendant.

FROM 1684 TO 1784

This Article, Written by O. B. Leonard, of This City, Continues Story of Laing-Manning Family

This is the twenty-ninth chapter on the early settlers in Plainfield, written by Oliver B. Leonard, of this city. The earlier chapters were published on the twenty-eight preceding Fridays:

Laing and Manning

ENOCH MANNING (son of James and Grace Fyfe Manning) was born about 1745. He married Janet Edgar Shotwell, daughter of Alexander Edgar and widow of Robert Shotwell. (By her first marriage was born Elizabeth Shotwell, and had seven children and by third marriage were born two daughters —found at end of this chaper). Enoch and Janet had three daughters—Mary, Nancy and Sarah Manning.

Nancy Manning (of Enoch and Janet), born 1748, married John Molleson; had Mary, never married, and Jane, who married Manning Stelle; had Rudolph M. Stelle, who married Clara Mathey, and had Randolph. Percy and Howard.

Sarah Manning (of Enoch and Janet), born 1756; married Oliver Ayers; had Manning, Michael, Edgar, Ann Maria and Eunice Coriell.

Mary Manning (of Enoch and Janet) was born 1784 and married 1801 Joseph F. Randolph (of Joseph and Mary, of Joseph and Esther). They had two sons, Robert J. Randolph, born 1803, and Enoch Randolph, born 1807.

Robert J. Randolph married 1828 Sarah A. Marsh (of John and Mary), and had four children, viz., Thompson E., Amelia, Sarah, John Joseph. Thompson married Maria Antoinette Ireland (of Thomas and Antoinette Ford Ireland), and were parents of Edith, Mabel, Sophie, Blanche, Willard and Antoinette, who married Judson Bonnel; have Margaret.

Sarah F. Randolph never married.

John Joseph married Lucy Evans; has Allen F. Randolph.

Amelia married first Leonard J. Carpenter, and by second husband, David R. Morse, had Fred R. and Sarah F. R. Morse.

Enoch M. Randolph, born 1807, second son of Joseph and Mary, married 1835 Margaret A. Van Syckle, and had three children, viz., Lewis V., Mary Eliza, Zeruiah.

Lewis V. F. Randolph, born May 16, 1838; married Emily C. Price, and have five children. Virginia married Lee Ashley Grace, whose children are Janet, Virginia, Sylvia, Frederick, Mary, Emily. Marian, unmarried. Caroline married Charles D. Parfit, M. D.; had Patricia. Josephine married Robert S. Weston; had Elizabeth and Joseph F. R. Elizabeth Blossom married Harry K. White; had Fitz Randolph and Jeannette.

Mary Eliza married Henry Molleson; had Anna.

Zeuriah married John F. Huntsman; had (1) Mary G., (2) Robert F. H.; married Leontine Lessignolle, whose children were Leontine A., Robert J., Dorothy, married D. Cory Adams, Jr., and Florence R. Huntsman. (3) John F. R., married Maude Aldrich; had Paul, Ruth, Virginia, Marjorie. (4) Edward, married Sybil Covert. (5) Ray, married Alice Estes; had Eunice. (6) Helen, married Harry P. Leavitt; had Lucille. (7) Edith S., married Clifford Walker; had Robert and Helen. (8) Zeuriah, married Granville Meader; had Elizabeth Blossom.

Elizabeth Shotwell, born 1780 (of Robert Shotwell and Janet Edgar); married in January, 1799, James Clarkson, and had seven children—Mary, born 1800, married John Merick; Catherine, born 1801, married Codington; Jane born 1804, married John Ryno; Jeremiah, born 1805; Alex P., born 1807; Sarah Ann, born 1809, married Joseph F. Randolph; James E., born 1811, married Almena F. Randolph.

After death in 1791 of Enoch Manning, his widow, Janette Manning, married 1792 Michael Coriell, and had Jane and Hetty. Jane Coriell married Jefferson R. Dunn; had Edgar Dunn, married Adaline Gardner; had Sarah. James M. Dunn married Martha E. Baker; had Alfaretta, married George P. Suydam; had Charlotte. Annie Dunn married Peter Buckelew; Emma. Ann Jeanette Dunn married Stelle Blackford; had Jennie, married John I. Brokaw. Samuel P. Dunn married Cornelia Gardner. Hetty Coriell married Oliver Ayers for her third husband, and had Jacob.

RETURNS TO WESTFIELD TO JOIN COLORS

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schladensky will soon move from Washington, N. J., to Westfield. Mr. Schladensky expects to report to the Government to see in what capacity he may be able to serve, having had 10 years' service in the Navy. He became an apprentice on the Constitution and Minnesota, was afterwards on the Consolation, Ticonderoga, Saratoga and Atlanta. He has served in the pay department and as a ship's tailor, and was on the Ticonderoga on the commercial cruise 78 to 81. The Atlanta was one of the first of the white squadron, called by the French the "tin" navy. He has been out of the service about 28 years, holding a position as manager of the Anchor Post Iron Works in Garwood for more than 20 years. He resigned this position nearly two years ago on account of ill health, and with his wife located in Washington last October.

Arrival In Their Home

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Borella, of 1242 Arlington avenue, are the happy parents of a baby girl, born yesterday. Both mother and daughter are doing well under the care of Dr. Pratt.

ST. AGNES GUILD TO PRODUCE PLAY

Will Give "The Rightful Heir" in Mrs. Maxwell Perkins' Private Theatre

A production of "The Rightful Heir" will be given under the auspices of St. Agnes Guild of the Church of the Holy Cross Friday evening, April 27, at 8.15 o'clock in the private theatre of Mrs. Maxwell Perkins on Rockview avenue. This will be the initial performance in the pretty playhouse recently completed on the grounds of Mrs. Perkins' residence. The seating capacity is limited to 150 people. Music and clog dancing by Charles Kreger will precede the play, which will be followed by dancing.

The cast includes the following: The Misses Dorothea Rushmore, Dorothy Thiers, Katherine Stevens, Dorothy Langford, Mary Barlow, Marie Sill, Ruth Small, Elizabeth Voorhees, Marjorie Thiers, Mrs. Reginald Fawcett and Miss Ditmar. Mrs. Maxwell is the coach.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the cast or of the following members of the guild: Mrs. Douglas Anderson, Mrs. Alson Abbott, the Misses Annette Van Mater, Katherine Sill, Miriam Carmen, Gertrude Holmes, M. Elliott, Claire Keworthy, Agnes Van Norden, Agnes Jackson, Dorothy Hannigan, Nelson and Hawkins.

SAGE TEA KEEPS YOUR HAIR DARK

When Mixed with Sulphur It Brings Back Its Beautiful Lustre at Once

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease. —Adv.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any druggist under guarantee to refund the money if it fails:

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the moneyback guarantee.—Adv.

UNDERTAKERS MAKE GREAT IMPROVEMENTS

Cole & High, the undertakers, of West Second street, have just completed extensive improvements. They have added a beautiful and convenient funeral chapel to their establishment, illuminated by electric lights, electric fans and a platform for the minister with side lights and such furnishings as make the chapel a place that appeals to those who are attending the last service for their loved ones. The trimmings are similar to those of a church and the mural decorations suggest the stained windows of a place of worship.

The entire building has been painted and re-decorated and the firm has installed a new automobile hearse so that families may have the use of either a horse-drawn vehicle or automobile service.

STATE OFFICIALS TO VISIT LOCAL KNIGHTS

Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., has planned to entertain the Grand Chancellor and his staff this evening on the occasion of the official visit here. There will also be the third rank conferred on a class of candidates. The work will be done by the degree team from the Lodge of the Castle of Somerville. There will also be many other visiting Knights present.

REGINALD LOOMIS CARTER TO WED MISS JANET BOWERS

Henry Bowers, of 57 Montgomery place, Brooklyn, today announced the engagement of his daughter, Miss Janet Christie Bowers, to Reginald Loomis Carter, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Samuel T. Carter, of Plainfield. Mr. Carter is a Princeton graduate of the Class of 1911.

STATE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DINNER

Three Hundred Enthusiastic Jerseymen Gathered at Robert Treat Hotel

Three hundred representative business men, bankers and agriculturists of New Jersey, from every section of the State, listened to a patriotic address by Governor Walter E. Edge last night in the Robert Treat Hotel in Newark, at the annual dinner of the New Jersey State Chamber of Commerce. The Governor outlined the preparedness measures that have been taken by the State through the military establishment and through co-operation with the Educational and Agricultural departments of the State Government and by close communion with the municipal authorities throughout the State.

He urged lending to the city, county and State governments and thereby to the national Government of every individual and general unit of energy that can be mustered, and won applause when he declared that in times of national danger since the days of the Revolution New Jersey has been a leader in its preparedness and in its contribution to the call of the nation.

George A. Viehmann, president of the chamber, told of its objects and its accomplishments. In opening his address Mr. Viehmann proposed a toast to the President of the United States. There were also addresses by Charles Lathrop Pack, of Lakewood, and Allen S. Page, of Sussex county and New York.

Plainfielders who attended the dinner were W. A. Garrigues, T. B. Koons, David T. Kenney, E. F. Feickert and Charles H. Frost.

In the afternoon there was a business session of the State Chamber, at which trustees were re-elected for the year, and there was a conference of leaders in many walks of life in the State under the direction of the State Chamber Federation, with Augustus V. Hanburg, of Newark, presiding. The object was discussion of the food and other problems that have arisen because of war conditions and that are expected to arise.

It was finally decided that the State Chamber will lend its fullest co-operation to the State and municipal bodies that are handling the different subjects under a comprehensive scheme announced several days ago by Governor Edge, the object being to prevent duplication of effort and to gain greater accomplishment.

The latter declared that the Lackawanna company has given close study to the matter of farm labor, and is prepared to help out by diverting a portion of its force of five thousand workers to the use of farmers, and to pay the men the difference between what they are now earning and what the farmer may be able to pay them.

AARON L. JIMERSON DIES IN 85TH YEAR

Aaron Little Jimerson, aged 85 years, died this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George W. Marsh, 11 Maple avenue, North Plainfield. He was born at Bound Brook and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jimerson, of that place. He was married on July 1, 1855, to Miss Charlotte Hand, and by the union there were eight children, three of whom are still living, Mrs. George W. Marsh, W. S. Jimerson and Mrs. J. T. Collins, the last named of Rutherford.

Mr. Jimerson was one of twelve children, six boys and six girls, and one brother, Albert L. Jimerson, survives. The funeral will be held in the Baptist church, [illegible] Plainfield, Sunday afternoon at [illegible] o'clock, and the burial will be at Scotch Plains.

Mr. Jimerson had a brick yard many years in Netherwood where the Fresh Air Home is located. At one time ex-Captain Frederickson worked for him.

LONDON ENTHUSIASTIC OVER AMERICAN DAY

Special to the Courier-News:

London, April 20.—Wild enthusiasm marked the observance of American Day in the streets of London. Enormous masses of people flocked to the city to welcome America as an ally in the great war. Especially crowded were the thoroughfares through which King George and Queen Mary drove to attend the ceremonies at St. Paul's Cathedral. In honor of the day everywhere throughout the city the American flag was prominent.

ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN BY YOUNG LADIES' SOCIETY

The Young Ladies' Society of the Nourse Avenue Methodist church gave a most successful entertainment last evening in the Epworth House of the church. There were numerous recitations and musical selections and the feature of the evening was a sketch, "Perry's Predicament" presented by the Misses May Stafford, Anna Lee, Stella Rink, Mary Mathews and Clara Lee.

MRS. LEVINE DIES IN MUHLENBERG

Mrs. Samuel Levine, of New Brunswick, died yesterday in Muhlenberg Hospital. She had been a patient for a short time.

Annual Profit-Sharing Sale

Planned on a Prodigious Scale to Your Great Profit

Crowds are here, there, everywhere. Selling is fast and furious. Everybody is sharing—glad to save a fifth, fourth, a third and more on the new spring goods. Plenty left, however, for tomorrow and Monday.

Because the sale has been broadly planned, we intend it shall be a nine days' wonder.

Many departments were crowded out of yesterday's announcement, but every department contributes to the sale. Upwards of a quarter of a million dollars are being distributed at prices amazingly low, about everything you need to eat, to wear and for your home is here at prices to make

Hahne's 1917 Profit-Sharing Sale The One Outstanding Event of the Season

P. S.—Because we are giving people what they want at prices far below what they had intended to pay, some items are rapidly becoming sold out. Though we shall replace these lots in so far as possible, but to share the sale to the fullest come as soon as possible.

We reserve right to refuse 'Phone, C. O. D. and Mail orders.

Not only saving you 10, 20 and 30 per cent. on the very goods you need, but also SURETY COUPONS, which bring you an additional 2 per cent. on every dollar you spend in this sale.

MERCY COMMITTEE GIVES $100 TO FUND

Many Activities Reported at Monthly Meeting of Special Aid Society

The local branch of the National Special Aid Society at its meeting in the Hartridge Auditorium yesterday afternoon was greatly encouraged over the announcement that the Committee of Mercy of this city had appropriated $100 to the society, the money to be used for civilian relief work which has become necessary during the present crisis.

Mrs. Frederick W. Goddard, president of the society, delivered a patriotic address, in which she urged the members not to stand in the way of the enlistment of their husbands or other men in the military or naval service, declaring that this is the time when every woman will be called upon to make some sacrifice for the country. The applause which followed the address demonstrated that all the women present were a unit in the sentiment expressed by the president.

In the absence of a special speaker, Mrs. Allan Cowperthwaite gave a brief address telling of the society and the great amount of work it is accomplishing at the present time.

The gardening committee of the society, comprising twenty members, has decided to take up its work at the Kenyon Gardens, where each member will be given a plot 8x12 feet for growing peas, beans, Swiss chard, carrots, radishes, lettuce, beets and kohlrabi. The committee will visit the gardens on Monday and Thursday of each week.

The knitting committee of the emergency relief has decided to devote its energies exclusively to the Naval Militia of New Jersey. Wool and directions for the making of sailors' sets can be obtained from Mrs. H. H. Rogers on Park avenue and the latter will also give free lessons to members wishing to learn how to knit and make these sets.

KILLED FAITHFUL HORSE

A horse which has been owned for several years by Frank Neidig, of the Lincoln Market, Somerset street, was killed by Lieut. Al Pritz today, the horse having been taken seriously sick.

IMPROVED MAIL SERVICE SECURED

Letters Will in Future be Dispatched From City Early in the Morning

Postmaster Alvin E. Hoagland, after considerable effort, has been able to make a new arrnagement regarding the dispatching of mails which should result in great improvement to the service. Under the new order all mail will be collected from every letter-box in the city at night, and dispatched from here on the 2 o'clock morning train to New York. This will insure the early morning delivery of mail in New York City, and close connection with express trains going east and west.

The collection of mail from the boxes will start each night, except Saturday, at Clinton avenue at 9.30 o'clock. From that point the collector will cover the West End to Park avenue, then North Plainfield and the Netherwood district, all of the mail being collected before 1 o'clock in the morning. The time cards on the boxes will be corrected to comply with the new orders as quickly as possible.

Mr. Hoagland is also trying to arrange to have mail sent west on the 1.20 o'clock morning train, and when that is completed due announcement will be made. Every carrier is instructed to make collections when passing letter boxes and thus prompt dispatching of mail is assured. The collection of mail on Sunday begins at 3.30 o'clock in the afternoon. It is believed that sending mail from this city on the early morning train will greatly facilitate the service.

FINANCE COMMITTEE MET

The Councilmanic Finance Committee held a meeting last night at which the budget for the present years was discussed. The question of increasing wages of city employes was also taken up and it is understood that Mayor Calkins took a position against any increase this year, stating that the tax rate will be sufficiently high without adding more to salaries, and that the wages paid here are not out of proportion to those paid in other towns.

WELCOME HOME FOR DR. AND MRS. ANDERSON

Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the First Methodist church, a social and welcome home will be given in Vincent chapel tonight to Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Charles M. Anderson. All the members of the church are cordially invited. Mrs. M. H. Ewart and Mrs. A. C. Wadley will have charge of the program.

James W. Jackson will preside and George Horne will make the address of welcome. The affair will be strictly informal. Refreshments will be served during the evening.

AUXILIARY MEETS TONIGHT

The Volunteer Auxiliary of Plainfield and North Plainfield will meet tonight in the Council chambers. The mobilization of Company K into the Federal service and the probable calling of Troop D in the near future will necessitate action on the part of the Auxiliary if the dependents of members of these organizations are to receive the aid to which they are entitled.

RISES TO PLAGUE

Some weeks ago the Philadelphia newspaper publishers passed a resolution opposing the principle of allowing the Federal Trade Commission to pass on the question of the price of print paper. They felt that such action on the part of our Commission would give it license to encroach upon other liberties of the press of the country.

If the Federal Trade Commission can fix prices of print paper, why not fix other prices? Now, just as the publishers of Philadelphia foresaw the possibility of such action on the part of the Trade Commission, here comes the action.

"It has been decreed by the Trade Commission that the practice of allowing newsdealers to return unsold copies must be stopped, as an excusable waste of print paper under the circumstances, and it is announced that any newspaper that fails to fulfill this condition and abolish returns cannot have the advantage of its arbitration as to the prices of news print." So there now you have it.

If it can say to a newspaper that you shall not do this or that in other business affairs, why can't it say to a newspaper, for instance, like this one that disagrees with the fundamental principles of the Trade commission; you cannot have the advantage of this public utility that has been created and sustained at the general expense of the people, unless forsooth, your editorial policy should coincide with the Federal Trade Commission's established views.

"The Press" believes that the Federal Trade Commission's actions in this matter are fundamentally wrong. It believes it unnecessary for the Federal Trade Commission to take any part in the question of print paper situation. There was a combine in restraint of trade on the part of paper manufacturers or there was not, and it was quickly within the power of the Department of Justice if it had discovered such a combine and acted accordingly. If such a combine had been discovered an indictment in a Federal Grand Jury would have had a very salutary effect, and that would have been a course open to the people themselves. "The Press" is opposed to government by committee, and believes in government by the people. The Federal Trade Commissions will arise to be a plague many times in future.—Philadelphia Press.

COMMENDABLE SPIRIT OF CO-OPERATION

There is cause for encouragement in America and dismay in Germany because of the whole-hearted spirit of co-operation manifested by members of all parties in Congress in preparations for a vigorous prosecution of the war. If there are a few objectors, they stand as individuals and not as representatives of any party. The obstructionists are as numerous in one party as in the other. Republicans are loyal supporters of the war—in fact the earliest advocates of preparedness and of a declaration of war were members of that party. They are ready to support the President, not with mere passive acquiescence, alone, but with active assistance. An illustration of this spirit was manifested when Senator John W. Weeks, of Massachusetts, and Congressman Martin B. Madden, of Illinois, introduced resolutions in their respective branches of Congress providing for the appointment of a Joint Congressional Committee on "The Conduct of the War." The appointment of such a committee, composed, as it specifies, of members of both parties, will furnish an admirable agency for the correlation of the work of the legislative and executive departments of the government. The committee, if appointed, will work during the recesses of Congress. Such a committee was established during the Civil War, and did valuable service for the country. In private life, Madden is a large contractor accustomed to handling large affairs employing large numbers of men. Senator Weeks had extended experience in business before going to Congress, is a graduate of the naval academy and saw active service as a commander in the navy during the Spanish-American war. Such men grasp the importance of correlated action, and would be valuable members of the committee, if it should be established.

EDITORIAL NOTES

The plotters will do well to spend their entire time plotting how to escape the long pent up wrath of the American people.

None of those people that seem to dislike the American flag so much have shown any indignation at sight of the American pay envelope.

It is surprising how hard the German people will fight to prevent themselves from getting National liberty.

Before the food speculators get all the money in the country, they might with profit to themselves take a day off and read what happened to the express companies.

The United States needs more farmers badly, but the boys have all decided that they are going to be captains of industry and operate big factory plants, or else possibly go to Congress.

Timid people are hereby reminded that if two men are seen conversing a long time in low tones under the electric light, it is much more likely that they are discussing the high cost of living than that they are plotters. The latter do not court the light nor public attention.

There are many people who are incited to undertake gardening by the wonderful pictures of the products in the seed catalogues, but when they get a catalogue of garden tools with hoes, spades, forks, and rakes their courage fails them.

Not merely will you have patriotic thrills when you buy a government bond, but it is sure to be worth more money just as soon as the war is over.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Boston Herald—And somebody finds in the records that 250,174 natives of Germany fought in the armies of the Union.

Philadelphia Press—When Secretary Daniels praises the "new spirit of the navy" we hope he doesn't mean that there is no more of the old spirit. That old spirit was always an honor to the navy, and from Barry to Dewey never failed.

New York Sun—The country is in no mood to permit war measures to be blocked by a kitchen cabinet.

Pittsburg Gazette Times—Soon there won't by any neutral nations to take over embassies for belligerents and then the war will just naturally have to stop.

Philadelphia Inquirer—There is some opposition to the plan for selective conscription, which has been embodied in the War Department's bill, but it is bound to come, and the sooner the better.

Chicago Tribune—When a stupid bureaucracy tries to conceal itself from criticism by penalizing the critic, it attacks democracy by refusing to allow the formation of an intelligent opinion.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

More Land for Planting

151 East Twenty-fifth St., New York
April 20, 1917.

Editor of the Courier-News:

I have two lots 25x100 in the Holly Park section, and if you know of any family who would like to plant them, they can have my permission.

Yours truly,
CHARLES F. WHITE.

Affirms Loyalty to Country

To the Editor of the Courier-News:

On numerous occasions during the past few days there have come to my hearing rumors that I had been arrested on the charge of uttering some treasonable remarks against the Government of the United States. I have been endeavoring to ascertain the source of those remarks, but, as yet, have been unable to do so. I am willing to pay a reasonable reward to any one who will furnish me with evidence which will lead to the arrest and conviction of the originator of said remarks.

In the first place, I desire to deny ever having uttered such remarks, as I am a citizen of the United States of America, have been for a number of years; have served two years as Councilman in this city, and have always lived up to my obligations as such citizen. It is true that I am of German birth, my grandparents, however, on both sides being French.

I feel that the remarks above referred to are injurious both to me and my business as a citizen of Plainfield, and that I am entitled to redress in case the perpetrators of such remarks could be discovered.

I might say, as an evidence of my loyalty to the United States, that in 1914, I, at my own expense, provided for a patriotic entertainment at Proctor's Theatre to the children of the City of Plainfield, and, on such occasion, presented them each with an American flag.

Respectfully yours,
FRED ENDRESS.

FREEDOM O'ER LAND AND SEA

When an alien hand attacks our land
We shall quickly to our colors fly;
We will fight and die in the battle cry
Of "Freedom o'er Land and Sea."

While we deeply deplore the horrors of war,
Yet we firmly and steadily stand
For the freedom of the seas, to go
where'er we please;
We're for "Freedom and Liberty."

The ocean's blue belongs to us, too,
And boat right we shall claim always;
Of "Freedom o'er Land and Sea."

Chorus:

Freedom o'er land and sea, freedom o'er land and sea,
Fling the battle cry on high, lift it upward toward the sky,
We're for "Freedom and Liberty";
And Old Glory shall float over every U. S. boat
That sails on the deep blue sea.
Freedom o'er land and sea, freedom o'er land and sea,
Fling the battle cry on high, lift it upward toward the sky,
We're for "Freedom and Liberty."

THE MARINES' HYMN

From the Halls of Montezuma,
To the shores of Tripoli,
We fight our country's battles
On the land as on the sea.
First to fight for right and freedom
And to keep our honor clean
We are proud to claim the title
Of United States Marine.

From the Pest Hole of Cavite
To the Ditch at Panama,
You will find them very needy
Of Marines—That's what we are;
We're the watch dogs of a pile of coal
Or we dig a magazine,
Though he lends a hand at every job
Who would not be a MARINE?

Our flag's unfurled to every breeze
From dawn to setting sun,
We have fought in every clime or place
Where we could take a gun;
In the snow or far off Northern lands
And in sunny tropic scenes,
You will find us always on the job—
THE UNITED STATES MARINES.

Here's health to you and to our Corps,
Which we are proud to serve,
In many a strife we have fought for life
And never lost our nerve;
If the Army and the Navy
Ever look on Heaven's scenes,
They will find the streets are guarded by
THE UNITED STATES MARINES.

LOCAL DEBATERS TO BE AT NEWARK TONIGHT

Champions meet champions when the representatives of St. Mary's Literary Society debate the St. Michael team in Newark this evening. The local young men are the Holy Name champions of New Jersey, and the St. Michael lads were victorious in the Essex county tournament held during the winter. The Newark team defeated the St. Mary's Society last October and the locals say that "revenge is sweet."

The St. Mary's debaters will be Frederick W. Greene, Edwin L. Sullivan and Joseph Gallagher. Paul H. Burns of this city will be the chairman of the debate. A large body of "rooters" will leave this city on the 6:38 train this evening.

POULTRY

START CHICKS RIGHT. The first few weeks is the critical time. Then Dr. Hess Poultry Pan-a-ce-a serves to protect and nourish. Let the little chicks have it regularly, so they will digest and assimilate their food. Nothing else you can do will help so much to get them safely past the time when diarrhoea and bowel trouble kill off little chicks by the score. If you do not find it makes and keeps chicks healthy and makes them grow faster and develop better, just return the empty packages to the dealer and get your money back. For sale by all dealers in poultry supplies.

LICE KILL thousands of little chicks. Get a package of Dr. Hess Instant Louse Killer. Start your louse battle early, which will mean chick contentment all summer long. For sale by all dealers in poultry supplies. Guaranteed.

MANY SEEM ANXIOUS TO MEET HIM

Yesterday's Announcement of the Quaker Man's Visit Read With Much Enthusiasm by the People of Plainfield

His Wonderful Work With QUAKER HERB EXTRACT at Most Generally Known. Troubles Also Be Made Happy Here, Like Thousands Will Sufferers of Rheumatism, Catarrh and Stomach Elizabeth Recently, Already Have in Elizabeth?

Yesterday's announcement in this paper that the Quaker Man intended to spend a limited time in Plainfield to demonstrate the marvelous curative power of Quaker Herb Extract was surely welcome news. Much has been heard and read about this great remedy, and it will now be learned to a certainty whether such glorious results claimed to have been obtained by people in near by towns will be found here also. The Quaker Man will be at Weiss' Drug Store, the Borough, commencing next Monday morning, and he invites all sufferers from rheumatism, catarrh and stomach troubles to call on him. He will show what Quaker Herb Extract will do for such complaints and wishes it understood, clearly and distinctly, that in all cases where it fails to help, the purchase price will be cheerfully refunded.

Just to give an idea what Quaker Herb Extract will do, the following is published, with consent. Miss H. Corcoran, aged 18, residing at 221 Orchard street, Elizabeth, relates as follows:

For the past two or three years I suffered from a rather peculiar stomach complaint. No matter what I ate or drank, distress would follow; gas would form and that caused heart pressure, shortness of breath and dizzy spells. I always had a disagreeable coated tongue and offensive breath which surely caused me much worry. I was getting nervous and inclined to have spells of despondency and melancholy. My complaint caused me to leave high school and my father thought by being at home, getting plenty of fresh air, etc., would help me, but these things seemed to make no change in my condition. I was constantly belching and my stomach would bloat even though I drank only a small glass of water. A few months ago, father brought home a treatment of Quaker Herb Extract. He insisted that I take it and I did more to please him rather than with expectations of being benefited. I has taken so much medicine that I felt disgusted with all. But this time I met with an agreeable surprise. I had taken Quaker Herb Extract less than ten days when I already felt remarkably improved. My food seemed to digest properly and no more gas formed. Oh! I cannot describe what a relief this was. Since then my improvement continued from day to day. I now feel fine, I can also say that in the past three weeks I have gained 2½ pounds. This may not be much, but it's enough to prove that I am well again.

Is not such proof as this convincing and encouraging? So if you suffer from rheumatism, catarrh or stomach troubles, be sure to call on the Quaker Man at Weiss' drug store. It costs nothing to talk to him and he will gladly tell you all about Quaker Herb Extract.

Any person afflicted with a tapeworm, by calling on the Quaker Man at Weiss' drug store either next Monday or Tuesday, can obtain the Quaker treatment absolutely free. This remedy will cause the worm to be expelled complete with head, within a few hours after taking. No dieting or starving necessary. This offer good for next Monday and Tuesday only.

Commencing next Monday and continuing daily for an indefinite period the Quaker Man will be at Weiss' drug store, Somerset street and Craig place, daily from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. It costs nothing to talk to him, but call as soon as you can.

tion of the food supply, together with the movement for farming and gardening activities, that the recreational work could not hope for proper consideration just now.

This does not mean that the recreation work is to be abandoned, for as soon as the war is over it is proposed to continue it as before. Immediately following last night's decision the members of the committee at the suggestion of Arthur E. Jones, who is one of the sub-committee heads of the food commission named by Mayor Leighton Calkins, decided to co-operate with him in whatever way was thought best to increase the food supply in this city.

Miss Lillian Lamson, supervisor of recreation work, it is expected, will also lend her efforts to some part of the work of organization of the food commission, particularly among the boys and girls.

The action temporarily suspending recreational activities was based on the following resolution, which was adopted:

Whereas, The Public Recreation Committee was organized to increase the use of the public school buildings for recreational, educational and civic purposes and to secure for the people the greatest use and benefit of the public property, and

Whereas, The work has been carried on over a period of five years with increasing public attendance, and

Whereas, The critical economic condition of the country has brought forward more immediate needs; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Public Recreation Committee hand over its work to the Board of Education, under which it properly belongs, and ask to be relieved of further responsibilities in that connection, thus leaving the members of the committee free to serve their country in other ways.

The Public Recreation committee was organized in January, 1913, following the appointment of members by Mayor Percy H. Stewart. The purpose was to introduce and promote a new phase of civic work through the wider use of the public school buildings. It now feels as though its work has been accomplished and the people are beginning to realize its importance to community life.

Every member has worked hard and faithfully under the leadership of G. Stuyvesant Simons, Arthur H. Jones, Henry C. White and C. L. Riley, who have served as presidents. Groups are now asking for the use of the school buildings, and it is reported that the past year's work has been the most successful of the organization.

The Board of Education will meet tonight when C. L. Riley will appear before that body and outline the action of last night's meeting of the recreation committee and learn the decision of the board.

BIG INCREASE IN CULTIVATION

Because of the efforts of the agricultural preparedness army of North Plainfield Township William Delaroche Anderson, commander-in-chief of the army, has been advised that farmers in that community will cultivate increased acreage this year, which in the aggregate amounts to more than 200 acres.

Mr. Anderson has received from Governor Edge a letter, setting forth that the executive appreciates the assistance Mr. Anderson has given in the matter of agricultural preparedness and that the plans put on foot last week by the Governor are along the line suggested by Mr. Anderson.

For the purpose of collecting quickly all necessary information to aid farmers in cultivating their lands Mr. Anderson has prepared a form for each farmer to fill out. It calls for a statement of the number of acres, horses and farm implements, need of fertilizer, help required and financial resources of the individual farmers.

WILL BE GUEST AT ST. GEORGE DINNER

Mayor William N. Runyon, of this city, will address the three lodges of the Sons of St. George at a banquet to be held at the Hotel Windsor, Trenton, on Monday night. The occasion will be in celebration of St. George's Day.

Other speakers will be Mayor Donnelly, of Trenton, and Supreme President J. H. Collins, of Philadelphia. The principal theme will doubtless be the bond of alliance which join the United States with Great Britain and the other allies at war. Senator James Hammond will be the toastmaster.

ANNUAL CONVENTION OF NURSES' ASSOCIATIONS

Measures of great importance and interest to the country will be discussed at the annual convention of the American Nurses' Associations to be held in Philadelphia from April 16 to May 3. The matter of hospital preparedness and the organization of detachments for training nurses and assistants for the emergency of war will be one of the principal objects of discussion.

JOSEPH O'KEEFE GOING TO CHICAGO

Joseph F. O'Keefe, of West Seventh street, has accepted a position with an automobile manufacturing company in Chicago, and will remove there in the near future. Mr. O'Keefe has for many years been in the employ of the D. and H. Railroad Company. He is a prominent member of the Elks and Knights of Columbus.

CIVIL SERVICE "EXAM" FOR MOSQUITO INSPECTOR

For the purpose of filling the position of mosquito inspector for Union county a civil service examination will be held Saturday, May 5. Candidates will be examined for appointment in any one or more of the following districts: Summit, Plainfield, Westfield, Rahway, Elizabeth and Cranford. The salary is $75 a month.

HELD A SUCCESSFUL DANCE

Over 150 were present last night at Debele's Hall to enjoy the social affair given by a committee composed of Roy Stewart and Walter Debele. The dance was a success, festivities continuing until 1 o'clock. During the evening punch was served the dancers who cavorted to the tuneful strains of Hartshorn's orchestra.

This evening Clan Mackenzie, O. S. C., will hold a reception at Debele's Hall.

CONTRIBUTIONS DESIRED

The Plant, Flower and Fruit Guild desires to receive donations of fruit, flowers, vegetables, sugar, cocoa, tea, rice, fresh eggs, soaps and any delicacies and other articles suitable for sick and shut-ins.

The above may be sent to the rooms of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, 10 Madison avenue, Boy Scout building, Monday afternoon, from 4 to 6 o'clock, and Tuesday morning from 9 to 10.30 o'clock.

MANUAL TRAINING TEACHERS ORGANIZE

Union County Organization Formulates Plans to Help Preparedness Movement

The Manual Training Teachers' Association of Union County met yesterday afternoon at the Plainfield high school, when the following officers were elected: President, Arthur F. Hopper, of Plainfield; vice-president, Martin J. Corcoran, of Elizabeth; secretary, Miss Mary E. Decker, of Plainfield; treasurer, Miss Elizabeth Pierce, of Cranford.

After the election the meeting was addressed by E. A. Reuther, assistant commissioner in industrial education, of New Jersey, who took for his topic, "How Can the Schools Help in the Present Crisis?" Mr. Reuther laid particular emphasis on the home garden movement and the part that the manual arts teachers should take in aiding the work.

He showed how the art department could help by making posters to bring the matter before the public. Ways in which the teachers of sewing and cooking could be of service in this national movement was also taken up. Plans for the forming of a junior industrial army were also explained.

Mr. Reuther placed the situation before the teachers in a very clear and concise way, and the address aroused considerable interest among all present. Short talks along the same line were given by Dr. H. M. Maxson, superintendent of the Plainfield schools and Dr. A. L. Johnson, county superintendent of schools. At the suggestion of the latter committees were appointed with a view to organizing and putting the various plans into operation as quickly as possible.

After the general meeting sectional meetings were held and the plans outlined by Mr. Reuter taken up in detail. Miss Lucille Jackson, of this city, discussed the possibilities of food preservation and also led a discussion on the practice cottage and its possibilities. The following committee will represent this section:

Chairman, Miss Lucille Jackson, of Plainfield; Miss Alice Lindsley, of Plainfield; Miss Sarah E. Davis, of Westfield; Miss Beulah Gradwohl, of Roselle and Miss Elizabeth Pierce, of Cranford.

Mr. Reuther was chairman of the manual training teachers' meeting and led a discussion on the organization of garden work and ways and means by which the shop teachers could help. The following committee was appointed:

Chairman, Arthur F. Hopper, of Plainfield; Clarence Shubert, of Plainfield; Herbert B. Clark, of Westfield; Martin J. Corcoran, of Elizabeth, and Willard Conroy, of Somerville.

Miss Lucille Haines, of the New York School of Fine and Applied Arts, was the speaker at the drawing teacher's section. She gave an interesting talk on the work of the New York school. The following committee was appointed to consider the making of designs and posters for forwarding the various movements now under way.

Chairman, Miss Grace E. Messer, of Roselle Park; Miss Anna Bennett, of Plainfield; Miss Helen L. Bass, of Cranford; Miss A. Heyer, of Elizabeth, and Miss Helen Stockton, of Westfield.

The teachers of the sub-normal classes formed one of the sections, the speakers being Miss Alice Leigh, of the Stillman school, and Mr. O'Brien principal of School No. 3, of Elizabeth. Various topics were discussed showing the possibilities of gardening for these children.

Much interest was displayed by visiting teachers in the work being done by the manual arts' department of the Plainfield high school. The following teachers were highly complimented for their work: Henry Oesting, wood work; Clarence Shubert, drawing; Miss Mary Decker, metal work; Miss Lucille Jackson, cooking; Miss Ruth Kleine, cooking; Miss Alice Lindsley, sewing; Miss E. Woodworth, sewing, and Kenneth McCulloch, woodwork.

KNIGHTS OF MALTA TO MEET IN KEARNY

The annual meeting of the Grand Commandery of the Ancient and Illustrious Order Knights of Malta of New Jersey will be held at Kearny Thursday, May 3. It will be opened at 10 o'clock by Grand Commander John C. Biehl, of Paterson. The various committees will meet on the previous evening to prepare reports, which will be submitted at the annual session.

One new commandery has been added during the year and a gain of thirty-five members is shown. Plans will be made at the meeting for an extensive membership campaign.

The following grand officers will be installed to take charge of the Grand Commandery during the ensuing year: Grand commander, William M. McBain, of Paterson; generalissimo, Paul Garrett, of Phillipsburg; captain general, Rev. A. Bylin Fitzgerald, of Passaic city; prelate, W. Stanley Woodruff, of Elizabeth; recorder, Rev. Frederick S. Benson, of Whitehouse; treasurer, William Saunders, of Paterson; senior warden, Burtis Ashman, of Trenton; junior warden, Jesse W. Miller, of Trenton; warden, William J. Saunderson, of Elizabeth; sentinel, Henry J. Miller, of Passaic.

JOURNEYMEN BARBERS SEEK WAGE INCREASE

A minimum wage of $16 a week will be sought by the local journeymen barbers of this city, it was decided at the meeting of the local barbers union held last evening. The pressure of the high cost of living is designated by members of the organization as the reason given for the seeking of an increase of the minimum wage at this time.

Although the barbers received a slight increase in wages less than a year ago, it has proved to be too little to meet the constantly increasing in the cost of living. A special meeting of the union is to be held at the Building Trades Council Hall next Thursday evening, April 26, at which time the date for putting into effect the new schedule will be set.

In discussing the subject this morning, an employer stated to a representative of the Courier-News that if the increase is granted, the price of hair cuts would have to be raised in a number of the local shops, possibly to thirty-five cents. No action on this matter, however, has been taken as yet.

NEWCORN DISTRIBUTED 250 PACKAGES OF SEED

Judge William Newcorn, chairman of the Republican County Committee, who yesterday announced that he had received a supply of garden seeds from Congressman Capstick for distribution among the people of Plainfield, announced at 11 o'clock this morning that the supply received yesterday was exhausted and that he has written to Mr. Capstick to try to obtain more seeds for this city.

Judge Newcorn states that between 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon and 11 o'clock this morning he gave out 250 packages of seeds. In each package there were five different kinds of seeds. The striking people of the city applied for them, and he is sure that they have been placed among people who will put them to proper use.

If it is possible to secure another supply from Washington, he will announce the fact through the Courier-News when they arrive, and will distribute them as freely as he did the lot received yesterday.

WILL OCCUPY NEW QUARTERS

Charles A. Kane, for the past eleven years associated with the Elvide Hattery Company and for the past ten months at A. B. Laing's garage on Sycamore street, will occupy the new King building on Grove street, near Greenbrook, when completed.

ARMY INSTRUCTION FOR SCHOOLBOYS

Supt. D. Fred Aungst, of the North Plainfield schools, in an address to the high school students this morning announced that the organization of the Cadet Corps will take place in the High school auditorium this afternoon.

Although Mr. Aungst declared that due to present conditions in this country, he is very much in favor of preparedness in the schools, yet after the war scare is over, none of the boys who now intend to join this group would be obliged to continue the instruction.

"Democracies are always unprepared, and always will be, for the people making up democracies do not wish to become cannon fodder. France and Great Britain, both modern democracies, were woefully unprepared for the present conflict even though France was so close a neighbor of the best prepared autocratic form of government, Germany."

Mr. Aungst announced that Prof. Harold Terrill, head of the chemistry department, had kindly consented to instruct the boys in the rudiments of war tactics. If the weather permits, the drill this afternoon will be out of doors.

THE FUNERAL OF MRS. JESSIE TENNYSON

The funeral of Mrs. Jessie Burdick Tennyson, who died on Tuesday, was held this morning at her late residence on Madison avenue, the Rev. Dr. Philip B. Strong, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiating. There was a large gathering of relatives and friends and there were many beautiful flowers, including splendid set pieces from the Young Women's Christian Association, the Beta Alpha Bible Class, of the First Baptist church, and the Billy Sunday campaign office.

During the service William Holmes sang "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "Crossing the Bar." Dr. Strong spoke tenderly of the heartsomeness, helpfulness and loyalty of Mrs. Tennyson.

The interment was made in Hillside cemetery.

EMMET AUGUSTUS QUARIES WEDS MISS ANITA STILLMAN

The marriage of Miss Anita Stillman, daughter of the late Prof. Thomas B. Stillman, of Stevens Institute, and Mrs. Stillman, of Hoboken, and niece of William M. Stillman, of this city, to Emmet Augustus Quaries, of New York, took place yesterday at the Astor Hotel, New York.

Mr. Quaries is the son of the late Prof. James Quaries of Washington and Lee University.

MAY USE SCHOOLS IN MAKING WAR SUPPLIES

Special to Courier-News:

Trenton, April 20.—Lewis H. Carris, Assistant Commissioner of Education in charge of the vocational training, has notified all the superintendents, directors and principals of vocational and industrial high schools in the State to forward him, not later than Wednesday morning, April 25, with information as to power equipment of their school shops, which may be used in the making of war supplies.

This information is in line with the inventory work of the resources available in the vocational schools which can be used in the program of preparedness.

As a first step the schools are being asked to send blue prints showing the following: (A) The layout of each power equipped shop; (B) A plan of each floor on which shops are located; (C) Complete list of equipment of shops; (D) List of additional available rooms and equipment; (E) Property plan.

As a guide for this information, the vocational school teachers are being supplied with a blue print of the woodworking shop in Middlesex County Vocational school at New Brunswick, and they are asked to follow its form. Clifford E. Parsil, director of the vocational schools in Middlesex, is assisting the Department of Public Instruction in making this survey. "This is only the first conscription it may be necessary to make in the near future of vocational school men," declared Mr. Carris.

MASONS PLEDGE LOYALTY TO WILSON

Trenton, N. J., April 20.—The Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of New Jersey yesterday elected William M. Thompson, of Red Bank, grand master; Herbert C. Horlick, of Newark, deputy grand master, William L. Daniels, of Jersey City, senior warden; Cooper H. Prickitt, of Burlington, grand warden. William F. Burr was re-elected grand treasurer, Isaac Cherry, of Trenton, was elected grand secretary, defeating Walter Chandler, of Elizabeth. Robert B. McAdams, of Elizabeth, was elected deputy grand secretary.

A resolution was unanimously adopted pledging to President Wilson the undivided support of the 45,000 Masons of New Jersey. The President's action in committing the nation to the cause of humanity by the declaration of a state of war with Germany was also indorsed.

William H. Jones, 55 years old, a member of the order, died at the afternoon session. He was a delegate from East Orange and was attacked by heart failure.

It was decided to hold the next meeting in Trenton, Newark tried to get the meeting, but lost.

BURIAL AT STAMFORD, CONN

The burial of Mrs. Elizabeth C. Weston, widow of George C. Weston, who died early in the week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Charles Morris Addison, of St. John's Episcopal church, Stamford, read the committal service at the grave.

RECEPTION TO PASTORS

A reception will be held this evening for the Rev. C. M. Anderson, D. D., at the First M. E. church, and for the Rev. C. S. Gillespie at Grace Methodist church, North Plainfield. Both receptions will be held in their respective churches beginning at 8 o'clock.

DR. HUBACH IN WEST

Rev. Dr. F. J. Hubach, superintendent of the Elizabeth M. E. district, is on a business trip to Chicago.

GLASS OF SALTS CLEANS KIDNEYS

If your Back Hurts or Bladder bothers you, drink lots of water

When your kidneys hurt and your back feels sore, don't get scared and proceed to load your stomach with a lot of drugs that excite the kidneys and irritate the entire urinary tract. Keep your kidneys clean like you keep your bowels clean, by flushing them with a mild, harmless salts which removes the body's urinous waste and stimulates them to their normal activity. The function of the kidneys is to filter the blood, in 24 hours and remove from it 500 grains of acid and waste, so we can readily understand the vital importance of keeping the kidneys active.

Drink lots of water—you can't drink too much; also get from any pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning for a few days and your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate clogged kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep their kidneys clean and active. Try this, also keep up the water drinking, and no doubt you will wonder what became of your kidney trouble and backache.—Adv.

LIFE AT CORNELL IN MOVING PICTURES

Prof. Durham, of University, Addresses Company of Boys at Y. M. C. A.

"Cornell Night," which was observed at the Y. M. C. A. last night was enjoyed by a company of more than two hundred boys from the Plainfield and North Plainfield high schools. The feature of the evening was the showing of five thousand feet of motion picture film which depicted every phase of life at Cornell University.

This included the training of the cadet corps, Varsity crew, track and athletic events, baseball, the social life and the alumni circus, an annual affair, at the close of the college year. Prof. Durham, dean of the arts and science department at Cornell, was present and in addition explaining the pictures also gave a talk on "The Advantages of Cornell."

Prof. Durham spoke more especially on what Cornell has to offer. He did not say that every boy should go to that college, but he emphasized many of the advantages of the college which he thought should appeal to many boys in search of a higher education. His remarks were greatly enjoyed by all the boys present. Albert Earley, principal of the North Plainfield high school, presided and introduced the speaker. During the evening there was a program of music by the orchestra from the borough school.

SUSPENDS AUTHORITY OF RECEIVERSHIP

Samuel N. Hong, supreme regent of the Royal Arcanum, yesterday sent the following telegram, which is self-explanatory, to Henry J. Bierman, grand regent of the order in New Jersey:

"General counsel wires that Federal District Court judge Aldrich today granted decree dissolving injunction and suspended authority of receiver in action against Royal Arcanum. Society restored to original status in transacting business. Case argued Wednesday decision yesterday. Acted as above without submission of proof on part of society."

LIBERTY ENLIGHTENING THE WORLD

That was a wonderful spark, destined to glow into a great light and cast its bright rays far, which was kindled upon this continent one hundred and forty-one years ago.

It is a light which has guided to republican liberty every independent people of the Western Hemisphere; it has illumined France; it lifted for a while the shadows from Spain; it has liberated Portugal and even distant China, and now at last has penetrated to the very depths of darkest Russia.

In 1776 most of the world was still governed by kings of absolute power. A republic was an untried experiment. The right of men to govern themselves was but an axiom; their capacity for doing it remained to be shown. America had to prove it to herself as well as to the world.

Well, America has proved it gloriously. This republic is no longer an experiment, but a successful demonstration; no longer weak, but powerful; no longer isolated, but bearing great world tasks, duties and responsibilities. It has become an inspiration, an example, a model and a mighty power among all the nations. —The Christian Herald.

OUR CLOTHES

$15 and $20

That there is a suit here for every man that comes in this store whatever may be his shape, size or financial condition. The beauty of buying a suit here is that you don't have to read just your choice to what is offered to you. You can get what you want. We purposely emphasize that point because the scarcity and high cost of woolens today are such that in many shops a man will want what he can get. Our Pinch Back Models in Greys, Blues, Greens and Mixtures speak for themselves.

All the latest in Furnishings, Hats, etc.

RUNYON THRILLS DOVER AUDIENCE

Recalls Battle of Lexington Where Colonists Fought for Free Government

Speaking at a patriotic rally in Dover last night, Assemblyman William N. Runyon, of this city, made a speech that evoked wild enthusiasm. Mr. Runyon has spoken in Dover several times in political campaigns, has many friends there, and was greeted by a large audience. His talk was filled with patriotic thrills and the enthusiasm evoked was so spontaneous and genuine that at times the speaker was obliged to stop until quiet was restored.

He said in part: "One hundred and forty-two years ago today the battle of Lexington was fought. It was a miniature affair as compared with the battles that are raging on the other side of the Atlantic now; it was fought by sixty or seventy "minuted men," representing the Colonial forces, who had been aroused from their slumbers in the early hours of the morning, by that immortal patriot, Paul Revere, as he rode 'through the district surrounding Boston crying out: 'To arms! To arms! the red-coats are coming.'

"At Lexington, the colonial forces were too weak to stay the progress of Gage's troops who pushed on to Concord, but the countryside had been aroused, and from behind stone fences and trees, the American patriots poured shot into the advancing British troops. When Concord bridge was reached the red-coats were met by a withering fire, and the advance was turned to a retreat and finally a rout.

"The men who fought on that day were fighting for the right to govern themselves; to enjoy the blessings of free men, and they fought so well that free government was eventually established. It was sustained in the great Civil War, and now we are called upon to defend it against a power that holds itself out as the only government fit to rule the affairs of men, the advocates of kulture that are trying to destroy free governments in Europe and througout the world.

"We have not desired war, but we are forced to participate in it in order to defend our rights, and to maintain the institutions that were founded on the sacrifice of those who fought at Lexington and Concord nearly a century and a half ago.

"Shall we defend it? We shall! We would be unworthy of the heritage that has come down to us through the ages did we not in the present circumstances gird ourselves about and prepare for the fray.

"Times have changed since Paul Revere rode through the country spreading his alarm. The telegraph, telephone, wireless, railroads and fast steamships, have effected the change and this change has brought the people of the world closer together so that they now live in the same relation to each other as neighbors on the same street.

"We are a part of the world and must take our part in the world's affairs. We must defend our rights now, or sacrifice them all forever, and submit to the yoke of tyranny, against which the immortal Patrick Henry protested when he said: 'Give me liberty or give me death.'

"We are called upon by our President to defend the cause of democracy. We have tolerated all kinds of insults in an endeavor to escape warfare, making allowance for the passions of those arrayed in combat, who in desperation might depart from the rules of international law and commit overt acts.

"But, when it comes to ordering our commerce off the seas and telling us that we must do the bidding of a foreign government, to that we say nay, and prepare for whatever may come. We have dwelt in peace for more than twenty years. The last time we went to war it was to establish the freedom of Cuba. We seek no conquest now. All we desire is that we shall be allowed to live in peace, and in order to make that assurance safe, we are going to take our part beside the nations that are now struggling against the nation that for more than forty years has been preparing for war, and which has on more than one occasion proudly crooked its arm, felt of its muscles and threatened the world.

"We have no grievance with the German people. It is the government of Germany that must be changed. In 1848 hundreds of Germans came to this country to escape the oppressive reign in existence there. Germans have been coming here ever since and have sworn allegiance to this nation. I doubt not that they will prove loyal to their land of adoption in its hour of trial. They know that they could not have prospered in their native land as they have here.

"Many of them have risen to prominence in all parts of our country. They took an active part in helping to preserve the Union in the Civil War, and while many of them may have wished for the success of Germany so long as she was at war with other nations of Europe I cannot believe that they entertain that wish now that the United States has been obliged to go into war.

"We have men and money with which to fight. The cause is one worthy of American manhood, and we shall meet the issue as we have met similar issues in the past."

LORD STIRLING FARM AT BASKING RIDGE SOLD

The Lord Stirling Farm at Basking Ridge, consisting of about 160 acres, has been purchased by John K. Nevius, of Bernardsville. The purchase price is not made public.

The old farm house which was the home of Lord Stirling, a general in Washington's army during the Revolutionary War, is still standing. Until recently it was owned by Mrs. Bertha M. Barkalow. It had been in the Barkalow family for a century. The title dates back to the original crown grant to Lord Stirling of 750 acres in this neighborhood.

"TIZ" GLADDENS SORE, TIRED FEET

No puffed-up, burning, tender, aching feet—no corns or callouses

"Tiz" makes sore, burning, tired feet fairly dance with delight. Away go the aches and pains, the corns, callouses, blisters, bunions and chilblains.

"Tiz" draws out the acids and poisons that puff up your feet. No matter how hard you work, how long you dance, how far you walk, or how long you remain on your feet, "Tiz" brings restful foot comfort. "Tiz" is magical, grand, wonderful for tired, aching, swollen, smarting feet. Ah! how comfortable, how happy you feel. Your feet just tingle for joy; shoes never hurt or seem tight.

MICHELIN

12 to 15% Extra Weight

Ask any user will tell you that Michelin "Always" Universals give remarkable mileage. Why? Because these unequalled tires contain more quality rubber and fabric.

Prove this by having us weigh a Michelin in comparison with other non-skids. You will find the Michelin from 12 to 15% heavier than the average. You owe it to yourself to give these high-quality, moderate-priced tires a trial.

DIVINITY STUDENT ENLISTS IN MARINE CORPS

Lancaster, Pa., April 20.—Practicing what he preaches, Eugene W. Whor, a divinity student, has answered the President's call for the co-operation of the clergymen of the country in the fight for democracy and human rights, by himself enlisting in the United States Marine Corps today.

Wohr told the recruiting officer: "After a long debate with myself, I have come to the conclusion that it is my Christian duty to give up my studies and enlist in our first line of defense."

SOUP

Soup is one of the less effective foods. It is very filling. But it does not take hold like corned beef and cabbage. Like our music, our drama, our opinions and our incompetents, soup is canned. They have built great palaces of delusion for that. There they coax it into the mixing vats, decoy it to gigantic caldrons and get it all stirred up with the idea that it's going to be eaten. Then they blight its hopes by pouring it into dark, gloomy cans, and it sits on a shelf days, weeks, months—maybe years—till somebody calls for it. No wonder soup gets despondent! We bought some the other day that was horrible.

William Delaroche Anderson, statesman, farmer, agitator, local optionist and press agent of various things, institutions and men, suggests a new outdoor field sport for the coming season. What is it? Killing potato bugs, of course. Entries for the championship events will be received any old time.

Dunellen will have two baseball teams on the field this year—the Dunellen Field and Dunellen Suburbans. No doubt both teams will have their followers and the successful bidder for popular support must produce the goods.

Between two evils some folks have no choice, so they embrace them both.

No man ever brings suit against the assessor for under-rating his worth.

The man who is unable to live within his income must live without it.

If matrimony doesn't make a woman what there isn't any hope for her.

There are times when a woman imagines that she suffers in silence.

A man sometimes makes money, but money never makes the man.

SOUTH PLAINFIELDERS IN U. OF P. EVENTS

Three South Plainfield boys are to participate in the U. of P. track meet to be held in Philadelphia one week from tomorrow. The boys are related and well known in this city, especially in P. H. S. circles.

Andrew McDonough, one of the three, will represent Notre Dame University; Francis McDonough will be in the meet from Georgetown University, while Peter McDonough, Jr., hails from the Plainfield High School.

Andrew, probably the best known in athletic circles, was appeared in a number of such meets, participating in short-distance runs and dashes. He has made a good showing with Notre Dame teams in the past year or two.

ROYALS WILL HAVE TEAM AND A SHOW

Minstrel Entertainment Being Planned to Raise Funds for Local Baseball Team

The fig is up. Whether Pete Simmons gets on the job or not the Royal A. C. is going to save a baseball team on the field this season. The Kline Brothers' Greater Minstrels intend to do the trick, put on a performance at the High school *auditorium on the evening of Thurs*day, May 17, thereby securing the necessary funds to run the team, and in the meantime entertain candidates for the team on the sand lots of the West End.

The management of the troupe claims it is going to put on a production that will startle some folks about this fair city of ours. Not only is the big first part going to be a great affair in itself, but a big farce comedy baseball act is to be staged on this occasion, as well as a military act, picturing the capture of General Villa and his band of Mexican bandits. Messrs. Kline promise a little more advance dope on both show and team in the near future.

Here's looking at you Midge; but hurry along with the team.

GUN CLUB SHOOT

The Climax Gun Club will hold *its last shoot of the season tomor*row afternoon beginning at 2.30 o'clock. A special program has been arranged for the occasion. The grounds of the club are located on the Johnson farm, Plainfield avenue.

MANY MANAGERS WERE BORN DURING APRIL

April might well be called the Managers' Month. Hugh Jennings, John McGraw and Jack Barry all were born in this month. Former major league managers who were born in April include Adrian Anson, John McCloskey, Billy Murray, Jake Stahl and Norman Elberfeld, Jack Hendricks, leader of the Indianapolis Indians, and Tom Needham, boss of the Newark Indians, also have birthdays this month.

The managers of the present and of the past who were born in April are as follows:

Hugh Jennings, Tigers, born April 2, 1870.

Bill Hinchman, formerly leader of Columbus club, born April 4, 1883.

Wid Conroy, Elmira, born April 5, 1878.

John McGraw, Giants, born April 7, 1873.

John Ganzel, Kansas City, born April 7, 1875.

Tom Needham, Newark, born April 7, 1879.

Jack Hendricks, Indianapolis, born April 9, 1875.

TARGET TIPS

L. A. F.

Q. Would a derringer be satisfactory for defense use? What I want to know, would it be better than any other firearm handling the same cartridge?

Ans. Yes. It would be just as effective as any other firearm handling the same cartridge. The cartridge determines the shocking or killing power, provided, of course, that the firearm from which it is shot is properly constructed.

Q. Is there any way to remove the double action from a revolver for target work?

Ans. Yes. By removing some of the parts it can be changed into a single action, but there is no advantage since the double action can be easily cocked by hand for target work and you always have the trigger controlled action for use at very close quarters.

GOLF LINKS FOR GARDENS

Golfers throughout the country will be urged to cultivate foodstuffs on all unused portions of their links and devote the proceeds to the purchase of ambulance trucks and other articles of national defense, it has been announced by officers of the Dunwoodie Country Club of New York.

Two hundred members of the Dunwoodie organization volunteered to work forty hours each week this season at gardening, etc.

H. W. Perrin, president of the United States Golf Association, is said to have pledged the co-operation of the national body in the movement.

BALTUSROL STARTING TIME

Starting time for Saturdays, Sundays and holidays will be resumed at the Baltusrol Golf Club Saturday and will continue through the fall as usual. Members have been notified that applications for starting received by mail or telephone after 9 o'clock in the morning Wednesdays will be allotted in the order of their receipt.

EBBETS FAVORING CHANGE OF DATES

Suggests Opening of Big League Season for a Later Date Than Present

When blizzards and blustery weather began to take knots in Eastern baseball this spring Charles H. Ebbets, Jr., who helps run things for the Brooklyn National League club, expressed himself as favoring later openings for the major leagues.

Every year or so there is some talk of setting the dates back, but when a good spring comes along and shoves in the dollars the talk usually is quickly dropped. Spring in this section this year, however, was so backward that the talk promises to take definite form. It is no fun for a baseball magnate to get a team in condition and then come North to the chilly blasts of unfavorable weather. It has been some time since a really favorable day appeared for the opening games.

"Nearly every year of late we have been getting wonderfully good baseball weather at the close of a season," Ebbets said, "and this is against unfavorable days in the spring. It would make no difference if we opened two weeks later and closed a bit later in the fall. Schedules would work just the same. It has been customary in late years to have the best baseball weather of a season along toward its close. I believe we should take advantage of it.

"Of course, there are some springs when conditions are ideal for baseball. But they are uncertain. Autumn weather recently was been consistent. I believe it's best to take what we are sure of."

John K. Tener, president of the National League, however, holds a different view. He does not believe advancing the opening would have any effect on the season. "Bad weather," he declared, "is just as likely to show up late in May as in the middle of April, and a glance at our records will show this. However, I can't see that it would hurt us any to make the change, and if our magnates want it it's up to us to make the switch.

HIGH BRIDGE WINS IN AN EASY FASHION

Special Correspondence:

High Bridge, April 20.—The Hackettstown High School baseballists met their Waterloo here Wednesday afternoon when they stacked bats with the local school team, the hosts taking the final verdict by a score of 16 to 8. After a loosely played first inning the locals tightened up, although the playing was erratic in spots.

Vliet of the visitors was hit at will by the local batsmen and was practically knocked out of the box. Because of the one-sidedness of the game the contest was called at the end of the seventh inning.

The baseball tosers of North Plainfield High School will take on a new opponent when they meet the Ridgewood H. S. players tomorrow afternoon at Ridgewood.

PENNINGTON BOYS DEFEAT BOROUGH

North Plainfield Team Suffers a 9 to 2 Licking at Academy Field

Playing under the cognomen of North Plainfield Athletic Club, several borough high school diamond men and a few graduates went down to a 9 to 2 defeat yesterday afternoon before the Pennington Academy players at Pennington. Dunnigan was in the field, coupled with erratic twirling at times by Dunning with men on bases, handed the game to the home team.

Pennington garnered only six hits off the local twirler, but two wild pitches with the sacks loaded and two passed balls by Yates gave the Academy boys seven runs.

Lance, the opposing moundsman, was no slouch and showed his wares right at the start by striking out the first two men facing him. In the half of the same inning Pennington got a man on first, who stole second and third on Yates coming to bat when Dunning uncorked his first wild one. The locals came back with a counter in the next stanza when Mair hit safely, stole second, went to third on a sacrifice by Kirch and came in on a wild heave by Lance.

Pennington scored three times in the third on two hits, two errors and a high one which Yates failed to reach. In the first half of the fourth North Plainfield garnered its another run when Dunning hit to right field and came in on Mair's single. The ended the locals' scoring for the afternoon, although they had a great chance in the sixth, but the necessary bingle was not forthcoming with two men hugging second and third.

Getting two more of the smeared variety when the local moundsman began another flight in the sixth, Pennington practically put the game on ice, although scoring twice in the seventh.

Dunning pitched good ball when he gained control after the fourth inning, but the damage had been done. Dawe and Kirch appeared in the second inning, the former landing on the ball for a pretty single in the third and putting up his usual good game in the short field. Kirch pulled one down in left in the fourth that was labeled for two bags and also poled out a single.

MEN!!

The fancy price you are paying for clothes nowadays represents about one-half actual clothes value; and the other half for "Pedigree" fancy label, skilfully worded, literary embellished ads. Such fancy words as "Distinctiveness," "Exclusiveness," "Authenticity" of style, "Smartness," "Character," "Dash," "Pep," etc., etc., with a couple of "Herculean" figures that take up about a hundred dollars' worth of extra newspaper space. In a word, you are paying superfluous prices for "Super Superlative" supposition. When you bring the clothes home, put them on your back. It is simply a good suit of clothes, and nothing more. Ever stop to consider that a good suit of clothes, without all this "garniture," might be bought for considerably less?

Here is where you can get clothes comprising all that is desired of them. Style, fit, tailoring and durability at such prices as $10, $12.50, $15; some at $18.

Suits and Topcoats

Truly Wonderful Values as compared with the "Pedigreed" kind. We have been selling them here for five seasons, and "We ain't broke, yet." What's more, our customers go out of their way to recommend us.

SOMERVILLE NOTES

TWO PLEAD GUILTY TO INDICTMENTS

The Grand Jury for the April court term reconvened Wednesday and late in the afternoon the members completed their work and returned 24 indictments. The jury was in session three days.

The newly indicted persons arraigned to plead Wednesday afternoon were Helen Hardwicke, a North Plainfield colored girl, and Stella Grobak, of Manville, both being held responsible for the death of an illegitimate child.

The Grobak girl, who was arrested last week, was charged with being the mother of an infant found along the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad, near Weston, last October. Arrested with her as a material witness was Mary Koatafaka, of Manville, who was afterward released.

Both the Hardwicke and Grobak girls pleaded guilty to the indictments against them and were remanded to the county jail for sentence April 27.

Hospital Has Successful Month

According to a report made to the trustees of the Somerset Hospital by Mrs. J. B. Hamilton, the superintendent there were 1,022 days of treatment given during March. The average number of patients during the month was 17, new patients admitted 34; patients discharged, 30; operations, 13; births, 3, and patients remaining, 13.

Treasurer D. N. Messler reports that the total cash receipts for the month were $2,746.16. The total disbursements for the month amounted to $2,583.02.

All of the sidewalls and ceilings in the hospital have been newly painted.

Manville to Have Baseball Team

The H. W. John's Manville Company will be represented on the baseball field during the coming season by a fast and snappy team. It will be the representative team of Somerville and Bound Brook and will play the home games on a private diamond at Manville. The team plans to play Sundays on the home grounds. The out-of-town games will be played Saturdays. The Manville players are desirous of booking teams only of the highest calibre. Books are now open for a game or a series of games. G. F. Cassidy is Manager.

Part of Cornell Estates to Be Sold

A large part of the Cornell estates, the only open country between Somerville and Raritan, will be sold in building lots May 12. On the property are some of the most desirable building lots to be found in either of the municipalities. The sale will open up a tract that has long been closed to public purchase. Once the property is built up, Somerville and Raritan will be geographically one.

Many Naturalization Applications

The rush of applicants to the county clerk's office for naturalization continues. Within the past few days 24 aliens have made application to become American citizens. The majority have been Italians with a sprinkling of Germans, Austrians and Englishmen.

BOROUGH OF MIDDLESEX

To Hold Fruit Canning Demonstration

Under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher Association of Middlesex Borough, there will be a demonstration of the canning of fruits and vegetables at Watchung school on Tuesday next, April 24, at 2:30 p. m. The demonstrator comes from the New Jersey Agricultural Station at New Brunswick; the method she will use and explain in canning fruits and vegetables is a reliable one and involves less labor than the usual methods.

Watchung school is on Fisher avenue and is easily reached by the Main Line trolley. The Parent-Teacher Association cordially invites every one interested in canning and preserving to attend this demonstration. Please note the hour, 2:30 p. m.

WATCHUNG

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Mary E. Wilson Memorial Union church will hold a delicatessen sale in the Watchung school house, Saturday. There will be on sale homemade bread, cakes, candy, salad, and other delicacies. All are welcome.

The regular monthly meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association will be held this evening in the Watchung School Auditorium. All parents and friends are urged to be present.

WESTFIELD

MUSIC CLUB HEARS KNEISEL QUARTET

The third concert under the auspices of the Musical Club was given in the auditorium of the high school last night. The concert was given by the Kneisel Quartet of New York and was attended by an audience which taxed the seating capacity of the auditorium as this was the last opportunity that music lovers will ever have to hear this wonderful quartet of musicians, as they are soon to disband. Those who attended the concert were simply carried away with the program which was rendered.

The numbers on the program were of a high order and appealed to all lovers of music who were at the concert in large numbers. This is the last concert that the Musical Club will give this season and was a fitting climax to a most successful series of concerts which the club has given.

Mrs. Bartlett Addresses P.-T. Association

The Parent-Teacher Association of the Lincoln school held its monthly meeting in the school building Saturday afternoon and it was attended by about thirty-five of the members. Following the business meeting there was an interesting address by Mrs. H. N. Bartlett, who spoke on "Rainy Day Work in the Home for Children Under School Age." Miss Dorothy Dushenck and Mrs. Frank Moffett played a piano duet and George Marsh sang a Scotch song in a charming manner.

The flag for having the most mothers present at the meeting was awarded to the fifth grade for the second time. After the program of the afternoon a social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served.

Luncheon for Bride-elect

The Misses Catherine Dietz, Florence Martin and Marion Kyes tendered Miss Edith Male Gladwin, who is to become the bride of Donald C. Taggart tomorrow morning, a surprise luncheon at the home of Miss Dietz, on Kimball avenue, yesterday afternoon. The decorations were all in yellow and Miss Gladwin received many handsomp presents.

Those present were: Mrs. Donald Sparsall, Mrs. John Thompson, Mrs. Kenneth Wilcox, Miss Helen Griffiths, Miss Helen Jackson, Miss Pauline Rall, Miss Emma Peirce, Miss Lucee Peirce, Miss Grace Collins and Miss Madelyn Worth.

Planning for May Festival

The Young Ladies' Auxiliary of the Children's Country Home held a meeting at the home of Miss Hilda Platt on the New Providence road yesterday afternoon and discussed plans for the annual May Day Festival of the Children's Country Home which will be held on Saturday, May 26th. Miss Catherine Dietz was made chairman of the entertainment committee. It was not decided as to what part the auxiliary will take in the festival this year.

CHURCH SOCIETY RE-ELECTS TRUSTEES

At its annual meeting last night the congregation of the First Presbyterian church unanimously re-elected for trustees, Joseph G. Watson and Blanchard J. Gardner. The latter presided at the meeting.

The session opened at 7.30 o'clock with supper served to about 100 members by a committee of ladies headed by Mrs. C. B. Mattis, as chairman. After enjoying this appetizing spread the business meeting began. The pastor, the Rev. E. R. Brown, referred to the many activities of the past year and the prospects of another substantial growth of the society during the coming year. There are now 210 members, and the total income during the year was in the neighborhood of $5,000.

The report of the treasurer and of the auxiliaries of the church was very encouraging. Following a short conference the meeting closed with the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" and the benediction pronounced by the pastor.

The Funeral of Mrs. Nagy

The funeral of Mrs. Julia S. Nagy took place this morning at 8 o'clock from her late home on Bound Brook road, and thence from St. John's Church at 9 o'clock. Interment took place in St. Mary's cemetery, Plainfield. The deceased died suddenly on Tuesday in her twenty-fifth year.

Defense League Drills at Wayside Park

The Home Defense League of Middlesex Borough, drilled last night at Wayside Park, West Dunellen. A large number of men of the borough responded.

Announces Engagement

Mrs. Howard S. Barton, 209 Dunellen avenue, wishes to announce the engagement of her sister, Miss Anna D. Sterbem, to Charles Fred Benbrook, of Somerville, New Jersey.

Wedding Bells to Ring

The wedding of Miss Vila M. Bowlby to James H. Townley, of this borough will take place at 7 p. m. at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Townley, on May 10.

Mrs. Sarah Ayers, of Center street, has just passed her seventy-fifth birthday. The birthday was pleasantly passed on Monday afternoon and the gathering of friends at her home in this borough.

The local post office has been added to the list of recruiting stations in these parts. If you desire to enlist in the army or navy just talk it over with Postmaster Apgar.

The Parent-Teacher Association held a cake sale this afternoon at Sauer's pharmacy. The ladies in charge disposed of a large amount of home-made cooking.

Friends of T. J. Bonayne, who has been a victim of rheumatism for some time, are glad to see him back at his former position again.

Parker Morton, of Eatontown, was a visitor here on Wednesday, and attended the von Minden-Giles nuptials at New Market.

SCOTCH PLAINS

DEFENSE LEAGUE IS ORGANIZED

The Scotch Plains Township Home Defense League has completed its organization. Application blanks are being signed readily by the residents and drills will soon be held. At the meeting held on Tuesday night several new special officers were sworn in. Walter Brown and William Lindsay were appointed drill masters, and will have full charge of this part of the work. Both Mr. Brown and Mr. Lindsay are experienced drill masters, having had National Guard experience, and the League considers itself fortunate to have such material in the organization, as it will save considerable expense.

It is expected that plans will be perfected so that regular drills will be held within a week or two. The signing of the applications for membership in the league does not make drilling compulsory. There are a number of the younger men in town who will take up this branch of the work, and the league will have a drill squad of at least fifty men. Other members of the league will be assigned to emergency work.

John Z. Hatfield, chairman of the Home Defense League, has given the use of the property at the corner of Park avenue and Second street as a drill ground. This offer includes the building on the property which can be used for meetings or as a shelter in case of storm.

It is the intention of the committee to erect a flag pole on the property and within a short time a town flag raising will be held.

The expenses in connection with the league will have to be taken care of by subscription. The Township Committee has already donated a sum in order to put the league on a financial basis. Other money will have to be raised and the members of the league earnestly request that any who desire to show their patriotism and do their part toward the Home Defense of the town, will send check or cash to William F. Ward, treasurer, or William R. Buckley, chairman of the Finance Committee. Application blanks can be secured from the secretary, L. F. Morgan, or any member of the committee.

ANNANDALE

Mrs. Frank Hawk of the Clinton vicinity underwent an operation in the private hospital of Dr. Paul G. Correll in Easton Pa., Tuesday.

The prayer meeting of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Norton, will be held tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Dennis.

Charles V. Woolverton, principal of the Annandale school for three years, has resigned to be head of the Bloomsbury school.

Charles Jeffrey of Washington, N. J., is making a stay of several days with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Garrison.

CALIFON

FUTURE IMMIGRATION POLICY

Frederic C. Howe, Commissioner of Immigration at the Port of New York, gives abundant occasion for grave thought in his article in the May Scribner on "Our Future Immigration Policy."

"The 'old immigration' from northern Europe ceased to be predominant in the closing years of the last century. Then the tide shifted to southern Europe, to Italy, Austria-Hungary, Russia, Poland and the Balkans. A new strain was being added to our Anglo-Saxon Germanic stock. The 'new immigration' did not speak our language. It was unfamiliar with self-government. It was largely illiterate. And with this shift from the 'old immigration' to the 'new' immigration increased in volume."

EXEMPTS PLEDGE LOYALTY TO WILSON

Resolutions pledging the support of every member to the President in the course he is following in regard to Germany were adopted at a meeting of the Exempt Firemen's Association Wednesday. Resolutions were adopted expressing a willingness to do fire duty in this city in case of necessity. It is realized that should there be a serious conflagration the fire department would need all the available help and the exempts feel equal to rendering service in such an event. These officers were elected for the coming year:

President, V. W. Nash, Sr.; vice-president, T. O. Doane; secretary, George Hoagland; assistant secretary, Guillermo Thorn; treasurer, Eugene M. Laing; trustees, D. W. Littell, Eugene M. Laing, W. A. Woodruff, C. F. Graves and Frank Day; representative to Relief Association, Guillermo Thorn and V. W. Nash, Sr.; representative to board of visitors of the Firemen's Relief Association, George Clark.

GERMANY DENIES SUBMARINE STORY

Special to the Courier-News:

Amsterdam, April 20.—The Imperial German Government is indignant over reports that German U-boats have been seen off the American coast, either lying in wait for vessels or contemplating or delivering an attack upon American shipping. An official communication was issued in Berlin today in denial. It says:

"The allegation that a German submarine attacked an American destroyer off the coast of the United States is false. Such a report can have been made only for the purpose of imputing to Germany the starting of actual hostilities between the two countries. There is no German submarine anywhere in the western Atlantic ocean."

STATE BOARD CONSIDERS SHORTAGE OF FOOD

The New Jersey State Board of Agriculture met in Trenton yesterday, to consider the question of the shortage of the food supply and to take such action as lay in their power to provide for an increase supply for the coming year. Reports submitted by the different members showed that last year there was a shortage in the corn, wheat and oats crop and also in the potato crop due to wet weather in May and June and to the long drought and early fall frost. This condition would not be so serious had the usual importation of food stuffs been forthcoming, but because of the war not only was there no importation of potatoes as is usually the case during periods of high prices but there was the unusual exportation of food products due to the war. This has resulted in the present scarcity of food stuffs and the unprecendented high prices. The reserve supplies are almost exhausted and unless an unusually large crop is grown during the coming season the United States faces the danger of a food shortage bordering on famine conditions during next winter.

Reports were received from all parts of the State showing that there is such a shortage in farm labor that unless something is done to supply help for planting and harvesting crops, the production will be much less than the case in ordinary years. It is conservatively estimated that throughout the United States as a whole there is only from thirty to seventy per cent. of the usual supply of labor on the farms and no more available. Many farms which usually have two hired men report none and similar conditions exist throughout all sized farms. This shortage of labor is bound to result in decreased food crops and the State Board is doing what they can to counteract this condition by various means. Some weeks ago a letter was sent to all the superintendents of schools explaining the situation to them and urging them to have the students cooperate in the raising of food supplies in some gardens and on vacant lots. A bulletin on home gardens has been prepared and an edition of forty thousand copies is very largely exhausted owing to demands made on the Department for information regarding home gardens. A letter is also being sent to the heads of all municipalities in the State urging them to co-operate in this campaign and asking them to try to have all home gardens worked to the limit and also to try to get vacant lots given to those willing to cultivate them. If the people of the State respond, this will result in a considerable increase in the supply of vegetables and perishable foods but will not seriously influence the production of the great staple crops like corn, wheat, potatoes and hay, all of which will be urgently needed.

A circular is being sent to all farmers of the State urging them to eliminate as far as possible all sources of waste on farms, urging them where they have the labor to cultivate every inch of available ground. They are also urged to avoid the use of unnecessary luxuries during the period of the war and to exert every effort to preserve surplus supplies from going to waste by canning them for winter use.

STATE PRISONERS TO WORK ON FARMS

Special to Courier-News:

Trenton, April 20.—The State House Commission made a further extension of the so-called "State Use" system of employing State prisoners and wards Wednesday when it decided to put into immediate cultivation the farm of 448 acres recently purchased at Annandale, Hunterdon County.

Boys from the Rahway Reformatory will be taken to the farm to aid the agricultural production, and two auto ploughs, which have been loaned the State for use in its farm products campaign, will be sent to the scene of new activity. Superintendent Moore, of Rahway, will have supervision over the work at the Annandale farm.

Of the 448 acres, 250 will be devoted to the growing of corn; 100 to beans and the balance to alfalfa.

Sure! High Heels Cause Corns But Who Cares Now

Because style decrees that women crowd and buckle up their tender toes in high heel footwear they suffer from corns, then they cut and trim at these painful pests which merely makes the corn grow hard. This suicidal habit may cause lockjaw and women are warned to stop it.

A few drops of a drug called freezone applied directly upon a sore corn gives quick relief and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out without pain. Ask the drug store man for a quarter of an ounce of freezone, which costs very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

This drug is an ether compound and dries in a moment and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. Clip this out and pin on your wife's dresser.—Adv.

FRENCH PIERCE GERMAN LINES

Drive Back 240,000 Fresh Teuton Reserves.

NEW WEDGE IN CHAMPAGNE

Force Invaders to Retire For Three Miles North of Aisne River, First Retreat on That Front Since Battle of the Marne—"Success Everywhere on Sixty Mile Front," Paris War Office Reports.

London, April 20.—Part of the famous "Hindenburg reserves" were thrown into battle to hold the southern part of the "Hindenburg line" against the ceaseless French onslaughts. Twelve divisions took the places of the battered front line troops who had been hammered further and further back ever since General Nivelle began his big drive. But they were of no avail. Irresistibly the republic's army swept on, itself re-enforced and partly replaced by fresh troops, many of them mere boys of the class of 1917.

Two hundred and forty thousand Teuton soldiers—for that is the war strength of twelve divisions—made heroic but vain efforts to stem the French tide on the sixty mile front between Soissons and Auberive. "Success everywhere" was the keynote of the French official day report. On the Anglo-German front there were no infantry actions.

French Troops Pressing On.

Both north of the Aisne and in the Champagne the French pushed onward, beating off all counter thrusts. General Nivelle pressed his lines from Chavonne, on the Aisne, more than three miles north of the river. For the first time since the battle of the Marne the Germans have been compelled to yield ground on this front. Meanwhile in the Champagne the French have driven a powerful wedge into the Teuton defense system between Ripont and Auberive, a wedge more than three miles deep. In the last twenty-four hours they stormed another series of formidably fortified heights in the Moronvillers sector.

Two additional German batteries fell to the French, bringing the total number of guns captured since Monday close within the 100 mark. The total toll of German prisoners taken by the British and French since April 9 is now approximately 31,000.

The defeat of the twelve German fresh divisions is counted by military experts among the most glorious achievements of the French army since the outbreak of the war. The figures given also indicate the gigantic proportions of the battle now raging. It shows that an average of 4,000 fresh troops were sent to every mile of the sixty mile front making, together with the units left there, probably 10,000 men to the mile.

This gives a total of 1,500,0000 Germans on the 150 mile front on which the Anglo-French drive is being made, or a grand total of 3,000,000 British, French and German soldiers on this front, which is about one-third of the whole western battle line.

RECEPTION FOR BALFOUR.

Program Complete For Honoring Allied War Missions.

Washington, April 20.—Arrangements are practically complete today for the reception of the British commission headed by former Premier Balfour. A program has been laid out for conferences between the visiting officials and those of this government, although nothing has been revealed as to when the commissioners will arrive.

Shortly after his arrival Minister Balfour and his staff will dine with President Wilson at the White House. On the following evening dinners will be given by the secretaries of state, war, navy and treasury.

The conferences will be held in the departments interested, and all departments are now selecting the officials who will confer with the visitors.

GIVES EMBARGO POWER.

Bill In Senate to Prevent Germany Getting Food From Us.

Washington, April 20.—Prohibition of exportation of American products to foreign countries except under express supervision of the president of the United States is provided in a bill introduced in the senate by Senator Fernald of Maine. The purpose is to stop the exportation of foodstuffs and materials useful to America's enemies. The bill has received the unanimous approval of the committee on commerce.

The legislation would give the president authority to hold up shipments where there is anticipation that neutral nations contiguous to the central powers may have opportunity to ship such materials and foodstuffs as may serve to assist the armies or the population of Germany.

Offers Sixteen Farms to United States.

Philadelphia, April 20.—Sixteen farms in the White mountain region of New Hampshire are offered to the government by their owner, Henry S. Hale, a local manufacturer. Mr. Hale said the farms total 5,000 acres and are in high state of cultivation. He made the offer "on account principally of the food and labor problem."

Wear the American Colors on Your Lapel Free for the Asking

Vol. 2, No. 36 NEWARK, N. J., APRIL 20, 1917 Priceless

Editorial

America is waking up—yes, indeed.

Did you ever, in all your life, see such wonderful activity? Did you ever see so many of the country's big men volunteering their services—giving up their immensely valuable time for conferences looking to preparedness for the eventualities that not only may come, but which are almost sure to come?

On down the line the workers are offering to do their bit in factory and field.

Business men, hardly knowing which way to turn to be of most use, are, through various organizations, giving full support to the onward movement.

We knew when it came to a show-down America would be all right.

We are going to show the world that we have outgrown our swaddling clothes and we're a sure-enough world power.

Speaking of Clothes, don't let us forget to keep up appearances here at home. We can't all wear military uniforms—and we shouldn't permit the war feeling to dominate our spirits so much as to lead us to be gloomy and to show it in our dress.

Brighten up Cheer up. Dress up.

EMERGENCY LOAN OF $150,000,000

Secretary McAdoo to Borrow For Temporary Use.

Washington, April 20.—An emergency loan of $150,000,000 is being arranged by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo. The treasury's funds are being so rapidly depleted by the incidental war expenses aside from the greater war program to be financed by the new war bond bill that temporary financing is imperative. The secretary is in communication with banks and will soon issue a statement announcing the placing of $150,000,000 of short term certificates, probably of three months maturity and bearing 2½ per cent interest.

Secretary McAdoo at first intended to borrow $200,000,000, at this time, but after conferences with bankers decided that $150,000,000 is all that is advisable to borrow now.

The securities will be of the same sort as those constituting the $50,000,000 loan floated by him a few weeks ago. These loans are not regarded as permanent financing, but are intended merely to tide the treasury over until the income tax is received in heavy volume during June.

The $150,000,000 loan will be handled through the federal reserve banks, principally the one of New York. The recent $50,000,000 loan was apportioned among the twelve reserve banks, but in this case the loan will be passed on by those institutions to private banks.

Burlington Phone Rates Stand.

Trenton, April 20.—Deciding that the Farmers' Telephone company, which operates in Burlington county, had not sustained the burden of proving proposed increases in rates were just and reasonable, the public utility commissioners have directed the company to maintain the same rates and areas of service as were in effect Jan. 16 last.

CONNECTICUT MAN INSURES FOR $1,000,000.

New Haven, Conn., April 20.—One of the largest individual insurance policies ever made out in Connecticut was written when the life of Frederick F. Brewster was insured for $1,000,000. The policy was taken out because of uncertainty arising from the war. Mr. Brewster is director in several leading corporations, including the New Haven railroad. His father was Benjamin Brewster, the original treasurer of the Standard Oil corporation.

CELEBRATED BIRTHDAY

Claude J. Roseberry, of West Fourth street, was the host of a surprise party last evening in honor of his thirty-sixth birthday. The guests arrived at his home while he was in attendance at one of the meetings at Hope Chapel, and were on hand upon his return. The evening was pleasantly spent in dancing and playing of games. A number of instrumental selections were rendered by Melville H. Roseberry. The evening was closed with the serving of refreshments and the singing of a number of patriotic songs.

Lemons Beautify!
Make Quarter Pint of Lotion, Cheap

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to bleach the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and, the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way. Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons. —Adv.

V. C. T. U. WEEKLY NOTES

Two State Capitals Outlaw Liquor Traffic

Two cities of great importance were won for prohibition on April 3. Springfield, Illinois, went dry by a majority of 458, and the voting women of that city are credited with this victory. While the men of the city gave a majority of 1,877 for the saloons, the women rolled up a majority of 2,335 against them.

Madison, Wis., went 4,556 dry and 4,155 wet. The result was achieved after one of the hottest campaigns ever waged in that city.

Over ten townships were won in Illinois and it is estimated that approximately 240 saloons will be compelled to close their doors as a result of the April election.

In Wisconsin a total of 45 cities, towns and villages are claimed by dry leaders to have swung from wet to dry, while only a few were lost. The popularity of prohibition as evidenced by the vote in the Wisconsin towns will undoubtedly influence the Senate of the Legislature to act favorably upon the prohibition referendum measure that has already passed the House.

The vote in the Illinois cities shows a steady growth of prohibition sentiment and justifies the fear of the liquorites that were they to permit the Legislature to submit the question to the people they would be voted out of business.

Sacramental Wine

It is sometimes contended that Christ sanctioned the use of wine by using it at the institution of the Lord's Supper. Yet in no instance is the term "wine" used in connection with that ordinance. In each case it was the "fruit of the wine" or "the cup." Pharaoh's butler "took the grapes and pressed them into Pharoah's cup." Genesis, 40:11.

In Isaiah, 65:8, we read of "New wine found in the cluster." Again Christ, who was an orthodox Jew, went into the upper room to eat the Passover with His disciples. During Passover Week no leaven or ferment was allowed in the house under penalty of excommunication, and it was immediately upon the conclusion of this feast that Christ took the cup and gave thanks and said: "Take this and divide it among yourselves. I will not drink of the fruit of the vine till the kingdom of God shall come."

CHILDREN HATE PILLS, CALOMEL, AND CASTOR OIL

If Cross, Feverish, Constipated, Give "California Syrup of Figs"

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the "dose" mother insisted on—castor oil, calomel, cathartics. How you hated them, how you fought against taking them.

With our children it's different. Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't realize what they do. The children's revolt is well-founded. Their tender little insides" are injured by them.

If your child's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing, give only delicious "California Syrup of Figs." Its action is positive, but gentle. Millions of mothers keep this harmless "fruit laxative" handy; they know children love to take it; that it never fails to clean the liver and bowels and sweeten the stomach, and that a teaspoonful given today makes a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on each bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. See that it is made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.—Adv.

BROTHER MEETS SISTER AFTER 17 YEARS

There was a happy reunion last evening at the home of W. J. Trembath, Chatham street, when the latter's sister, Miss Laura Trembath arrived here from Oakland, Cal.

It had been seventeen years since Miss Trembath and her brother had seen each other. Miss Trembath will remain some time in the East visiting her brother and other relatives. She left California on Sunday making the trip here in good time.

END INDIGESTION OR STOMACH PAIN IN FIVE MINUTES

"Pape's Diapepsin" makes sick, sour, gassy stomachs feel fine.

Time it! In five minutes your sour, acid stomach feels fine. No indigestion, heartburn, or belching of gas, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapepsin is noted for its speed in sweetening upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest and most certain stomach antacid in the whole world and besides, it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know Pape's Diapepsin will save them from such misery.

Please, for your sake, get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long, so make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and enjoy it, without dread of acid fermentation in the stomach.

Pape's Diapepsin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which does not agree with them, or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis or stomach derangement due to fermentation and acidity, at daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.—Adv.

HELPS FOR THE HOUSEWIFE

VIRGINIA CARTER LEE

In connection with this department Miss Lee will kindly answer any inquiry relative to domestic science, a stamped envelope being necessary for a personal reply. Address care of Courier-News.

There are several varieties of bread-making brans on the market, each on claiming special advantages, but all uniting on the common ground that bran is a valuable laxative food. This husk, so often discarded, also furnishes material for the making of bone, blood and muscle, as it contains a large part of the important elements of the grain.

It is this husk, or bran, which forms the basis of most of the so-called "health breads" and other similar products, all of which can be prepared at home by any housewife who understands the first principles of mixing and baking.

More than this, the woman with originality can often improve on a given recipe and adapt it to the tastes of her family. Molasses, prunes, raisins, dates, figs and nuts are the ingredients generally used in connection with bran. The use of these opens a wide field of variety, so that one may easily lose sight of the fact that we are eating these delicacies for "health's sake," because they taste so good.

Fruit cookies or fruit gems, made from bran, are just the thing for children, when some mild corrective seems necessary for the system, and they are always relished with a glass of milk or a cup of weak cocoa.

In using bran in bread-making, a certain quantity of ordinary flour must be added. The baking of bran bread must be thorough. To this end, the oven should be quite hot when the bread is first put in, the heat being reduced after the bread has risen to its full height and the baking being finished in a cooler oven.

Raisin Bran Gems

The ingredients required are: One cupful of bran, half cupful of flour, one heaping teaspoonful of baking powder, one egg, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt, half a cupful of chopped and seeded raisins, one tablespoonful of butter and sufficient cold milk to form a drop batter. Mix the ingredients thoroughly, adding the melted butter last of all, and bake in greased gem patty pans (small size). This quantity will make one dozen tiny gems. They are delicious.

Date Bran Buns

Mix together two cupfuls each of bran and white flour and add half a teaspoonful of salt, four teaspoonfuls of baking powder and a quarter of a cupful of granulated sugar. Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of butter in a cupful and a half of sweet milk and, when cooled, add to the flour mixture (it should be of the consistency of baking powder biscuits). Roll out to a quarter of an inch in thickness, spread with soft butter and sprinkle with chopped dates. Roll up tightly like jelly roll and cut with a sharp knife into pieces three-fourths of an inch thick. Lay flat on a greased baking sheet and bake about twenty minutes.

Bran Bread With Prunes

Two cupfuls each of bran, white flour and sour milk. Half a cupful of brown sugar, one cupful of chopped prunes, that have been soaked until very soft and then drained, one teaspoonful of baking soda and half a teaspoonful of salt. Sift flour, sugar and salt and add bran and chopped prunes. Mix the soda with the sour milk and gradually add to the dry ingredients. Mix thoroughly, turn into a well-greased pan and bake for one hour in a moderate oven. Cover the crust with buttered paper during the last part of the baking. If the crust becomes too dark in color.

Health Cookies

Two cupfuls of bran, one cupful of entire wheat flour, three tablespoonfuls of molasses, one teaspoonful of soda, half a teaspoonful of salt, three tablespoonfuls of shortening, one tablespoonful of sugar and sufficient sour milk to form a dough. Roll out in a thin sheet, cut like cookies and bake in a quick oven. Chopped raisins or dates may be added.

LITTLE CHING'S CROWN—Part I

Low sailed the dipping moon behind scudding clouds, and its golden image danced in the muddy waters of the canal. Ching sat in the broken chair of the deck watching the lights twinkling on shore and the other boats bumping about at the wharves.

Up on the hill the priests were chanting in the temple. Lower down were the sounds of a busy town, and the smell of fish and fruit in the crowded market. "Wash the cups and make me a fresh cup of tea, Ching," said his mother's voice. Then put up the clothesline at the side."

The lad in his blue gown shuffled along as he busied himself in washing cups and brewing tea, then he took a steaming cup to his mother. After hanging out the family wash he again sat down to watch the moonlight on the water, for he, like many another Chinese boy, lived in a boat.

His legs ached, for he had to rise early and work late. The shops looked inviting with their rows of sweetmeats, gaudy lanterns and flowers—how different from the boat and its hot kitchen. Presently a band and soldiers came down the street, the Mandarin borne in a gilt chair on the shoulders of four men and dressed in richly embroidered clothing. A shouting mob followed at the heels of the great man, who wore long chains of jewels and bore a big fan in his hand. The moonlight shone on the silken gown and on the rows of pearls around his fat neck. Then the procession passed away in the darkness at the end of the street.

"Ching," came his mother's voice again, "it is time to put on the rice to steam for breakfast. Make haste and do it, then go to bed."

Wearily the boy poured out the rice and set it to cook. It was growing late, for the moon was dipping below the horizon and the lights were out in the temple on the hill. The city was growing quiet, and even the dogs ceased to bark. Ching slipped off his straw shoes and blue gown before lying down. Over in a corner of the boat was a curiously carved chest which his grandfather had brought from India, and as the boy gazed at it in the shadows he felt a strange desire to open the heavy lid. The light from a red lantern showed that the key was in the rusty lock.

"Well," said Ching to himself, "I am going to inspect that chest before I go to sleep. I have heard it said that grandfather got some odd things when he sailed his junk to India. I am weary of this life on a boat—this work from sunrise to sunset. That fat rich Mandarin who went by just now found some pleasure in living."

So little Ching crept out of bed and opened the chest in the dim light of the cabin. It smelled queer, but the boy determined to see what it contained. Out of it he took a gorgeous suit of purple silk all embroidered in gold thread, with gems for buttons. There were golden slippers, necklaces of jewels and a long, glittering sword like that the Mandarin had worn.

"I will try them on just for fun," exclaimed Ching. "I wonder I never looked in here before."

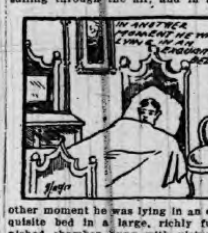
Dressed in his finery Ching stood looking at himself with delight. How grand he seemed in this magnificence. How he would love to dress like this every day and live in a palace like the Manadrin, who owned the town, though people did hate him for his meanness. He commenced to search again, hoping that he might find the magic crown of which he had heard. It was his crown which had been brought home by his grandfather and was supposed to have some magic spell about it, so for this reason the mother had hidden it in the very bottom of the chest.

"I am going to find it and try what it will do," said Ching to himself. Just then his hand touched it and brought it up—a gilt crown, in the center of which shone three red stones.

"Goodness!" exclaimed Ching with a smile as he looked at himself in the mirror. "I am fine now—look like a real Mandarin. How I wish I were able to change places with the one I saw just now—let him be a boy on this boat and allow me to spend my time in his castle."

Hardly had the words got out of his mouth when there was a loud clap of thunder, Ching felt himself sailing through the air, and in another moment he was lying in an exquisite bed in a large, richly furnished chamber hung with pictures and tapestries. At the door stood two soldiers, and outside he could hear the tread of a sentry.

"Well," cried Ching, as he sat up in bed, "my wish must have come true. I guess the real Mandarin is down in my boat, and mother will make him cook breakfast. I wonder what I look like."



And when Ching crept over to a big mirror he saw that the face in the glass did not look like himself, but resembled that of the fat old Mandarin who owned the castle—so Ching was now a Mandarin as he had wished.

Tomorrow's story — "Little Ching's Crown."—Part II.

THE PACIFIST OF '76

The pacifists of '76 are quoted as follows in the Max Woman's Home Companion:

"Think of plunging into war because of a petty dispute over taxes,' they must have said. 'No lives have been lost; our territory has not been invaded, our homes have not been burned. And yet we purpose to fight, why? Because England puts a petty tax on a luxury like tea. She offers to meet us more than half way; she even promises to spend the whole proceeds of the tax right here in America. And yet we are going to war over it! Could anything be more wicked, more insane?'"

CHARLIE CHAPLIN AT PROCTOR'S TODAY IN THE CURE

Charlie Chaplin appears today and tomorrow at Proctor's in his latest comedy, "The Cure," one of his greatest laugh-producing vehicles. The regular program today consists of two five-part feature productions, one "A Dancer's Peril," starring Alice Brady, and the other a Paramount feature, "The Rainbow Princess," with Ann Pennington in the leading role.

Tomorrow in support of "The Cure," Thomas Meighan and Anita King appear in an adaptation of "An Heir to the Hoorah," the famous stage success; Neal Hart is seen in "Roped In," and a cartoon comedy depicting the antics of "Krazy Kat" is also shown.

Tomorrow afternoon the initial chapter of "A Lass of the Lumberlands," the stirring serial story with Helen Holmes in the leading role will be offered at Proctor's, and will continue each week only on Saturday afternoons. This serial has been booked especially for the children.

On Monday and Tuesday the famous photoplay, "The Girl Who Doesn't Know" will appear at Proctor's with Marie Empress in the leading role. This is a powerful frank picture handled with rare delicacy, and has the approval of the local board of censorship. The regular program will be offered in this connection including the last chapter of "Patria," and the prices have been arranged upon a popular scale.

AL. REEVES' GREAT BURLESQUE HERE MONDAY

Al Reeves' "Big Beauty Show," with Reeves himself as the chief comedian, appears in the Plainfield Theatre, Monday, matinee and night, April 23. The burlesque "Slumming," is a two-act farce comedy, with lavish equipment in scenery and costumes. "The American Ragtime" will be staged with unusual "pep."

There is an unusual assemblage of talent and a performance of rare enjoyment. The present season's aggregation eclipses Mr. Reeves' best previous accomplishments in this particular. Thirty-six pretty girls have been secured and the Reeves' standard in the matter of costume equipment for them, it is reasonable to assume, has been fully maintained. The musical numbers for this season's show has been carefully chosen, and it is Mr. Reeves' good fortune to have secured the authority of George M. Cohan to include the popular author and composer's stirring "American Ragtime" for the list.

NEW YORK AMUSEMENTS

At the Strand

Marguerite Clark, the talented and popular dimminutive actress, will be seen at the Strand Theatre in an entirely different sort of photoplay from any in which she has ever appeared. This is "The Valentine Girl," and deals with Marion Morgan, only daughter of a famous gambler and master crook. The play tells a charming story and there is an abundance of intensely interesting action flavored with the spice of Marguerite Clark's own touches of humor and occasional pathos. Prominent in the supporting cast are: Frank Losee, Richard Barthelmess, Katherine Adams, Maggie Holloway Fisher, Adolph Menjou and Edith Campbell Walker. Another feature of unusual attraction is Roscoe ("Fatty") Arbuckle's initial appearance in the Paramount comedy, "The Butcher Boy." As an extra added attraction "Fatty" will be seen in person on the stage at the first evening performance, directing the orchestra. One of Raymond L. Ditmar's interesting animal life pictures will also be shown, as will the Topical Review.

An elaborate musical program will be presented.

PROPOSALS FOR SEWERS.

Pursuant to a resolution adopted by the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, New Jersey, at a regular meeting held Monday, April 16th, 1917, notice is hereby given that the Common Council will meet on Monday, May 7th, 1917, at 8.30 o'clock p. m., S. T. in Council Chamber, No. 149 North Avenue, in the City of Plainfield, at which time and place said Common Council will receive sealed proposals for doing the work and furnishing the materials for the construction of such portion of the sewers contemplated in the ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to provide for the Construction of a Further Addition to the System of Sewerage already constructed in the City of Plainfield, No. 13," approved March 21, 1911, as approved for in the plans and specifications adopted by the Common Council, April 16th, 1917, and filed in the office of the City Clerk, No. 151 North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Upon receipt of the bids or proposals, the Common Council will immediately proceed to unseal the same and publicly announce the contents in the presence of the parties bidding or their agents, provided said parties or agents choose to be then and there present, and also make proper record of the proceedings and terms in the minutes of the Council.

100 lin. ft. 8-inch vitrified pipe sewer 4 to 14 feet deep; 710 lin. ft. 12-in. vitrified pipe sewer 5 to 14 feet deep; 810 lin. ft. 15-inch vitrified pipe sewer 11 to 16 feet deep; 280 lin. ft. 18-inch vitrified pipe sewer 12 to 16 feet deep; 39 6-inch T branches (on 8, 12, 15 and 18-inch vitrified pipe sewer); 3800 lin. ft. 4-inch cast iron house connections; 360 lin. ft. 4-inch under drain; 1 manhole; 7 combined manhole and flush tank; 20 cu. yds. extra concrete; 4000 feet B. M. lumber for sheeting, bracing and foundations; 500 lin. ft. foundation piles; 10 cu. yds. foundation of gravel, slag or stone; 10 cu. yds. rock excavation; 700 sq. yds. macadam pavement reconstructed; 30 sq. yds. vitrified brick pavement reconstructed.

Duplicate plans may be examined, and forms of proposals, specifications, contract and bond, may be obtained at the office of Andrew J. Gavett, Engineer in charge, 151 North Avenue, Plainfield, N. J.

Proposals should be endorsed "Proposals for Sanitary Sewers."

ACTIVITIES GROW AT MUHLENBERG

Plainfield Hospital Now Called Upon to Provide Accommodations up to Capacity

Attention has frequently been called in this column to the rapid increase in the use of the advantages and privileges afforded by Muhlenberg Hospital. The Board of Governors at the time the new buildings were planned with wisdom and foresight provided accommodations that then seemed to meet the requirements of the community for years to come.

It is comparatively short time since the New Muhlenberg came into existence, and today, due to no extraordinary emergency, it is called upon to provide accommodations for its maximum normal capacity.

Muhlenberg Hospital is rated as having a bed capacity of 110. Of course, under pressure and emergency such as are likely to arise in times of crisis, this capacity can be increased. But under normal conditions 110 beds is the maximum capacity, and only last week the hospital had under its roof 108 patients. This is the greatest number of patients that have ever been housed at one time in the history of the institution. It establishes a new record of achievement in the hospital experience. It marks the beginning of a new vision which must contemplate at no very remote future date the enlargement of the hospital facilities to meet the constantly increasing demands of a growing community.

The following statistics compiled for the month of March, 1917, in comparison with the month of March, 1916, are enlightening in showing the growth of the institution as well as the problems entailed by the higher costs of all supplies:

Month	March 1916	1917
Total patients treated	236	272
Patient days, ward free	1310	1233
Patient days, ward pay	246	283
Patient days, semi-private	430	530
Patient days, private	232	449
Average patients per day	72	86
Patients operated upon	98	120
Births	7	12
Dispensary visits	416	436
Daily ave. cost per patient	2.50	2.87
Daily cost uncooked food for all persons supported	21	.50

The increase in the daily average cost per patient has advanced from $2.50 in March, 1916, to $2.87 in March, 1917, or more than 14 per cent., while the increase in the cost of uncooked food for all persons supported has gone from 21 cents in 1916 to 50 cents in 1917, or more than 60 per cent.

MARSH QUITS AS COUNTY CHAIRMAN

Trenton, April 20.—Alfred S. March, of New Brunswick, who will take his seat as a member of the State Board of Public Utility Commissioners on May 1, has tendered to State Chairman Newton A. K. Bugbee his resignation as the member of the Republican State Committee from Middlesex county. Mr. March does not think he should continue to serve on the State Committee after becoming a State officer. He has been a member of the S ate committee since 1914, when he succeeded Theodore Strong, of New Brunswick.

OBJECTS TO THE NAME OF BERLIN

Special to Courier-News:

Trenton, April 20.—Declaring that the names of the towns of Berlin and West Berlin, Camden County, "savors of the stench of Prussianism in the nostrils of the State," George Q. Tyson, who lives in Berlin, has written a letter to Governor Edge requesting him to interest himself in having the names changed. He suggests that the name Pine Ridge be used instead.

GERMAN DETERMINED TO CRUSH DEMONSTRATIONS

Special to Courier-News:

Zurich, April 20.—The German military authorities have determined that the threatening spread of labor demonstrations shall make no headway. The Taeglicke Runschau states this morning that they have sent word to all workmen's unions that further demonstrations will not be tolerated, either in Berlin or elsewhere, and that troops will intervene.

What to Do When Backache Comes On

"Foley Kidney Pills have done me more good than $150.00 worth of other medicine," Chas. N. Fox, Himrod, N. Y.

When backache comes on and it seems as if you can't stand the pain and pressure across the small of your back, hurry to your druggist and get relief through a box of Foley Kidney Pills. They will stop the cause of that pain very quickly, spur the sluggish kidneys to regular action, and enable them to throw the poisons out of the blood. They will get rid of pain and rheumatism for you, quiet your nerves, stop your backache, and lengthen your stay joints and sore muscles.

Frank W. Sherman, Lacona, N. Y., writes: "I suffered with kidney trouble, had a tired feeling in my back, did not have any ambition and felt all tired out. I used Foley Kidney Pills and in a few days began to feel better, and now I have entirely recovered."

SOLDIERS TO HAVE PORTABLE HUTS

When the young American trooper goes into camp, it is the purpose of the National Special Aid Society to help make the young soldier's life comfortable. Not only do the women of that organization want to make him comfortable, but happy as well. Those who have been on the war front in France, Italy and Russia know what it means to the young soldier to be entertained, kept dry, after a long march in the rain, or spending eight to ten hours in muddy trenches, so they have formulated a plan whereby Uncle Sam's boys will have some place to congregate when he is free from duty.

These worthy women have planned to help the young soldier feel that others, than those at home, are interested in his welfare. They have already planned to help him physically, mentally, morally. First of all, there will be near the camps, what they call "huts." Huts, not in the same meaning of the general term—a wooden shack with holes cut through for windows, the bare ground for a floor, and nothing on the inside to attract and make merry those chaps who have had a hard day's work on the firing line, or gone through long hours of drilling. These huts will, in reality, be clubs. They will be big and roomy; they will be kept clean; they will be warm in winter and cool in summer. There will be a place for the canteen, for tea, coffee, sandwiches, cakes and buns, soft drinks, tobacco, cigarettes, and such little comforts that will add to the good cheer and happiness of those who are being called upon to defend the country in this crisis.

GERMAN SAILORS DRANK 21,000 KEGS OF BEER

Hoboken, April 20.—To bring up to date the old sailors' chanty about "Fifteen men on a dead man's chest, yo, ho, ho, and a bottle of rum" write it this way:

"Thirteen ships at the German docks, yo, ho, ho, and 21,000 empty beer kegs."

The reason for the revision is that since the German liners tied up here nearly three years ago, there has been a gradually growing pile of empty beer kegs in the dock yards of the Hamburg-American and North German Lloyd companies. The total is said to be the aforesaid 21,000.

It is assumed that the kegs were drained by the crews of the interned ships. The North German Lloyd men must have led in beer-drinking, for a count reveals 12,000 kegs in that company's dock yard. Two Hoboken breweries began today to cart the kegs away.

BIRD DAY—FIFTH OF MAY

Washington, April 20.—"Bird Day, fifth of May," will be the slogan repeated by thousands of school children throughout the country if the birthday of John James Audubon is made national bird day, as has been suggested by Dr. Philander P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, who says the birthday of the noted naturalist is the most appropriate day for the celebration. As the event will be largely a school affair, it is expected that many Governors will name May 5 in appointing a Bird Day this year.

The Audubon societies have been urging the celebration of Bird Day on Audubon's birthday, and officers of this bird-protective organization say that their junior members, as the youthful members in the schools of the country are called, will celebrate the day nationally. So far in the current school year the Audubon societies say they have enrolled more than 50,000 junior members, and in the six years since the junior work started 650,000 have enrolled. This membership is sufficiently large and widely scattered to give a national character to the celebration.

The suggestion of Audubon's birthday for the celebration is favored by Dr. Claxton, although he has no authority to call for a nation-wide observance of the day.

WILSON PLEADS FOR WAR DRAFT

In Letter Says It Is Only Way For U. S. to Win.

HE MAY ORDER PROHIBITION

House Democratic Caucus Votes to Give President Power to Make Nation Dry by Executive Decree During Period of Conflict—Senators Bitterly Oppose Sections of Espionage Bill.

Washington, April 20.—President Wilson has opened his personal campaign to force the administration's selective draft bill through congress.

The president in a public letter to Representative Helvering of Kansas said service with the army and navy was perhaps not the most vital thing necessary in war and stated that only by selective draft can a large army and navy be built up without running the danger of taking away large numbers of men whom the country needs kept at their present vocations a great deal more than it needs them on the firing line.

In the letter the president said the volunteer system provides no way whatsoever to prevent men from leaving factories and farms in such large numbers that the nation would shortly be reduced to want.

"When men choose for themselves they sometimes choose without due regard to their own responsibilities," the president wrote. "The principle of selective draft, in short, has at its heart this idea, that there is a universal obligation to serve and that a public authority should choose those upon whom the obligation of military service shall rest and also in a sense choose those who do the rest of the nation's work."

Prohibition Up to Wilson.

The question of nation wide prohibition as a war measure is left in the hands of the president by the action of the house Democratic caucus. Efforts of the adherents of the prohibition propaganda were successful in the earlier deliberations, and on the motion of Representative William Schley Howard of Georgia the caucus voted, 92 to 60, in favor of Howard's own bill, wherein it was provided that the president be authorized to decree or proclaim prohibition of the manufacture or sale of all forms of alcoholic beverages for the period of the war.

Immediately following this action twenty Democrats, led by Representative Daniel J. Riordan of New York and consisting practically of the Tammany Hall group in congress, announced their obligation to be further bound by the caucus' action and left the meeting.

The censorship provisions of the espionage bill is under barrage fire from all quarters of the senate and from the representatives of both national political parties in that body. Condemnation of the restrictive provisions of the proposed law and of the drastic penalties which it carries was voiced by Republicans and Democrats alike. For the Republicans Senators Borah of Idaho and Johnson of California led the opposition, while on behalf of the Democrats Senators Reed of Missouri and Thomas of Colorado expressed bitterly adverse views.

Borah Quotes Lincoln.

In his opening attack on the censorship Senator Borah reverted to the days of the civil war for exemplification of the attitude of Republicanism toward the restrictions upon the freedom of the press. He said:

"In the days of the civil war when Lincoln was being criticised as no man ever was in public office by one of the great journals of the country his reply was that the administration had better suffer some of the evils and sorrows which accompanied such work than that the people should lose control of or forfeit the great benefit flowing from absolute freedom of the press."

The house committee on ways and means, with Democrats and Republicans both participating in the session, today set about the work of drafting the war revenue laws to meet the demands for an income something more than $2,000,000 annually. They assembled early this morning, and for the coming week their sessions will be practically continuous.

Among the items to be considered and most of which undoubtedly will be incorporated in the revenue law will be:

Increases in income through reduction of the minimum of taxable incomes from $4,000 to $3,000 for married men and from $2,000 to $1,500 for single men. Increase in the rate of percentage tax on higher incomes will be levied so that the public may share in the great wealth of the nation will be subject to as high as 40 per cent in taxes.

Luxuries to Pay.

Increase in the rate of the present excess profits tax.

Documentary taxes on all legal and commercial instruments similar to those taxes employed to raise the revenues upon which the Spanish-American war was fought.

Taxes on amusements, gasoline, luxuries, liquors, wines, beers and other beverages advanced from the present rates by nearly 50 per cent.

Increases in the present import tax on many articles of staple use in the country whereby larger revenue may be gained and the tax burden more equally distributed throughout the nation.

The navy's building program is being held up until the arrival of the British and French commissions. While work on smaller fighting craft is being pushed, nothing will be done on the eight great vessels provided for in the last two building programs.

The advisability of holding up work on warship construction until the allies have been heard from has been discussed for some time. It is known the subject was given deep consideration while Vice Admiral Browning of the British navy and Rear Admiral Grasse of the French navy were here on their mission.

There are various reasons for the delay. One is to ascertain just what type of war vessels the allies have found most useful and also what are needed most just now. Another is that merchant vessels have been found just as successful at submarine chasing as warships and have the added advantage of being cargo vessels.

Should the visiting commissions decide that the type of warships planned or under construction are not best suited to the purposes of the present war it is probable that a change will be made. If work on the larger vessels is held up for a time it will release thousands of men for other work, and many of them could be used in the construction of merchant ships.

STATE LUTHERANS TO AID COLLEGE REMOVAL

To make possible the plan of the New York Ministerium of the Lutheran Church to change the location of Wagner Lutheran College, Rochester, to Staten Island, the New Jersey Conference of the Ministerium, closing its two-day session at the German Lutheran Church, Elizabeth, Thursday, pledged to labor zealously to raise funds. The sum of $100,000 is necessary, and of this amount $8,000 is to be collected from the New Jersey congregations in the Ministerium. A campaign to raise $400,000 for general missionary work was also outlined.

The ministers present eulogized the memory of Rev. Dr. Bernard Pick of St. John's Church, Newark, and a committee was appointed to prepare suitable resolutions on his death. Fellow clergymen told of Rev. Dr. Pick's career as a Hebrew scholar and of his long and faithful service in the ministry.

The removal plan of the Rochester college is necessitated, it was stated, because of its inconvenient location for most of the seminaries. Ways and means of accomplishing the task will form the principal business of the Lutheran Synod in New York June 11.

Several of the pastors voiced their opposition to revivals of the Billy Sunday type. Rev. John Kopp of Jersey City declared that it was difficult for many pastors to get support, while large sums of money are lavished on an itinerant evangelist.

WILL RECRUIT SCHOOL CHILDREN

Special to Courier-News:

Trenton, April 20.—County Superintendents of schools were yesterday authorized by Assistant Commissioner of Education Lewis H. Carris, to appoint city superintendents, supervising principals, high school principals and teachers as recruiting officers for the "Junior Industrial Army of New Jersey," which is to help the farmers with the spring planting.

FOOD CONTROL BILL.

Measure For Administration Before Congress Today.

Washington, April 20.—Legislation to give the government firm control of the nation's food was introduced in congress today. This legislation empowers the government not only to supervise production, but also to deal with distribution, to insure a fair supply of food in every part of the country at reasonable prices.

Price fixing authority in certain emergencies is a feature.

The food situation, officials realize, presents one of the most serious problems the country will have to meet during the war.

RUN-DOWN WOMEN

We Have a Remedy That Will Cost You Nothing If It Does Not Help You.

Plainfield women will please realize that we mean just what we say in the above heading. Letters like the following prove the efficiency of Vinol in such cases:—

"For the benefit of the other tired women, I want to say that I keep house for seven in my family. I became run-down, all played out, I did not seem to have any life in me and looked badly. I read so much about Vinol I decided to try it and I must say it helped me in every way. It built me up so I felt like a new woman, and my friends said they could see a great change in me." Mrs. John M. Waldron, Saratoga Springs, N. Y.

We recommend Vinol to our customers as the greatest strength creator we know because it contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates, all dissolved in a pure medicinal wine.

Sit Up And Take Notice Now is the Time to Plant

The United States Government reports that we must supply a large part of the world with food during the Fall, Winter and Spring of 1917-18. The result will be shortage of food supplies, resulting in Higher-than-Ever prices, if not in an actual famine.

What must we do? People throughout the country are going to see that those who prepare by having a garden, no matter how small, will eliminate to a great extent the cost of their weekly bill for Table Vegetables. Plant every available piece of vacant land, including small back yards.

Our line of Seeds, Fertilizers and Farming Implements are of the Long Standing Reliable Kind. We have sold them for years, the kind that have been tested and found true every year.

We are able to sell you positively fresh seeds this year without an increase in cost over prices standing last year.

Act quickly to take advantage of the unusual conditions and at the same time help to avoid food panics and famines next Fall, Winter and Spring.

RECRUIT ARMY FOR FARMS NOW

OPENS STATIONS IN CITIES.

Commissioner Bryant Outlines Seriousness of Food Situation and Says Farmers Must Be Re-enforced With Sufficient Labor or People Will Suffer—Substitutes For Wheat Must Be Raised.

Trenton, April 20.—Recruiting for the state's agricultural army is now engrossing the attention of civilian officials here. The state department of labor has turned its resources into a recruiting bureau.

The men and machinery of the department have been put to work with the objective of filling every vacancy for farm help in New Jersey. The department is working in conjunction with the committee appointed by Governor Edge and with the federal, state and municipal employment bureau.

Men, single preferred, are wanted on farms. They will receive from $25 to $40 a month and board. Married couples also are wanted, both to work. The bureau also has offers of land on which families can live and work on shares.

To filling these demands, which are being received by scores daily from all sections of the state, the inspectors of the department will devote the greatest part of their time. At the suggestion of General Lewis T. Bryant, commissioner of labor, the men will suspend for a time their regular work of supervising industries.

Particular attention will be given settlements of foreigners by the inspectors, and it is believed that the best farm help can be found among these. The work will include enlisting the aid of parish priests, officers of organizations in such sections and the distribution of posters.

Commissioner Bryant has designed a poster to attract men, and it is being put up all over the state, especially in the cities.

The new work was outlined by Commissioner Bryant in conference with his inspectors. He told of the seriousness of the food situation from his personal knowledge, both as a state official and as a farmer. This state has been hit harder than any other, he said, owing to the large number of munition plants located here. Out of the 60,000 people employed in making explosives in the country 30,000 were engaged in New Jersey, he said. This number did not include those working on shells, caps, fuses and other special lines of munition work.

The result was that serious inroads had been made on the farming industry, tillers of the soil having left the plow for the attractive pay offered in the factories. To repair this the government—federal, state and municipal—was bending every energy to fill the places of those who had left the farms

PREDICTS $1 EGGS SOON.

New Jersey Expert Advises Housewives to Prepare.

Trenton, N. J., April 20.—Eggs at $1 a dozen next winter is the prediction of the poultry department of the New Jersey agricultural station in a circular being distributed to women's clubs, in which it is recommended that housewives preserve eggs this spring for future use.

"In view of the increased cost of poultry feeds and the resulting fact that many poultrymen are disposing of their birds the probability is that fresh eggs will be worth considerably over $1 a dozen this coming winter. They are now selling wholesale at from 35 to 40 cents a dozen, which is probably the lowest point they will reach this spring. If war continues and prices continue to rise fresh eggs will hardly be obtainable."

MME. BERNHARDT GAINS.

Actress' Great Vitality Gives Her Doctor's Hopes.

New York, April 20.—A slight but indefinite improvement in Sarah Bernhardt's condition made her eventful recovery seem probable for the first time since she was operated on for kidney infection Tuesday night. The bulletin issued by Dr. Felix Marbt and the other physicians associated with him in the case stated that the improvement in the French actress' condition during the preceding twenty-four hours had been definite.

Bulletins issued earlier in the day announced that she had spent a comfortable night and was cheerful.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel—Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural actions.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them, 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

Stop scratching! Resinol relieves itching instantly

That itching, burning skin-trouble which keeps you scratching and digging, is a source of disgust to others, as well as of torment to you. Why don't you get rid of it by using Resinol Ointment? Physicians have prescribed it for over 20 years. In most cases, it stops itching instantly and heals eruptions promptly. It is very easy and economical to use.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap contain nothing harsh or irritating and can be used freely for all sorts of skin troubles even on the tenderest and most irritated surface. Ideal for babies' eczemas and chafings. Every druggist sells them.

Secretary Lane has appealed to congress to force the utilization of more than 700,000 acres of land in reclamation projects and of intensive cultivation of private lands throughout the country to meet the threatened food shortage.

RAILROADS GET 15 PER CENT RAISE

Increase Only Temporary, I. C. C. Announces.

Washington, April 20.—All railroads have been granted tentative permission by the Interstate Commerce Commission to file supplemental tariffs increasing freight rates generally 15 per cent. effective June 1 next. In this manner the commission disposed of the question of procedure in dealing with the application of the roads in every section for general increases.

The commission's order is tentative, subject to recall or change prior to the effective date of the rates. In this way the commission brings the issue squarely before the railroads and the shippers in definite form. Hearings begin today, at which each side will be given an opportunity to state its views, and a full investigation of the proposed increases seems likely before the commission issues its final finding.

Shippers from virtually all parts of the country have signified their intention of opposing the granting of so large an increase as 15 per cent, which the railroads assert is imperatively necessary if they are to continue to operate profitably in the face of the soaring cost of supplies, equipment and fuel and general wage advances under the Adamson law and otherwise.

Supplemental to the general tentative order the commission issued an order permitting the increase to apply tentatively on all through rates which are lower than the total rates to and from intermediate points. This affects chiefly the towns and cities in the intermountain territory. The tentative order permits a horizontal raise of 15 per cent on all rates, including those to intermediate points.

U. S. TROOPS FIRE BACK.

Answer Bullets From Mexico by Killing Carranza Soldier.

El Paso, Tex., April 20.—Carranza patrols openly fired on American border patrols in the western part of El Paso. The fire was returned by a detachment of the Twentieth United States Infantry. One Carranza soldier was killed.

Brigadier General George Bell, Jr., in command here, immediately sent a strong protest to the Mexican military authorities through Mexican Consul Soriano Bravo. At the same time orders were issued to the American troops to shoot to kill when attacked by Mexican troops.

Trade Board For Franklin.

Franklin, April 20.—The borough has organized a board of trade, with the following officers: President, Dr. Charles W. Dunning; vice president, Joseph Herzenberg; treasurer, George Nestor; secretary, Raymond McEntee. A committee composed of Joseph Wafers, Harry Fischgrund and Joseph Hosing has been appointed to draft a constitution and bylaws.

NERVOUSNESS AND BLUES

Symptoms of More Serious Sickness.

Washington Park, Ill.—"I am the mother of four children and have suffered with female trouble, backache, nervous spells and the blues. My children's loud talking and romping would make me so nervous I could just tear everything to pieces and I would ache all over and feel so sick that I would not want anyone to talk to me at times. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills restored me to health and I want to thank you for the good they have done me. I have had quite a bit of trouble and worry but it does not affect my youthful looks. My friends say 'Why do you look so young and well?' I owe it all to the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. Rose Stormes, Sage Avenue, Washington Park, Illinois.

SKETCHES OF THE MEN WHO RUN THE U. S. NAVY

By United States:

Washington, April 20.—When on his first long cruise after leaving Annapolis, Admiral A. G. Winterhalter sailed on a Friday, "crossed the line" on Friday, and arrived Friday.

"But it bore no fruits of misfortune. Today, Admiral Winterhalter has just relinquished supreme command of the U. S. fleet in the Asiatic after a most successful regime. He is slated for even more responsible duties in the near future.

When the United States took over the Hawaiian Islands in 1898, it was Winterhalter, then flag-lieutenant, who hoisted the Stars and Stripes over the new territory.

Besides being a fighter, the Admiral is a man of the highest scientific and literary attainments. When the Navy established its new naval observatory at Washington, Winterhalter was selected to make a tour of all European observatories and scientific institutions to assist in designing the new plant.

Probably the most accomplished linguist in the Navy, Admiral Winterhalter speaks or reads in a dozen languages.

JAPAN VOTES TODAY

By United Press:

Tokio, April 20.—The fight in Japan for constitutional government will go to a vote today. The fate of the Count Terauchi ministry hangs in the balance.

Terauchi dissolved the House in January when it was about to vote lack of confidence in his non-partisan cabinet. His opponents, claiming the constitutional right to unseat a ministry which is unsatisfactory, may yet be blocked by a decree of the Emperor, should they rally a majority of the million voters of Japan in today's election. The Terauchi argument is that the constitution places the power of appointment in the hands of the Emperor and that no subject has a right to protest his choice. He has threatened to dissolve the Diet again if necessary.

EVEN THIS—THE MOVIES DO

By United Press:

Rio De Janeiro, April 20.—The shaven upper lip, heretofore an undisputed mark of the clergy, the stranger or the "effeminate," is coming into fashion in this city. The barbers attribute the new style to North America and declare the fad is fostered by the American moving picture shows which are monopolizing the playhouses here.

ORGANIZE JUNIOR INDUSTRIAL ARMY

Plans Are Outlined for the Bernardsville Farm Colony to be Established Soon

The Bernardsville Farm Colony for boys proves to be so large an undertaking that it has been decided to limit the number at first to 50 boys, instead of 100 as first talked. This number may be increased after the colony has been established.

The proposition is planned and financed by Grant B. Schley, who will turn over 75 to 100 acres of his Frog-Heim Farms Estate at Far Hills to be cultivated by a colony of boys from the high schools of Bernardsville, Bloomfield, and Plainfield. Headquarters will be located on the grounds of the Bernardsville Fair Grounds, adjacent to the Schley Estate, and the camp will be a military camp under military management and discipline, in charge of a commissary department and drilled by an army officer.

The camp will be known as the Frog-Heim Farms Club. Mr. Schley will finance the undertaking, but a committee of boys, under supervision, will have charge of the business end of it, to keep an account of all materials furnished, goods purchased, etc., and the profits of the venture will be divided pro rata among the boys that stay until the end. Each boy will receive from the Frog-Heim Farms a drawing allowance of $1.00 per week for immediate personal expenses. The plan is being perfected by Superintendent W. J. Bickett, of Bernardsville.

Camp opens May 1. It is expected that crops will be harvested by the middle of September, so that the boys can return to school at about the usual time of opening. If it is necessary for them to stay at the colony after school opens, to gather in the harvest, allowance will be made by the school authorities and coaching provided to help boys make up their lost school work.

The boys will be housed in the buildings of the Far Hills Fair Association. The fair grounds will serve as athletic field, parade ground, etc., for the camp. Actual labor on the farm will not exceed eight hours a day. There will be, in addition, regular military drill, organized athletics, moving pictures, lectures, and a definite course of instruction in farming, in personal hygiene, and military housekeeping, besides the practical experience of working in the fields.

The farming end of the proposition will be in charge of graduates of the Agricultural Department of Rutgers College, selected by Dr. Lipman, and under the general supervision of C. B. Campbell, superintendent of the Schley Estate. Moral and social conditions will be under the direction of the County Y. M. C. A. The boys will be expected to sign up for the whole period and remain in camp Sundays as well as other days. On Sundays, boys will attend the church selected by their parents. Visitation of the camp by parents and friends, and necessary excuses from camp will presumably be under military conditions.

Each boy will bring with him two blankets, a pillow, working clothes, and a Scout suit for a drill uniform. Besides these, he will bring individual personal articles to suit himself. The bed will be furnished by Mr. Schley and will be a cot.

Our school is expected to furnish boys that are clean in body and mind, of good physique, able and willing to do real work. A squad of twenty will be selected to go on May 1, and a second squad to fill vacancies, or go later if conditions develop so as to permit of addition of more boys. Membership in these two squads will be determined by a committee of high school teachers. Those boys will be first selected who, besides qualifying in other ways, will suffer least in their school work by leaving school early.

SEATS SELLING FAST FOR NEWARK MUSIC FESTIVAL

The public sale of seats for the Newark Music Festival began early this morning with a rush that testified to the enormous interest that is being taken in the event. There were prospective purchasers in line as early as 7.30 o'clock and by the time that the box office opened a great line was waiting. Owing to the fact that the advance sale this year was handled in a different way from last year, there was no inconvenience and no necessity for standing in line for several hours, a condition which obtained during last season's sale. The festival will be held on May 1, 2 and 3 in the First Regiment armory, which has a seating capacity of many thousands so that despite the great advance sale there are still many desirable seats left for the concerts.
